

Raid Seen on L.B. School Fund

By JIM MCCAULEY
I. P-T Sacramento Bureau

SACRAMENTO—Amendments were tacked at the last moment on two major Assembly school-finance bills which drastically will slash state school aid to Long Beach and other areas receiving federal funds as compensation for tax-free U.S. government installations in the area.

Dr. Francis Laufenberg, Long Beach Unified School District budget director, estimated the action could cost the district $1 million a year.

The Long Beach district is to receive $1.3 million in federal funds the next budget year because of tax-free federal property in the district.

Congress has been voting such "impacted-area" aid on the theory that if private industry were there instead of government installations, the property would be yielding local tax revenue and because the district bears the burden of educating children of government personnel.

But under amendments to two state-school-aid bills OK'd by a subcommittee headed by Assemblyman Gordon H. Winton, D-Merced, 80 percent of federal impacted-area funds would be deducted when the state figures the allowance of a district for state school aid.

Laufenberg said the Winton subcommittee amendments were added quietly to state-school-aid bills pending before the Assembly Ways and Means Committee at its final hearing last week.

"There was no debate nor opportunity given for testimony," said Dr. Laufenberg.

However, there had been some discussion about raiding the fund by a 1961-session interim committee.

Laufenberg said $1 million in state-school-aid cuts would be equivalent to an additional 12-cent tax load on Long Beach school district property owners.

Laufenberg said San Diego, Oakland, San Francisco and other areas that would be hard-hit by the Winton subcommittee amendments have been alerted.

Two state-school-aid-bills, one by Assemblyman Robert Crown, D-Oakland, the other by Assemblyman Charles Garrigus, D-Fresno, will come up for a full Assembly vote this week.

Laufenberg said the raid on federal funds in Long Beach and other communities now educating children of federal employees could realize an additional $25 million for the state.

"I think the amendments probably were added because there was so much pressure from Beverly Hills and elsewhere against a previously proposed $25-million, countywide, school-tax-equalization provision," he said.

Normally, all sides get a chance to testify concerning any pending legislation for major policy change.

"I think the amendments were tacked on at the last moment without discussion because the sponsors knew what a furor it would cause," declared Laufenberg.

KATIE HARRISON... Brought Her Megaphone

Katie Harrison's Here! Her Big Party's Tonight

By ANDY PARK

Fighting Katie Harrison jetted back to Long Beach Friday for a week-long visit with thousands of friends, former students, admirers and well-wishers.

She left her tennis shoes at the airport in Bourbon, Mo. "because they were over the 40-pound limit," but the Saturday afternoon agenda was juggled to allow a visit to a local department store to get the 75-year-old former Wilson High School journalism teacher a new pair.

She did bring her 1930 megaphone, a gift of Desmond's, to "whip up a little pep at the party."

In case you are one of the seven or eight persons in the Long Beach area who do not remember Katie Harrison, you should know that the pert teacher was there when they opened the doors of Woodrow Wilson High School, taught journalism there for 25 years before retiring in 1951, won 17 All-American awards for her school yearbook, the "Campanile" and single-handedly led the cheering section at virtually every

Wilson athletic event for a quarter century.

Katie — Miss Kathryn Harrison — managed to find time during those years to endear herself to countless numbers of Wilson youngsters who looked upon her as a combination foster mother, father confessor, "pal-of-a-gal" and top-flight teacher—all rolled into one.

Katie stayed around Long Beach for five years after she retired at the age of 62, but then she decided to return to her home in Bourbon. At that stage, "Fighting Katie" became "Letter-writing Katie" and the annual Christmas letters—some 500 of them—began to pour forth to former students and friends all over the world.

Distance made the heart downright lonesome, and Frank Marshall, Morris Hayter and a group of Wilson students of the '30s decided to send for Katie and get her back on home grounds for a visit.

The idea mushroomed and more than 600 alumni chipped in for tickets to a gala to be held in the Petroleum Club

BILL ON OIL REVENUE FLAYED BY COUNCIL

Integration Showdown Nears ALABAMA, U.S. ARMIES MOVE

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (UPI)—The federal government and Gov. George C. Wallace moved their respective armies into position Saturday for a showdown Tuesday over the court-ordered desegregation of the University of Alabama.

Wallace already has 825 armed state troopers, conservation officers and deputy sheriffs on the campus and a high-ranking officer in the Alabama National Guard said another 600 National Guardsmen would be moved into Ft. Brandon, about a half mile from the school, today on orders from Wallace.

The Army wasn't discussing its preparations, or even confirming any were being made, but there were reports of military movements at several points in the South. In the Birmingham crisis, President Kennedy ordered 3,000 troops into the vicinity of the city, and 2,000 of these soldiers still are on Alabama soil.

At Foster Auditorium, the building where Negro students Vivian Malone and James A. Hood will attempt to register Tuesday, state officials literally drew the line where Wallace apparently will make his "stand in the schoolhouse door."

The line, a half circle about 10 feet across, was painted Saturday in front of the main entrance by state workers. A second such line was painted in front of an alternate entrance, apparently in the event the Negroes do not use the main door.

In a strongly worded policy declaration, the Long Beach City Council Saturday denounced a legislative bill designed to strip the city of its tideland revenues.

It then ordered a review of city-state relationships on tideland matters and of plans for expanding development of the tideland oil field.

At conclusion of a 65-minute special session, the council by a 5-2 vote adopted the 1,100-word protest aimed directly at the Dolwig bill, which passed the Senate Thursday.

IT WAS a twofold counterattack, directed against both the attempt to take 100 percent of the tideland revenues for the state treasury, and Section 3 of the bill transferring oil-contract authority from the city to the state.

If the bill becomes law, "the City of Long Beach will have no recourse but to do all in its power to prevent such uncontrolled oil development within the city limits," the statement declared.

SPECIFIC measures that may be taken, as well as the whole question of city-state relationships, were referred to the council's Oil Committee for review.

In view of predictions that an Assembly committee will refer the bill to a joint legislative group for a two-year study, the council withheld more specific action.

But Chairman Raymond C. Kealer of the Oil Committee, who presented the statement, left no doubt that these actions could include withdrawal of the

FROM CANADA'S FORESTS TO SOUTHLAND BREAKFAST TABLE

Newsprint Today Modern Miracle in Old Art

By LOU JOBST
I. P-T Staff Writer

OCEAN FALLS, British Columbia — The newspaper that hit your doorstep today is the end product of an industrial miracle as old as civilization and as up to date as the Space Age.

It begins here on the wooded slopes of Western Canada and ends as your eyes follow the printed word across this page.

In between it has touched the lives of tens of thousands of workers, ranging from wide-shouldered Canuck lumber jacks to ink-stained Long Beach pressmen, and is a daily reminder that people of different lands can work and prosper together.

IT IS the remarkable story of NEWSPRINT, a paper yarn that began with the splitting of papyrus reeds in Ancient Egypt and continues at this moment in wilderness outposts such as this fjord town of 3,000 men, women and children.

Ocean Falls, perched on the side of a snow-domed mountain in the cloud-shrouded Cousins Inlet 325 miles north of Vancouver, is one of 12 pulp and paper towns in British Columbia, Canada's leading forest industry province.

Accessible only by sea-plane and ship and drenched annually by more than 200 inches of rainfall and snow, Ocean Falls was founded in 1906. It is now a production center for Crown Zellerbach Canada, a U.S.-Canadian forest and paper products giant.

Located at the end of a 14 mile long manmade lake, the community is the home of six huge machines which each year produce nearly 200,000 tons of newsprint and Kraft paper from wood pulp.

This is enough paper to feed the presses of the I, P-T which prints about 163,000 newspapers daily, for almost a decade.

These highly intricate machines are each about a half-city block long and run 24 hours a day, producing thousands of feet of newsprint per hour at speeds of 30 miles per hour.

Logs of pine, cedar, spruce, hemlock, balsam and fir are cut from vast forest stands in the Queen Charlotte Islands and barged or towed to Ocean Falls where they are ground into pulp for feeding into the machines.

Crown-Zellerbach produces about 550,000 units of pulp chips a year and one mountainous stockpile at the CZ Elks Falls paper plant is valued at more than $750,000.

While the company's 1,000 logging employees cut more than 450 million board feet of wood each year, the company has planted 15 million new trees on 25,200 acres of timberland since 1946.

"There are more trees growing in British Columbia today than when the forestry industry began," says Tom Hargreaves, manager of the $60 million Elk Falls plant.

Elk Falls—located at the mouth of the Campbell

River, famed for salmon fishing—is one of CZ's newest plants and is undergoing a $35 million expansion program.

Unlike isolated Ocean Falls, the newer plant has daily contact with the outside world and is adjacent to a modern city of 7,500 permanent residents. This population skyrockets to 20,000 persons during the summer.

However, the person who comes to Ocean Falls must be able to get along without the outside world for at least 11 months out of

L.A.C. Says: Nobody Wants to Shoot Santa Claus

"Maybe you wonder," says U. S. News, "why spending by government keeps going up and up. Why cuts aren't made even when spending rate is near $100 billions a year. The reason is simple: too many voters get checks from Washington, or indirect benefits from spending by Washington. They want bigger checks and bigger indirect benefits, not smaller checks or an end to indirect benefits. Politicians recognize that. Whether Republicans or Democrats, they back away from lining up for specific cuts that would affect specific voters. So put this down as an axiom: barring an end to cold war, spending by government will go on rising. And, if cold war should end, there would be a scramble to find new ways to spend in order to help offset defense cuts.

"Just look at a partial list and you see the political problem: school lunches aid 16 million pupils and their voting parents. Jobs in federal government for civilians number 2.5 million; military, 2.7 million; they all can vote. Workers in industries dependent on arms spending total 4 million. Veterans getting benefits for service-connected disabilities: 2 million. Survivors of veterans getting pensions: 900,000. Living veterans getting nonservice-connected pensions: 1.2 million. Veterans getting hospital care, daily average: 139,000. Veterans visits to clinics or private physicians paid for by the government: 3.7 million in a year. Farmers getting price support loans or conservation payments: 2 to 3 million. Needy persons getting surplus food: 8.8 million. Consumers getting electric power from rural co-ops borrowing capital from government at 2 per cent: 5.2 million. Co-op telephone subscribers on same basis: 1.6 million. Counties with subsidized crop insurance: 1,096. Depressed areas now getting area-redevelopment help: 900. School districts getting federal aid because of government installations: 4,300. Students getting loans: 235,000. People getting vocational rehabilitation: 485,000. Employment service placing people in nonfarm jobs: about 7 million placements in a year.

"Old-age relief going to destitute aged: 2.3 million. Medical assistance for indigent old people goes to 500,000. Then there's old age and survivors' insurance. Parents and dependent children benefited: 3.8 million. Totally and permanently disabled getting aid: 468,000. Retired people drawing old-age insurance checks: about 13 million. Payroll taxes meet the costs of the insurance, as contrasted with relief parts of social security.

"What you can see is that a very great number of people get aid from the government, and have an interest in seeing this aid increased in size. It's estimated that those getting either regular or occasional checks from Washington number at least half as many as voted in the last election. Members of Congress, aware of this fact, can't ignore it in voting.

"There's another important side to it, too. Government contracts total many millions each year. Local stakes are high in those contracts. Robert McNamara, Defense Secretary, showed how these contracts can be changed for a purpose when he withdrew contracts abruptly from some companies during the 1962 steel controversy. Edward Kennedy, the President's brother, campaigning for office, stressed his ability to get contracts for his state. Politicians often are rated, and base appeals for votes, on their ability to get money for their states or districts out of the till in Washington."

From the above compilation of taxpayer gifts to themselves, it is apparent why Congress hesitates to decrease such programs. The list does not include the recipients of state, county and local relief benefits. It is a reminder of the observation of Al Smith that "nobody wants to shoot Santa Claus."—L.A.C.

Gag Rule Try Fails in CRA

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The board of directors of the California Republican Assembly (CRA) refused Saturday to take any action against an Orange County chapter which attacked the League of Women Voters.

The La Habra chapter published a resolution last April criticizing the league for its allegedly "liberal" positions on loyalty oaths, the "Liberty Amendment" and government spending.

WILLIAM J. Nelligan of San Francisco, CRA president, apologized to the league for what he called the "intemperate" resolution by the La Habra unit.

Friday he sought a strong resolution from CRA directors at their meeting here to declare its CRA policy that local units submit their positions on statewide issues to the state board before publicizing them.

It was referred to a five-man committee which, according to member William Ebert, San Francisco, found no fault with the action of the La Habra unit.

THE COMMITTEE decided that there were elements in the Orange County controversy that made it a local matter.

"The committee believes that units have a right and obligation to take up local issues where Republican principles are involved," Ebert said. "Only in such cases where the state board has taken a position on an issue or a candidate would a local unit be forbidden to take a contrary position."

$750,000 Tenenbaum Gems Sought as Assets of Estate

By BOB SCHMIDT
A formal inquiry into the whereabouts of three-quarters of a million dollars worth of jewelry so far "not acknowledged" in the incomplete inventory of the late Abe Tenenbaum's American Jewelry Co. stock will be made June 20, it has been disclosed.
Attorney Joseph Bernfeld of Los Angeles, who represents a wholesale jeweler's organization, filed a petition in Superior Court Friday requesting the hearing. He requested the presence at the hearing of 11 persons, including Tenenbaum's widow, Dolly.

TENENBAUM, for 30 years a prominent and apparently prosperous Long Beach merchant, took his own life May 13. Business associates have estimated that, far from being the multimillionaire his friends thought him to be, he had accumulated debts amounting to more than $4 million.

Bernfeld, along with Long Beach attorneys M. E. Lewis Jr. and Richard Lewis, also represents Tenenbaum's estate. The petition, filed on behalf of Harry Leddel, the executor of Tenenbaum's estate, says, "It is extremely important that certain persons be examined concerning the assets of the estate and (their) knowledge concerning conveyances, contracts, and other writings which tend to disclose the right, title, and interest to the claim of the decedent to certain property and claims."

The "certain property," Bernfeld explained, indicates an estimated $750,000 worth of diamonds, other gems, and watches which suppliers claim still are in possession of the estate.

In the petition, Bernfeld said "apparent discrepancies in merchandise inventory and of the reports from the jewelry industry and other persons who have loaned money to the decedent" make it "important to obtain possession and/or record of property and to dispel reports and suspicions."

Bernfeld emphasized that the filing of the petitions should not be construed as an inference on anyone's part that there was any wrongdoing on anyone's part.

"Abe Tenenbaum's reputation in the jewelry industry was absolutely tops," he said. "He was known as the 'rock and the oak of the industry.' His reputation was synonymous with the finest and most successful jewelry retailers in the Southwest."

THE ELEVEN persons who will appear in Superior Court Judge John McCarthy's courtroom June 20 include, in addition to Mrs. Tenenbaum:

Mrs. Sam Leddel, widow of Tenenbaum's late partner in the American Jewelry Co. store at 35 Pine Ave.; Max Z. Wisot, attorney; Sidney Weinberg, investor; Harry Coonen, investor; Herbert Gilbert, Edmund Shaloub, Bunny Selditz and John C. McCrae, employees of the American Jewelry Co., an attorney named Vernon of the law firm of Shaw and Vernon.

Accounts and court officers still are attempting to inventory Tenenbaum's assets and liabilities, but the estate executor, Leddel, said the job may take several more weeks.

Superior Court Judge Joe Raycraft will conduct a probate hearing Monday on Tenenbaum's will, which was filed May 29.

Girl, 14, Curses, Cries as Iowa Posse Nabs Her, Gunman

GRINNELL, Iowa (AP)—An Illinois gunman, accompanied by a 14-year-old girl, threw down his revolver and surrendered Saturday after exchanging gunshots with members of a posse who had trailed him through the rolling Iowa farmland.

No one was injured as officers fired warning shots and James O. Farnham of Rockford, Ill., fired once in return from where he and the girl were huddled in a muddy ditch one mile west of here.

THE GIRL, identified as Terry Irene Hollinger of Rockford, Ill., cursed newsmen and officers as the couple was surrounded. Then she broke into tears and said "Oh, God, I want my mother."

Earlier in the day officers had captured a companion of the couple, John Rhoades, 20, of Rockford, walking along a lonely road seven miles northeast of this central Iowa city.

But it was several hours before highway patrolmen Judd Kahler and Jerry Barnes spotted Farnham and the girl in the little creek which runs across a farm pasture.

Kahler said he and Barnes told Farnham to halt, then fired several warning shots into the air. When Farnham fired back the officers called for help. When more officers arrived Farnham tossed away his .45 caliber revolver and gave up.

Both the girl and Farnham were handcuffed and taken to jail at Grinnell where Rhoades was held.

The girl was dirty and unkempt as a result of her flight through the woods and farmland after she and the two men abandoned their car shortly after midnight. She said the men forced her to accompany them.

Ex-Rep. Johnson's Services Monday

Funeral service will be held at 10 a.m. Monday at Sunny-side Memorial Park for W. Ward Johnson, one of the founders of The Independent Association and had been admitted to practice before the U.S. Supreme Court.

Johnson, of 4226 Country Club Drive, had been a resident of Long Beach since 1920. He served as Republican representative from Long Beach from 1941 to 1945.

He was a member of the law firm of Johnson & Johnson, with his son, George, and had practiced law here since 1925. He sold his newspaper interest in 1952.

In 1953, Johnson served as president of the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce. He was a member of the State Bar and the Long Beach Bar Association and had been admitted to practice before the U.S. Supreme Court.

The prominent attorney was chairman of the California Heights Community Methodist Church board of trustees, was a Mason and a Shriner.

Surviving in addition to his son are wife, Mildred D.; another son, Walter F.; sister, Bonnie J. Morningstar, and two brothers, Clayton R. and Howard J. Johnson.

Why Is a Smokejumper? His Basic Training Will Make You Wonder

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another of a series of stories on forest fires and how they are fought. There will be others by Outdoor Editor Donnell Culpepper in weeks to come.)

By DONNELL CULPEPPER
I, PT Outdoor Editor

REDDING—A good fireman loves to fight fires. Hazardous though it is, firefighting units ranging from the community level to the United States Forest Service attract certain types of men.

Once they learn the art of fighting fires, they usually stay with the service.

Today, we are going to give you a close look at the smokejumpers, how they live, what they do and what manner of men choose such dangerous work for their occupation.

When you hear just how hard a smokejumper recruit has to work in his training period, you'll wonder why in thunder he ever volunteered.

It's just this: this young man, from 21 to 27 and no older, wants to jump from airplanes, he wants to fight fires, he wants to be a part of the USFS.

Otherwise, he wouldn't be taking 120 hours of basic training at $2.19 per hour, then paying back to Uncle Sam $1.10 for each meal and $10 per month for lodging.

HE'S DOING this because he likes it and he is not whining about a fellow student who wants $150 per week as a starting salary for putting his feet on a desk.

The only USFS smokejumper base in California is situated at the Redding Airport. The smokejumper idea started in Montana, although some previous work of that nature was done in the isolated areas of some Canadian provinces several years ago.

There is no immediate plan to establish such a base in Southern California although the fire hazard there is extreme. The regional USFS office in San Francisco drew up the original plan to train men already in the USFS in smoke-jumping.

THE IDEA caught on enough so that there were many volunteers for the first year. That was last season. And there's no doubt that there will be more than enough for this year's training.

Robert McDonald is the superintendent of the smokejumper unit at the Northern California Service Center (that's what the USFS calls this Redding Airport installation).

Two squad leaders serve under him and they have 25 smokejumpers on call after the training period, plus one master rigger for the parachutes.

HERE'S THE way a smokejumper trainee starts his day:

He arises at 5 a.m., dresses and reports for training without breakfast, without even a glass of water, for to take even a drink of water might cause him to become ill in the next three hours.

He takes a mile run just as a starter, does setups, push-ups, pullups, rope-climbs and stretches. He practices roll-overs and then takes on the tricky obstacle course, and, oh, brother, what a course it is!

NEXT COME practice let-downs, such as a man would have to make if he fell into a tall tree. Next there are exits in harness from a 40-foot tower and jumps from a mockup airplane.

Practicing spur climbing is a MUST because many fires are in timbered areas where three-top landings are not unusual and jumpers must learn how to get themselves and their parachutes down from the trees.

Learning how to operate chain saws, first-aid and radio training and all phases of fire behavior and fire control are incorporated in the 120 hours' work.

Beauty Firms Plan Merger

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Davis Factor, chairman of Max Factor & Co., and Edouard L. Courmand, president of Lanvin-Parfums, Inc., have confirmed the two companies had approved a letter of intent looking into a possible merger.

Under terms being negotiated there would be an exchange of Max Factor stock to stockholders of Lanvin on a 1 to 2 basis. There would be no change in personnel.

JUMPERS ON the way down to fight fire in Shasta National Forest. "Smoke jumping" in the U.S. began in Montana, although some jumps to fight blazes were made in Canada several years earlier.

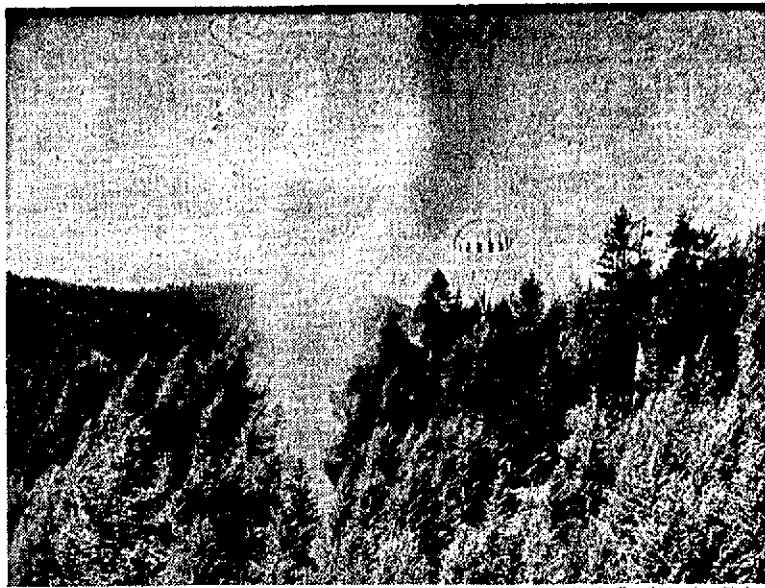

and wire-mesh helmet, can-teen, ax, shovel etc.—about 100 pounds of it—then heads for the plane which already is warming up.

HE DRESSES in the airplane in case he is fortunate enough to get into the DC3 or the C46 where there is room to stand.

Once on a fire, he makes that $2.19 per hour as long as he is working, but he must subtract his time out for eating and sleeping.

Often it is necessary to pull out smokejumpers by helicopter, but the USFS insists that they first pack their equipment and walk out if possible after the fire is controlled.

This smokejumper bit is not

NEARING THE GROUND, jumpers will battle a small lightning-caused fire and will try to put out the blaze before it can grow in Shasta National Forest. Only U.S. Forest Service smokejumper base in California is at the Redding Airport.

IN THAT WAY the USFS has developed a well-rounded, well-trained fire-fighting man who is highly specialized and has foremanship skills. Perhaps he returns to the forest the next year in a far different capacity.

In this story I have mentioned "fire behavior" training. It is best explained in this manner: The trainees are given a three-day course, with the school divided into three parts, fire physics, meteorology and fire behavior.

The combustion process, heat transfer and energy yield compose the physics section; atmospheric factors, weather analysis and forecasting make up the meteorology.

Fire behavior concerns fuels, topography, weather and all kinds of fire problems.

THE USFS, with no budget for planes, other than the few at the Redding base, contracts for helicopters, tankers and the various other types of aircraft now being used.

The USFS, like the California Division of Forestry, is finding that such contracts mean less expense in the end. To maintain a complete fleet of planes is too expensive, even for a government like ours that goes for a hundred billion a year.

In all contracts with the private plane owners and pilots, the USFS has the same rigid requirements which must be met before a pilot takes a plane into the air to

WORLD NEWS BRIEFS

British Doctor Jailed in Scandal

THIS INFORMAL GROUP in swim suits includes Dr. Stephen Ward, who was arrested in London Saturday, and three of the girls who have been involved in the scandal that has shaken the Conservative government of Britain. Christine Keeler (right) is the girl whose relationship with War Minister John Profumo triggered the scandal. Marily Rice-Davis (left) and Paula Hamilton-Marshall have been questioned in the case.

LONDON (AP)—A socialite osteopath claiming acquaintance with the royal family was arrested in the government's sex scandal Saturday night. He was accused of living off prostitutes' earnings.

Unable to make bail, Dr. Stephen Ward, 43, was held in jail for a hearing Monday. It was Ward who disclosed relations between ex-war minister John Profumo and Christine Keeler, pretty, 22-year-old red-head described in Parliament as a call girl.

That disclosure led to Profumo's resignation Wednesday and touched off the scandal that has shaken Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's conservative government and might imperil its future.

Ward, who says he has treated actress Elizabeth Taylor, former Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill and half the British cabinet, formally was charged with living off prostitution from Jan. 1, 1961 until Saturday. No names of prostitutes were mentioned in the charges.

Five Die as Rage Drives

SAN JOSE (AP)—A jealous husband's fury, driving him to sideswipe at 100 miles an hour a car carrying his wife and his boss, killed five people Saturday in the smashing wreck of four vehicles on the Nimitz Freeway.

Four others were injured. California Highway Patrol officers said Edward Sylvia, 26, the enraged husband, would be charged with felony manslaughter.

Sylvia was pulled from his burning pickup truck and apparently escaped major injury.

The dead: Mrs. Audrey Sylvia, 21, of Fremont, Calif., the wife; Donald W. Gordon, 41, of Fremont, manager of a ready-mix concrete plant in Newark, Calif., where Sylvia worked; David L. Danner, 31, of Fremont; Mrs. Helen B. Greene, 50, of Portland, Ore., Danner's mother-in-law, and Dean W. Cook, 24, of Fremont.

Sylvia said Gordon had made advances at Mrs. Sylvia at a party and he had become infuriated and chased them in his truck when they left the party.

Yacht Debris Found

MIAMI (UPI)—A life preserver from the yacht Morning Star, missing since last Sunday with five unidentified persons aboard, was found Saturday near the Bahamas, the Coast Guard reported.

Baby Drowns in Pool at Lakewood Home

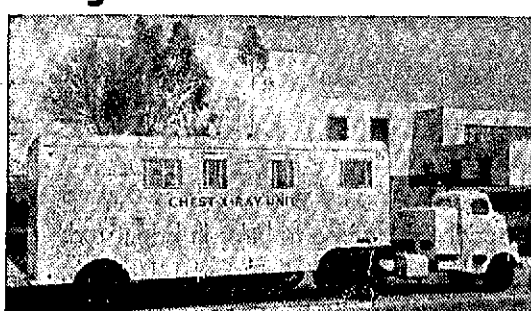

A two-year-old Lakewood boy drowned in his family's swimming pool Saturday.

The body of Ronald Tucey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Tucey, was discovered by his brother, Peter, 9, about 6:30 p.m. in the five-foot-deep pool in the backyard of the residence at 5841 Eastbrook Ave. He was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Helen's Hospital.

NOW IT'S 'SPECTACULAR'

New Name for Beauty Fete

In addition to a new format, a new executive director, a new playsuit for the foreign girls and a new bathing suit for the new American girls, this year's IBC contest has a new name.

It will now be called the Long Beach International Beauty Pageant SPECTACULAR, IBC president James Crocker, announced Saturday.

The word "Spectacular" was added to the name after the National Broadcasting Company, which will broadcast one hour of the contest on a nationwide network this year announced that it would be calling the production the Long Beach International Beauty Spectacular.

Executive director Wayne Dillard said he decided to keep the word "pageant" in the title to prevent confusion locally.

"This production has been known as a pageant for so long that we didn't want to make a radical change in the name all of a sudden," he said. "Besides, that is what it is going to be—a bigger and better pageant than we have ever had before."

Russia Asks U.N. Meeting on Yemen

UNITED NATIONS (AP)—The Soviet Union asked Saturday for a meeting of the United Nations Security Council to discuss Yemen.

A U.N. spokesman said the meeting was likely to be Monday or Tuesday. The announcement came after Soviet Chief Delegate Nikolai T. Fedorenko called on the Secretary-General U Thant.

LOVELY WELCOMER

Desert's 'Miss Bikini' Now Miss Long Beach of 1963

By BOB SANDERS

Carol Soroka, one of Long Beach's loveliest lovelies, is giving up her bikini this year for a play suit.

The tall (5-foot, 5-inch) statuesque (37-21-35) brunette will give up the title of "Miss Bikini of 1962" which she won at Palm Springs last July within the next few weeks.

When she sheds her bikini title, however, it will not be altogether.

SHE WON the coveted title of "Miss Long Beach" this week over 15 other beauties in the annual contest sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Consequently, in addition to representing the city at myriad civic events during the year she will don the IBC play suit to act as official hostess of the International Beauty Pageant to welcome the contestants here Aug. 8.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Clemmer, the new Miss Long Beach (the title used to be Miss Welcome to Long Beach) is one of six children who lists her major interest as her family.

"THE BIG advantage of being from a big family," she says, "is that you are never alone. There is always someone to do things with. I really feel sorry for people who are the only child in their families. They miss so much."

At the full-blossoming age of 19, Carol is as industrious as she is beautiful.

She already has been working as a secretary to a Los Angeles manufacturing firm for more than a year, in addition to winning a series of beauty contests.

Fresh out of El Monte High School she took a job as a waitress at Lake Arrowhead in June of 1961 to save enough money to take a college business course.

After only one semester at Long Beach State College that fall, she had a freeway accident whiped out her car and, at the same time, her transportation to and from Long Beach State.

CAROL SOROKA . . . L.B.'s New Greeter

CAROL won the title Miss Bikini of 1962" at Palm Springs with her statuesque 37-21-35.

Undaunted she took a job selling, of all things, men's underwear at Walker's Department Store, where Saturday she picked up the $300 wardrobe she won as Miss Long Beach, and went on to her secretary's job.

WHILE AT Lake Arrowhead, she says, she waited on movie actor Dan Duryea but denies that had any bearing on his helping, as one of the Junior Chamber of Commerce judges, to pick her for her new title.

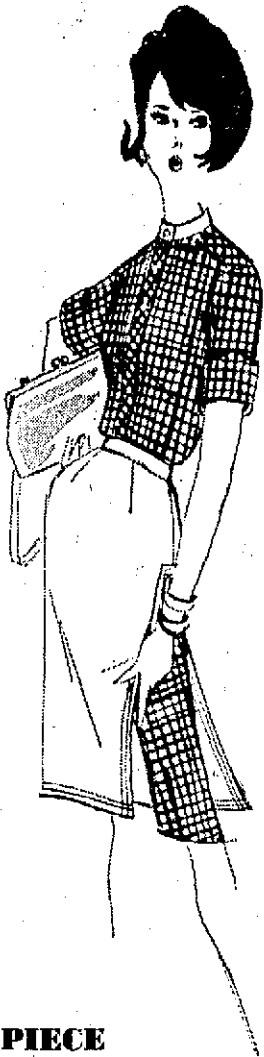

"He didn't remember me at all," she says, although it's hard to believe he could forget.

Not too interested in an entertainment career because she and her fiance, a lucky 31-year-old drafting engineer named Richard Lieb, plan to get married after her year as Miss Long Beach is over, the 110-pound beauty has sung with dance bands and taken lessons in modern dance.

ENDOWED with greenish-brown eyes, coal-black tresses and a classic profile, she has cultivated a quick bright smile and a deep suntan which she keeps in shape by lying in her backyard in the sun at every opportunity.

Asked how she felt about winning the Miss Long Beach title, she replied:

"It was really all luck, you know. If I had lived across the street I would have been a resident of Paramount and ineligible for the contest."

IN HAWAII AFTER SOUTHLAND STAY

JFK Calls for Tax Cut, Bias End

LOS ANGELES (AP)—President Kennedy pounded away politically Saturday for a tax cut and racial equality, and then flew off to Hawaii to take up the civil rights issue with the nation's mayors.

The President's blue-and-white jet airliner lifted off the runway at Los Angeles International Airport at 7:12 p.m. (PDT) for a five-hour flight to Honolulu.

The two are in the 50th state for a Kennedy talk and consultations with the national conference of mayors today.

Earlier, in an out-and-out political speech at the Hollywood Palladium, the President was wildly cheered by a group of Democratic women who paid $10 apiece to breakfast with him. Kennedy tied politics and the racial issue together in his speech.

He promised that "we are going to meet our responsibility in the 1960s to provide the equality of opportunity, to give every child, regardless of his color, a fair chance."

And he said his proposed $10 billion tax cut is vital to prevent economic strangulation and a string of deeper and deeper recessions.

Later the President relaxed by the swimming pool at the Santa Monica home of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lawford. The first sunny Saturday in weeks brought thousands to the beaches, and between 3,000 and 4,000 concentrated around the Lawfords' beachfront home, hoping the President would make a repeat performance of his famous swim there last September.

At that time more than 1,000 bathers — some with their clothes on — accompanied the President on a vigorous swim in the Pacific Ocean. Guests at the Lawford home Saturday were mostly members of the White House staff, although Mr. and Mrs. David Niven joined them.

Souvenir Hunters Have Field Day

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Souvenir hunters descended upon the Hollywood Palladium after President Kennedy's breakfast with Democratic women Saturday and cleared off the breakfast table—taking even the president's untouched glass of orange juice.

One man, Ronald Lamont of Inglewood, Calif., leaped forward to seize the chair which the president had occupied and wouldn't let go until manager Sterling Way agreed to sell it to him. The price: $30.

their credentials and asked to see the setup.

After inspecting the quarters, the newsmen were advised they would have to move "a block farther down the street."

When the newsmen protested the apartment was outside the restricted zone, as outlined in an official June 7 university memorandum on news coverage, they were told that state highway patrol head Al Lingo was running the show and that his order "superseded" the early directives.

Lingo, who is in charge of all police officers on campus, explained that he and his men were on hand to "preserve the peace. But we won't escort them (the Negroes) around the campus," he said.

Presumably if the Negroes require protection it would be up to the federal government to provide it, as it did at Oxford for Negroes James Meredith and Cleve McDowell when they entered the University of Mississippi.

Meanwhile, Police Chief W. N. Marable said a man who had identified himself as an "American Nazi" had been told to leave Tuscaloosa. The chief said the man, whose name he did not know, came by the police station to ask for permission to demonstrate and was told to leave the city. Marable said the man departed.

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP)—State police arrested six white men Saturday night and confiscated a cache of weapons that included clubs, bayonets and pistols.

Col. Albert Lingo, state public safety director, said the six were arrested near this university city where an integration showdown is scheduled Tuesday.

Lingo said the men had billy clubs, bayonets, baling hooks and six pistols.

They were charged with carrying weapons without permits.

Lingo said all six were jailed immediately.

He identified them as Frank Herman Cash, 44; Arvil Cagle, 22; William Ross Keith, 34; Ellis Raymond Dinsmore, 56; Herbert Eugene Reeves, 33; and Gary Thomas Rowe Jr., 32. All live in the Birmingham area.

Lingo said the men did not say what they planned to do with the weapons.

Council Still Can't Get Pay Hike, Opposition Less

By GEORGE WEEKS

Long Beach voters have decided, for the third time within nine years, that a city councilman should serve for little more than token pay.

But this time the electorate does appear to be moving toward an eventual increase of the $200 monthly salary allotted to the city's top policy-making officials.

A charter amendment that would have raised pay to $400 a month failed at Tuesday's election by fewer than 1,200 votes. (The unofficial tally, subject to minor correction by the vote canvass, was 24,477 against, 23,319 for the raise.)

In the two preceding show-downs on comparable proposals, the adverse majorities were 25,074 and 20,461.

The last previous test, on a $400 salary plus a doubling of the mayor's expense allowance to $1,200 annually, went down, 69,263 to 44,189, on Nov. 6, 1956.

A proposed boost to $500 for councilmen lost on Nov. 2, 1954, by 49,273 to 28,812.

EVEN THE PRESENT pay level squeaked through by only a narrow majority when presented on Feb. 24, 1948. The increase from the old salary of $50 went through by less than 2,000 votes — 23,610 to 21,568.

Some observers attribute the outcome of Tuesday's charter vote to an inconsequential added item in the proposition — an increase in the fee for councilmen sitting as members of the Board of Equalization from $10 to $20 per meeting. The cost would have been nominal because the board normally meets only five times a year.

In any case, the councilmen are still in the position of ruling on pay increases for other municipal employees often totaling more than a million dollars a year while helpless to do anything about their own $200 a month stipend.

Under the charter, council members can and frequently have raised salaries of the other elected officials — but only the voters can change the $200 for the nine who make the decisions.

Most councilmen were reluctant to comment publicly on the latest rebuff. Mayor Edwin W. Wade was an exception.

"This definitely ought to be corrected," said the mayor. "In my opinion a pay raise should be submitted again — it's too early to say just when."

The mayor is on record as favoring a pay scale substantially higher than any yet submitted to the electorate. His argument is that the salary should be consistent with the responsibilities of the office, increased since that time at least in proportion to population growth.

NO OTHER councilman has gone that far. The consensus appeared to be that if the question is revived, it will still suggest no more than a meager salary. To some extent, council members agree that they should be paid like a board of directors rather than as full-time executives. (Actually, the city manager and his department heads are the executives.)

But it still rankles that the 1948 salary level should be expected to compensate for duties and demands that have been enough.

Sculpture Good Enough to Eat
LONDON (UPI) — Diana Blanchflower, 20, was among two students at the Slade School of Fine Arts who won $28 prizes by using cheese in a sculpture competition sponsored by the Australian Government Trade Commissioner. "I started making it and found myself nibbling away at pieces as I worked," Miss Blanchflower said. "I had to stop otherwise there wouldn't have been enough."

Slate Free Film Series on Liberty

A Chamber of Commerce-sponsored series of free films, to be known as Long Beach Liberty Theater, will be shown weekly starting Monday.

The films include such titles as "The Structure of the American Way of Life," "A Look at Socialism," "A Look at Communism," "A Look at Capitalism," "The Profit System," and others.

The 12-week series will begin at 8 p.m. Monday and continue each Monday night at Alice M. Birney grammar school auditorium, Spring Street and Maine Avenue. The same program will be repeated Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Patrick Henry school auditorium, 3720 Canehill Ave., starting June 11, and on Wednesdays, starting June 19, at the J. H. McGaugh school auditorium, Bolsa Avenue and Bay, Seal Beach, in cooperation with the Seal Beach Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The first films to be shown are "True Revolution," the first of a series of three produced by the California Free Enterprise Association, "Communist Imperialism," and a color cartoon, "Going Places."

More Sugar in U.S. Markets Than Last Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—American markets got 17 per cent more sugar in the first five months of this year than in the like period last year, an Agriculture Department report disclosed.

Deliveries by refiners, beet sugar processors, importers and sugar cane processors in the Florida-Louisiana producing area totaled 4,181,000 tons to June 1 compared with 3,574,000 tons in the corresponding period last year.

Officials said these delivery figures substantiate previous statements that there is no shortage of sugar in this country or cause for the earlier sharp price increases or for stockpiling in fear of shortages. Deliveries in May totaled 1,025,000 tons, by far the largest quantity sold in the market in any one month since last August.

tonight with enough left over to pay for a round-trip jet ride—her first—a week at the Breaker's International Hotel and a jam-packed schedule of individual and group reunions with old friends.

Katie packed up her megaphone—she used it to lead cheers—and her tennis shoes (the "heavy" ones that were left behind) and came back in style.

The party tonight is the highlight.

Katie will be there, beginning at 4 p.m., "to say 'Hello' to everyone who wants to say 'Hello' to me." Then they will have dinner, a program featuring Katie as the speaker, and top off the evening by dancing to Glenn Miller and Hal Kemp records.

Katie will dance too—"if anybody asks me."

The first thing Monday morning, Katie will visit Wilson High. "But I don't know this new principal so I hope he won't mind an elderly lady strolling around with the kids."

The rest of the week, Katie will visit, tour, greet, and meet everyone "who'll speak to me."

If her first two days back in town are any indication, it'll take Katie Harrison an hour to walk half a block down Pine Ave. . . . even if she only acknowledges every other friend she meets.

Unruh Summons Assembly Into Special Sunday Session

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Speaker moved into what shaped up as a hectic final two weeks. The Assembly to meet today. The unusual Sunday meeting as the California legislature was called to clear the decks of routine measures before the Tuesday deadline for the lower house to finish action on its own bills.

Democratic leaders had flown south to see President Kennedy Friday, and Unruh said that ruled out a Saturday meeting.

THE SENATE, which "stopped the clock" a full day past the Thursday deadline for passing its own bills, was in recess until Monday. It finished late Friday, and will go to work on hundreds of Assembly bills this week.

The legislature's busiest week of 1963 set the stage for showdowns on most of the major issues, still pending after five months.

On the Assembly floor awaiting votes were Gov. Brown's $3.25 billion state budget and his two key tax revision bills—a speedup in collection of bank and corporation taxes and withholding of personal income taxes.

THE ASSEMBLY Ways and Means Committee amended the big spending program for 1963-64 to require a simple majority instead of two-thirds of the members for passage.

That would speed it to the Senate, and to a two-house conference committee which will work out the final version.

Assembly Republicans, at least two of whose votes will be needed before a budget can be finally passed, have vowed to block the budget unless withholding is defeated.

The final version still will need two-thirds, since it must take effect at once to provide funds to operate California's government starting July 1.

Council Assails Senate Grab at Oil Fund

city-controlled oil development in the East Long Beach field.

"If we decide to withdraw the application, we may do so at any time before the commission meets on June 27," Kealer said.

Long Beach Assemblyman Joseph M. Kennick, who flew here from Sacramento for the meeting, told the council, "I would strongly assume that the Dolwig bill will join the Winton bill (its Assembly counterpart) in a two-year study."

Kennick is chairman of the Assembly Committee on Manufacturing, Oil and Mining. His committee will meet at 3:45 p.m. Wednesday to consider the bill.

Conductor Paroled

SALEM, Ore. (AP)—Heimo Verner Haitto, former child prodigy violinist from Finland and former conductor of Salem's Capitol Symphony Orchestra, was paroled from Marion County Jail after serving 51 days of a 10-month sentence on a charge of writing bad checks. He plans to return to his native Finland.

"Long Beach is coming out of the legislative session in moderately good shape," Kennick said. "I believe there will be unanimity in the committee for the interim study."

CITY ATTY. Gerald Desmond agreed with the legislator that the protest policy statement fairly expresses the city's position.

The only opposition came from Councilman Robert F. Crow and lame-duck Councilman Andrew Baird.

Crow objected to referring the city's countermeasures to the council's committee.

"We should take some type of action," he said. "Now is the time to come out in the open and discuss our position."

Baird asserted that the city's statement would "only aggravate them"—apparently meaning Long Beach opponents in the Senate.

"They are already aggravated to the point of taking our birthright away from us," Kealer retorted.

WHEN CROW mentioned criticism of Long Beach's handling of the trust funds by A. Alan Post, legislative budget analyst, City Manager John R. Mansell flatly denied the charge.

"This has been reviewed by the city auditor, city attorney and others," Mansell said. "It is entirely false."

He described the Dolwig Bill as "based on clay—misinformation and misleading the people of California."

Mansell said he favored a legislative interim study—but not as a compromise.

"It will give Long Beach a chance to tell its story," he said. "A previous interim committee, the Allen committee, commended the city after seven hearings. I hope and trust that when the new committee comes down here they will make the same findings."

CITY ATTY. Desmond reported that Sen. Richard Dolwig had promised to amend his bill on the Assembly side to remove the section placing in the state rather than the city the authority over tideland oil development contracts.

Desmond noted, however, that the bill was passed by the Senate in its dual form, both as to the contract authority and the taking of all the oil revenues.

Under 1956 compromise legislation, 50 percent of tideland oil revenues now remain in Long Beach for city use restricted to specific trust purposes. The legislation came about as a result of the 1955 Mallon decision by the State Supreme Court holding that an earlier statute had declared 50 percent of the oil funds plus to trust needs.

Richardson, Kline Collide in City Finals

Kemp Wins in 20, McCormick Upset by Kline in Semis

By JERRY WYNN

Kemp Richardson has finalitis.

Saturday night, he studied history in preparation for final examinations at Millikan High Monday.

Today, he hopes to make some history when he plays Jim Kline in finals of the 39th Long Beach City golf championship at Recreation Park.

Richardson, the 17-year-old Long Beach sensation from Skylinks, advanced Saturday by squeaking past Chuck Montabano of Griffith Park, 1 up on the 20th hole.

A victory today would make him the second youngest player ever to capture the coveted City classic crown. Joe Nichols was a 14-year-old "wonder boy" when he became champion in 1930.

BUT IN Kline, a 36-year-old Compton businessman from Palos Verdes Country Club, Richardson will face a title-hungry foe of skill and savvy. Jim showed his mettle Saturday by taming favored Bill McCormick of Skylinks in another thriller, 1 up.

The 36-hole title tunic today begins at 9 a.m. with the second round at approximately 1:30 p.m.

"It's really great to have gone this far," said Richardson, who Monday won the CIF championship. "I didn't play too well today, and it was a tough loss for Chuck." The tense match was even after nine holes. Richardson birdied the 10th hole on an eight-foot putt and won the 14th on a par to take a 2 up advantage. Montabano had a tough break on the 13th when a deep spike mark blocked the path of a two-foot putt which he missed. The hole was halved with bogies.

KEMP SAW his lead dwindle when he smacked a 5-iron over the green for a bogey on the 15th, and had it vanish when he put another 5-iron into a trap on the 16th.

The 17th, 18th and 19th holes were halved with pars. . . . Montabano coming through with saving putts of 4 and 5 feet on the latter two. But Richardson took matters in his own hands on the 20th by sinking a 10-foot birdie putt for the victory.

For the distance, Richardson was two over par and Montabano three over.

Kline led McCormick all the way, but never could open up daylight on a bleak, windy day.

The blond, crew-topped father of three won the third hole on a par, the fourth on a 15-foot birdie putt, but lost the eighth on McCormick's three-foot birdie tap to hold a 1 up lead at the turn.

KLINE WON the 10th and 12th on pars, and lost the 11th to a par to increase his lead to 2 up. It went down to 1 up when Jim hit a 6-iron into a trap on the 16th, and when McCormick blasted a wood shot to the green on the 525-yard 17th, the match appeared on the way to becoming even.

But McCormick took three putts from 40 feet, missing a 2 1/2-footer on the final tap. Big Bill had another birdie chance on the 18th, only to miss an eight-foot putt.

Kline, who hit 15 greens in regulation figures, was three over par for the match, and McCormick four over.

A DILLER, A DOLLAR, A 9.5 SCHOLAR

STANFORD (AP)—Stanford sprinter Larry Questad took a final examination Saturday morning, dashed down to the track and clocked 9.5 and 9.6 in the 100-yard dash, then ran back to take another test. It was an offbeat highlight of the 23-event Pacific Association AAU track and field championships. Questad won both his heat and the final.

Pascual Tames Angels Dodgers Up Lead—.003

By ROSS NEWHAN The flying Minnesota Twins axed the stumbling Angels 9-3, Saturday as the Seraphs layed another egg on dairy night.

Hammerin' Harmon Killebrew and Jim Hall, a .187 batting defensive specialist playing for the flu-bedded Bob Allison, slugged home runs as the Twins roared to within three games of the American League lead and the Angels fell back into eighth place.

Minnesota sent Danny Osinski (4-2) to a first-inning shower by scoring four times and never looked back as it registered its fourth consecutive victory and 17th in its last 21 games.

Some 11,889 fans watched the Angels commit three errors—bringing their season total to 69 in 57 games—and fall behind 7-8 on this home stand and 15-15 for the season in Dodger Stadium.

MERCIFULLY, manager Bill Rigney and Lee Thomas were spared much of the agony of witnessing the Angels' third defeat in their last four games. Plate umpire Alex Salerno booted both out for abusive bench jockeying in the sixth inning.

Averaging just 3.6 runs per game, the Angels were limited to seven hits by Camilo Pascual, who has won eight of his last 10 decisions in boosting his record to 8-5.

By GEORGE LEDERER CHICAGO—The presence of Maury Wills continued to inspire the Dodgers in a perspiring 9-5 victory over the Cubs Saturday afternoon.

It was fortunate that new league leaders showed some late inspiration at bat because they were inept defensively and made more mistakes than an amateur counterteifer.

It helped also to have the Cubs match the Dodgers with three physical errors, which produced a 4-0 Dodger edge in the battle of unearned runs.

Wills enjoyed a 4-for-5 afternoon at the plate and drove in the Dodgers' permanent lead run with his final single in the seventh inning. That made it a 4-3 contest, which bulged to a 9-3 margin before Ron Santo's seventh homer produced two Cub runs in the ninth.

Pitching beneficiary of the afternoon-long shenanigans was Ron Perranoski, whose record became 7-1 in his seventh appearance in 14 games on this trip. The Dodgers have won six, four in a row since Wills was pronounced healthy and rejoined the lineup Tuesday night.

THE DODGERS thus increased their NL lead by one decimal point and hold a .003 margin over the runnerup Cardinals. They can salvage

Chateaugay Whips Candy Spots

NEW YORK (UPI)—Chateaugay, the Kentucky Derby winner denied a Triple Crown triumph when he was second in the Preakness Stakes, streaked along the rail in the stretch at Aqueduct Saturday to sweep past favored Candy Spots and win the 95th running of the $145,450 Belmont Stakes.

In a stunning upset, Chateaugay once again started his big run on the turn into the stretch just as he did in the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness. At Churchill Downs he swept on to victory while at Pimlico in the pace proved very slow, easily took second by a length over Choker with Tom Cat fourth. When Candy Spots went to the front entering the backstretch it looked as if he had the race at his mercy. The lanky spotted colt owned by Rex C. Ellis-worth galloped along unextended. Suddenly near the end of the backstretch he appeared to stumble and Bonjour and Choker charged up at him. Jockey Braulio Baeza had Chateaugay back in fourth place running easily behind the slow pace of 49-7/8 for

Griffith Gets Crown Back on Decision

By MURRAY ROSE NEW YORK (AP)—Emile Griffith outpointed defender Luis Rodriguez in another close, split decision in 15 rounds Saturday night and became the first boxer ever to win the world welterweight championship three times.

The 24-year-old New Yorker by way of the Virgin Islands thus avenged his title loss to the 26-year-old Cuban exile on a close but unanimous decision at Los Angeles last March 21.

So, Rodriguez lost the title he had won from Griffith after a tenure of only two months and 18 days—the shortest on record for any undisputed titleholder in the 138-year history of the division.

The 2-1 verdict for the home favorite before a roaring crowd in Madison Square Garden was greeted by a mixture of cheers and boos.

punching," he said after his eighth title fight in 26 months. "I would have felt better if I knocked him out so then there wouldn't be any doubt about the decision."

ANGELO Dundee, manager of Rodriguez, bitterly denounced the decision. "Luis dominated the fight all the way," Dundee said. "He forced Griffith to do the leading, just as we had planned, had him lunging, missing some wild shots. "Oh, Luis won it. He won it easy. It was the same type

HERE COMES CHATEAUGAY! Jockey Braulio Baeza takes Chateaugay around outside on final turn of Saturday's Belmont Stakes. Johnny Rotz, alongside, goes to whip on Choker, who finished third, while Willie Shoemaker holds Candy Spots, the favorite and eventual runnerup, close to rail.

REFEREE Jimmy Devlin had it 9-6 and judge Tony Rossi 8-7 in rounds for Griffith. Judge Joe Armstrong scored it 10-5 for Rodriguez. The Associated Press and United Press International both had Rodriguez ahead, 8-6-1.

After three fights and 40 rounds of boxing, the gap between the two is as narrow as an arrow. Griffith won a split decision in 10 rounds in their first clash on Dec. 17, 1960, before either was champion, and Rodriguez evened the score by taking the title in Los Angeles.

Griffith was spurred on by shouts of "come on son" from his mother at ringside. "I won it with my body

Ring Entries Olympiad King, Oppo Sweep Argonaut Stakes

By ERNIE MASON To Mrs. Connie Ring, Hollywood Park's silver anniversary celebration Saturday was a serious matter. So she did her part, collecting as much of the silver stuff as she could get her hands on.

That proved to be some $31,450 as her three-year-old colts Olympiad King and Oppo drove to victory in the two divisions of the $25,000 added Argonaut Stakes before a crowd of 48,282.

While Olympiad King was considered by most of the large crowd to be the best bet of the day, Oppo's victory in the first division came as something of a shock. But it gave the Ring team, particularly trainer Jack Phillips, as much pleasure as Olympiad King's romp in the second division.

Jimmy Ruggeri, who is Phillips' son-in-law, was aboard Oppo. He brought the tiring gelded son of Fourtuneway on again in the stretch to nip Solar Spectrum by a head in 1:42 3/5. Coming off a $64.80 triumph in his last outing, Oppo turned $23 as he carried little-known Ruggeri to his first Hollywood stakes triumph.

CHATEAUGAY, well handled, saved ground while reserved early, bobbed slightly near the under turn but recovered and, remaining on the inside for the stretch run, took command from Candy Spots before reaching the furlong pole and drew clear without need of urging. CANDY SPOTS moved up fast after a half mile and, disposing of Bonjour, established a clear lead approaching the stretch but was unable to stay with Chateaugay when set down in the drive. CHOKER, forwardly placed from the start, had no chance in a sharp effort but was not good enough for the leaders. TOM CAT, in hand early but unable to better his position when set down through the stretch, INSURRECTION, never dangerous, had no excuse. TOP GALLANT, never close fired during the last half mile, BONJOUR went to the front early but gave way when challenged by Candy Spots and was eased after hopelessly beaten.

Man to Man

By JERRY WYNN

Ask any pitcher in the National League which batter he would least like to face, and the answer undoubtedly would be Willie Mays.

There have been hitters with higher averages and more home runs than the sensational centerfielder of the San Francisco Giants, but few, if any, as totally devastating.

It is rumored that Willie used a bat as a teething ring.

But for every triumph in sports there is tribulation, and there are pitchers who have gotten Mays out on occasion. In anticipation of Willie's arrival at Dodger Stadium for Giant-Dodger games Monday and Tuesday nights, the question was put to him:

Which pitcher would you least like to hit against?

"The toughest pitcher I ever faced was Ewell Blackwell, who used to pitch for the Cincinnati Reds. I couldn't hit him to save my life. They said he was nearly through when I hit against him. Man, I'd hate to be up there trying to hit him when he was in his prime.

"Maybe I got one or two hits off him but it had to be an accident. He'd wind that long ring arm of his behind his back, then shoot the ball out sideways like, from third base. I'd keep looking for the ball but I never was able to pick it up."

What about pitchers active today?

"Don Drysdale of the Dodgers gives me the most trouble. He doesn't throw exactly like Blackwell but he reminds me of him.

He's got the same kind of crossfire pitch, almost by way of third base.

"Like Blackie, Drysdale crowds you a lot. Until last year I used to pick up the flight of the ball on Drysdale pretty well. He was a different pitcher last year. He took charge. He quit fighting himself. Before that, if a guy got a base hit, he used to get mad at himself. It doesn't fluster him at all anymore."

Are there any other pitchers who give you a hard time?

"Yes. There's that Don Cardwell, now with Pittsburgh. I know he doesn't have a good won-and-lost record but don't let that fool you. He's a good pitcher. At least, he gets me out.

"Another real good pitcher in our league is Art Mahaffey of Philadelphia. This young fella is a good pitcher now but he's gonna be great in another year or two."

What other pitchers do you most respect?

"Of course, there's Warren Spahn. I've always had trouble with him, but so has everybody else. Spahn is not a fast ball pitcher like the others. He doesn't try to strike you out but you never see a fat pitch from him and he always gets a piece of the plate. I can't outguess him so I don't even try.

"Robin Roberts used to be tough for me. I managed to get my share of hits off him but not many when it was important. That's when he'd rear back and give it that little extra. I don't ever remember getting a hit that beat Robbie."

Say hey!

49er Lee Wins 880 Crown in Chicago

CHICAGO (Special)—Long Beach State College got maximum mileage out of its three-man entry in NCAA college division track and field championships here Saturday.

Ralph Lee was a winner in the 880, teammate Darrell Taylor was third in the same event and Tom Hayden also was a third-place finisher in the discus.

All three qualified for next week's collegiate championships in Albuquerque, N.M., while Lee also won a berth in the AAU meet in St. Louis June 21-22.

LEE LED from start to finish and his 1:50.8 clocking was a school and Stagg Field record. Taylor ran 1:51.8, while Hayden heaved the discus 153-11.

Maryland State won the team title with 98 points. Fresno State was second with 64. Even with only a three-man aggregation, LBSC finished seventh with 22 points.

Star miler Tom O'Hara from Loyola University ran to a college record with a 4:02.5, beating the old mark by over seven seconds.

Five regional records were broken. In addition to O'Hara's, Dale Mitthe of Redlands pole vaulted 14-5 1/4, Ed Skinner of Maryland State ran the 440 in 47.1, teammate Al Santio three the discus 173-4, and Jim Keefe of Connecticut State ran three miles in 14:13.0.

BOROS IN FRONT

Snead 'Avoids' 36-Hole Finale

GRAND BLANC, Mich. (UPI)—Julius (Moose) Boros stretched his lead to four shots and Sam Snead's current consecutive money winning record was snapped in the second round of the Buick Open golf championship Saturday.

The easy-going Boros mowed over the long Warwick Hills golf club course to add a one-under-par 36-35—71 to a first round 66 for a 137 total. That put him four fat shots in front of Canada's George Knudson, southpaw Bob Charles of New Zealand and the giant Bayer.

Snead, who had cashed checks in 54 consecutive tournament appearances since 1958, shot a triple bogey seven by four-putting the final hole for his second straight 77, which caused him to be cut as the field was narrowed to the low 75 and ties.

SNEAD'S act was deliberate, because the Slammer wanted no part of Sunday's two closing rounds, which start at 6:30 a.m. because the Sr. first round was washed out Thursday. Thus his pitter-puttering allowed him to Sr. avoid 36 holes in one day and Sr. the early rising which, at 52, Jr. the masochist millionaire has Jr. come to dislike.

GEORGE BAYER

BAYER'S ACE RICH ANSWER TO PRAYER

GRAND BLANC, Mich. — George Bayer, six-foot-five pro known mainly for his powerful drives, showed skill with the short irons with a hole-in-one during Saturday's second round of the Buick Open.

He won a $5,700 Buick by dropping his 6-iron tee shot on the 171-yard eighth hole.

"I saw the ball go into the hole because I was on my knees praying," the big guy said.

ASU RELAY DOES 3:05.5

Prep Hurls Shot 60-6 at Houston

HOUSTON (UPI)—Randy Matson, an amazing schoolboy weightman, put the shot 60 feet 6 inches Saturday night to win that event in the second day of the U.S. Track and Field Federation national championships.

Matson, who recently was graduated from Pampa, Tex., High School, became only the second high school athlete in track history to toss the college shot more than 60 feet.

Matson's effort ranked third best by collegian standards this year and was the first time a Texas athlete had ever gone over the 60-foot mark.

Earlier in the day, Matson was nosed out in the discus by Danny Roberts of Texas A&M who had a toss of 170 feet 8 inches. Matson had 169-7 1/2.

BRITISH GOLF TITLE WON BY LUNT, 28

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (UPI)—Michael Lunt, a 28-year-old English textile executive, atoned for his failure in the Walker Cup matches Saturday when he defeated his millionaire countryman, John Blackwell, 2 and 1, to win the British amateur golf championship.

It was the 76-degree heat as much as Lunt which beat Blackwell, who still feels the effects of the torture treatment he received as a prisoner of war in Japan.

The eccentric Blackwell was serious Saturday — so serious that he did not joke with the gallery and took only one drink out of the bottle of vodka and orange juice which he carried.

Poly's Motley Player of Year

By DOUG IVES

Marvin Motley, only a junior but already one of the greatest prep broad jumpers in CIF history, has been chosen track and field athlete of the year on the All-City cinder team named today by The Independent, Press-Telegram Board of Athletics.

The smallish Poly star edged three teammates, James Miles, Charles Swanson and Earl McCullough, in one of the closest battles ever waged for track and field's top honor.

In the end, it was Motley's superlative efforts in the CIF and state finals, the former which he won and the latter he lost by this (-) much, that gave him his margin of victory.

His mates all were more versatile in the league campaign and the early CIF qualifying, but when up against the best in the CIF and state finals, each excelled in only one event—and none had a more ominous record in his specialty than did Motley.

Soaring over 23 feet became commonplace with Marv—he once did it on 19 or 20 jumps—and he vowed before the state meet that he would go over the 24-foot "barrier."

HE MADE GOOD THAT PROMISE, clearing 24-3 1/2 inches, only to finish second by one-quarter inch to a Berkeley boy.

The 5-9, 160-pounder, who climbed to 24-6 in a meet last year but never was really consistent even at 23 1/2 feet, won the CIF title at 23-10 3/4.

Motley's surge to the top was an uphill climb which saw him overcome a late start due to basketball, an injury and a bout with measles, which sidelined him one week.

Strangely, his biggest obstacle was his desire to better himself. In order to make first-string football, Motley built up his legs to the point where they were so heavily muscled that it was not conducive to good broad jumping.

Just as he was able to condition himself into a football job, he also was able, through hard work, to cut down some extra-poundage in his thighs to again make himself a tremendous broad jumper.

POLY, AS IT USUALLY DOES, dominated the varsity team. Motley, Miles (hurdles), Swanson (100, 440) and McCullough (hurdles) were joined by teammates Fred Muench (220), Doug Bagby (shotput) and John Fairchild (mile).

Others chosen were Wilson pole vaulter Jim O'Mahoney, Jordan high jumper Jim Keck and half-milers Jim Hamlin of Jordan and Stan Bauer of Wilson.

Miles was a CIF champion in the low hurdles and a sixth-place finisher in the 100. McCullough was fourth in the CIF lows and a surprise third in the state meet. Swanson was seventh in the 100 finals and all three ran on Poly's second-place relay team.

Bagby wound up fifth in the CIF shotput, with a best mark of 60-5, achieved in the prelims. Muench ran an exquisite 21.1 considering he's a sophomore and Fairchild had a top mile of 4:28.1.

Bauer and Hamlin duelled often in the half-mile, with Hamlin emerging with a slightly better time of 1:56.0. Keck surprised a lot of people by clearing 6-2 consistently after he hadn't bettered 5-10 in dual meets, while O'Mahoney was a consistent 13-foot pole vaulter.

SPIKE ROUNDUP

AAU Meet Easily Won by SCVYY

STANFORD (P) — Santa Clara Valley Youth Village easily won the team title with 82 points in the Pacific Assn. AAU track and field meet here Saturday.

Top marks included Ed Burke's 192-5 hammer throw for SCVYY, a 6-9 high jump by Cal's Roger Olsen, a 1:50.4 half-mile by San Mateo's Ron Benson and a 9:06 3,000-meter steeplechase by Tom Oakley of the Youth Village.

PELHAM MANOR, N.Y. (UPI)—Al Oerter, who competed on the West Coast Friday night, competed here Saturday in the New York Athletic Club's Spring Games and won the discus at 197-2.

His was one of seven records broken. Best of the remaining records was a 1:50.1 half-mile by Missouri's Robin Lingle.

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI)—Notre Dame upset defending champion Western Michigan to win the Central Collegiate outdoor title by 3 1/2 points. Only meet mark was a 6-8 high jump by Missouri's Ross Tunnell.

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (UPI) — There will be 111 teams and 403 athletes competing in next weekend's NCCA championships here. Southern California is the favorite.

DEL CONTE'S SCHOLARSHIP EARNS AWARD

Ken Del Conte, starting halfback on USC's national championship football team, Saturday was given the annual AAU Scholar-Athlete Award for outstanding scholarship, leadership and athletic ability.

Del Conte, a 1959 graduate of Morningside High in Inglewood, majored in English at USC and attained a B-plus average.

Del Conte was the fifth best rusher on the 1962 Trojan team, compiling 151 yards on 35 carries.

Ken will continue his studying in graduate school next year at USC.

Fishin' Around

By DONNELL CULPEPPER

28 Years for Tackle Busters

It's time now to talk about the Tackle Busters again. In case you are a stranger in our midst and wonder what the Tackle Busters are, let me tell you that they are the most ambitious fishermen in the city. They are the boys and girls who are begging for proper training and equipment so that they may fish.

The Recreation Department formed the Tackle Busters 28 years ago in the old Belmont Recreation Center. At that time there were only a few boys—perhaps a girl or two—in the group. In 1962 the program had grown so that 600 boys and girls were taking summer training.

There are no dues and boys and girls under 16 do not have to have fishing licenses and a traveling instructor goes from park to park, telling the youngsters how to tie leaders to hooks, wrap rods, make tackle boxes and also teach them the basic principles of fishing etiquette and conservation.

Parents often volunteer to help and their assistance is needed, particularly on field trips to piers, barges and other points of interest.

The summer session is climaxed with the All-City Fishing Rodeo on Belmont Pier, which the Southern California Tuna Club helps sponsor. Also, there are two Family Nights, one for the northwest area, the other for South-eastern parks.

DAN DYER, SUPERVISOR of special activities for the Recreation Department, has worked up the following schedule for this summer's activities:

Monday, June 24, Houghton Park, 10 a.m. to noon; Wardlow, 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. and each Monday thereafter until the fishing rodeo.

Tuesday, June 25, Bixby, 10 a.m. to noon; Silverado, 2 p.m. and thereafter.

Thursday, June 27, El Dorado, 10 a.m. to noon; Whaley, 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. and thereafter except July 4 when the class will meet at the same hours on the pre-ceding Wednesday.

Friday, June 28, Cherry, 10 a.m. to noon, Veterans, 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. and thereafter.

Special events, Fishing Rodeo, Thursday, Aug. 22; Family Nights (northwest) Aug. 19, 6:30 to 9:30 p.m., and (southeast) Aug. 20, same hours.

Wednesday fishing, July 17, 24, 31 and Aug. 7, 14 and 21, will embrace trips to Belmont Pier barge Paradise, Matineand, Pierpoint Landing, Seal Beach Pier and, finally, Belmont Pier.

Tom Collins, a veteran of six years in playground work at the parks, will be the traveling instructor this year; Any adult who has spare time is invited to help with trips or attend any class. All trips will be on a low-cost basis and, of course, are not mandatory.

THIS SOUNDS LIKE Lake Henshaw of years ago. Floyd Boyles, San Diego, trying to verify operator Maurice Staker's claim that good bass fishing had returned to the lake, caught and released 50 bass in eight hours of fishing.

Then he kept five, which weighed from 2-12 to 4-8 for a total weight of 20½ pounds. Three of the fish weighed the same 4-8. Triplets, no doubt! In all that fishing, Floyd used a variety of lures. He found that an injured Minnow was excellent in the early and late hours, while plastic eels and worms, mostly of dark colors, worked best in midday.

Fishing lakes and streams of the Upper Yosemite country will be opening within a week. Tioga Pass, highest of the transierran roads, was opened May 28, but most of the main trails to lakes and streams remained blocked by snow.

The Tioga Pass road was built in 1882 as an access road to the Great Sierra Consolidated Silver Mine. It was purchased with funds raised by private subscription in 1915 and donated to the U.S. government.

Extensive improvements were made in 1961 and the old 21-mile section of narrow, twisting, bumpy road was replaced with a straighter two-lane highway. I personally can recommend it as one of the most beautiful mountain roads in the west.

PETER S. FITHIAN, who does a great job in putting on the Hawaiian International Billfish Tournament each year, has added a gimmick this year that should appeal to many of those who go from California to Hawaii.

Immediately after the closing banquet of the tourna-ment (June 22) Pete and his associate, Allan B. Bell, will conduct a party to a plane at the Kailua Airport, then to Honolulu and there they will board a waiting South Pacific Airlines plane for Tahiti—one week in the famed island for $475, transportation and all expenses.

Pete calls this a vacation for himself; he says he needs on after the HIBT is completed. And a vacation it must be because in the package deal are inter-island trips to Moorea and Bora Bora. Pete says you can even spend a second week for $150 and almost become a "resident" of Tahiti.

Pete makes it look so fascinating that anybody with a $500 bill could not say no. There are tamaaraas (Tahitian night feasts) and dancing all night—every night—if you wish.

Of course, if you prefer to fish again after all that fishing on the Kona Coast, you may do so. Otherwise you can look over Tahiti's beautiful dolls (live) or relax. Can one really relax in such a place?

Renault R-8 at Mission Inn

By BILL EMERY
Will Rogers called the Mission Inn in Riverside "the most unique hotel in the world." Renault describes the new R-8 "the world's most advanced compact car." We put the two together last week end for one of the most memorable motorlogs of the year.

The Mission Inn is a combination Californian historical landmark and world tour with its collection of objects of art and interest by their location. We recommend the guided tour conducted by the remarkable May Spiller to be sure of seeing all the principal parts of the building and to become oriented quickly. The Inn was built by Frank Miller over a period of many years during his life in Riverside from 1874 until his death in 1935. Patterned after the California Missions, the Mission Inn was a hotel built to pay tribute to the romance of the old Spanish California places and times. Kings, Presidents, poets, authors, playwrights, songwriters and many other prominent personalities have lived and visited this world renowned resort.

To describe briefly its history, a 72-page handbook is available at the hotel desk. This handbook cannot begin to detail the treasures that can keep a visitor weeks at a time viewing.
Slightly more than an hour from Long Beach on the Riverside freeway, the Mission Inn is a must for any Southern California resident or visitor. Whether dining in the Californian Room, the Alarcon or the Spanish dining room which opens into the patio by broad arches, Mission Inn serves up a cuisine with as much skill and care today as it did in the days it entertained its most eminent guests.

Peter Vachek, now completing his third year as the Inn's general manager, was one of three hotel men in Southern California awarded "hotel man of the year" this year. His impressive background includes several years as manager of India's finest hotel.
Greeting us as we checked in was Guy Taylor, sales manager, who immediately recognized our new R-8 as a French-built Renault. "I drive a Caravelle myself," he told us.
The freeway "cruisability" of the rear-engine Renault R-8 is remarkably swift and comfortable. The 4-cylinder engine with 4-speed forward shift produces sports car power even when loaded with passengers and luggage.

A remarkable innovation in the engine design—five main bearings—support the crankshaft on either side of each piston rod. This acts to suppress vibration at all speeds. Other engine features include removable wet-cylinder sleeves, a single-throat downdraft carburetor with automatic choke and a hermetically sealed crankcase that seals in oil fumes.

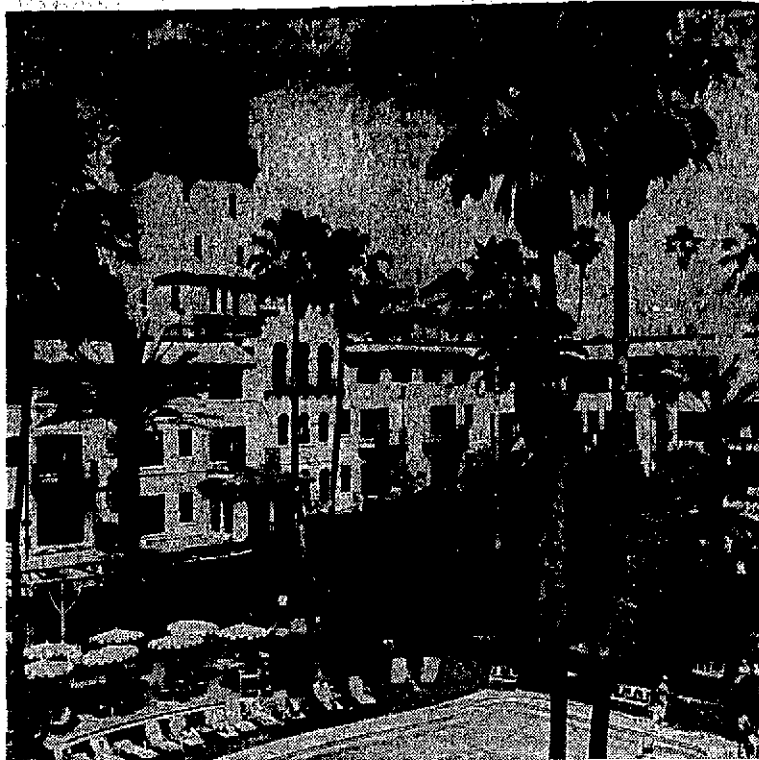

The sealed cooling system is a Renault first. A special coolant is sealed in the radiator at the factory and you never add water or antifreeze.

Other "luxury car" features included on the R-8 are self-adjusting hydraulic disc brakes, individual coil suspension and rear swing axles.

With 10.5 cubic feet of luggage space up front and another storage space behind the rear seat (which we didn't use), there seemed to be more than ample storage on the R-8. We did get good use out of the two roomy glove boxes for our nick-nacks.

Coming back, we had an opportunity to test the power of the remarkable R-8 climbing up the steep divide on the San Bernardino freeway to Los Angeles. Sitting in the cushiony-soft chair-like bucket seats, we sailed over the top with power to spare.

Back to Import Auto at 1440 Long Beach Blvd., a check on gasoline mileage showed an amazing 35.7 miles per gallon. Frank Marshall and Dick Scatchard accused me of dragging along a Dauphine. They said I should have gotten at least 37 mpg!

THINGS are really getting serious in the argument over Daylight Savings Time in Oregon areas near California. With California on official DST and Oregon officially holding with standard time, it's something of a problem.

It even provoked violence in my old home town of Klamath Falls, 18 miles from the state line. The president of the merchants association, who advocated that Klamath Falls adopt DST as a city procedure, was approached in his shoe store by a woman who disagreed.

She disagreed with a gun. The merchant is recovering in the hospital from two gunshot wounds. The gunman is languishing in jail where an hour one way or another doesn't make much difference.

OLD question reanswered: The concrete sign AAE, on the east side of Signal Hill near the Traffic Circle, represents American Association of Engineers.

Long Beach City College chapter of the AAE put the sign on the hill years ago and, for the most part, have kept it in good condition. Telling what it means has made me an item every two or three years—this time in answer to a note from M. G. McDaniel.

STAFFERS at the American Cancer Society office here got a big chuckle over the little boy who sent in a nickel contribution.

He forgot to put a stamp on his mail and a nickel had already been spent for postage when the envelope was opened. But just the same, everybody appreciated the youngster's kind deed.

LETTERS still come in here offering ideas for relieving the local man who had a long spell of hiccups.

Latest one, from Eva Arnett of Modesto, advises strapping the victim up tight in a belt. Tie it on right around the short ribs, she says.

Somebody else in a letter a while back suggested a different kind of strong belt. That proposal was to load up with some slugs of straight whiskey.

MEMBERS of the Long Beach After Dinner Speaking Society will be sharing their talents with the whispering pines today.

A group of them are at Idyllwild as guests at the lodge of a member, Dr. Bill Carnes. They're spending the entire weekend orating and declaiming in the mountain surroundings. Some of the gabbing will be out-of-doors and that should be most interesting to squirrels and other wildlife.

FLOATING FOREST of felled trees, tied into "booms" of several thousand logs each, are stored in British Columbia lake awaiting transport down river (left) to newsprint mill at Elk Falls. The lumberjack still plies his ancient and arduous craft (see photo at top right) to provide raw material for mills, but production of newsprint today is a highly automated process.

FIRST STEP in reducing huge trees to newsprint is shredding them into small chunks, which are then stockpiled (right) until they are needed. To make pulp, chips are ground between huge emery wheels and mixed with water. Then pulp is run through paper-making machine (below).

Long Journey for a Floating Forest

every 12, warns J. W. Hill, for 37 years a Crown Zellerbach employee.

There is no television and the only direct daily contacts are nightly radio broadcasts. The community is boxed-in by rugged and uninhabited wilderness.

There are only 17 miles of narrow roadway, much of it built of wood because concrete can't be laid.

OCEAN FALLS HAS DEEP sea berths and the 10,000-ton newsprint ship, MS Besseggen, plies between the Port of Long Beach and this remote hamlet every 10 days, bringing supplies in and carrying newsprint and other paper products out.

The Port of Long Beach, one of the major lumber and newsprint ports on the West Coast, handled more than 330,000 tons of newsprint last year, of which 117,000 tons came from Crown-Zellerbach.

"The newsprint and lumber products industry plays a vitally important role in the economic well-being of Long Beach Harbor and our market hinterland," asserts H. E. Ridings, president of the Long Beach harbor commission.

"It is a dynamic and expanding business and one we hope to grow with."

LONG BEACH-LANDED newsprint is delivered throughout the western U.S. and as far away as Denver, Colo.

Other paper products of Crown-Zellerbach, which had a net sales of $120 million last year, are shipped through Long Beach. These range from wrapping paper for department stores to toilet tissue to embossed napkins to fruit wrappers for the fruit industry and printed (Crown has one of the world's biggest and newest color presses, a giant which can print 17 colors simultaneously at its Richmond division plant) containers of all shapes and sizes.

To support these vast enterprises Crown-Zellerbach has cut miles of roadways (99.1 miles of new roads in 1962) in the Canadian wilds and operates a huge ocean-going fleet which includes unique self-dumping log barges, gargantuan pulp carriers and ocean-going tugs.

CROWN-ZELLERBACH'S 14 divisions, which employ nearly 6,000 persons, also operate their own railroad, air arm (amphibious planes), sales force and research and science division.

But the big newsprint machines are the heart of the industry, producing more than one-half of CZ's profits.

The machines are already miracles of efficiency. Bleached wood pulp is fed into them in a solution which is about 80 per cent water. The watery pulp is then passed across a fine mesh screen at high speed. Most of the water drops through the screen and the pulp is carried onto a series of rollers which press and dry the pulp into damp linen and, finally, into finished newsprint.

ONE MACHINE ALONE can produce a 274-inch roll of newsprint 486 miles long in 60 minutes.

The BC paper and woods products industry is a big economic force in western Canada, each year purchasing more than $100 million in supplies and material and using 15 per cent of all the electrical power produced by British Columbia's big hydroelectric industry.

Newsprint is the muscle of this industry, taking one-third of all the wood felled each year in British Columbia's 110 million acres of forest land.

YOUR NEWSPAPER'S PART in the miracle of newsprint is impressive.

The Independent, Press-Telegram uses about 21,000 tons or 30,000 rolls of newsprint a year.

The total annual cost of newsprint to the I.P.T. is $2.8 million, or approximately $8 for every man, woman and child in the city of Long Beach.

And from the point of view of the lumberjacks who must fall the trees—that's a big hunk of forest.

Senate Action on Oil-Grab Bill Gave LB Stern Warning

ALTHOUGH there appears good reason to believe the bill will be shelved in the Assembly, State Senate passage of Sen. Dolwig's measure to strip Long Beach of all tideland oil revenue control is a matter of the gravest concern to the people of this city.

That one house of the Legislature could adopt—even by the barest majority—a proposal both palpably unjust and at odds with already established Senate and legislative policy must be realistically recognized as indicative of the seriousness of the city's problem of defending its rights at Sacramento.

This development clearly justified the action taken by the City Council in special meeting Saturday providing for a Council review of city-state relationships in tidelands matters and of the city's plans for future development of the Wilmington Oil Field. When there are signs of a possible invasion, it's advisable to inventory the arsenal.

THE COUNCIL'S action, in view of the provocation, was on the side of moderation. In this it was in keeping with the city's long-standing policy of cooperation and fair-dealing with the state in the tidelands situation.

In accordance with this policy, the city in the middle 'fifties agreed to compromise legislation for a 50-50 allocation of Long Beach tidelands funds for city and state administration. The city at that time forwent other recourse that could have tied up the funds for years during litigation and legislative battles.

The Council's statement of yesterday rightly charges that the Dolwig bill violates the spirit of that two-way compromise.

Not only that, but it violates current legislative policy with respect to the Long Beach tidelands, embodied in a concurrent resolution already adopted by both houses. This resolution provides for a two-year interim study by a joint committee of the Legislature to work out a report on the best use of profits from the development of the East Wilmington oil field and to make other recommendations as regards the Long Beach tidelands.

In the face of this decision, the Dolwig bill arrogantly proposes to dictate the conclusions of the study before it is made.

This bill got by the Senate by the minimum vote for passage. It is now in the Assembly where a hearing before the oil committee is scheduled next midweek. Inasmuch as the Assembly has already shelved for interim study an almost identical measure originating in the Assembly, the best forecasts are that the Dolwig bill will get like treatment in the Assembly.

BUT IT would be folly for Long Beach to let the Senate vote on this arrogant and unfair bill pass without making immediate and vigorous protest and without recognizing its significance as relates to the long struggle ahead. To fail to see the warning, and to act accordingly, would be inviting encroachment on the rights of the people of Long Beach. It's time for a reminder in some quarters at Sacramento that Long Beach citizens are also residents of California.

JFK Cooling on Tax Cut, Reform

By The I, P-T Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON—Congressmen are beginning to wonder just what it is the administration wants in the way of tax bills this session.

The President had sought both tax reform and reduction, and was pursuing both with vigor as the year began, but now there are indications that he is backing away from both. That, at any rate, is the information being handed out privately to some of our lawmakers.

The subject of reform became an uncomfortable proposition at the outset, being an unwieldy sort of thing, complicated in itself and made more so by the many varying interests who would like to reform taxes their own way.

In other words, Kennedy had not been lashing the troops forward in behalf of tax reform so much as he was agreeing with Rep. Wilbur Mills (D., Ark.), chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, that there should be reform, and there is a difference here which is significant in the passage of legislation.

Now, evidently, the word is being passed that tax reduction is not the overwhelming goal of the year it had once been.

For one thing, the administration had been encountering more and more resistance to the idea of spending more and taxing less. And, for another, the concept of "reduction" has seemed more and more fleeting as the prospects for additional taxes have mounted. Mills, proposed Social Security tax hike would soak up some of the money a tax cut was supposed to leave in private hands. Enactment of the Medical Care for the Aged bill would increase it still more. State and local taxes keep mounting. In other words, a person who would claim to have reduced taxes—against this background—might wind up with egg on his face.

Significantly, too, the economy seems to keep right on moving no matter what happens or does not happen here in Washington, a fact not fully appreciated or understood by some planners.

Lyndon Johnson Sounds New Emancipation Proclamation

WASHINGTON—Vice President Johnson's recent Gettysburg speech has had some of the groundswells of Lincoln's Gettysburg address. In it Johnson proclaimed that "to ask patience from the Negro is to ask him to give more of what he has already given enough."

At first, like Lincoln's speech, it was ignored by most newspapers. Lincoln's speech was written on the back of an envelope. Johnson did not have an early press release of his speech, but the Washington Post got hold of a carbon copy, published it on page one, and the New York Times and other papers immediately followed.

The speech has now become a sort of emancipation proclamation for the Kennedy administration, and some of the White House functionaries are irked that it was the Vice President, not the President, who made it.

In the speech, Johnson said:

"One hundred years ago the slave was freed.

"One hundred years later the Negro remains in bondage to the color of his skin.

"The Negro today asks justice . . . the Negro says 'now.' Others say 'never.' The voice of responsible Americans . . . says 'together.'"

Some Kennedy critics have been comparing this with the three speeches the President made during his recent trip South when he talked about the TVA, the race for the moon, and the importance of law and order, but did not mention the race problem. They have been trying to drive a wedge between JFK and LBJ.

This highlights two significant facts about the relative positions of the President and the Vice President on civil rights:

1. Johnson is from Texas. His ancestors fought in the Civil War to prolong slavery. Kennedy comes from Massachusetts, home of the abolitionists who precipitated the Civil War.

2. Johnson, the southerner, has been much more forthright on civil rights than Kennedy, the northerner.

Dating back to the days when he was Senate Majority Leader, Johnson—in 1957 and 1960—passed the only two civil rights bills passed in 83 years. He did this despite the bitter and relentless opposition of his southern Senate friends, most of whom had voted to make him Senate leader; and despite poor health and the necessity of working until after midnight, and even all night, to break Senate filibusters.

For the past two years, Johnson has made speeches similar to that he made in Gettysburg, including the election campaign and including the South.

Finally, the Vice President, as head of the President's Equal Employment Opportunity Committee, has probably opened up more jobs to Negroes than any man since Abraham Lincoln. The first thing he did when he took over the committee was to call in the big defense contractors and lay down the law. No equality, no defense contracts, he warned. These are the companies employing several million workers, not just a few stenographers.

Result: Negro employment in the $4,500-to-$20,000-a-year bracket jobs jumped 25 per cent last year.

This is what a Texan has done without much fanfare in Washington.

THE DEMOCRATIC Sen-

DAVID LAWRENCE

Wallace Within His Rights in Challenging Court Ruling

WASHINGTON—However unpalatable the views of Gov. Wallace of Alabama may be to many people who disagree with him, the fact remains that, strictly speaking, it is inaccurate to label his attitude as "defiance" of the law.

The Alabama Governor actually is exercising his constitutional right to "challenge" any decision of the Supreme Court in order to try to get a different ruling from that which has prevailed. If he still doesn't get a new ruling and he fails to conform to the court's order, he must pay the penalty of what then is legally spoken of as "disobedience" or "non-compliance."

Lawyers versed in constitutional law know, but the general public doesn't realize, that there is no such thing as the "law of the land" in relation to the finality of all decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States. The correct phrase is "law of the case." This means that an individual can test any law or ruling and has a right to pursue the matter from the lower courts to the highest court, arguing new points not covered in previous cases. Gov. Wallace emphasized this on the "Meet the Press" program on TV last Sunday as follows:

"We are just raising the constitutional question for the courts, the federal court system of the land, and they may change and rule in our favor. They did rule in our favor from California, Clair Engle, was kidding the Republican Senator from California, Tom Kuchel, about the flood of critical mail he was getting from the right wing.

"Yes," agreed Kuchel, a bit irritated. "I even got a certificate from the vigilantes certifying that I was a 'traitor.'"

Sen. Engle, who has also made vigorous speeches exposing the right wing, went back to his office to inquire whether he had received such a certificate.

"Yes," replied his secretary, "but we didn't want to upset you. We tore it up and threw it in the waste paper basket."

"Hell, when I get certified that I'm a traitor by an organization like that, it's an honor," exclaimed Engle. "I want to frame it."

high court mean or how long they will remain in effect. Only this week, Justice Douglas, a veteran member of the Supreme Court, said in a dissenting opinion in a case involving water rights:

"Much is written these days about judicial law-making; and every scholar knows that judges who construe statutes must of necessity legislate interstitially (to a narrow extent), to paraphrase Mr. Justice Cardozo. The present case is different. It will, I think, be marked as the baldest attempt by judges in modern times to spin their own philosophy into the fabric of the law, in derogation of the will of the legislature. The present decision, as Mr. Justice Harlan shows, grants the federal bureaucracy a power and command over water rights in the 17 western states that it never has had, that it always wanted, that it could never persuade Congress to grant, and that this court up to now has consistently refused to recognize."

So the question might well be asked whether Justice Douglas is engaged in verbal "defiance" of the court, and whether the right to express himself vehemently doesn't extend also to the Governor of Alabama in presenting his views.

The layman may call all this "legalism," but that's the way the judicial system operates in America. It is hard not only for laymen but for lawyers to be sure what the decisions of the

GOP Fractures Remain With Hopeful Rx in the Offing

REPUBLICANS have only a year to reduce their fractures in California if they expect to run without hobbling in the June, 1964, presidential primary. Actually, they must splint and mend much before the June ballot date to have time to test both legs, trot and sprint.

However, new X-rays of the past fortnight show only a compounding of the fractures and a prognosis less salutary than Mickey Mantle's.

Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater canceled a Chavez Ravine appearance in August because he didn't want to be caught in an intra-party pincers between the Los Angeles Young Republicans and the county GOP Central Committee.

Richard M. Nixon left with Californians, in addition to his heart, a piece of advice—that Young Republicans should spend more time defeating the other party than in attacking Republicans, i.e. Sen. Tom Kuchel.

William J. Nelligan, new president of the California Republican Assembly, apologized to the League of Women Voters for the Assembly's Orange County unit and its "intemperate" resolution attacking the League. Nelligan won the presidency after a bitter fight with GOP supporters of the John Birch Society within CRA.

THE FIGHT itself launched a new GOP satellite, United Republicans of California, oriented right and anti-Nelligan. Nelligan's CRA board of directors joined him in calling UROC's raid of CRA membership lists "highly unethical."

There was a happier note last month. The Orange County Republican Assembly announced unanimous approval by presidents of the 14 Orange County RA units to remain in the statewide CRA. Their only hedge—"as long as the new state CRA board remains honest in dealings with us."

Clearer statement of the problem and of a possible solution seems to be that of L. A. County GOP Chairman Jud Leetham. He engineered separate meetings of party members who styled themselves liberal and conservative.

He noted in a memorandum to Republicans that the conservative movement has reached a state of self-assurance and strength which indicates it will be an important and recognizable voice in the party's councils in the future—as it should be. But, within the general enclosure of the Republican principles, Leetham said, "there ought to be room for a dynamic Republican liberalism; perhaps an imperative need for it. Nevertheless, Republican liberals must be under the same strictures as those with differing positions of making a sound intellectual case."

LEETHAM SAID he had received inquiries and expressions of concern that the Republican liberal point of view was not getting an adequate presentation. "I am inclined to believe this is so."

This belief led him to call the meeting of liberals and to admonish that "the party unable to create a climate of respect among its varying elements inevitably hands over political power, by default, to the other side."

Conservatism and liberalism were discussed at meetings Jan. 19 in Los Angeles, and March 19 in Rosemead. Then Leetham followed through with the April appointment of a 46-member Republican Advisory Committee on Policy and Doctrine headed by Dr. George C. S. Benson, president of Claremont Men's College.

IT'S JOB: to set forth the principle on which all Republicans agree . . . to state basic Republicanism in basic English . . . to delineate the framework of ideas and procedures in which all Republicans can work.

Leetham said the 46 people on the committee represent every band in the spectrum of the Republican party, and "the strength and stability of the party are in direct ratio to the full use we make of this sweep of views, sometimes divergent, always Republican."

Dr. Benson said Saturday the committee has had a couple of meetings and is working on drafts but that nothing is ready for release or comment now.

John Lived Words: 'God Is Love'

EDITOR:

"There was a man sent by God, and his name was John."

The sympathy and compassion which men of all faiths and beliefs have shown to us in the loss of our beloved Pope John will long be remembered. That for the first time, those outside the church have understood the deep affection and closeness the Catholic feels to his Pope is in itself a great consolation to us.

This gentle, kindly man who wished only to be a good priest, succeeded in creating understanding and good will everywhere he went and with everyone he met. Pope John lived the words, "God Is Love." Truly this was a man of God to have loved so many in life, and to be so loved in death.

Dilworth Quoted on Censorship

EDITOR:

For those opposed to censorship, I recommend a careful reading of an address made April 16, 1957, by the then Sen. Nelson Dilworth in San Francisco before the Commonwealth Club.

A free copy of the "Sixteenth Report, Senate Investigating Committee on Education" published by the state is available by writing to the Secretary of the Senate, in Sacramento.

Concerning the selection of books for our schools, Mr. Dilworth makes this observation: "There must be a margin of safety of strength beyond the expected need to prevent disaster. So in selecting our books we should seek to provide that margin of safety and, if necessary to err, to err on the side of safety. This is a true maxim in all fields of human endeavor." (page 277)

As a member of the said committee, the former Senator directs his comments to vital issues concerning our California educational system.

This address holds as much, or more, impact today as it did in 1957. Write for your copy. It'll be worth your time to read it.

How Objective Is U.N. 'Guidance'?

EDITOR:

I agree with Mr. Van Steenberg that the United Nations as a controversial subject should be studied in our schools, that young people should be encouraged to think critically and rationally on such an issue, and that a school system has a responsibility and an obligation to objectively guide students in the study of issues.

Where Mr. Van Steenberg and I would disagree is that in many instances the United Nations as a controversial subject is not being taught as such in our schools. My concern has been the method in which the students are being "objectively guided" in their studying of the U. N.

Were our children to be as objectively guided in their studies of American history, our Constitution and capitalistic "free enterprise" system of government, as some of them are in their studies of the United Nations, we could accomplish much in the building of good citizens and America.

Mr. Van Steenberg who is a social studies teacher and also a member of the American Association for the United Nations (an organization promoting the U. N.) seems to be beating his own drums, and not very objective either.

Languages in the News

By Charles F. Beritz and Robert Stroup-Davis

Questions from readers: "What does the word 'hoax' come from?" Jack James, Gardena, Calif.

It is thought to derive from the "hocus" of "hocus-pocus," which, in turn, comes from the Latin expression hoc est corpus—"This is the body."

"Could you tell me some Arabic phrases of greeting and farewell?" E. M. Veth, Long Beach, Calif.

Here are some, expressed phonetically:

ah-sah-LAHM ah-leh-KOON!—The usual Arabic greeting. Literally it means, "Peace be with you!"

MAH-salamah. — "Good-bye" (to one leaving).

B'KHA-tir-koom. — "Good-bye" (to one staying).

And when a guest comes to your house (or tent), you say, AH'lahn oosAH'lahn, meaning "This is your house and we are your family."

"My maiden name was Bunte. What does it mean?" Mrs. C. H. Stein, York, Pa.

It is German for a Swiss land division, meaning "enclosed pieces of land." A copy of the Berlitz "Diner's Dictionary" will be mailed to anyone submitting a question used in "Languages in the News."

Mental Health Shortages Cited

By MARK CLUTTER

Lack of personnel, facilities and funds for mental health work were reported by a psychiatric panel at the annual meeting of the Community Welfare Council.

The doctors told of long lists of patients waiting for treatment, lack of funds, acute shortages of psychiatric workers and limited programs. "In the Long Beach area there are only 10 psychiatric caseworkers to serve a community of 450,000 persons," Bernard Miran, executive director of the Jewish Family Service, said at the Friday meeting in the Armed Forces YMCA.

"They have an average case load of 100 a month," he said. "They should not have more than 25 or 30."

"THEY DO not provide a minimum service. They provide a token service in a very fine community."

Speakers on the panel were Miran, Dr. Boyd Krout, in charge of the psychiatric department of Harbor General Hospital, and Dr. Roger Schock, director of the State Mental Hygiene Clinic in Long Beach.

Also, Dr. Robert Kagan, acting director of the Long Beach Psychiatric Clinic for Children, and Dr. Robert Newhouse, director of mental health services at El Cerrito Hospital.

Mrs. Raymond Still acted as moderator.

Officers and directors were elected. The officers are Fred A. Dow, chairman; Mrs. Frederic M. Wise Jr., vice chairman, and L. G. Estes, treasurer.

The directors: Mrs. Angelo Jacoboni, Donald E. Graves, Dr. Paul Woudenberg, N. L. McLaughlin, Miss Florence Genschmer, Dr. Louis Swanson, Mrs. Ora Knudson, Dr. Julius Robbins, Mrs. Gertrude Withers, L. A. Roberts, Mrs. Don Muchmore.

L. G. ESTES and Don Gill were presented with citations for their work in trying to obtain county tax relief for those cities which provide their own health departments. Long Beach is one of the cities which must pay such double taxation.

The Welfare Council is a Community Chest agency that serves as a planning and coordinating body for 83 organizations in the Long Beach area. It surveys community needs and recommends plans for action.

CITY IN NEW PARKING-LOT RENT CUT

For the second time within a month, the City of Long Beach has agreed to take a lease reducing the rental from city-owned lots at Ocean Boulevard and Chestnut Avenue from $200 to $140 a month. City councilmen have ordered preparation of a new lease reducing the rental from city-owned lots at Ocean Boulevard and Chestnut Avenue from $200 to $140 a month.

Main reason is that the free parking provided by the city at the nearby Public Safety Building, along with the county parking at the Long Beach

Also a factor, said Ocean Boulevard—was purchased in 1956 for civic center expansion. Indicating that they still haven't given up hope for the civic center projects, officials specified that the new three-year lease will be subject to cancellation on 30-day notice.

Sabin III Clinics Set Thursday

I, P-T Los Angeles Bureau

The last of the polio vaccine clinics—to administer Type III Sabin oral vaccine—will be held Thursday from 6 to 9 p.m. at eight health centers in the Long Beach area.

Dr. K. H. Sutherland, county health officer, pointed out that after Thursday, with the possible exception of some pre-school and school children, persons desiring polio vaccine will have to obtain it through private sources.

A 25-cent donation is asked of each recipient, but vaccine will be given free to those who cannot afford to pay.

In the local area, clinics will be held at:

Bellflower—10005 E. Flower Ave.

Compton—300 E. Rosecrans Ave.

Downey—11215 S. Myrtle Ave.

Lawndale—14616 Grevillea Ave.

Norwalk—12360 Firestone Blvd.

San Pedro—122 W. 8th St.

Wilmington—612 W. "E" St.

Dr. Sutherland urged individuals to take the Sabin vaccine even if they have completed the Salk anti-polio series. Although the Salk vaccine is 85 per cent effective in the prevention of paralysis, taking the Sabin vaccine will increase the individual's protection and also slow the spread of the disease to other persons, he said.

The health officer also recommended that an individual take the Type III vaccine even if he missed Type I and Type II clinics. The earlier doses always may be obtained from a private physician, he pointed out.

Still No Answer On Plane Phones

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The familiar pay telephone booth is not going to be installed soon in airplanes.

Candidates Hail Council Victors

By BOB HOUSER
Political Editor

Dana E. Brown, a finalist in the 3rd District Long Beach councilmanic race, has offered his congratulations to incumbent Lewis D. Reese on his reelection and said, "I wish him well for the next three years."

"My heart is full of gratitude to those who did so much in my behalf these last several weeks. It would be impossible to thank personally the hundreds of sincere workers, but I do want to mention George A. Hart Sr., Lloyd C. Leedom, Jim and Bobby Vance, Mrs. Jackie Campbell and Fred Shanbour. We had the support of five of the weekly newspapers, hundreds of wonderful and loyal friends and almost 21,000 voters. For this I will be eternally thankful."

"Not being able to say 'Thank you' in person, this is my humble way of expressing my sincere appreciation to those of you who cared enough about our city government to try to make a change."

OTHER THANKS

Henry J. Kosman, 1st District council candidate, congratulated winner Raymond C. Kealer with a hope that "you get in there and continue your good work." Kosman also thanked his supporters.

Otto R. Cordray, 9th District candidate, extended his thanks to all who voted for him.

Plan Chico Shop Center

Newman Associates of Long Beach has unveiled plans for development of a new 35-acre shopping center called "North Valley Plaza" in Chico, Calif., which will include a huge Montgomery Ward department store.

Harry Newman Jr. said the 82,000-square-foot Ward's store will be the major unit in the regional shopping center which also will feature a bank, drug store, supermarket, junior department store, coffee shop and auxiliary stores surrounded by landscaped malls.

The new ultramodern single-level Ward's store designed by Eddy & Paynter, A.I.A., architects of Bakersfield, and to be built by Ernest W. Hahn, Inc., general contractors, Hawthorne, will be completed in the spring of 1964.

Budget Trimmer Bites Too Deeply

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Gordon Allison, administrator for the superior courts of Maricopa County, used a sharp pencil when he trimmed the budget requests for next fiscal year.

But Allison went farther down the economy route than he intended.

A check by county officials showed Allison had cut his own $10,248 salary from the budget.

'Turtles' Recognize Local Man

Because he took a hard knock on the head—and was well prepared for it—Harry T. Duncan will get national recognition this week.

Duncan, 28, an employee in the city street division, was showered with 175 pounds of plate glass and a copper angle bar when a big window in the downtown Wise Building fell out last April 1.

But he was wearing a "hard hat" and wasn't even stunned. His only injuries were bruises on the shoulders.

ON MONDAY, City Manager John R. Mansell will pass along to Duncan a certificate and emblem of the nationwide Turtle Club. The awards go to workmen whose lives were saved or who averted serious injury by wearing the special helmet-like aluminum headgear.

At the time of the mishap, Duncan and a coworker, Sidney Panting, were cleaning up debris from the collapse of another window in the same building. Panting suffered a long gash in the leg.

SEC in Another Move to Enact Tighter Securities Mart Control

By JACK LEFLER
Associated Press Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The second move to tighten control of the vast securities industry highlighted business and financial developments this week.

It was made by the Securities and Exchange Commission in recommendations to Congress for drastic legislation. The first set of SEC proposals came out last April.

This newest attack on what an investigation revealed as "grave abuses" was directed primarily at the far-flung over-the-counter market in which some 15 million Americans own $100 billion of stock.

IT IS INTENDED to provide greater protection for investors in stocks that are not listed on the New York, American and regional exchanges.

Key proposals would:

Bring 4,200 corporations whose stocks are sold over-the-counter—mainly in telephone transactions between buyer and seller and securities dealers—under the same rules of full disclosure of financial facts as apply to listed stocks.

Make more stringent the standards for brokerage firms and individuals entering the securities business.

Require all broker-dealers registered with the SEC to become members of the self-policing agency of the unlisted securities market. This organization is the National Association of Securities Dealers.

THESE proposals received general approval and support from financial leaders, although spokesmen for the banking and insurance industries were dubious that additional regulation was needed in their areas.

The business picture looked sparkling to members of The National Association of Purchasing Agents, the men who buy products for industry.

A poll showed that they considered business to be surprisingly good with prospects of getting better. The second half of this year, they believe, will be better than the first. Most of those surveyed expected capital spending to increase.

ECONOMIC straws in the wind included:

—Retail sales in April totaled $20.6 billion, 5 per cent above the March 7 per cent ahead of April 1962.

—Inventories held by manufacturers, trade firms, wholesalers and retailers in April increased $250 million to $10.73 billion.

—Investment in new construction in May rose to an annual rate of $62,730,000, 000 from $60,473,000,000 in April.

—Installment debt increased in April by $530 million at the most rapid rate since November.

—Factory orders rose 2 per cent from March to $34.9 billion. It was the fourth consecutive monthly record.

STEEL production dipped last week by 0.7 per cent to 2,608,000 tons as orders tapered off.

Output is headed for a downturn and may slump 10 to 20 per cent in July, an industry publication, The Iron Age, said. It attributed the easing of orders in part to optimism that a labor agreement will be reached without threat of a strike.

The auto makers turned out an estimated 170,000 passenger cars this week, compared with 139,394 last week and 150,285 a year ago. If producers hold to cur-

VA Center Researcher Wins Prize

Dr. H. W. Magoun, a brain researcher and a consultant at Long Beach Veterans Administration Hospital for the past 12 years, has won the $5,000 Passano Award for his contribution to knowledge of brain function.

The award will be presented June 19 in Atlantic City, N. J., during the annual meeting of the American Medical Association.

THE PASSANO Award was established in 1943 to encourage medical research and is sustained by annual contributions from the Wilkins & Wilkins Company of Baltimore, a medical publishing firm.

Five persons who have won the Passano Award subsequently have been awarded the Nobel Prize.

Dr. Magoun is dean of the graduate division at UCLA and professor of anatomy. He was honored for his discovery of the center of consciousness and other findings concerning brain function.

DR. MAGOUN, a Ph.D., collaborated with John D. French M.D., a neurosurgeon, in establishing a brain-research laboratory on the grounds of the Long Beach VA Hospital. Within two years it became one of the largest and best known neurophysiological laboratories in the world.

The Long Beach laboratory served as the nucleus for the establishment of UCLA's Brain Research Institute, dedicated in 1961.

VA hospital officials say Dr. Magoun has been "directly or indirectly responsible" for obtaining more than $2½ million in grant support for research programs at the Long Beach VA Hospital.

Egypt Temple Rescue Plans Win Approval

CAIRO (AP)—The United Arab Republic Saturday accepted a plan to save the Abu Simbel temples by cutting them up and moving them in segments from Nile banks to be flooded by the Aswan high dam.

The project, to cost $36 million, calls for reassembly of the temples on high ground above the present site. A rival proposal to cut the temples from the hillside and float them to safety would have cost $58 million.

Information Minister Abdel Kader Hatem announced the government's acceptance of the piecemeal operation, suggested by a six-nation commission of experts.

Cholera Deaths

RANGOON, Burma (AP)—Health authorities Saturday clamped a quarantine on Bassein, a seaport 100 miles southwest of here, following six deaths from cholera.

Eight in 23rd Battle for Rep. Doyle's House Seat

By BOB HOUSER
I, F-T Political Editor

For the second time in five months, in remarkably parallel cases, California Republicans will try next Tuesday to replace a deceased Democratic congressman with a man named Clawson — or Clausen.

The contest is for the 23rd Congressional District (north of Long Beach) seat of 17-year veteran Democrat Clyde Doyle, who died March 14. Three Republicans and five Democrats are in the fight, a sudden death election attracting national attention as the only pending national contest on the books.

Last Jan. 22 in another special election to replace 1st C. D. Congressman Clem Miller, killed in an Oct. 7, 1962 plane crash, the GOP won the seat with 40-year-old Don Clausen. It was Clausen's second consecutive campaign after having lost to the dead man in the November general election.

LEADING Republican contender in Tuesday's special is Compton Mayor Del Clawson. This Clawson also lost a November election, in this case to Doyle by a 83,269 to 48,488 vote.

Two other nominal Republicans, Harold R. Bennett, of Bell, and Harry L. Butler, of Cudahy, are on the ballot but are regarded by the official GOP structure as ringers. Both Bennett and Butler changed from Democratic to Republican registration only a matter of hours before filing for the office.

County GOP Chairman Jud Leatham charged in a Superior Court suit that they were illegally on the ballot and asked that they be removed or be listed as Democrats. He lost the suit on a judgment that the Election Code provision requiring three months registration in a party applied only to a primary election.

THIS INCIDENT also was paralleled in the January special election when Democrats charged that Republicans engineered the entry of nominal Democrat John C. Stuart as a spoiler for the endorsed Democrat, William Grader.

Favored Democrat and the "man to beat" in the top-heavy Democratic registered district is the 13-year veteran of the State Assembly (38th District), Carley V. Porter, 57, of Compton.

Other Democrats are:

Clawson, Porter Top Contenders

Herewith are sketches on two prime contenders in Tuesday's special election in the 23rd Congressional District to elect a successor to the late Congressman Clyde Doyle—Del Clawson, Republican, and Carley V. Porter, Democrat.

The district has 146,044 registered voters in its communities, including Bell, Bellflower, Commerce, Compton, Cudahy, Downey, Huntington Park, Lynwood, Maywood, Paramount, South Gate and Vernon.

DEL M. CLAWSON, Republican, Mayor, City of Compton—Clawson, 49, uses the example of his 10-year Compton City Council stint and his mayoralty since 1957 as an important base for his candidacy. He notes that the city's tax rate has been cut from $1.36 to 95 cents; a $1 million bonded indebtedness has been wiped out and the city has an unencumbered reserve of more than $1 million even though $1.8 million in capital improvements have been built.

Clawson advocates recognition of a Cuban government in exile, tax reduction through slashing foreign aid, a 36-installment annual $14.5 billion payoff of the national debt by the year 2000. He is strong for the UN American Activities Committee and cites the assurance of Congressman James Utt that Clawson will fill the first GOP vacancy on the committee. In addition to full official party backing, Clawson has received the blessings of former Congressman Edgar W. Hiestand.

CARLEY V. PORTER, Democratic, 38th District Assemblyman—Porter, a former school teacher, has the best wishes of President Kenedy and the personal endorsement of Doyle's widow, Lydia, in addition to being "the only officially endorsed Democratic candidate" at county, state and national level, including the California Democratic Council. Porter also is a champion of HUAC and points out that Doyle's vacancy on HUAC must be filled by a Democrat. He also is the officially endorsed candidate of "all arms of organized labor... local, county, state and national" and labor forces are moving to match the manpower aid which the Republicans are mustering for their favorite. He's also the choice of the California League of Senior Citizens.

Porter is chairman of Los Angeles County's 32-member legislative delegation in Sacramento and coauthored the Burns-Porter Act of 1959 authorizing the Feather River water project, and is chairman of the Assembly Water Committee.

He sees major issues of the campaign as including jobs and security including retraining of workers lost in automation. Porter has attacked Clawson's recent praise of Doyle UAC work, contrasting it with Clawson campaign material against Doyle last fall when he depicted Doyle as a Jekyll and Hyde character talking tough against communism while voting financial aid to the Communists.

CHRISTO JOHNSTON

James Earle Christo, Bellflower merchant; Lynn W. Johnston, Downey attorney; Armand R. Porter, South Gate cartographic engineer, and Maurice H. Quigley, mayor of the City of Commerce.

DON CLAUSEN'S victory in the far north 1st District gave the GOP 14 congressmen in California's 38-member House delegation. If Republicans can also succeed with Del Clawson it would make the count 15 Republican.

Eight Seek 23rd District House Seat

icans to 23 Democrats and change the total House lineup to 257 to 178 in favor of Democrats.

If nouveau Republicans Bennett and Butler really are Democratic plants to dilute Clawson's vote, the plot thickens. In alphabetical order, Bennett and Butler have the 1 and 2 positions on the ballot, generally considered to be advantageous. Since ballot position is rotated in each Assembly district and since the 23rd has two districts, Bennett's name has No. 1 spot in the 38th A.D. and Butler's name moves up to No. 1 position in the 52nd A.D.

Republicans elected Don Clausen through a massive effort as a national showcase exercise. They marshalled some 1,200 volunteer workers from outside the 1st District to get out voters on election day. The crew including 25 of the state's 28 GOP assemblymen as well as State GOP Chairman Caspar Weinberger, who rang doorbells with the rest.

PARTISANS of Del Clawson plan similar outside firepower in the coming 23rd

BENNETT BUTLER

District election and for some of the same reasons. A GOP victory would provide a unique propaganda piece against the Kennedy administration, especially in a district so long represented by a Democrat and which enjoys a 9-5 Democratic registration edge (92,642 to 50,231).

Adding to the book of campaign practices called "coincidence" or "dissembling," depending on partisan viewpoint, is the candidacy of Armand Porter. To offset the possible detriment of a double Porter entry on the Demo side, Carley V. Porter exercised an Elections Code prerogative of having his name flagged with the numeral "1" on the ballot.

WORRISOME factor to most candidates is the district's general apathy expected to result in a Tuesday turnout of less than 45 per cent. This, with a divided Democratic vote, could help Clawson, whose GOP votes in this kind of upset effort are as good as bankable.

With the possible exceptions of Armand Porter and Quigley, most candidates have strained to exhibit a conservative front to voters who favored the Francis anti-Communist amendment while it was being rejected statewide.

L.B. Woman Is Author of Book on Records, Public Libraries

Patrons look to libraries for recording collections equal in quality to book collections. But few libraries have had a readily available source of information on how to establish and maintain such collections.

Now comes "Recordings in the Public Library," a guide to the selection, cataloging, use and care of disc recordings—and the author is Mary D. Pearson, head of the Long Beach Public Library's art, music and philosophy department, which includes the phonograph section. Preparation it has been a five-year project. The volume, designed for public and college library use, will help these libraries meet the needs of their patrons through the resources of sound.

THE AUTHOR, who joined the library staff in 1944, received her library degree from Columbia and was among the first students to register at Long Beach State College, which awarded her a Master's degree in education.

"Recordings in the Public Library" is the third American Library Association publication written or compiled by members of the Long Beach Public Library staff. The first was "Descriptive List of Professional and Non-Professional Duties in Libraries," prepared by a committee headed by Mrs. Theodora R. Brewitt, librarian here for many years. The second was "Subject Index to Poetry for Children and Young People" (1957) by Violet Sell, Dorothy Smith, Ardis O'Hoyt and Mildred Bakke. All three are standard reference works in libraries throughout the United States and abroad.

Way to Cut Transport Cost

SAUGUS, Mass. (UPI)—Dr. Paul Dudley White, noted heart specialist, says one way to cut school transportation costs is to have the children ride bicycles.

"Get more youngsters bicycling and we will cut down on the cost of school buses," White told a social club yesterday after leading a procession of bicycle riders over a six mile route to mark the opening of bicycle safety week.

HOW MUCH DOES A NEW CADILLAC COST?

Before you give your answer, here are a few pertinent and helpful Cadillac facts to guide you.

Did you know that there are twelve beautiful Cadillac models—each very different in character and cost? They range in price from the magnificent Series Sixty-Two Coupe to the stately and distinguished Series Seventy-Five Limousine.

Did you know that many features included in the basic price of a Cadillac cost several hundred dollars extra on some cars? Among these are Hydra-Matic transmission, power steering, power brakes, heater and, on some Cadillacs, power seats and windows, individual sports-type seats and leather interiors.

And did you know you can pay almost as much for a great deal less? Cadillac craftsmanship and quality control ... brilliant performance and precise handling help the car to retain its high value over a far longer period of time.

Pick your favorite model ... put your estimated price tag on it ... and check your guess with your authorized Cadillac dealer.

We'll wager you guessed too high and we'll also bet that when you hear the actual price, you'll be ready to join the fast-growing Cadillac family right now.

Kennedy Moves to Gain Equal Rights for Negroes Through Peaceful Means

By HARRY SHARPE
United Press International

President Kennedy moved on a broad front last week to gain equal rights for Negroes peacefully.

But he also was prepared to use troops wherever violence gets out of control.

His primary concern was to end mounting racial strife in the South—the latest at Lexington, N.C., where a white man was shot to death and a news photographer wounded when enraged whites and Negroes rioted.

But his actions also embraced the whole nation. In rapid-fire order he met with 100 business executives and urged they voluntarily desegregate their hotels, theaters, stores, restaurants and "other problem centers" in both South and North. The response was mostly favorable.

NEXT HE ISSUED orders barring discrimination in the hiring of Negroes on government-aided projects and apprentice programs. And U.S.-supported state employment agencies were warned they would lose federal funds if they practiced discrimination. Meantime the President and his advisors worked arduously on far-reaching civil rights legislation to be presented to Congress this week.

Then he climaxed a Western speaking and inspection trip by flying to Honolulu where today he will lay the problem of racial tension before the national conference of mayors.

The President also struck another racial rights blow in a commencement address at San Diego State College. He said he wanted to see an American educational system that guarantees equal opportunity for a Long Island banker's son or the offspring of an Alabama Negro sharecropper.

IN THE BACKGROUND, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy was spearheading moves to maintain peace in the South. Attention was focused particularly on the all-white University of Alabama where this week three Negroes are scheduled for admission. Gov. George C. Wallace has pledged personally to block them though he is under court injunction not to do so.

The President had 2,000 troops and supporting units on the ready at Ft. McClellan, Ala., should violence erupt. Wallace proclaimed, however, that there would be no disorders.

In contrast, Negro student Cleve McDowell enrolled without incident at the University of Mississippi where last year the President had to use troops to force the acceptance of Negro James Meredith.

Presidential Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said the purpose of Mr. Kennedy's Honolulu talk was to "explore with the mayors the mutual and related responsibilities of the federal and local governments in meeting the rising problem of race relations." Previously the chief executive had met with nine state governors and some community leaders.

ATTY. GEN. KENNEDY frankly admitted to a worldwide radio audience that, despite some progress, this country's record in handling racial problems "is bad." He added that "we intend to do much more." Many Southern cities were cooperating in removing racial barriers, and strong bi-partisan forces in Congress were ready to take up the presidential cudgel over powerful Southern opposition.

Another sombre story highlighted the week's news when Pope John XXIII, spiritual leader of 500 million Roman Catholics, died in Vatican City in the fifth year of his reign.

Born 81 years ago as Angelo Guiseppe Roncalli, the one-time Italian peasant, who became known as the Pope of Peace, died of cancer without seeing the end of his greatest religious project—the Ecumenical Council which was suspended with his death.

A SECRET CONCLAVE of the College of Cardinals will meet in the Vatican June 19 to choose his successor. The new pope immediately will face the crucial decision of reconvening the council which Pope John regarded as his legacy to mankind.

The council brought together the entire Catholic hierarchy to debate modern church reforms and point hopefully toward reunion with other Christian denominations. Pope John's whole life was restoration of faith in the brotherhood of man, with tolerance and understanding. The council was his chief instrument to that end.

The pontiff, elevated to the papacy in 1958, went to his death in agony and prayer, his faith in the Supreme Being being unshaken. Thursday his body was interred temporarily in the grottoes of St. Peter's Basilica after more than a million mourners among many creeds had paid him homage.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY said that the Pope's concern for world peace and the human spirit "transcended all boundaries of belief and geography." Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, an avowed atheist, sent "profound condolences" and called Pope John's efforts toward peace "fruitful."

The President had hoped to visit the pontiff personally during his trip to Europe later this month. Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson headed a Protestant-Catholic U.S. delegation to the funeral.

In other news spheres, Mr. Kennedy arranged to meet in London with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan to discuss problems facing the Western alliance. The chief executive also will visit Ireland, Italy and West Germany.

Republican National Chairman Rep. William E. Miller, N.Y., said he would step down when his current term expires and also will not seek re-election to the House. He will resume the practice of law in Buffalo.

THE NATIONAL Aeronautics and Space Administration chose Boeing Company, Seattle, and Douglas Aircraft Co., Santa Monica, Calif., to make a study of manned space stations that would stay in orbit with four crew members with Gemini spacecraft while an Agena spacecraft carried supplies.

The Supreme Court ruled that the "agency shop" is valid under federal law, but that the states may prohibit it. Under an agency shop agreement, workers who don't join a union must pay the union the equivalent of union dues and fees to keep their jobs. Such shops are now included in about six percent of all collective bargaining contracts. The decision was hailed by the National Right to Work Committee as "a great victory for individual freedom."

In another far-reaching decision, the court overruled California in its 40-year fight for a bigger share of the entire Colorado River water system. Main victor was

Arizona which is now free to push a billion-dollar reclamation project. The life-giving Colorado and its tributaries are the only source of water in much of the arid south-west.

The President was in Honolulu Saturday for his speech to the mayors. It was a last stop on a Western speaking and inspection trip that took Mr. Kennedy to Colorado Springs to address the Air Force Academy commencement; to El Paso, Texas, and to San Diego and Los Angeles.

AT COLORADO SPRINGS, the chief executive announced he had decided to go ahead with the development of a supersonic commercial airliner to compete with a craft being developed jointly by Britain and France.

The plane would fly twice the speed of sound at 60,000 feet. The President said the United States could not afford to lag in commercial air transportation.

He also told the graduates that Khrushchev's "reckless" missile debacle in Cuba demonstrated that military policy and power "must be tied closely to political and diplomatic decisions in the future."

Before leaving Washington, he urged the World Food Congress to work toward banishing hunger from the earth. He proposed five basic guidelines, starting with the declaration that "the persistence of hunger is unacceptable, either morally or socially." Delegates from more than 100 nations were on hand.

A FEDERAL GRAND JURY at Chicago indicted Teamsters' President James R. Hoffa and seven others on charges of fraudulently obtaining $20 million in loans from the Central States Teamsters' Pension Fund and using more than $1 million for their own benefit.

A two-year FBI investigation of the $200 million fund led to the 28-count indictment. Hoffa is one of eight union trustees of the fund. He faces previous indictments on other charges.

An eight-nation committee reported to the Organization of American States (OAS) that international Communists have turned Fidel Castro's Cuba into a Soviet military camp and training base for Latin American Communists. It called on the 20-nation organization to ban all travel to Cuba and otherwise try to isolate the nation.

SOON AFTER HIS RETURN, Castroite terrorists raided the U.S. military mission in Caracas, Venezuela. They set fire to the mission building after forcing six unarmed Americans and four armed Venezuelan army guards to surrender their uniforms and guns. The fire caused $20,000 damage. The marauders escaped.

The State Department meantime gave U.S. commercial airlines permission to resume flights over Cuba. The flights were cut short after the Russian missile crisis. The airlines have suffered a competitive disadvantage.

A Northwest Orient DC7 airliner under charter to the Army crashed in stormy seas in the Gulf of Alaska and all 101 men, women and children aboard perished. The plane was en route to Anchorage from McChord Air Force Base near Tacoma, Wash. The victims were mostly Army men and their dependents. Cause of the disaster was a mystery.

By SYDNEY OMARR

FORECAST FOR TODAY

ARIES (March 21 to April 19): Don't let the summer sun melt your resolve. Aim high but avoid petrichor-quick schemes. Accept challenges to produce the best.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20): Good lunar aspect today highlights religious activity, self-expression on higher level, divine cooperation. Learn by teaching. Participate in church, community projects.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): If you can keep a secret, all goes well. Otherwise, there is apt to be embarrassment. Make effort to be considerate. Overcome temptation to lose your temper.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21): Best course today is to say what you really think. Let others hear YOUR side of story. Then watch their reactions. Pick up matters by observing.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 23): Key today is relaxation. Relief of recent tensions necessary. Be with amiable persons. Socialize. Excellent for visits with relatives. Short journeys.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Creative efforts indicated. Means write, read, paint—engage in theater or church project. Do the things which permit creative self-expression.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Watch details. Don't be talked into short cuts. Be thorough. Ask questions. Improve conditions in home. Concentrate on control for others as well as yourself.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21): Good time to feed your intellectual curiosity. Stop TALKING about what you want. Instead, take positive action. Start your plans in motion.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Are you ready to accept consequences for your acts? Important that you answer honestly. Strive for truth, especially where emotions are involved.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Be careful, dynamic. If there ever was a day to get going across this it is! Don't be sidetracked, frightened or bullied. Go after what you really desire.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): What you think requires caution may actually all for just speed ahead. Be ready to change your mind. Listen to facts. Don't let he hampered by false pride. Make this memorably day.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20): Friend who offers advice may be in romantic mood to seek practical course. Those not directly involved may be extremely idealistic. For your own peace of mind—check facts!

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY: You have qualities of leadership, dynamic personality. You get things done. GENERAL TENDENCIES: Lunar cycle high for Sagittarius, Capricorn, Aquarius. Special message for Cancer: Listen, wait and see.

FORECAST FOR MONDAY

ARIES (March 21 to April 19): Take step forward by investing in your own education. Doors open. People listen. Money is forthcoming. Outline plans for expansion. Consideration of future.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20): Time to be dynamic, independent, original. Move ahead. Do not get caught in old conditions. Especially good for following through on legal matters.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Consult with partners on financial affairs. Today, two hands better than one. Watch various points of view and don't be misled by one who is over-confident.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21): Consider the impression you make. Public watches, then reacts. Easy for misunderstandings to be created. Temper humor with kindness, sympathy. Key is caution.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 23): Give attention to health, labor, employment. Be considerate of those who serve you. Moderation is key. Pace yourself. Conserva energy.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Be sure you are right. . . then fall soundly ahead! Adhere to your principles. Don't waver in face of temporary challenge. Good lunar aspect highlights romance, change, travel.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Important that you insist on truth. The quicker a dispute is settled, the better. Avoid who discourages you. Get to heart of the problem. Then tensions ease and friendships are renewed.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21): Day to reach out for new ideas, experiences. Permit imagination to take you to great heights. Engage in creative activity. Write, check source material. Then present thoughts in unique manner.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): What people say today may not completely add up. Ask to see checks, statements. Be conservative in finances. Promises are fine. But money is the key.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Cycle high. Fine time for blousing about. Aim high. Express yourself. Use inventive, original, unique, approach. You can win your way.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Attend to matters requiring some secrecy. Secrecy, in plain words, don't reveal all you know. Be discreet. . . especially where members of opposite sex are concerned.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20): Live up to past promises. . . especially those made YOURSELF. Put forth bit of extra effort, and exercise WILL POWER. Read Cancer message. Welcome old and new friends.

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY: You are innovative, creative, with insatiable curiosity. You want to get around, to travel and explore. GENERAL TENDENCIES: Practical persons take over practical affairs. Look for key changes in high places.

Men's Suit Costs to Go Up About $5 This Fall

NEW YORK (AP)—Increases in the wholesale price of men's suits spread through the industry today.

The result will be that fall suits will cost about $5 more at retail.

The boost was initiated by H. Daroff & Sons, a division of Botany Industries, Inc.; Joseph H. Cohen & Sons, Inc., and Gramercy Park clothes.

The increase was the first since the Clothing Manufacturers Association of the U.S.A. signed a new labor contract with the Amalgamated Clothing workers of America.

Other manufacturers are expected to follow.

in Long Beach since 1924, and has made close friendships that have endured since City College associations. He has been in business for 11 years, the last 7 of which in Beach City Chevrolet, headed by James Long. He strongly feel that the Beach City operation is at a level in the industry. Policies are sound.
are permanent (which is a virtue) and of quality; cars merchandised as good as can be for, for the dollars spent—and we sell in the market for an automobile. I invite around Beach City's facilities. The treatment afforded, and the relaxed atmosphere of, and daughter, Lynn, are presently attending High School. His wife, Shirley, is an excellent home manager.

How 3 Freeways Meet in Orange Co. SOUTHLAND PROGRESS

★ BUSINESS-REAL ESTATE-INDUSTRY ★

THE NEWS, INDEPENDENT, PRESS-TELEGRAM, JUNE 9, 1963

POSITIONED BETWEEN the four cities of Garden Grove, Santa Ana, Anaheim and Orange, one of Southern California's most complicated freeway interchanges is under construction. Crossing the Santa Ana Freeway will be the Garden Grove Freeway, while extending northward from the complex will be the Orange Freeway. Engineers say this is more complicated than the four-level "stack" in Los Angeles and is rivaled only by the East Los Angeles interchange. In addition to the three freeways, the complex has to tie in with Bristol Street and get traffic over the Santa Ana River and a railroad spur line.

J. R. FOSTER
Named Chairman

Foster Heads Committee

Appointment of J. R. "Bob" Foster, Southern California Edison Co. district representative, as chairman of the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce Research Committee has just been announced.

He succeeds Ralph Taylor of the Independent, Press-Telegram, who held the post three years.

Foster has been with Edison ten years, working in the sales departments of Huntington Park, Redondo Beach and Long Beach. He was transferred to Long Beach three years ago as an industrial representative for the company.

HIS PRESENT position, to which he recently was named, calls for him to assist the district manager in governmental affairs.

He lives at 440 Daroca St. with his wife and son. His wife, Joyce, is a school teacher.

Foster is familiar with Chamber work as he was affiliated with the Redondo Beach Junior Chamber of Commerce while working in that district.

As chairman of the Research Committee, Foster's job will be to take on a major phase of the Chamber's day-to-day work in forwarding the economic growth of the Greater Long Beach Area.

The Research Committee is presently sending to press the Chamber's 1963 Business and Economic Index which will be printed in the July issue of "Long Beach," monthly publication.

Recently published was an industrial directory which also was a product of the committee.

L.B. Chamber Publication Gets Award

National honors in photography, art and design have been won by the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce for its monthly publication, "Long Beach," started last year.

It won first place in national competition sponsored by the National Association of Commerce Publications. And it won over the Los Angeles Chamber publication, which placed second in this category.

Bill Boyd, who has edited Long Beach Chamber publications the past five years, accepted the award recently at the NACP national convention in San Diego.

L.B. Diamond Jubilee Pins 'In Style' Now

All that glitters isn't always a diamond. Or maybe you would say "Things aren't always what they appear to be."

Maybe so, but it isn't stopping citizens of Long Beach who are celebrating the 75th Anniversary of their city.

Many of them are sporting a three and one-half carat sized "commemorative diamond" pinned to their lapel or on their tie.

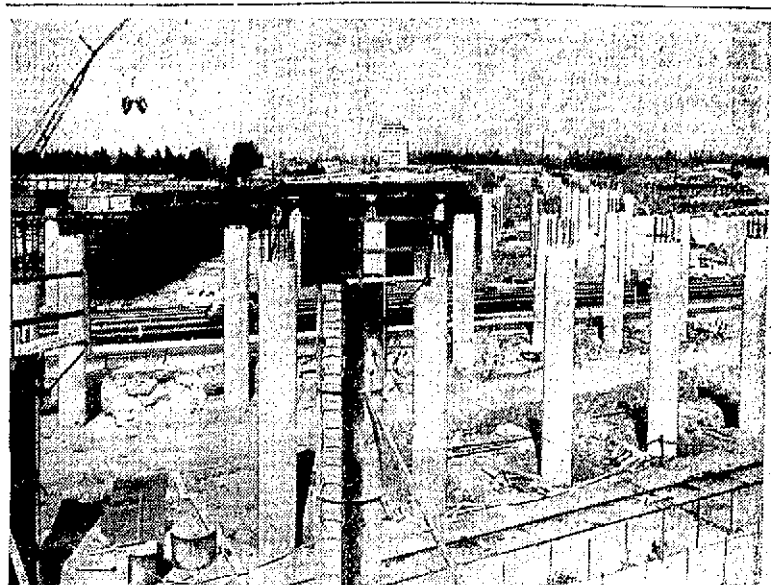

In the case of ladies you will see the gems in all sorts of unexpected places—like in the hair or holding a scarf around the neck.

WHAT IT ALL adds up to is that during this Diamond Jubilee year many people have decided to show enthusiasm for their city in a visible way. They will wear the symbol of their Diamond Jubilee, a jumbo-sized rhinestone in a Tiffany mounting.

Commemorative pins are being sold at service clubs and organization meetings, as well as at the Diamond Jubilee headquarters, 130 Pine Avenue. Price for the pins is $1 each.

"WE HOPE that the idea will catch on and by the time Jubilee month comes in November, almost every-

Real Estate Leads Southland Economy to New High in May

Paced by record sales in real estate, the Southland's economy soared to a record peak in May, it is reported by the research department of Security First National Bank.

Based on the number of deeds filed in Los Angeles County, the bank's real estate index rose to an estimated 122.4 from the 1957-59 average of 100, according to L. H. Showalter, vice president and manager of the bank's Long Beach office.

Security's report pointed out the overall record level in business activity is a continuation of the moderate upward trend which has been evident in all but one (March) of the last six months.

Bank clearings, another widely recognized measure of local business activity, highlighted the advance in May with a record showing. Department store sales also registered a favorable rally.

THE BUILDING and construction industry remains a strong sustaining force in the Southern California economy, even though in May this activity was slightly below the April record of $343,200,000 the bank said.

Preliminary estimates indicate a level of activity 18.8 per cent above the comparable April-May period of a year ago.

Total employment throughout the 14-county area continued to gain steadily. At the same time the rate of unemployment rose slightly to 5.8 per cent, seasonably adjusted.

STANTON — A $669,750 apartment development boosted construction in Stanton to $680,812 during the past week.

Permits for construction of 17 four-unit apartment buildings valued at $39,000 each and a $6,750 recreation building totaling $669,750 were issued to Westport Development Co. of 700 W. Orange-wood Ave., Anaheim.

The multi-family residences will be erected in the 10600 block on Vine Ave.

Other permits were issued to Paul Eaton, 5040 Syracuse St., swimming pool, $1,200; William Johnson, 7121 Syracuse St., change garage to living room, $200; George Apostolou, 331 Palms Road, porch addition, $400; and R. Mobile Homes, 1235 Beach Blvd., commercial sign, $50; Industrial Asphalt Co., 1231 Beach Blvd., install new vegetable cases, $5,500.

L.B. Appraisers to Hear Gange

The Society of Real Estate Appraisers will hear a talk, "How High Is Up?" by Stacy Gange, special consultant to the Southern California Gas Company, at their dinner meeting Wednesday.

The meeting will be at the Edgewater Inn Marina Hotel, 6400 E. Pacific Coast Highway, at 7 p.m. according to J. C. Foster, president.

A prominent olive grower and civic leader in Tulare County, Gange has become widely known throughout the country for his humorous and inspirational talks about Americans.

Addressing the appraisers, he will speak of the tremendous growth of California and the increasing need for more fuel, water transportation and schools.

Ray Pascheco will be chairman of the day and will introduce the speaker.

Promotions Made in Sears Organization

New promotions in the Sears, Roebuck & Co. organization have just been announced by John G. Lowe, Los Angeles district manager.

Robert S. Foster, merchandise manager at the Long Beach store, has been named staff merchandise manager for the Los Angeles district. He succeeds Lee H. Writer, named men's furnishings buyer for the company's Pacific coast territory office staff.

Eugene Strand, men's furnishings buyer for the coast territory, was named sales promotion manager for the L.A. district. He succeeds Julius Katz, named manager of the Sears store at Santa Monica. Foster lives at 3002 Cota De Ora Drive in Rossmore. Strand lives in Pasadena.

IN HIS NEW position, Foster will coordinate the purchasing and promotional activities for infant's wear, lingerie, hosiery and corsets divisions in the 16 major Sears stores throughout Los Angeles and Orange counties.

Strand will be responsible for coordinating all facets of the sales promotional effort carried by the 16 major Sears stores in the greater metropolitan area as well as Pomona, Buena Park, Long Beach and Santa Ana.

'Bill of Rights' Proposal Approved by NAREB

A "Property Owners' Bill of Rights," championed by L. H. Wilson of Fresno gained national recognition the past week when it was approved unanimously by the National Association of Real Estate Boards, meeting in Chicago.

The document reportedly clarifies the rights of property owners regardless of race, creed, religion or national origin.

Wilson is president of the California Real Estate Association. He is one of the principal authors of the statement, first drawn up last March by CREA as a means of stressing the rights as well as the obligations of property owners, real estate brokers and salesmen.

"WE ARE apprehensive," Wilson said, "over continuing erosion of our liberties and the loss of freedoms by our citizens and property owners. In California, CREA is resisting class legislation, special privilege legislation and special rights laws. We plead for equal rights for all as guaranteed by the Constitution."

"In particular," he continued, "and especially for the property owner, we seek to maintain the right of selection, the right to sell or rent to whom and whenever he pleases."

WILSON STATED that he does not see the document as being in conflict with civil rights directives coming from the federal government and some state governments.

"There is much muddled thinking," he commented, "about the individual's property rights under the Constitution. This bill is intended to spotlight just what those rights are."

The bill, except for minor changes in wording, not affecting its essential provisions, was adopted as a resolution by the Nevada legislature on March 12.

Gripp to Head L.B. Accountants

Richard L. Gripp, public accountant, has been elected president of the Long Beach Chapter, Society of California Accountants for 1963-64 fiscal year.

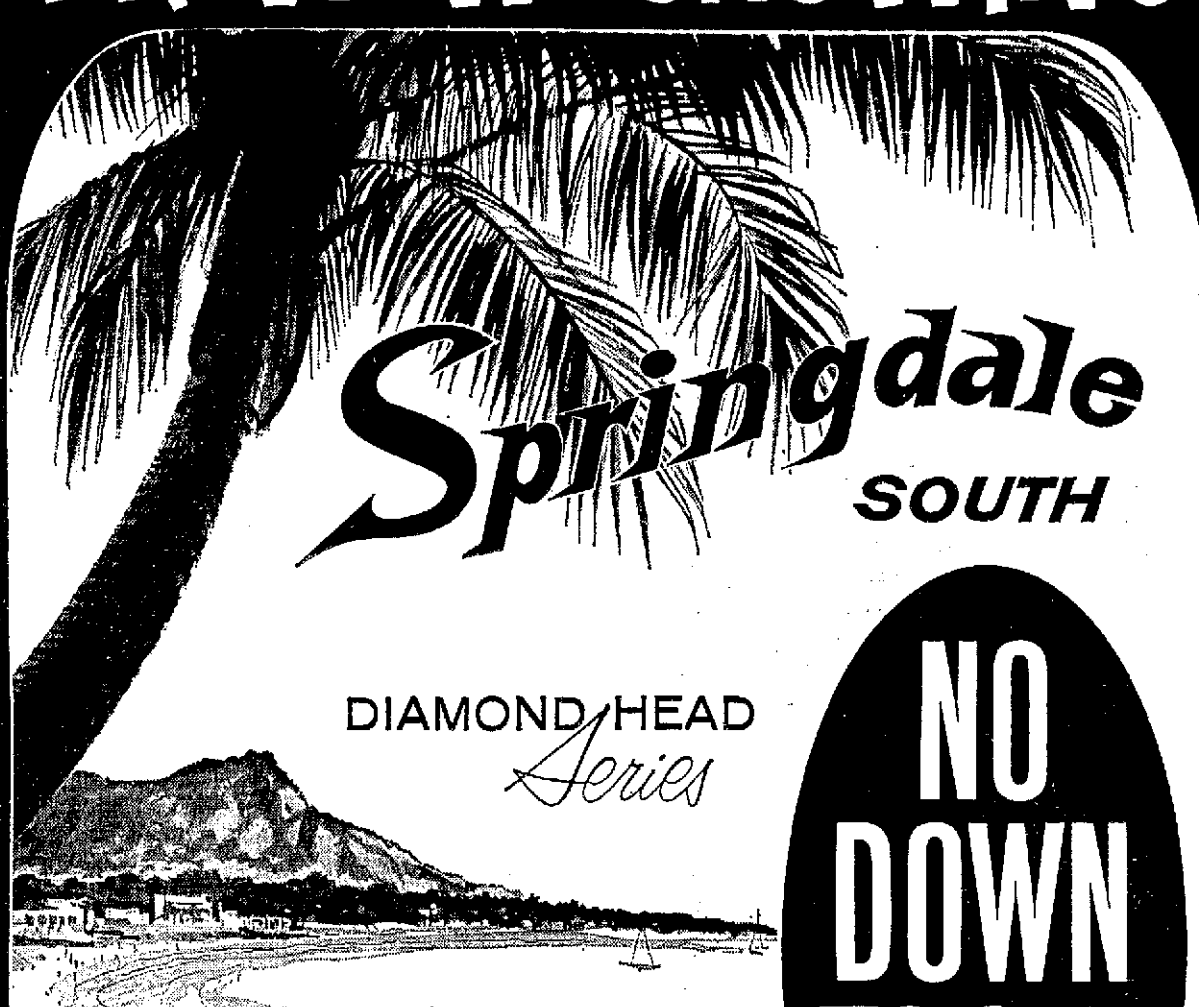

He will be installed at the chapter dinner Friday evening at the Petroleum Club. He is a special rights lawyer. We plead an active member of the society and has had his own practice since 1946. He is retired president of Breakfast Optimist Club.

The program for the installation dinner will feature the Los Angeles Schwabien-Vieren German dancers. Two strolling accordionists will play during the dinner hour.

Santa Ana Sherwood Estates Offer Seclusion for Families

"Secluded accessibility" is an important plus-factor attracting home buyers to Sherwood Estates-Santa Ana, new million-dollar residential development of the George D. Buccola Co.

Conveniently located to the triangle of the Santa Ana-Garden Grove-Newport Freeways, the development is within easy reach of key Orange County industrial tracts, schools at all grade levels, and major shopping centers.

"AND YET, the development is delightfully secluded," Developer Buccola pointed out. "We've kept it wooded—and walled it in for added seclusion and protection. "Privacy and seclusion keynote our homes, too. They're

Forum to Discuss Multiple Listing

An open forum discussion of proposed changes in multiple listing service will highlight the program at Thursday's breakfast meeting of the North Long Beach Realty Club.

It will be conducted by Joe Hodge, multiple listing chairman for the Long Beach District Board of Realtors. The club meets at 8 a.m. in Mayo's Restaurant, 5925 Cherry Ave.,

four and five bedroom models, with three or four baths—and two complete floors for friction-free big-family living."

Containing almost 2600 square feet of living area, the homes include such luxury features as carpeting, built-in electric range and oven, dishwasher, huge walk-in closets and two fireplaces in some models. Prices range from $30,950 to $33,250, with excellent financing available.

Sherwood Estates-Santa Ana is located on Santa Clara Ave. between Tustin and Newport Aves. near the Santa Ana Freeway. Furnished models are open from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. daily.

NOTES OF BUSINESS

To Head Operations for Star-Kist Food

J. J. Bogdanovich, president of Star-Kist Foods, Inc., a subsidiary of H. J. Heinz Co., announced appointment of R. K. Pedersen to the position of vice president-operations of that company.

Pedersen brings to his new position a background of 14 years' experience with Star-Kist. He has been general manager of manufacturing and, prior to this, director of research. He is a graduate of the School of Fisheries, University of Washington. In his new position he will be assuming the responsibilities of N. F. Trutanic, who has resigned.

IN A LETTER to its shareholders United States National Bank announced a 40,000-share rights offering to increase the bank's capital structure.

The rights, evidenced by transferable subscription warrants, permit bank stockholders to subscribe to one new share of stock at the rate of

R. K. PEDERSEN Will Direct Operations

$45 per share for each 13 1/2 shares held of record at the close of business May 17. The rights offering expires June 17.

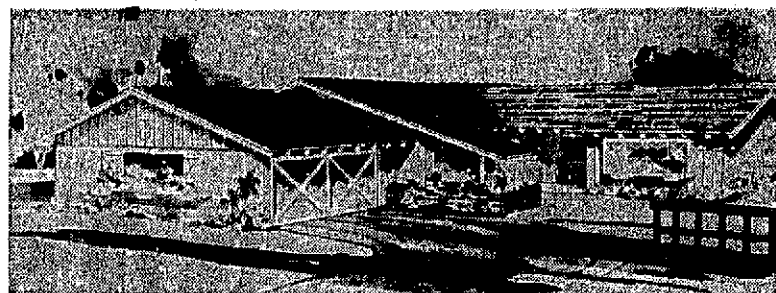

Sale of the 40,000 shares increases the book value of the bank's stock from $26.18 on 548,375 shares outstanding to $27.46 on 588,375 shares outstanding. Total of the bank's capital stock, surplus and undivided profits rises from $14,354,659 to $16,154,659 in the sale.

Dean Witter & Co. is heading a group including Evans MacCormack & Co. and Crowell, Weeden & Co. to underwrite the sale.

C. Arnholt Smith, president and chairman of the board of United States National, said the capital increase will enhance the bank's ability to better serve the growth and financial requirements of the dynamic Southern California area, where the bank now has 29 branches operating in the major five counties.

Air pressure of tires should be checked regularly. Soft tires create more friction against the road.

Fast Move-ins, No Downs Spur Sunshine Homes Sales

IMMEDIATE OCCUPANCY

Buyers can move right in when dealing with Sunshine Homes at Huntington Beach.

No down payment, immediate occupancy and choice location in the smog-free south coast locale are playing a large part in the continued sales of Huntington Beach Sunshine Homes, Unit No. 3, according to S. V. Hunsaker Jr., vice president of S. V. Hunsaker & Sons, builders and developers of homes in Southern California since 1932.

Located adjacent to a park site, near schools, industrial areas and beaches, these homes have three or four bedrooms, two full baths, family room and over-size two-car garages.

POPULAR features in these quality homes include wall-to-wall carpet, built-in range and oven with hood and exhaust fan, Insinkerator disposer, Formica counter tops, vinyl tile and natural finish cabinets. Specifications also include silent forced air heat, all copper plumbing, and aluminum sliding windows with screens. Located in a quiet, residential neighborhood, offering the maximum of privacy, Huntington Beach Sunshine Homes, Unit 3, include the most popular of west coast architectural planning. Furnished model homes are open daily for inspection and may be seen on Heil Avenue between Golden West and Edward streets.

A GATEWOOD ESTATE HOME

Grand opening of Gatewood Estates has resulted in brisk sales, reports John R. Day, sales agent. The homes, priced from $18,995, may be financed from $495 down. They are reached by driving east on Carson to Bloomfield, then left to Del Amo and the models. This is an interior view in one of the models.

Four courtyards divide Meredith Manor Apartments in Fullerton which are open for leasing. Here is a section of one of the units developed by Eddy Meredith.

Prestige Apartment Units Now Leasing

Exclusive Meredith Manor apartment homes in Fullerton, a $3.5 million dollar project, planned and executed by Eddy Meredith, one of Orange County's outstanding builders and designers of fine homes, will be open for advance leasing to adults this weekend.

The Prestige Meredith Manor apartments, located between Harbor and Lemon on Orangefair in Fullerton, consists of 160 units of one, two and 3-bedroom all electric, air-conditioned homes leasing from $175 to $275 per month. They are located on 11 landscaped acres and are the culmination of three years of planning and designing by the president of The Meredith Co., and his staff to produce the most modern apartment homes in Orange County with the motif and decor of "Old World

Escrow Group to Hear Real Estate Panel

Long Beach Escrow Association will hear a brokers' panel discussion at its Wednesday night meeting at the Lakewood Country Club, 3101 Carson St.

The panel will be sponsored by the Long Beach District Board of Realtors, with Larry Lackman, board attorney, as moderator.

On the panel will be Melvin Mould, board president; Joe Hodge, multiple listings chairman; Isabelle Patterson, realtor; and Mildred Stanley, chairman for publications and public relations.

There will be a social hour at 6:30 p.m., with dinner at 7:30, followed by the program aimed at a better understanding between escrow and real estate people.

Scandinavia, a name of obscure Nordic origin, technically applies only to Norway and Sweden.

Belfontaine Homes in Preview Opening

Preview opening announced will be held at Belfontaine this weekend, the newest home development of youthful "veteran" builder, Robert H. Grant, president of Stardust Homes.

Belfontaine is located on Garfield, one-half mile east of Beach Blvd., in Fountain Valley, two miles from Huntington Beach State Park. An elementary school is to be provided within the 300-home development boundaries, a park and playground will be next door.

Presented are one- and two-story, three- or five-bedroom homes, in a wide variety of stylings.

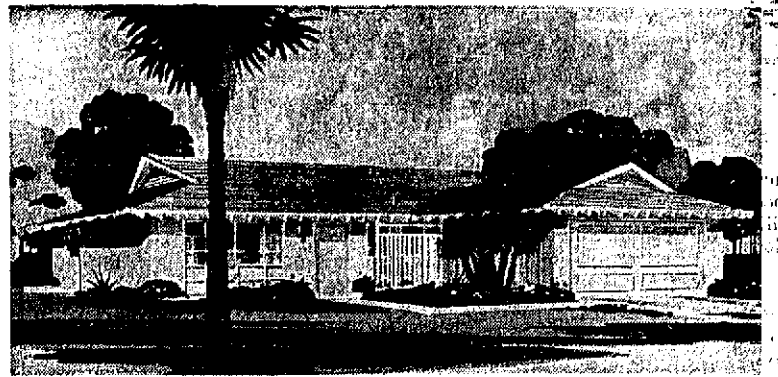

Features of Belfontaine Medallion-electric homes include sunken living rooms and slate-floored entries, forced air heating with new overhead "no-draft" diffusers, and hardwood floors constructed on raised foundations. All wardrobe closets are cedar-floored.

Grove Realtors to Hear Scientist

The Garden Grove Board of Realtors will have as their guest speaker on Wednesday Louis T. Monson of the Petrolite Corporation, Tretolite California Division, it has been announced by W. W. Stewart, first vice president, and program chairman of the realty group.

Monson is sole or joint inventor of 60 United States Letters Patent relating to chemical compositions. He is also the author of a number of articles in technical magazines and books.

He will speak on the subject of "Elementary Economics." The realty group meets at 7:30 a.m. at the Cape Cod House, Garden Grove.

Diamond Head Houses Score Big Buyer Response

Added value built into the homes at Springdale South's newest unit, the Diamond Head Series, has brought about a huge response during preview showings, reports Sy Bram, executive director of Sunkist Plaza Builders.

Bram added that this is possible "because of volume buying and careful planning. This has been responsible for a rapid sales pace in each of the previous Sunkist Plaza developments."

The company, builder of several quality home developments throughout the Southland and one of the most respected building firms, has a huge mass buying power which has resulted in "something that catches the discriminating homebuyer's eye."

THIS DIAMOND HEAD Series is the newest unit by the builders of Sunkist Plaza Homes, whose residences have been referred to as some models.

Occupancy is offered within 30 days on a no-down-payment basis to all and $100 cost. Full prices are from $17,495.

Garden Park Estates Offers Large-Family Luxury Homes

Today marks the presentation of Garden Park Estates' new and more spacious versions of the popular "award-winning" two-story luxury homes, expressly designed for comfortable, large-family living, officials of this "city-within-a-city" at Knott Avenue and Garden Grove Freeway have reported.

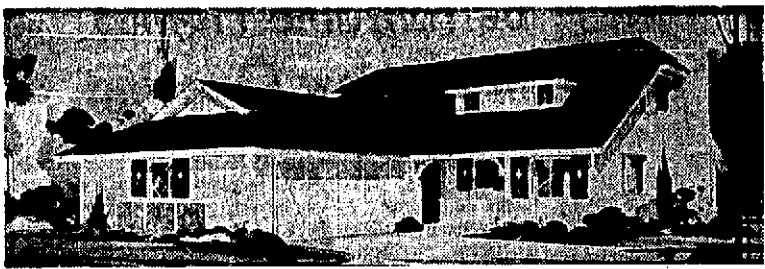

To the larger Plan 8-C introduced about a week ago, Garden Park Estates '63 unit now has added larger versions of Plans 8-A and 8-B. These, it was emphasized, are presented in addition to the community's exceptionally wide selection of distinctive one and two-story homes.

DESIGNED with two full stories, the new homes have spacious dining rooms, living rooms highlighted by decorated fireplaces, and five bedrooms, one of which is the master bedroom on the second floor. This room has its own fireplace.

One-story plans are designed with three and four bedrooms, two attractive bathrooms and family rooms and dining rooms. Exterior elevations in both one and two-story homes include handsome and diverse contemporary and conventional stylings.

FULL PRICES from $18,800 to $25,000, it was explained, and the range of financing includes VA terms of nothing down, except impounds and closing costs; VA; conventional loans, and either 30 or 35-year FHA loans.

Furnished models are on display every day until dark, from Long Beach drive east on 7th St. (Garden Grove Freeway) past Long Beach State College straight to Knott Avenue and Garden Park Estates.

LUXURY IN TWO STORIES

"King-size" versions of spacious two-story luxury homes now number three at Garden Park Estates, Knott Avenue and Garden Grove Freeway. The new, larger plans are in addition to the selection of one and two-story, quality-built homes already available, officials emphasized.

Buyers Guide to Medallion Homes

The only electrically modern homes... in every price range

The Medallion Home Award is a cornerstone for modern living—a solid basis for a home's lasting value, today and in the future. Compare the detailed electrical construction requirements for the Medallion Home Award with those for any other type of new home symbol.

You'll discover the Medallion Home Award is one award that requires a new home to conform to specific and rigid standards that mean important values for the buyer. Here are just some of the qualifications:

1. A flameless electric kitchen equipped with major appliances, including range and oven.
2. Full "Housepower" Wiring provides capacity for at least twenty circuits, considered a minimum for modern living; large enough wires; 240-volt service for the electrical capacity every home needs.
3. Abundant lighting planned for comfort, convenience and beauty. A total-electric Gold Medallion Home gives you all these benefits plus:
4. Flameless electric home and water heating.

Fenced Rear Yards Provided Some Troy Hills Luxury Homes

PRIVACY FOR FAMILIES

Troy Hills in Fullerton provides redwood fences around the large rear yards of some models to assure privacy for the buyers of the large homes. The homes are set on up to one-third acre with some sites commanding a sweeping view of the mountains.

Because family living, and especially children's play activities, center so much in the rear yard of a home, Troy Hills, the prestige community in Fullerton, now includes handsome, durable redwood fences with "700 Plan" homes, announced Jim McCarthy, vice president of the McCarthy Co., co-builders with Sant Construction. "These attractive fences are a special feature of our popular '700 Plan,'" stated McCarthy, "and give home owners desirable privacy for outdoor living as well as complete play yard safety."

Troy Hills homes are offered in a wide variety of 28 exterior stylings. Available are choices of seven floor plans, among which is the unique "700 Plan," with the largest master bedroom suite available in this price range, including private bath, and walk-in closet. The plan features double patio design with both front entrance patio and a secluded side patio. Provided also are four bedrooms and formal dining room. Other plans have three or four bedrooms.

HOMES are set on lots up to a full 1/4 acre in size. With all the variety of a true custom community, the sizes of lots vary as do their placement among the hills. Some of the homesites command sweeping views of Mt. Baldy and surrounding mountains.

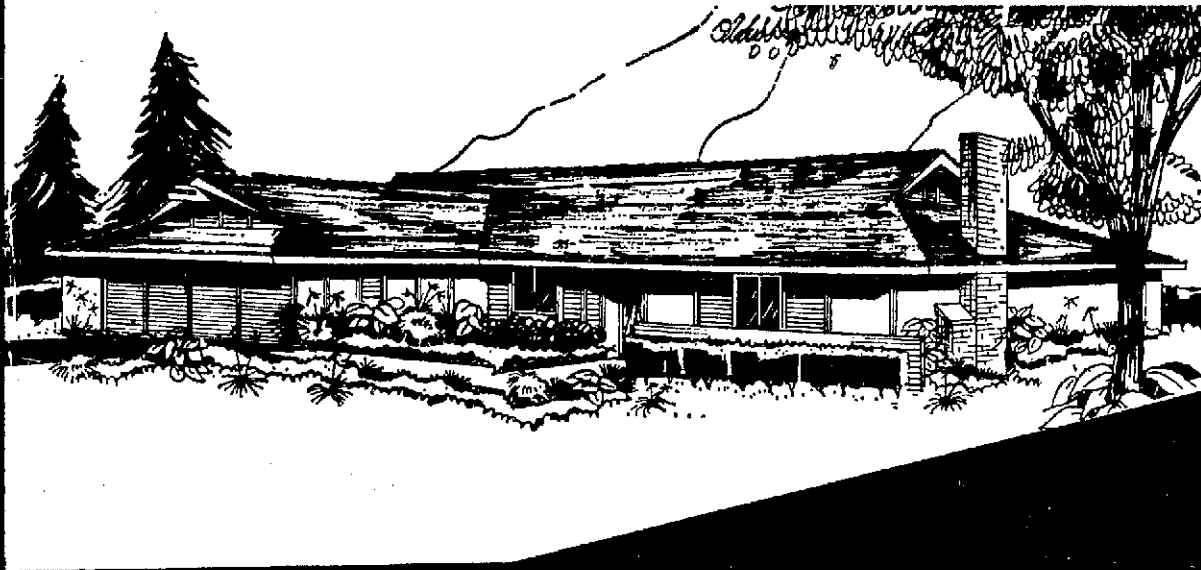

conventional financing and Cal-Vet financing.

Among features are oversized two-car garages with built-in "work-n-hobby" bench and cabinets, modern breakfast bars, ash kitchen cabinets, built-in dishwashers, full length master bedroom mirrors, and optional refrigerated air conditioning.

Troy Hills is reached via Santa Ana Freeway to River-side Freeway; then left on Riverside Freeway to Harbor Blvd.-Fullerton turnoff. North on Harbor through Fullerton to Bastanchury Road, right on Bastanchury to Brea Blvd., and let to model homes.

Madison Avenue Estates Set Preview Showing of Big Homes

DESIGNED FOR EXECUTIVE LIVING

Here is one of the models of the Madison Avenue Estates which will have a preview showing today. They are designed for executive living at a moderate price.

Executive living at a moderate price is featured in Madison Avenue Estates which will have a preview showing today.

A limited number of these de luxe homes will be offered by Erv Yoden and Edgar H. Mueller, builders and developers of several outstanding major home projects in the Southland.

From Los Angeles the homes may be reached by driving east on Carson Ave. to State College Ave. (formerly Placentia), and then turn left to Madison Ave., and right on Madison one block to the model homes.

BUILT TO provide suburban seclusion quietly set apart from adjacent areas, Madison Avenue Estates offer an unusual combination of rural charm and downtown convenience. Schools, shopping centers and Southland resort areas are but minutes away.

Offered in four or five bedrooms, these Modallion homes include such features as master bedrooms with private baths, oval-bowl pullman baths, custom-contoured service.

The last change in the paper dollar's design was made in 1957, when all United States paper currency was revised to carry the inscription, "In God We Trust."

Decorative brick and stone siding, custom ornate grillwork, fireplaces, richly finished hardwood paneling, illuminated range hoods with exhaust fans and indoor planters are other features.

A dramatic use of glass is designed into the homes and all-nylon carpeting is provided.

Priced from $28,500 to $31,750, these Yoder-Mueller Construction Co. homes provide 2,200 square feet of living space.

Particularly attractive is the 2-story home which has recessed entry with wide double doors flanked by natural stone facing. Tropical planter under stairway gives pleasant entry vista.

FEATURE for more convenient living is dressing room with built-in vanity in master bedroom suite. Also popular with the homemaker are linen shelves in both upstairs and downstairs halls.

The ultra modern kitchens have Vernois built-in range and oven with hood and exhaust fan, Insikerator disposer, and natural finish cabinets. Specifications also include wall-to-wall carpet, breakfast bar, and many built-ins.

Centrally located, Lakewood East Sunshine Homes are minutes from Long Beach's many employment centers. Furnished model homes are open daily for inspection and may be seen between Del Amo Boulevard and Centralia Road one block West of Roseton in Lakewood.

EMPHASIS ON SATISFACTION

Lakewood East Sunshine Homes offer homebuyers the most popular of architectural planning, built-ins and modern materials designed for lifetime satisfaction.

Big-Home Comfort at 'Easy' Price Stressed

Prime factor in the sales appeal of Lakewood East Sunshine Homes is the provision of "big home comfort at an affordable price," according to S. V. Hunsaker Jr., vice president of S. V. Hunsaker & Sons, builders.

Lakewood East Sunshine Homes offer the home buyer a completely new design in 1 and 2 story homes. Priced from $295 down, these homes have three or four bedrooms, two full baths, family room, dressing room, entry hall and large two-car garage.

Particularly attractive is the 2-story home which has recessed entry with wide double doors flanked by natural stone facing. Tropical planter under stairway gives pleasant entry vista.

FEATURE for more convenient living is dressing room with built-in vanity in master bedroom suite. Also popular with the homemaker are linen shelves in both upstairs and downstairs halls.

Mesa Palos Verdes Shows Hilltop Models

MESA PALOS VERDES PERCHED HIGH ON PENINSULA

Mesa Palos Verdes, a $38 million Balanced Power residential development high atop the Palos Verdes Peninsula, is having its premiere public showing this weekend.

More than just a group of homes, Mesa Palos Verdes represents the ultimate in modern living as expressed by one of the nation's leading residential developers, Ray Watt.

It is a complete community featuring custom one level, two level and tri-level homes, plus future de luxe ocean view apartments, a six acre neighborhood shopping center, a 15 acre intermediate school and a seven acre elementary school.

Long noted for its fine residential estates, the Peninsula provides an environment of seclusion with a leisurely pace of living in these Mesa Palos Verdes homes priced from as low as $39,750.

The hilltop location offers an outstanding view of the Pacific Ocean and Santa Monica Bay on the west, the entire Los Angeles Basin on the north, the Long Beach harbor on the east and Catalina Island on the south.

EVERY DETAIL of Mesa Palos Verdes from original planning to final landscape planting has been carefully worked out to complement the prestige area and its residents.

This attention to detail is most evident in the award-winning Diamond Head making its debut on the Peninsula. The Diamond Head has been selected as the Balanced Power model to be featured in the 1963 Los Angeles Home Show, marking the fourth time a Ray Watt home has received this coveted honor from the home building industry.

Watt, 1963 president of the Home Builders Association of Los Angeles, Orange and Ventura Counties, looks upon Mesa Palos Verdes as his finest achievement.

WHEN COMPLETED, the Balanced Power community will total an investment of $38,750,000. Covering an area from Crenshaw Boulevard to Hawthorne Boulevard along the top of the Palos Verdes Peninsula, the summit of Mesa Palos Verdes provides a natural 360 degree view. To keep the view sites clear from any obstructions and to provide curvilinear street patterns for safety, the Watt engineers, under the direction of John McIntire, nationally known land planner, carefully moved 2,013,000 cubic yards of earth. All utilities are being placed underground to preserve the natural beauty of the area.

Five furnished models are on display at the easy to reach location high atop the Palos Verdes Peninsula at the corner of Crenshaw Boulevard and Crest Road.

Other permits were issued to R. G. Barnhill, 7122 El Volar Way, Palmdale, $27,000; Knott's Berry Farm, boat dock, $4,000; John O. Celavay, 7948 Ridgeway, $15,000; J. R. J. Inc., 8420 Santa Anita, $376; R. N. Lynch, 5957 Los Arcos Way, $1,300; R. N. Lynch, 5957 Los Arcos Way, $1,300; L. Kerby, 8315 Chopin Drive, $1,400; Earl and Peter Gennaro, 4377 San Arrian Way, swimming pool, $250.

BEAUTY 'RIGHT AT HOME'

Charming Miss Fountainhead, hostess at the new 250-home development in Fountain Valley, relaxes in one of the beautiful living rooms at Fountainhead. The carpeting, drapes and wood-burning fireplace are features of all the homes at Fountainhead.

The fact that owners can move into their new home at Fountainhead and not have to worry about the work and expense usually involved in getting settled is credited with the rapid sales pace in the new Fountain Valley subdivision.

According to Mesa Realty Co., sales director for the 250-home Fountainhead development, the family-ready features of the 3- and 4-bedroom homes are the prime deciding factor in most sales.

"These homes at Fountainhead offer the buyer one thing in particular that he really appreciates," said Lowell Evans, president of Evans Building Co., builders.

"HE KNOWS exactly where he stands financially. There's not that worry and wondering about how much the fencing, the landscaping, carpeting and drapes are going to cost and when he can afford to do it." Planned and designed specifically as a family community, Fountainhead homes have been built on extra large lots to allow for outdoor play areas as well as plenty of lawn and garden space.

Bolsa Park Decor Holds Big Appeal

"Both men and women are pleased with Bolsa Park's varied decor themes, built around a variety of impressive fireplace treatments," comments Ernie Merrill, sales manager of the Huntington Beach new home development.

"Men are impressed with the handsome appearance and evidence of rugged, lasting quality construction of fireplaces and dwellings, while the ladies are delighted with the beautiful living room focal points the fireplaces create," Merrill said.

THREE, FOUR and five-bedroom plans include family rooms, formal living rooms, dining areas or formal dining rooms, master bedroom suites with private bath and walk-in closets, and attached double garages.

Priced from $20,300 to $23,490, available are veterans no-down payment terms, FHA 30 and 35-year 5 1/4% interest terms with $1200 down, and Cal-Vet financing.

From Long Beach go east on Seventh Street to Golden West, right to Sugar, then right to the models.

Training Course Set for Welders

A free course in welding training will be held Tuesday through Friday at the Crucible Steel Co. of America plant, 6033 E. Bandini Blvd., Los Angeles.

It is being sponsored by the Los Angeles Board of Education and Crucible Steel, which have invited all area plant maintenance supervisors and welding staff members to attend.

Hours will be from 1 to 4 and 1 to 10 p.m. Prior registration is required at Eutech Welding Institute, 5348 Jilison St., Los Angeles, 22.

Leisure World Opens Two New Units Today

Sales for two of the final three sections of the Rossmore Leisure World huge senior citizen's community in Seal Beach will get under way today according to William G. Brangham, general sales manager. Sections 12 and 14, consisting of 748 deluxe two-bedroom apartments and 32 one-bedroom apartments will be offered for sale.

The giant community has recorded phenomenal sales figures during its one year of selling time.

More than 5,200 units representing $70 million in sales have already been logged in the 12-month period.

The response from buyers from 43 states and Americans living in 11 foreign countries has been amazing," Brangham said and "but the apartments themselves represent only a portion of the tremendous appeal of Leisure World."

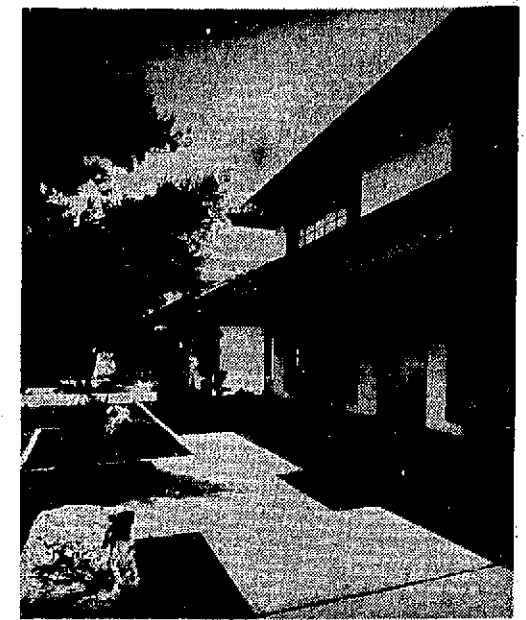

ALSO INCLUDED in the giant complex are complete recreational facilities and three clubhouses; medical center, amphitheater, transportation within the community, as well as a swimming pool, golf course and therapeutic pools now under construction.

This unique community, one of the nation's largest senior citizen's projects, includes in-home nurse calls, calls to the doctor's office (whether at medical center on premises or to one's own doctor), drugs, medicines, diagnostic tests and physical therapy treatment in the monthly payment.

THE $562,000, 2,500-seat amphitheater also has been completed. A shopping center recently opened adjacent to Leisure World serves residents with complete retail facilities. Included in the down payment of approximately $1,000 is $335 to $419 for a share of stock in Seal Beach Mutual No. 12 or 14. The purchase of this share of stock carries with it the right to occupy a one or two-bedroom apartment of the buyer's choice. Monthly payments — including principal, interest, taxes, insurance, maintenance, as well as medical care — range from $116.00 to $139.50. The one-bedroom apartments provide 604 square feet and are priced at $11,100. The two-bedroom have 759 square feet of inside living area and are priced at $12,300 to $13,900. Anyone 52 years of age or over is qualified to purchase at Leisure World, with no physical examinations necessary for acceptance.

To get to Leisure World from Long Beach drive east on Seventh St. to Los Alamitos Boulevard and turn right to the model apartments.

Meredith Village Has 'Scene Set' for Buyers

ON 'STREET OF MODEL HOUSES'

Meredith Village model home in Orange County on the "street of model homes" are open for inspection daily with a whole street of completely decorated and furnished models and all the landscaping in to give potential homebuyers the full effect of actual living in a Meredith Village home, a few blocks south of Chapman Avenue on Prospect in the heart of Orange County.

Meredith Village, the 155 split-level two-story home development, located between Orange, Santa Ana and Tustin, is now 75 per cent sold out, it was announced the past week by Eddy Meredith, president of the Meredith Company, builders and developers.

Construction of the $6 million development also is now completed, some six months ahead of schedule, so that interested home buyers can drive through the winding streets of Meredith Village and see the entire community of homes.

THE HOMES, located on Prospect Avenue just south of Chapman, feature three-four-five and six bedrooms with two and three-car garages and 32 different exteriors to choose from. Walking into the "street of models" through an imposing entrance way, the home buyer actually can see a complete street of furnished models with all the trees and shrubs that the finished streets of the village will look like in a few short months.

Among the features of the homes are not only the wide variety of exteriors and interiors but the formal and informal dining rooms included in all the homes, the large spacious living rooms, the massive fireplaces in up to 500 square feet family rooms paneled in walnut and the large master bedroom suite with double entry doors.

The Medallion homes feature all-electric kitchens, genuine lath and plaster walls, silent mercury switches throughout, walnut cabinets in the kitchens and all the baths, magnetic catches on cabinet doors, and many electrical outlets in every room.

Carefree Type of Ownership in Continental Town Houses

Development and construction is progressing rapidly at Huntington Continental Town Houses, with an early completion date anticipated for the fabulously successful new community introducing "a new kind of carefree ownership" to Southern California. Located on Brookhurst and Adams in the heart of the Southland's famous beach and resort area, Huntington Continental is designed to offer the security of traditional home ownership, enhanced by the carefree aspects of both renting and vacation-type living.

A LIMITED number of two-bedroom "retirement" homes are still available at Huntington Continental. Their total price is $11,990, with $89 monthly payments that include principal, interest, taxes and insurance. The homes can be financed with a low down payment of $370 that covers all closing costs. Maintenance is an added $8 per month.

INCLUDED in the selling prices of the homes are a number of outstanding luxury features such as underground utilities, built-in counter-top range with hood, oven, refrigerator, washer, dryer, disposal, private fenced-in patio, covered carport, forced air heating, "Wife-Saver" kitchen, copper plumbing, color-coordinated interiors and cultured marble tops on bathroom pullmans.

Exterior maintenance embraces full care and upkeep of building exteriors, as well as management and maintenance of landscaping, lawns, parking areas, walk areas and recreational facilities.

THERE ARE two recreation centers with swimming pools and a central recreation building for parties and community get-togethers. The entire development is planned with open park-like areas and will be fully walled to provide maximum protection to residents.

To visit the furnished two-bedroom model homes at Huntington Continental: Drive south on the Santa Ana Freeway to Brookhurst turn-off, south to Brookhurst and Adams.

CONSTRUCTION VIEWED

Construction Superintendent Don Bixby (right) points out a construction detail on the new $5½ million Huntington Continental Town Houses soon to be completed on Brookhurst Avenue near Pacific Coast Highway in Huntington Beach. Observers are Jack Palmer, vice president and general manager for the western division of Kaufman and Broad Homes, Inc., the builders, and Robert De Haven, regional sales and marketing manager.

Sun City Offering New Model Changes

SUN CITY — Response to recent model changes at Del Webb's Sun City retirement community has been unusually good, reports James J. Welch, project sales manager.

Since the six new exterior elevations were unveiled early in May, Welch declared, sales have averaged seven per day at the retirement community where more than 2,000 retirees have become residents since October of last year.

In addition to the six models which are open daily for public inspection, Welch pointed out that two alternate elevations of each model are available for selection by the retired, semi-retired or folks over 50 who are planning retirement.

SHARING POPULARITY with the new model homes are the elaborate facilities provided by the Webb Corporation for the recreation and handicraft appreciation of the Sun City home owners.

Those facilities—in almost constant use — include a Town Hall capable of seating 70 people with a full size stage, dressing rooms, community kitchen and club rooms; a Greek amphitheater for outdoor programs; a Rivera size swimming pool with privacy protecting patio wall and covered patio area and locker and dressing rooms; completely equipped shops for the enjoyment of painting, photography, sewing, leathercraft, ceramics, mosaics, lapidary and jewelry making and wood working; shuffleboard courts, lawn bowling green, horseshoe pits and croquet court. These facilities are for the exclusive use of Sun City home owners.

Sun City is being developed on 14,400 acres in the Menifee Valley on U.S. Highway 395, 75 miles from the centers of both Los Angeles and San Diego and within easy driving distance to most of the resorts and attractions of Southern California.

Kaiser Dividend

Kaiser Steel Corporation's board of directors has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 36½ cents per share on the preferred stock, and a dividend of $1.4375 per share on the 5½ percent convertible preference stock, both payable on June 28, 1963, to stockholders of record at the close of business on June 14, 1963.

Laguna Royale Residents Get Panoramic Sea View

OCEANFRONT LIVING

This aerial view shows how Laguna Royale apartments provide a panoramic view of the ocean with a wide sandy beach serving the residents. The luxury units are located in South Laguna.

Visitors to the ocean-front Laguna Royale, resident-owned apartment development at South Laguna, constantly express their enthusiasm over the panoramic views of ocean, shoreline and sky to be seen from every apartment, according to William E. Churchill, sales director.

The $4 million project features 78 resident-owned luxury apartments, each with private balcony and terrace area directly overlooking Cove Royal Beach and the Pacific.

To the west every apartment overlooks a beautiful, gradual sandy beach as well as one of the finest fishing grounds on the coast. The rockbound shore line can be seen for many miles in both directions.

BUILT BY St. Pierre Investment, Inc., the sound-proof building is 11 stories high from the beach side with six deluxe penthouse apartments on the beach.

Two elevators take residents and their guests directly to and from the beach, to all floors and to the subterranean parking so that at no time is stair climbing necessary. At the beach level rock gardens provide a dramatic backdrop for a palm fringed, heated pool. Subterranean parking is unusually ample, with extra space available to residents and 24-hour attendant parking service.

Every apartment has Belgian heliogray glass windows to limit glare, Medallion all-electric kitchens with refrigerator-freezer and dishwashers, enclosed laundry center with washer-dryer combination and dressing room lavishly mirrored with plate glass.

RESIDENTS will independently own their own title insured apartment homes en-

Bellflower Women Realtors to Meet

BELLFLOWER — "Create Your Own Tomorrow" will be the topic of the address by Mary L. Vaughan, realtor, of the Burbank Board of Realtors, when she speaks before the Women's Council of the Bellflower District Board of Realtors at the regular monthly luncheon Wednesday, program chairman Frankie Harrell has announced.

The meeting will be held at the Board Auditorium, 9921 Flower St., at noon with President Lena Jenkins presiding.

Mrs. Vaughan was appointed director-at-large of the California Real Estate Association in 1962. She is a past president of the Burbank Board of Realtors.

Fashion Homes Near New Douglas Plant

Employees of major space technology firms, and especially employees of the Douglas Aircraft Co. who will work in the new $78 million plant in Huntington Beach, will find Fashion Homes in Westminster the ultimate in convenience to their work.

Situated just east of the junction of the Garden Grove and San Diego Freeways and within a maximum 10 minute drive from the Huntington Beach Douglas plant, Fashion Homes offer ease of transportation to the Long Beach-Torance manufacturing complex and the Orange County industrial areas.

WIVES OF SUCH employees will also be pleased with Fashion Homes' location. Shopping is "just up the street" and new schools are under construction throughout the area.

The big three and four-bedroom, family room, two-pullman baths homes feature hardwood floors on raised foundations; large all-electric kitchens with built-in range and oven, hood and fan, under-counter dishwasher, and disposer unit; fireplaces with convenient log lighters; forced air heating are among a host of features that make Fashion Homes a joy to live in.

Low FHA terms, no down to veterans and full price from $21,950 have already helped to convince more than 100 families that a Fashion Home is the home to buy.

From the Long Beach area, drive east on Seventh St. to a half mile east of Bolsa Chica Ave. to Fashion Homes in Westminster.

A FASHION HOME

Here is an interior view of a Fashion Home. Priced from $21,950, the big three and four-bedroom, family room, two-bath homes offer no down to veterans and low FHA terms.

Luxury Features at Low Cost Found in Huntington Village

ATTRACTIVE INTERIOR

Large living rooms are one of the many "plus" features of the 1,081-home Huntington Village community in Huntington Beach. The three and four-bedroom homes are priced from $17,925 with $495 down.

"Huntington Village homes offer the luxury features of a $30,000 home for less than $20,000," according to Dan Mytinger, sales manager for the builders of the 1,081-home community in Huntington Beach, the Doyle and Shields Development Co., Inc.

"Sunken indoor planters, an indoor barbeque grill, with electric outlet, the family room, slate entryways, and dishwashers are just a few of the "extras" found in Huntington Village homes," he continued, "in addition to our standard luxury features including RCA Whirlpool built-in range and oven, fireplace with convenient log lighter, forced air heating, color-co-

Flag A Cab

By CURTYNE DRISCOLL

Wayne Stith has been awarded an honorary life membership in the P.T.A.

Leo Rogin and his family never miss an open house at Tucker School, though he has no children who are students there.

William Thayer, a retired mechanical engineer, has had an exhibit of his wood carvings at Tucker.

These men are taxi drivers on the "school run," a remarkable daily operation involving hundreds of children, their parents, school officials and aids and the unsung heroes of the production, the drivers.

The cab drivers are not hand picked for the school run, but as any participating parent or child rider will tell you, they all seem particularly patient, warm-hearted and strong backed.

MANY CHILDREN use taxi service for school transportation privately. Taxi service in the Long Beach Unified School District is for children who qualify under state law for physically or mentally handicapped children. The district has found the use of taxis less expensive than buses, due to the wide area of pickup service.

Transporting handicapped children in the Long Beach Unified School District got its start around 1938, when the district took over the bus owned by Tichenor Clinic School. About 15 students were picked up and delivered on a route covering the entire Long Beach area. It took about an hour for the run.

In 1948 the taxi school run began with students attending classes for the deaf and blind at Franklin and Stevenson. In May of this year, 594 children attending over 25 schools rode taxis.

In the district, 175 school runs are made each way daily, with three or four children sharing a cab. The drivers have regular routes, with the same children as passengers and get very well acquainted with their little charges.

"They are wonderful," said June Dehls, the attractive principal of Tucker School for the Physically Handicapped, 2221 Argonne Ave., speaking of the drivers.

"They work with us and are very helpful. They treat the children like people, which everyone finds very satisfying."

For those unable to navigate it, the drivers, assisted by aids at school and parents at home, lift the children from their wheelchairs into the cab. Lunch boxes, coats, crutches and the art trophies of the day are checked in the trunk. And everybody is tucked away gently under the seat belt, ready to go.

TRANSPORTATION can be cancelled if the child is badly behaved. As anyone who has ever driven a car full of youngsters knows, this can happen occasionally. Very few complaints are received from these drivers.

There are many rumors of kindnesses that no one wants to talk very much about, because it sometimes means a rule has been broken. One of the most important rules for the children and their parents is to be ready when the taxi comes for them. The driver is not allowed to wait more than three minutes under any circumstances.

The drivers call it a "honeymoon express" when they have two children on their run that just HAVE to sit together.

But it was a real honeymoon last year, when one of the drivers married the mother of one of his regulars in a romance which developed over his interest in the passenger!

After Wedding Bells—the Budget!

By ELISE EMERY

Early this spring, 11 Long Beach State College students were given this assignment by Dr. Zelpa Bates:

Find a couple "as newly married as possible."

The purpose: To do a research study of brides, bridegrooms and their budgets for a home economics course in Home Project Management.

"We thought it might be difficult to find young couples willing to have their financial plans analyzed, but it was no problem at all," said one of the students.

"THE WORD got around and each of us had a case study going in no time."

Annual net incomes of the newlyweds ranged from $3,240 to $17,000. Each couple kept a detailed record of all earnings and expenditures for one month.

Then, with the student-counselor, a proposed budget was worked out.

Before class members undertook this study, they had a thorough grounding in money management and learned this cardinal rule:

Just as there is no one foolproof formula for a successful marriage, there is no one perfect budget for families.

Each couple must begin by deciding what its goals and values are, then devise a spending plan.

"Be realistic," advised one counselor. "Realize that you can't have everything."

Sometimes newlyweds are unaware of each other's goals.

One bride and bridegroom discovered this for the first time in talking with their counselor.

Married in February, they have a monthly income of $470. His $320 is augmented by the $150 she earns working part time in a dress shop.

He is 20, and is an auto mechanic. She is 17 and is finishing her education at evening high school. They planned to start their family in five years.

Until they talked about budgeting for goals, she didn't know he wanted to start his own garage in three years, hoped within the next 10 years to save enough money to travel throughout the United States, then move to Northern California and buy an expensive home there.

HE DIDN'T KNOW that she planned to take a secretarial course, buy new furniture and maintain an excellent wardrobe.

At the end of the month of record keeping the bride said, "I had a hard time trying to remember to write down everything I bought this month. I don't think I like this part of budgeting."

"Things are a little confusing for me yet, since this is my first month of marriage. I really don't know what kind of meat to buy at the store or if it is a bargain or not. I guess this will come with practice."

THEY WORKED out a practical budget, but before the several months study was completed they found they would have to do some revising. They will become parents by the end of their first year of marriage.

Their current problem is to scale expenses down to his salary and also to provide for her medical expenses and the baby's needs.

For another couple, married six months, goals are specific. A college graduate, 25, he nets $501.54 a month as a mathematician for an electronics firm.

She is 22, will graduate from college next year and intends to find a job with a minimum yearly salary of $4,000.

About Parties, Reunions and Wanderlust

By Iola Masterson
I, P-T Women's Editor

IT WAS a blazing good razing party when Artie and Al Stevenson and daughter, Ethel Severson, had a farewell party for their about-to-be gutted home; titled it "Arrivederci Villa Nane L'Originale." The really sparkling affair took place last Saturday night. Pictured below prior to the cocktail buffet (about 218 attended) looking over plans for the restoration of their place on Santiago are Ethel, architect Kenny Wing, Al and Artie.

Away with the old . . . here comes the new!

Assisting at the big merry affair were Helen and Jonah Jones, Clare and Lynn Hosson, John and "B" Hancock, Tess and Francis Heusel, Martha and Mickey Gould, Nada Richards, Helen and Frank Reagon, Doris and Jim Wood, Jan and Bill Dummitt, Dorothy and Dan Dunlap, Peg and Houston Fairley, Mildred and Kenny Wing and Artie's sister, Ethel Daly. Whew! They certainly had well attended guests, didn't they? Among them were Egypt Princesses Fathia and husband, Rind Gali, and Fawzie.

The "new" house will be Grecian-Roman in style and they're adding about 2,300 square feet making it double story with big balcony. About the only thing that won't be torn away are the bearing walls of the old house, as I understand it.

Al, Artie, Ethel and son, Corky, leave soon on a flight to Greece. There they'll board a big cruising yacht for sail along Greek Islands. They'll visit Turkey, Egypt plus Europe, again, returning to their re-done house late August. Actually house won't be ready so they'll have to rent awhile. Incidentally, this will be Al's FIFTH trip to Europe THIS year; the others all on business safaris to various places.

REACHING for the sky and literally up in the clouds in Bernice Stansbury's gorgeous ocean view penthouse apartment were Marilyn Kimple's Petroleum Club board wives at luncheon the other day. Sitting around in the beautiful spot and congratulating themselves on the $4,500 they'll turn over to Children's Memorial Hospital, proceeds from their recent club benefit ball, were Janie Custer, Kay Beach, May Sipprelle, Marie Sechrest, Joan Harrison, Lenell Benoist, Helen Kellogg, Marilyn and, of course, the hostess.

lend, the party's main star, former Bruin teacher and the spirit leader of the school, Katie Harrison, is determined not to miss any of her old student chums.

Here from Bourbon, Mo., especially for the event, she is staying in the best suite at the Breakers' International. She'll hold kind of open house in the lobby of the hotel (foyer, if you prefer) Monday from 2 to 5 and again from 7 to 10. Tuesday from 9 to 11 a. m., 2 to 5, and from 7 to 10. Also on Wednesday from 9 to 11 and from 2 to 4. Leave it to Katie!

The trip out here, in addition to the party, are all "on the house," a gift from her adoring students throughout the '30s.

IT WAS dubbed "Send Off to Summer" party when Lakewood Aid Leaguers took time out for fun Saturday at Adele and Harry Cossarek's Lakewood Country Club Estates home. Among those throwing cares to the breezes during the swimming, dining and dancing night were Prexy Kay Anderson, and husband Joe, Verna and Ray Larsen, Patty and Ed Coyne, Mary Ann and Ney Abrahamson, to name a few of the 40 or so there. Only "business" of the evening was managing to sneak into the conversation, to impress husbands, no doubt, how the active members have spent 2,018 volunteer hours for the good of their causes.

IN HIGH good humor, past presidents of Ebell Club properly inducted Virginia (Mrs. Everett N.) Morningstar into their august group during a delightful luncheon and card party in Gertrude (Mrs. Will H.) Winston's perfectly lovely, very smart apartment at Villa de Napoli. The initiation was conducted by Lucille (Mrs. Harold O.) Gray, junior past president, assisted by Genevieve (Mrs. James) Bryan. There were 23 X-es present.

SUCH excitement for teen-agers! Nada Richards' daughter, Gale Young, 16, and "Chili" and Mickey Jones' daughter, Robin, 15, will go July 14 all alone (together, but alone) on a flight to Japan. Robin (left, below) and Gale are studying up on things Oriental. Six years or so ago when Gale's grandparents, Helen and Jonah Jones, were in Japan they had a charming guide. They asked her if she could recommend a girl pen pal for Gale. She could—her sister, Mausami. So the two have pen-palled it ever since. Mausami's father is a professor of English literature at the University of Kyoto—so the family speaks English. Girls will travel with Mausami, now a college student, as their guide and chaperone throughout Japan.

In the meantime, back at the ranch known as Long Beach, mothers, Nada and Mickey, with Nada's son, Robin Young, have high plans to fly to Honolulu in August to rendezvous with daughters on their return; then all fly back here together.

Families here have met all of Mausami's family (except for her mother and one sister) because all have been in the U.S. one time or another in the interim. Mausami, an AFS student to this country two years ago, was Gale's houseguest briefly.

NOW HEAR THIS, all you sailors, be ye big boaters or small. Now that the boating season is really here it's time to heed the words of a very nice and helpful guy by name of Lt. (j.g.) Lloyd Ritchie, USN, officer in charge of the U.S. Navy Branch Hydrographic Office, 114 West "B" St., Wilmington. In April I wrote about people who cruised in the Gulf of California and were able only to get a chart published in 1870. Well, Lloyd (pictured below with one of his up-to-the-MINUTE charts) wrote me smartly back and said in no uncertain terms, "No, Ma'am!"

Happy sailing . . . if you follow right charts.

He says his office and their sales agents (locally that would be John Miller at his Long Beach Marine Hardware) have the latest charts, plus up-to-date descriptive texts (the sailing directions) for practically, if not all areas, any boater could desire. Go tell them exactly where you're going and they'll see that you have the right chart.

Lloyd also now has a new Trans-Pacific Race chart which he'd love to see every mariner have in his den. It's a special issue and he thinks real yachting enthusiasts would love one in order to follow their favorites in the big Trans-Pac race which begins from here to Honolulu July 4.

MUCH MERRIMENT as Downtown Optimist Club had its annual installation dinner Friday p.m. at the Edgewater. Glad-handing the jolly crowd on arrival were new officers and spouses President Norman White and wife, Helen, also Maryalce and Wilbur Rivard, Arlene and Bill Lockyer and Suzanne and Bob Wenke. As Wilbur put it, it was a 2-D and 1-C night—dining, dancing and cocktails.

Corner Sheepskin Market

By CHARLES SUTTON
Somebody ought to look into the activities of the Sidney Guthman family of 2000 Park Ave., Long Beach. They're trying to corner the market in sheepskins.

As yet, the family's manipulations haven't come to the attention of the authorities; nevertheless, the facts add up to a clear case of cultural conspiracy.

Item—Mr. Guthman, a rabbi and teacher, has a Bachelor's Degree, a Master's Degree and is now working toward his doctorate in sociology at USC. (He wants three, no less.)

Item—Mrs. Guthman (first name, Eleanor) has a BA in Oriental languages. (University of Chicago, 1938.)

Item—Daughter Betty, 17, is studying at UCLA for a BA in liberal arts.

BUT THE final and conclusive link in this incriminating chain of circumstances was discovered Friday at Long Beach State College's commencement exercises.

At that time, the Guthman family added two more sheepskins to its collection: Mrs. Guthman, 46, received her MA in elementary education; her son, David, 20, got his BA in political science.

What accounts for the Guthmans' apparently insatiable appetite for diplomas and education?

It's hard to say, admits Mrs. Guthman, a slender, good-looking woman of seemingly inexhaustible vitality. "But I think the atmosphere in our home has had something to do with it," she adds. "It's been one of probing and seeking. We have lots of books and magazines around the house, and our visitors are invariably thought-provoking people. All these things have had a tendency to stimulate us."

MRS. GUTHMAN herself has never tired of learning, despite years of interruptions for earning a living and raising a family—which explain her 25-year delay in taking her master's.

"I guess I've been in and out of college all my adult life," she says. (The list of schools, by the way, reads like something out of an academic handbook: University of Chicago, Radcliff, San Antonio College, San Fernando State and Long Beach State.)

The fact that she's got her MA now doesn't mean to say, however, that she's calling it quits as a student. Heavens no, she so much as says.

Even if she doesn't matriculate at another school, her education will—nay, must—go on. For, as Mrs. Guthman explains, "a teacher can never stop."

"I plan to continue at State and go into the foreign language department," she says. Since a new state law requires modern foreign languages to be taught in elementary schools starting next year, she feels she can teach Spanish.

Meanwhile, she's already teaching first and second graders at Wilmington Park Elementary School. She also teaches Hebrew two nights a week at adult classes at State; and two nights a week she attends classes as a pupil.

The rest of the time? "Oh, I'm a housewife, of course," she says. Of course.

A 100-Year Span-- Pioneer Days to Space Age

By ELISE EMERY

Monday, as she has for the past years, Mrs. Mary L. Gunby arrived at Rafael's House of Beauty, 4719 E. Anaheim St., for her standing appointment.

She came alone by taxi.

After her hair was shampooed and dressed, the shop's beauty operators sang "Happy Birthday" and presented her with remembrances. Rafael gave her a dozen fragrant, red roses and an orchid.

Blue eyes twinkling, Mrs. Gunby said to Rafael's assistant: "You'd better kiss me, Carlo. You'll never have another chance to kiss a girl 100 years old."

Mrs. Gunby was born in Naperville, Ill., June 4, 1863.

Her father was Swiss, her mother French, bought Pine Avenue and other property.

HER PARENTS, with other members of their family, had lived and worked in New Orleans, saving money for the move to Illinois.

Finally, with all their possessions packed in chests, the little group began the trip upriver. The riverboat snagged and all luggage was lost overboard, including the chest which held the family's gold.

They went on to work and save again in Illinois. They heard of fine farming land in Missouri and at last, when Mary was 4 years old, they bought land in what is now Chilli-cothe.

MARY'S MOTHER bore 12 children, 8 of whom survived to adulthood. Her mother died when Mary was still a very young girl, and she took on the home responsibilities for her brothers and sisters.

She later married, but her husband died within a short time.

The young widow apprenticed herself to a famous dress designer and later became head designer for the largest store in the Midwest outside of Chicago, then known as Boleen, More & Emery.

Many of her customers traveled to Paris for fabrics which they brought for Mary to design into elegant gowns. Her career spanned 20 years.

IN 1900, SHE married Edward S. Gunby. They came to Los Angeles, living first "out in the country" at Eighth and Hill.

Soon the Gunbys bought a ranch, land which now comprises parts of Compton and Watts.

Then, with their infant daughter, Susan, they moved to the little seaside village of Long Beach in 1903.

For many years Mr. Gunby was a partner in the Helps and Gunby real estate and insurance firm and was one of the founders of the First National Bank.

During the busy years that followed, Mary Gunby worked actively with her husband in the real estate business.

"MY HUSBAND often asked my advice and followed it. I'll take a woman's business judgment any time as quickly as I will a man's. In many ways women are smarter than men," said her mother.

It was implicit in her philosophy that "people should take care of their own." Long before the era of government social aid, she helped the needy, paying doctor bills, nursing the sick, buying groceries, lending money she knew never would be repaid.

Mr. Gunby died in 1947 and eventually Mrs. Gunby moved to the 10th floor apartment in the Willmore which she now shares with her daughter, Mrs. Susan Virgilis.

"IT HAS ALWAYS been difficult to get mother to talk about the past," said Mrs. Virgilis. "She has constantly believed in progress and looks always to the future. She traveled a great deal and particularly delighted in flying. A lifelong Republican, she never misses a chance to vote."

Monday evening Mrs. Gunby entertained three longtime Long Beach friends at dinner, Mrs. Anna Dutch, Mrs. Mary Brandenburg and Mrs. Vida Harrison.

On her birthday, Tuesday, some 100 guests called to offer congratulations at an open house reception. Gifts and cards poured in and dozens of bouquets transformed the apartment into a garden.

HER POSTURE beautifully erect, gowned in a smart blue silk sheath, Mrs. Gunby looked out of the window at the Long Beach shoreline.

"It has been a most wonderful 100 years to live through," she said. "I have seen the hardships of log cabin life as a settler in Missouri, watched Long Beach grow from a small resort to a metropolis, with all the changes that implies. There has been the development of the airplane from the first small planes to the great jets. And now—the space age, with its ever increasing wonders."

Winter Nuptials Planned

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Upton Albright entertained recently in their Danville home to announce engagement of their daughter, Sue, to Stephen Calvert Strong, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Calvert Strong, 3940 California Ave.

The betrothal was revealed earlier to Delta Gamma Sorority sisters of the bride-elect with the traditional candle lighting ceremony.

MISS ALBRIGHT will be graduated in June from San Jose State College. Her fiancé, an alumnus of Long Beach Poly, attended San Jose State where he majored in business administration and affiliated with Delta Upsilon.

They plan a winter wedding in Danville and will reside in Northern California. The prospective bridegroom is employed in San Francisco.

DAR to Install

The spring party and installation of officers for Long Beach Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will take place Tuesday noon at Mr. C's Restaurant.

Installed will be Mrs. John S. Moffet as regent and her slate of officers, Mrs. Marvin T. Roberson, Theodore Heinrich, Glenn E. Taylor, Franklin Thee, James J. Radcliffe, William Sandison and the Misses Jennie Miller, Edith Holton and Laura Moore.

HURRAH FOR THE RED, WHITE AND BLUE!

Invitations are out for a tea to be given at the home of Mrs. Frej E. Hagelberg, 4215 Pacific Ave. Friday from 2 to 5 p.m. by the 32nd Congressional District Republican Women, Federated.

Flag Day will be celebrated and the U.S. flag will be used in array throughout the house and garden. The hostess planned the garden for the party with growing flowers in red, white and blue. Mrs. James Morrison is in charge of decoration.

A birthday cake, honoring the 10th anniversary of the group will be cut by Mrs. George Taubman Jr., first president. Other guests will include members of the first board, all charter members and Mmes. Hannah Nixon, mother of Richard Nixon; Joanne Goldwater Ross, daughter of Senator Goldwater; Walter Brennan, wife of the actor, and Pat Hitt, Republican National Committeewoman.

GREETING members and guests will be the president, Mrs. Robert Albright, and her board, who will act as hostesses for the day.

Mrs. R. L. Schmidt is chairman of the event. Her committee includes Mmes. Raymond Grohaly, Jo T. Spivey, Gustaf Erickson and Hagelberg. Tee table hostesses will be Mmes. Ler Benno and Lloyd Shidler.

Reservations may be made now with Ann Cole or Mrs. Annette Brewer for the reception, luncheon and fashion show planned for Sept. 10 at the Lafayette Hotel to be sponsored by the 32nd Congressional District Republican Women.

Apartment Dwelling Has Its Drawbacks

DEAR MRS. MAYFIELD:

My complaint is a petty one but then it's always the little things that prove to be the most upsetting.

I am a widow and not long ago I sold our home and moved into an apartment. All my house-dwelling friends were the first to suggest it. Apartment living was just what I needed.

Well, here I am with noisy young people upstairs, party-giving young people next door and two bachelors across the hall who play music all hours of the night.

My "sound-proof" little piece of heaven sounds like Grand Central Station at commuter time.

I can't spend all my money moving from place to place looking for congenial neighbors and I can't stand the noise. Am I just too difficult in my old age?

—UNHAPPY.

DEAR UNHAPPY:

Like everything else, shopping for an apartment these days takes a lot of hard work. The apartments' appeal to various age groups can usually be determined by what kind of emphasis is put on the services.

Dear Molly Mayfield

If the swimming pool is the first item mentioned you can be sure that the young unmarrieds are being wowed. If the ads mention the quiet neighborhood, the proximity of restaurants and shopping, chances are they are set up for an older clientele.

You are going to find, however, that every apartment house is going to have various age groups. Noise is a relative thing. It can loom loud if you let it, or it can be largely ignored. Have parties of your own, play music if you like, or turn on the television. Before long you won't notice you even have neighbors unless they stop by to borrow.

Most of all don't look back on the years when you were a happy homemaker. Everything in the past takes on a rosy glow especially when wrapped with happy memories of departed loved ones.—M.M.

There Are No Rainy Days Ahead for Child Model

...at eight, she has social security

Staff photos by Bob Shumway

By MARY ELLIS CARLTON
I, P-T Fashion Editor

Appealing Janise Borner doesn't have Marilyn Monroe dimensions and she can't figure her own income tax. . . . She couldn't tell you her Social Security number or who tabulated the most votes in last week's election. . . .

She's probably never even heard of trig, algebra or calculus—and she couldn't care less.

She's too busy figuring in some pretty exciting events that make up her own many-sided world.

A PRETTY busy world it is, too.

Take her TV-ing. Pretty, brwn-haired Janise has appeared in bit parts with Gene Kelly on his "Going My Way" series, with Bing Crosby on his video Christmas party and with Edie Adams on her show.

Also, she does fashion modeling on land (usually at the Elks Club or Welch's) and on the sea (regular shows aboard the Great White Steamer to Catalina).

She cuts quite a figure on the dance floor, too. Recently she and her partner out-stepped other contestants in the ballroom category (cha cha, fox trot, swing) to dance off with the "academy award" at Granger's Dance Academy.

And she's often called upon to belt out one of her racy song-and-dance numbers (like "Oh, Johnny" or "Peggy O'Neil") for local programs.

Fact is, most any young thing would give a king's ransom in bubble gum to follow in her footsteps.

BUT PINT-SIZED Janise Borner, just-turned-8, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Borner, 211 W. 48th St., takes her small-world claim to fame very calmly.

It's fun, yes.

But Janise admits sometimes she'd rather climb fences, play with her dolls or tend her pets—a gold fish named Pat ("because I don't know if it's a boy or a girl"), a pair of kittens dubbed Pete and Re-Pete and a Springer pooch that answers to Queenie ("she's named after Queen Elizabeth because mother's from Canada").

She works those in, too, though—in and around a well-disciplined schedule of second grade studies at John A. Sutter Elementary School, modeling and TV assignments . . . also voice, ballet, ballroom and tap dancing lessons.

JANISE has been doing fashion shows since she was four, after taking a modeling course at Elda Barry's Vogue Modeling Agency.

Local shows usually bring $5 an hour; shows in Los Angeles net $25.

She got her social security card last year; filed an income tax this year.

Among her other business credentials: a Screen Children's Guild card, a Long Beach modeling permit, also a work permit from the L. A. school system.

Her mother, Marjorie, explains: "When Janise works at a studio in Hollywood, she goes to school right on the set. During an eight-hour day, she's required to work in three hours of schooling."

TAKEN AT AGE 4, one of first modeling pictures prophesies few rainy days ahead for poised, talented Janise Borner.

CHIC MRS. BORNER fits, quite nicely, into the mother-of-a-child-model role.

Said one head of a model agency for children: "Modeling doesn't hurt the children—but it's tough on mothers. They have to be on the go from morning to night, taking their children from one place to another, supervising try-outs and try-ons, keeping the kids happy so they'll photograph well."

"When I consider booking a child, I always look at the mother first. If she's high-strung, nervous or too aggressive, I end the interview right there, no matter how attractive the child may be."

What should a mother do to train her child to be a model?

"Nothing," says the model agency head. "Just let the child be natural."

And that's exactly what Marjorie Borner does.

"I want Janise to be whatever she wants to be," says Mrs. Borner. "My philosophy is to give her everything I can in the way of lessons and training. Then it's up to her, when old enough, to make up her own mind."

And what does cute Janise Borner want to be when she grows up?

A teacher, says she.

"Well, at least, maybe she'll be a MODEL teacher," quips her mother.

Dancing Featured at Show

Susy's School of Dance will present a variety show in Exhibit Hall of Municipal Auditorium Monday at 8 p.m., sponsored by the Long Beach Recreation Department.

The show will feature a wide range of acts from jazz to the classics.

Kay Seaton, owner and teacher-choreographer, will present both specialty acts and group numbers. Included will be "Ebb Tide," Sandy Klinger; "I Feel Pretty," Honey Kessler; "Ballin' the Jack," Steve and Renee Des Jardins; "Darktown Strutters Ball," Michelle Dunyan and Patty Gray.

GLADYS BARNETT, teacher-choreographer, has prepared her interpretation of the third act of "Swan Lake." Dancers include Lynn Tibbets, Chris Salcido, Debbie Shinn, Gaylee Jackson, Cathy Barnett, Kim Niehaus and Jane James.

Carl H. Robertson will lead the community singing to open the program at 7:30 p.m. with Regenia Beam as accompanist.

The Tvo Orchestra will play for the old time and square dancing which follows the stage show. Joe Marshall will be the caller. The public is invited to this free program.

Brides, Bridegrooms--and Budgets!

They will save the money she earns for two-and-a-half years, living on his income. With the $10,000, they will spend at least a year traveling in Europe.

They have no intention of owning a home now, and possibly never. They don't want to be tied down by possessions. Meanwhile, they share interests in music, reading, drama and gourmet food.

Although they have no installment payments, they are repaying an $850 loan for his college education.

Reported their counselor:

"IN DISCUSSIONS, I helped my young couple to weigh values in relation to goals. They realized that they couldn't eat steak every night, live in a lovely apartment, have the latest in stereo equipment, go dining and dancing several times a month, finance two college educations—yet still repay loans, begin a savings plan and provide for quarterly or annual expenses."

As a result, the pair has set up a regular savings plan and is investigating life and health insurance. They still are determined to have their year in Europe.

THE COUPLE with the lowest net monthly income, $270, is managing better than many with higher salaries.

Because he is in service, they can shop for most of their needs at the PX. They are expecting their first child later this year and hope to have another before he completes his service in two years to take advantage of low medical rates.

He is 20; she is 19. When he is discharged, he will be trained to take a good job in electronics. They will return to their former home in Northern California to raise their family. Their religion is an important part of their lives and they intend to increase church activities.

EACH OF THE 11 couples studied had individual problems and objectives. In the words of one student counselor, "This was a two-way project. The adviser and young couple both are learning."

"Money is not the secret of happiness in marriage or in life, and lack of money need not spell unhappiness if a person is well-integrated and well-adjusted."

"An objective attitude toward money and a sound plan for its use, however, is an important phase of mature living. Money management on a teamwork basis can lead the way to smooth economic adjustments, and rapport thus established can help to bring harmony to the many other elements that are a part of family living."

Oswald Jacoby Trump Is Never Sure

The late George S. Kaufman was discussing a certain bridge player.

He remarked, "There are two ways to tell when Mr. X has a good hand. First his face lights up and then he misplays it."

South looked like a lighted Christmas tree as he opened with one spade and after North responded with two clubs, South moved happily to the spade slam.

West opened the king of diamonds. South took dummy's ace and after mentioning the fact that he was glad he had not bid seven South played dummy's device of spades. East played low and South went up with his ace. West showed out and the Christmas tree lights were shortcircuited. The rosy glow turned to a deep purple as South studied the hand but there was nothing he could do to salvage anything from the wreck. He had to lose a club and a trump.

IF SOUTH had done his thinking before leading to the second trick he would have done all right. He would have seen that his only worry was a five-zero trump break and that he could handle it if East held the five trumps.

Then he would have played dummy's jack of spades. West would show out and South would lead a low spade. If East played low, South would finesse the eight. If East played the ten or nine, South would cover and go back to dummy for a further finesse.

Wedding Bells Ring Out This Weekend

Senske-Flynn

James Roger Senske, son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Senske, 2745 Baltic Ave., claimed as his bride, Judith Kathleen Flynn of Santa Barbara in a noon ceremony Saturday at San Roque Catholic Church, Santa Barbara.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George T. Flynn of that city. She wore for her vows a gown of tissue taffeta fashioned in a slim sheath with a bouffant overskirt forming a brush train. Her veil of French illusion fell from a coronet crown of lace and she carried a nosegay of white roses and stephanotis.

Included in the entourage were Rae Ruggiero, maid of honor; John R. Senske Jr., best man; Patty Lynch, Karen Jacobsen, Terry Renga and Cathy Simmons, bridesmaids; and Richard J. Senske, Robert W. Senske, John J. Flynn and George T. Flynn, ushers.

The newlyweds are on a honeymoon trip to Carmel and will be at home after April 15 in Inglewood. The bride is a student at Mount St. Mary's College in Los Angeles; her husband is a graduate of St. Anthony's High School and Loyola University. He is a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon and played varsity basketball for three years.

Wulfsberg-Smith

Carolyn Dee Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max F. Smith, Wilmington, became the bride of David Einar Wulfsberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Wulfsberg, 5461 La Pasada, in an evening service Saturday at California Heights Methodist Church.

The bride was attended by Sandra Borow, maid of honor; Sharon Balk, Gay McGee, Judy King and Elaine Wulfsberg, bridesmaids; and Carla Wulfsberg, junior bridesmaid. Cindy Wulfsberg was candle lighter.

Richard and James Wulfsberg, twin brothers of the bridegroom, served as best men and ushers were Paul Schroeder, Gary Damron, John Hutchison, Thomas Jones, Chris Smith, Mike Anderson and Martin Anderson.

The newlyweds will reside in Los Angeles while both take graduate studies at UCLA, he in law and she in English. The bride is a graduate of Cal Western University, San Diego, and her husband took his undergraduate study at Pasadena College.

Guest-Morton

United States Naval Academy Chapel, Annapolis, Md., was setting Friday afternoon for the marriage ceremony uniting Ens. George R. Guest and Virginia L. Morton.

Parents of the newlyweds are Mr. and Mrs. George A. Guest, 6340 Cerritos Ave., and Mr. and Mrs. C. Robert Morton, Dallas, Tex.

A sheath silhouette gown with overskirt of miramist taffeta and Alencon lace was worn by the bride. She also wore her mother's wedding veil of pearl-sprinkled English illusion and carried phalaenopsis orchids and roses.

Members of the wedding party were Mrs. L. P. Wood, matron of honor; Midshipman Fred Hufnagel, best man; Hope Baldwin, Betty Lou Barnes, Cynthia Freeman, Rebecca Quinn and Debora Morton, bridesmaids; and Ensigns John C. Wall, James A. Lanier III, Major K. Howe, Charles B. Robbins and 2nd Lt. James A. Branscome, ushers.

The newlyweds will be at home July 20 in Pensacola, Fla., following a honeymoon trip of New England, Mexico and California.

The bride is a graduate of Mary Baldwin College and her husband was graduated from Jordan High School and the Naval Academy.

Terry-Johnson

A reception for 200 guests at Long Beach First Ward of the Latter Day Saints Church Saturday evening followed the morning marriage ceremony in the LDS Temple, Los Angeles, of David Lee Terry and Linda Lee Johnson.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer J. Johnson, 2385 Golden Ave., the bride wore a gown fashioned by her mother with lace bodice and skirt of tulle over satin. She wore an orange blossom crown to hold her bouffant veil and carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis and carnations surrounding an orchid.

Attendants for the couple were Karen L. Page, Catherine M. Robins, bridesmaids; David H. Johnson, best man; and Joe Price and Robert L. Ward, ushers.

Both young persons were graduated from Polytechnic

High School and continued studies at Brigham Young University, Provo, Utah. The bride also attended Long Beach City College. Her husband, son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Terry, Long Beach, served a 2½-year mission in Mexico for his church and currently is a student at Long Beach State College.

They will reside in Long Beach on return from a coastline honeymoon.

Cavanagh-Demers

Currently on a honeymoon trip to Carmel following their Saturday wedding at St. Athanasius Catholic Church are Mr. and Mrs. Maurice F. Cavanagh.

The former Dolores Demers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Demers, 4410 Long Beach Blvd., wore a floor length gown of taffeta and Chantilly lace, and carried white orchids for her marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Butts were honor attendants. Completing the wedding party were Marilyn Cavanagh, bridesmaid, and Tom Reggin, Kelly Cavanagh and Barry Erben, ushers.

The new Mrs. Cavanagh is a graduate of Jordan High School and attended Long Beach City College. Her husband, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley P. Cavanagh, Downey, is a student at LBCC where he is affiliated with Order of Kisab.

Hazelton-Blosser

A floor length gown of Chantilly lace was selected by Ruth Ellen Blosser for her marriage Saturday evening to Richard Franklin Hazelton at First Methodist Church.

She completed her costume with a fingertip length veil caught to a tiara of pearls and crystals, and carried a cascade bouquet of roses and stephanotis with an orchid. She is the daughter of Mrs. Margaret L. Blosser, Long Beach.

Mrs. Frederick Kergan was matron of honor for the bride, and Janet Warren and Mrs. Kenneth Gilson were bridesmaids.

The bridegroom, son of Mrs. James L. Hazelton, Los Alamitos, and the late Mr. Hazelton, was attended by James Hazelton as best man, and Kenneth Hazelton and Loren L. Baumgardner, ushers.

A reception followed the vow exchange and the newlyweds now are on a honeymoon trip to Phoenix and the Grand Canyon. They will be at home at Los Alamitos after June 16.

The new Mrs. Hazelton received early schooling in Saginaw, Mich., attended Cerritos College and was graduated from Air Lines School of the Pacific. Her husband is a graduate of Ohio State University where he affiliated with Alpha Sigma Phi. Among his affiliations are Masons, Toastmasters, Young Republicans and Ohio State University Association.

BYU Seniors Marry in Los Angeles Temple Rite

Los Angeles Temple, Latter Day Saints, was the setting for the recent marriage of Diane Denos and Dennis E. Elwell.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Denos, Rolling Hills, former residents of Long Beach, was graduated from Poly High.

She and the bridegroom are seniors at Brigham Young University.

For the ceremony, the new Mrs. Elwell wore a gown of white silk organza with Chantilly lace bodice. She carried a bouquet of lily of the valley set with a white orchid.

ATTENDANTS were Pamela Denos, the bride's sister, maid of honor, and Jean Trounce, Cindee Hughes, Nancy Forbis and Myrna Bell, bridesmaids. Terry Seamons served the bridegroom as best man, Don Barnes, Larry Christofferson, Charles Ellis, Clark Jolley and James Bell were ushers.

Following a honeymoon in Las Vegas, the bride and bridegroom (he is the son of the Dee Elwells of La Crescenta) will make their home in Provo, Utah.

Feitelson to Judge LBAA Show

By ELISE EMERY
Arts Page Editor
Lorser Feitelson, artist, teacher, art critic and television personality, will judge the July juried exhibit of Long Beach Art Association. The show will hang in the association's gallery, 800 E. Ocean Blvd., through July. A reception is scheduled July 7 from 2 to 5 p.m. Entries will be received Monday, June 24, from 1 to 7 p.m. Cash awards of $100 for best of show and $50 for second best will be given. There also will be parchment awards of merit in each category.
Oils, water colors, mixed media, lithographs and sculpture will be accepted. Further information may be obtained by calling the gallery.

SEAL BEACH Artists will open its Membership Show today at the Art Center, Ocean Boulevard and Main Street, Seal Beach.
The exhibit, which will be on view all summer, will be concurrent with the annual Clothesline Sale starting Saturday. Hours are 1 to 5 and 7 to 10 p.m. daily.
The league will elect a new board of directors June 14 at 6:45 p.m. after a potluck dinner. Richard Johnson will give a painting demonstration. The picture he paints will be given away at the conclusion of the meeting.

TWELVE STUDENTS at Otis Art Institute of Los Angeles County will receive master of fine arts degrees at graduation exercises Wednesday at 8 p.m. Mrs. George Johnson and Mrs. James Krest of Long Beach, members of the board of directors, will be among those attending.

An exhibition of the students' thesis work will be shown in the gallery from Thursday to July 14.
A six-week summer session will begin at the institute July 1, offering classes in drawing, design, painting, sculpture and ceramics.

SEAL BEACH Artists Co-Op will sponsor its eighth annual charter bus trip to Laguna Beach Festival of Art Saturday, July 6; Friday, July 19; and Saturday, Aug. 10.

A bus will leave Main Street and Electric Avenue, Seal Beach, at 4 p.m. on each of these dates and will return at midnight. The $4.50 donation includes transportation, admission to the grounds and a reserved seat to the Pageant of the Masters.

Tickets are on sale at the Co-Op Gallery, 132 Main St. Mrs. Viola Mendoza is trip chairman.

FIRST PLACE winners in the first Wilmington Art Association festival last Sunday in Banning Park were:

NEW SUMMER classes slated to open June 11 at

Fran Soldini's Houseboat Atelier Studio, 39 56th Place, have been postponed to June 17. Mrs. Soldini has had minor surgery at St. Mary's Hospital.

WAYNE LONG will judge sculpture and crafts in Downey Museum of Art's Art Unlimited festival today. Long is director of exhibits and instructor of design at Otis Art Institute. The gallery is located at 10419 S. Rives Ave., Downey.

THE LARGEST exhibit of Japanese prints ever shown in the Los Angeles area will be viewed by 500 members of the film colony, consular corps, civic leaders and society figures today at the Gallery Arles, 635 1/2 N. La Cienega Blvd.

A champagne reception will honor Consul-General and Mrs. Matao Uru of Japan. Folk dancing, demonstrations of the tea ceremony and flower arranging are on the program. Proceeds will benefit the Los Angeles-Nagoya Sister City Committee's student exchange fund. Tickets may be obtained by calling the gallery.

Museum Exhibit Shows Work of Area Artists

By VIRGINIA LADDEY
"Arts of Southern California—XIII: Painting" which continues at Long Beach Museum of Art, 2300 East Ocean Blvd., through June 30, raises some rather pertinent questions concerning the functions of a municipal art museum.
A work from each of 27 artists, nominated by museums from San Diego to Santa Barbara, is shown. This is one of two annual shows assembled here and then circulated to other museums for 18 to 24 months, and for which Los Angeles County pays. Accompanying this show, as usual, is a catalogue handsomely laid out and illustrated.

ABSENT BOTH in the display and in the catalogue are reasons for this particular grouping, for its selection, or evaluation of the trends of these artists and their relationships. From the museum is merely the statement that these are the artists recommended by various museum directors, including our own.
The introduction to the catalogue, written by authoritative Helen Wurdemann, lightly traces the origins of contemporary art and observes that as the art of the 30s chronicled the Depression, this art reflects an obsession with space and is an art of "force" and "virility" rather than "beauty" and "nature."

Driskill Elected by AGO

Gene Driskill of Long Beach was elected a national councillor of the American Guild of Organists in the guild's 67th annual national election May 27. With members voting in over 300 chapters throughout the United States, he is the first councillor who resides outside the metropolitan New York area.

In this post, he will commute to New York four times annually for the next three years to attend meetings of the council, which is composed of 14 other councillors and national officers.

Chartered by the board of regents of the University of State of New York since 1896, the guild, guided by the council, presents a vast music educational program.

IN ADDITION, the council directs and coordinates all activities of chapters whose purpose is to advance the cause of worthy religious music through concerts, workshops, festivals, and discussion programs.

The Long Beach Chapter has contributed to the cultural success of Long Beach since 1947. Driskill is a past president of this group, was convention chairman of the 1955 regional convention in Long Beach, was general chairman of the 1962 national convention in Long Beach, is a member of First Baptist Church, Chamber of Commerce and is active as a professional organist.

This IS a Fish Story

By MILDRED K. FLANARY
I, P-T Food Editor

He could expound for hours on "the life of the salmon and its turbulent career." He knows a bit about bears, also, having had to outfumble a few. For they, as he follows salmon, too.

As area director of the U. S. Bureau of Commercial Fisheries, U. S. Dept. of Interior, today's Chef of the Week, Don R. Johnson, is an authority on all that's aquatic. His work ranges from research on animal life in the sea to development of new recipes of fishery products.

While Johnson's principal office is on Terminal Island, he presently is overseeing the new 2½ million dollar laboratory now under construction in La Jolla. Other laboratories and offices are located in San Diego, San Pedro, Palo Alto and Tiburon.

OF SWEDISH parentage, Johnson is the product of rugged camp life in the far north. Born in Portland, he was graduated from Oregon State College in 1939. The following year he entered the University of Washington where he continued his studies in fishery biology for three years.

Even World War II conspired to enhance his future. The Army was sending promising young men back to college. Johnson was selected, and by coincidence, found himself once again at Oregon State College. But this time he was wearing a uniform and studying engineering instead of biology; maneuvering a slide rule instead of a microscope.

He later served with the Signal Corps unit in the South Pacific, first in New Guinea and later in the Philippines.

His return to Oregon State also brought an unexpected dividend, his wife, Kathleen. They have three sons, Rod, 16, Stephen, 13, and Brian, 8. Since Wilson High, Rogers Junior and Lowell Elementary Schools represent their houses of learning, Mom and Pop find themselves attending three different sets of P-T.A. meetings.

THE JOHNSONS moved to Long Beach in 1958, and immediately entered into community life. All are active in Belmont Heights Methodist Church; and this year are again organizing the annual church "family camp," a week-end family trip to the mountains.

While Don's work often takes him to foreign countries (he made trips to Ecuador, Costa Rica and Japan—five all-told, last year) he still finds time to serve as cub master of Cub Pack 145. He's "doing" his second year.

All 6-feet 4-inches of him have tramped the streams counting fish, way up in the headwaters of British Columbia. He packs in when necessary. Each year, as a family, the Johnsons go on annual pilgrimages to fishing waters in the great northwest.

Naturally he tends to think of fish when he goes out to dine. And, for him, they must be fresh.

HIS RECIPE today is for Oriental Swordfish Steaks.

Chef of the Week

DONALD R. JOHNSON

And, since the recipe calls for "2 pounds swordfish steaks, or other steaks, fresh or frozen," we'll lay-you-two-to-one, that it was whipped-up by the bureau's top flight home economist, Elaine McAlley.

ORIENTAL SWORDFISH STEAKS

2 pounds swordfish steaks or other fish steaks, fresh or frozen
¼ cup soy sauce
¼ cup orange juice
2 tbsps. salad oil
2 tbsps. catsup
2 tbsps. chopped parsley
1 tbsps. lemon juice
½ tsp. oregano
½ tsp. pepper
1 clove garlic, finely chopped

Thaw frozen steaks. Cut into serving-size portions. Place fish in a single layer in a shallow baking pan. Combine remaining ingredients. Pour sauce over fish and let stand for 30 minutes, turning once. Remove fish, reserving sauce for basting. Place fish in well-greased hinged wire grills. Cook on a barbecue grill about 4 inches from moderately hot coals for 8 minutes. Baste with remaining sauce. Turn and cook for 7 to 10 minutes longer or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Serves 6.

100 From 10

Bakers report there are 10 pieces to the typical pound of wedding cake. A 10-pound cake, for example, will serve 100.

What's on the Menu?

The following menus will be served in Long Beach elementary schools in the week of June 10-14:

MONDAY: Toasted cheese sandwich, pineapple coleslaw, applesauce, cookie and milk.

TUESDAY: Italian spaghetti, buttered green beans, sliced peaches, peanut butter sandwich and milk.

WEDNESDAY: Chopped steak on mashed potatoes, buttered garden peas, chocolate pudding, raisin bread square and milk.

THURSDAY: Cheese beanburger, potato salad, fruit cup supreme, carrot sticks and milk.

FRIDAY — HOLIDAY FOR STUDENTS.

The above items make up the elementary children's lunch 30c. Soup and salad from the junior-senior high school a la carte menu are sold in the elementary schools, but they may be purchased by the children only after they have purchased the tray lunch.

JUNIOR-SENIOR HIGH MONDAY: Spaghetti, southern style or fried chicken with mashed potatoes and gravy, green beans, applesauce, cinnamon biscuit and milk.

TUESDAY: Barbecued beef on bun, whole kernel corn, Spanish coleslaw, cheese slices and milk.

WEDNESDAY: Meat loaf sandwich with gravy, mashed potatoes, garden salad, cookie and milk.

THURSDAY: Neapolitan macaroni, buttered peas, sliced peaches, peanut butter sandwich and milk.

FRIDAY: HOLIDAY FOR STUDENTS.

CLUBS Variety in Events Planned

TUESDAY "Summer Gardening" will be the topic when Frank Cameron is guest speaker at the Lakewood Area Fuchsia Society, 8 p.m., at Lakewood YMCA. Door awards will be followed by a plant sale and refreshments will be served by Peggy Robinson. Guests are welcome.

WEDNESDAY Janice Dahlheimer will take office as president of Court Marian 1669, Catholic Daughters of America, in an 8 p.m. ceremony conducted by Mrs. Ramona Long, district deputy, at Woodman of the World Hall, 11 W. Plymouth St. Mrs. Esther Gow will be hostess.

Ladies of Elks will follow noon luncheon at the Elks Club, 4101 E. Willow St., with a brief business session led by Mrs. Thomas J. Davis. Bridge and canasta also are planned.

THURSDAY Ladies Auxiliary to the Long Beach Fire Department will meet at 10 a.m. in Clubhouse Two, 6216 Emerald Cove Way. A sale of dolls, clothing and jewelry from Guatemala is planned. Members and friends are welcome.

Worth Weight

The association of silver with marriage was a natural outgrowth of the change in the manner of acquiring a bride. When men began to buy wives rather than capture them, the price of the wife was often measured in silver coin.

Lakewood, Long Beach Women Reduce to Wear Swimsuits and Shorts on New Attractive Figures

as told by Frances Robertson, Long Beach

I'm 53 years old and proud of it! I have the greatest husband who is in the Merchant Marine. I love life, parties, often go to the races. I have three children, ages 20, 22, and 24. I also have five wonderful grandchildren—and another on the way. My name is Frances Robertson. I live in Long Beach at 3027 East Ocean. I used to be in Real Estate but have not worked for quite a while.

The day I went to the Pat Walker's Stauffer System Salon in Long Beach I went with a good friend who also was my neighbor. I was feeling miserable because I had a 40-inch hip, my thighs were over 25½ inches each. I had "over-the-bra" bulges, not to mention other figure faults.

Miss Walker, the National Figure Authority, for the Stauffer System, talked to both of us and told me what my problems were and what they could do about them. You see me in a picture with Miss Walker. I have on a slim sheath that I am proud to say had to be taken in. I don't have any bulges now; I lost 4 inches off my waist, 5 inches off my hips, 3½ inches off each thigh and the "over-the-bra" bulges. My family and friends hardly believe I am the same person. The best part of it all is that it hasn't made me haggard and drawn looking.

I have an 89-year-old father who thinks that I look so wonderful that I should consider going back to my former profession which was Real Estate. I have to admit that I am proud of myself and grateful to Pat Walker and the Stauffer System. I've loved every minute I've spent in the Salon with Miss Walker's staff. They were thoughtful and helpful and made reducing a joy, not a chore.—Frances Robertson.

Mrs. Frances Robertson, pictured with Pat Walker, was miserable because she was overweight in the wrong places, had "over-the-bra" bulges and other figure faults.

as told by Jackie Stevens, Seal Beach

I am smiling in this picture and really feel like smiling for a change. About 3 months ago I saw an ad with Pat Walker's picture telling about Miss Walker and the Stauffer System. It was a full page ad and it really impressed me. I went to work the next morning and took the ad with me.

My name is Jackie Stevens and I live in Seal Beach. I am married and have 2 boys, ages 12 and 8. I am 34 years old. I have a good job with Dean Van Lins in Long Beach. For many years, it seems like forever, I was hiding my figure under a boxy suit or coat, huge handbags and full skirts. My problems were all from the waist down. I had given up slacks and told everyone I didn't like the beach when the real truth was I was ashamed to wear a bathing suit.

I'm proud to say I'm finished with my treatments. I had fun while getting my figure back. They are awfully nice people in the salon and I enjoyed every moment of it. Now I wear a size 10 dress. Before I wore a 16. I had to because my hips and thighs were so bulky. I lost 7 inches in my hips and 5 inches on each thigh and my legs look decent again.

—Jackie Stevens

Mrs. Stevens, pictured with Pat Walker, is now a size 10. She was a size 16 and had to wear boxy jacket and full skirts and was ashamed to be seen in a swim suit.

as told by Mrs. Blanche Manakas, Lakewood

"I'LL HAVE MY NEW FIGURE BEFORE VACATION TIME."

My name is Blanche Manakas and I'm a real happy patron of Pat Walker's Stauffer System Salon.

I didn't realize when I went into the Lakewood Salon just a few short weeks ago with one of my office employees, who wanted to reduce, that we would have the chance to talk with Pat Walker personally.

My employee had made an appointment to find out what they could do for her. Miss Walker measured her and explained how the program worked. It made a lot of sense to me and even though I am a very busy woman because of all my responsibilities with the company I work for (I am the office manager for a Ford Agency) in Paramount.

Knowing I had some bad figure problems of my own that I've been unhappy with since my five-year-old child was born, I became very interested in Pat Walker's Stauffer Program for myself.

I asked Miss Walker how long she would be visiting in the salon. She was there in person for the opening. She told me only for a limited time, so I asked for an appointment to see her. Even though her schedule was very tight she had the manager work me in for an appointment.

I told Miss Walker at that time that I didn't see how I could possibly squeeze the time into my schedule to come in. Miss Walker looked me straight in the eye and said, "If you could see yourself as you will be after you have completed your figure correction program, you would beg, borrow or steal the time away from something else."

I hope that I'm not boring you with the details but Miss Walker told me to just tell how it all happened, so that's just what I'm doing.

When I went in for my appointment, she measured me and told me where I would lose and what it would cost me and how long it would take.

My husband and two children are real proud of what I am doing. It is sure nice to think about this summer and all the play clothes I intend to buy and best of all I'll be on the beach this summer wearing a size 12 swimsuit.

You have to have had some bad figure faults to really know how I felt. No matter what I bought nor how I camouflaged my figure, the problems still showed. It's nice to find your waistline again and have the happy worry of taking clothes in the abdomen, 4 inches from in instead of letting them out, my hips and 3½ inches on each thigh.

I have lost 12½ pounds in just five weeks and I've lost the dress size when I went there. I'm now well on my way to a size 12. I credit Miss Walker for all the wonderful things that are happening to me.

ACCIDENT INSURANCE

Only 50¢ A MONTH

Independent Press-Telegram

It costs a whale of a lot to be laid up by an accident--any kind of accident. When the family bread-winner is hurt and can't work, his income is usually reduced or stopped entirely. Result? The family savings are drained so much that it may take years to recover from the high accident costs.

Bills for medical treatments, X-rays, hospital rooms, wheel chairs and a dozen other unexpected expenses, take a big chunk out of anyone's hard-earned savings.

This insurance is designed to help you solve the Accident Expense Problem.

this policy--at a cost of little more than a penny a day does pay the benefits shown below, for accidents at work, at home, in your automobile, on the street, and even at play.

Hundreds of claims are paid every week to men and women, like yourself, who never expected to be hurt. But they realized that, since one American in every 12 gets hurt each year, they just couldn't afford to be without this low-cost protection.

BERT'S EYE VIEW

'Virginian' Teen Star Hopes Real Age Doesn't Show

By BERT RESNIK
TV and Radio Editor

Although she's 20 years old, Roberta Shore would like to go on playing the "perpetual teenager."

It is as a teenager, Betsy, that she currently stars in NBC-TV's "The Virginian," a Wednesday night series.

"I would like to go on playing a teenager until somebody says my age is showing," said Roberta.

When Roberta's age does start showing and she graduates to older roles, she still plans to abide by her personal standards.

"I WON'T TAKE A PART where I'm required to smoke or drink," she said. "I'll never, never play a prostitute."

Roberta's "personal standards" are derived from her Mormon faith.

She frequently is called upon to address Mormon Youth Conferences.

Many other religious actors do not feel that taking a "camera" drink in the line of performance duty is a violation of their faith, although their particular religion may ban alcohol.

In the first place, the "camera" drink really isn't alcohol, but generally iced tea.

In the second place, it is a character in a TV drama that is doing the drinking, not a real-life individual.

IT IS WITH the second point that Roberta takes issue.

To her way of thinking, the real-life individual is identified with the drinking performance.

And it is this identification which, to Roberta, is taboo.

"When I speak to youth conferences," she said, "I preach that you can get somewhere in show business without lowering your standards."

"All these young people know I'm a Mormon and they know it even when they see me on the screen in a Western."

ONE OF ROBERTA'S childhood disillusioning memories is that of seeing a Mormon actress puffing a cigarette during a movie.

"I felt let-down," she said.

One thing Roberta doesn't feel let-down about is "The Virginian."

"Oh I admit we did have some crummy shows," she said. "But we're much better now."

"Do you realize that next season there will be only five Westerns on television? Ten years ago there were 35."

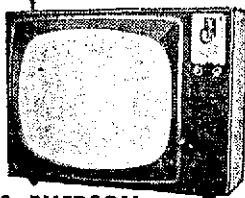

"And next season we'll be the only new Western to have survived."

It is a survival that keeps intact Roberta's reign as a perpetual teenager.

Non-Commercial TV Station Beats Competitor

LONDON (UPI)—The British Broadcasting Corp. (BBC) claims it has won more viewers than its commercial rival for the first time since 1955. BBC forbids commercials.

The corporation said that in the period from October through December last year owners of sets able to pick up both BBC and the commercial channel spent 52 per cent of their viewing time watching BBC.

The BBC said it had surpassed its commercial competitor without cutting serious programs.

ERNEST BORGNINE . . . U. S. Navy Honors

McHALE'S NAVY' IN LONG BEACH

Naval Officers Award Plaque

"McHale's Navy" personally lands in Long Beach Thursday evening.

By invitation, not invasion. For the first time since the show started on ABC-TV last year, Ernest Borgnine and his video crew will officially be recognized by the U. S. Navy.

The Naval Reserve Officers School of the 11th Naval District, one of the largest such training institutions in the nation, has singled out Borgnine for its annual award.

A PLAQUE will be presented to the actor for his "outstanding support of the U. S. Navy," according to Capt. Harry Frishman, USNR, commanding officer of the school.

More than 500 Navy officers and their wives will be on hand for the presentation at Allen Center on Terminal Island.

Borgnine, who plays the role of Lt. Comdr. Quinton McHale in the series, was "overwhelmingly flattered and delighted" when informed of his selection for the award.

Borgnine, in real life, served 10 years with the Navy and was a chief petty officer, gunner's mate.

Disney Renewed

NBC has contracted "Walt Disney's Wonderful World of Color" for at least two more seasons, through 1964-65. Disney will continue to provide 50 weekly one-hour colorcasts, half to be completely new productions. The vast Disney film library will be drawn on for the others.

SPECIAL

AS CAESAR SEES IT — Sid's final outing for the season is divided into three Caesarian sections, at 8:30 p.m., ch. 7. Skits involve ring-side hockey spectators, the intimate musicale of N. Y. society, and courtship in the days when a suitor asked his girl's father for her hand. (Next season Caesar alternates with Edie Adams at 10:30 Thursday nights.)

ANTI-COMMUNIST CRUSADE—Eugene Lyons, senior editor of the Reader's Digest and veteran of 6 years in Russia with the UP, is principal speaker at a Palladium dinner to be telecast live at 9 p.m., ch. 11. Also speaking are Dr. Fred Schwarz, Haitian national Raymond Joseph and Nathaniel Rangel of Brazil. Pat Boone and Ralph Carmichael's orchestra entertain.

STEVE ALLEN SHOW — "Meeting of the Minds," a provocative feature in which great minds of history debate and appraise modern punishment, gets its 3-year-delayed showing at 11:15 p.m., ch. 5. Aristotle (John Abbott), Dostoevski (Lawrence Dobkin), Freud (Jack Kruschen), Hegel (John Hoyt), Montaigne (Jonathan Harris) and Clarence Darrow (John Larkin) are the historical thinkers in segment slated for ABC viewing Feb. 1, 1960, but axed from the Mon. night variety show as "unsuited to comedy format."

WEEK'S TOP SHOWS

Sunday—Art Carney stars in "The Triumph of Gerald Q. Wurt" on the "Show of the Week" at 10 p.m. on channel 4 in COLOR. It's about the last comedian left in a totalitarian society that has decreed making people laugh is a crime punishable by death.

Monday—Sid Caesar, in his last first-run "As Caesar Sees It" special of the season, presents a skit about a couple at ringside during a violent hockey game. It's on channel 7 at 8:30 p.m.

Tuesday—"Decision" at 8 p.m. on channel 13 has Bill Johns probing the problems facing the Negro in Los Angeles.

Wednesday—The Emmy-winning "Julie and Carol at Carnegie Hall" is repeated at 9 p.m. on channel 2. Julie Andrews and Carol Burnett are the featured attractions.

Thursday—"McFale's Navy" at 9:30 p.m. on channel 7 has Teddy Rooney, son of Mickey Rooney, guesting as an admiral's son. He keeps a black book on irregularities and reports them to his video father.

Friday—"The Jack Paar Program" at 10 p.m. on channel 4 repeats the hour starring singer Robert Goulet.

SPECIAL

CBS REPORTS—Sec. of Labor Willard Wirtz, his predecessor James P. Mitchell, federal judges, railroad management representatives and leaders of five railroad unions probe the issues in the dispute between railroad management and labor. Eric Sevareid moderates, ch. 2 at 7:30 p.m., less than 24 hours before legal deadline to prevent a nationwide strike.

JULIE & CAROL at Carnegie Hall—Emmy winner as outstanding program in the field of music, plus first prize winner at the Montreux, Switzerland, International Film Festival, gets a repeat showing just a year and a day after its initial broadcast, at 9 p.m., ch. 2. Julie Andrews and Carol Burnett solo, duet, and team in spoofs of Swiss family folk singers, visiting Russian singing-dancing groups and "western" songs.

PERRY COMO—Como, in the last show of his weekly series, looks back on his eight years on TV, turning the spotlight on his troupe and behind-the-scenes aides, at 9 p.m., ch. 4, in color. First-run suspense pilots will fill the summer slot.

U. S. STEEL HOUR—Alfred Lunt recalls highlights of a decade of "Steel Hour" dramas as the distinguished series rings down its final curtain at 10 p.m., ch. 2. In addition Lunt narrates his wife Lynn Fontanne's portrayal of the title role in James M. Barrie's "The Old Lady Shows Her Medals," story of a lonely London charwoman who fabricates a pseudo "son" in the front-line trenches to gain status with her cronies.

Lee J. Cobb, Clu Gulager, Patricia Barry (repeat). Flashbacks recall how Judge Garth came to the Wyoming Territory

5 Thin Man, Peter Lawford

7 Wagon Train, John McIntire, Frank McGrath, Thelma Ritter. Romance comes to Charlie Wooster in first of summer repeats.

9 Adventures in Paradise (Show will be preempted next week for a color repeat of "The Vatican.")

A QUEST FOR CERTAIN-TY — Prof. Joseph Richard
Julin of Michigan premieres a 20-part series explaining American law, its aims and how it works, at 6:30 a.m.
each weekday, ch. 2. Opener sets straight general misconceptions about judges.

McHALE'S NAVY — Young
from his famed father's book
as he plays the 10-year-old tattle-taling son of an admiral who becomes an unwelcome visitor to McHale's crew, at 9:30 p.m., ch. 7. Both McHale and Binghamton figure prominently in notes the boy is keeping for his father.

TONIGHT — Highlights of Wednesday's N.Y. premiere of
"Cleopatra" ("Tonight," as always, is by a day delay here) are inserted into the regular program as Bert Parks interviews celebrities at the Rivoli
Theatre in a split-screen arrangement with Johnny Carson, back at RCA Studios
with guest Roddy McDowall.
(L.A.'s 2-night benefit premieres for the film will be telecast June 19 and 20 on KTTV.)

WALTER SCOTT'S

PERSONALITY PARADE

Want the facts? Want to spike rumors? Want to learn the truth about prominent personalities? Write Walter Scott, PARADE, 733 Third Ave., New York 17, N.Y. Your full name will be used unless otherwise requested. Sorry, the volume of mail received makes personal replies impossible.

Q. What's happened to June Allyson since the death of Dick Powell?—B. Higgins, Boston, Mass.

A. She's preparing to star in a romantic comedy TV series, has been dining of late with Marshall Shellhardt.

Q. I understand that politicians employ speech experts to help them in oration. Who taught Eisenhower, Tom Dewey and Nelson Rockefeller how to speak?—L. Reed, Brooklyn, N.Y.

A. Eisenhower was coached by actor Robert Montgomery. Thomas Dewey was helped by commentator Lowell Thomas. To date, Nelson Rockefeller's oratory shows no sign of professional coaching.

Q. Carol Burnett recently married a TV producer, Joe Hamilton. Can you tell me how many children Hamilton fathered in his first marriage?—Victor Danforth, Richmond, Va.

A. Eight.

Q. What is the true personal relationship between Speaker of the House John McCormack and President Kennedy?—Harold Hiestad, Elkton, Md.

A. Not exactly warm.

Q. I would like to know if the Judy Garland TV show next season will originate as planned in New York?—Bill Taub, Short Hills, N.J.

A. No, it will originate in Hollywood.

Q. If you were asked to describe Princess Margaret as "bright," "very bright" or "not so bright," which would you choose?—T. P., Washington, D.C.

A. "Not so bright."

Q. Was Jack Puar ever in films with Marilyn Monroe?—Louis Oliver, Columbia, S.C.

A. They made one film together in 1951 called Love Nest.

Q. Is it true about Ava Gardner and Juan Perón (1.) occupying the same apartment in Madrid?—Frank G., Smithfield, N.C.

A. They live in the same apartment house, occupy different apartments, reportedly don't think too much of each other.

Q. The first man who lands on the moon—will he claim it for his country, and will the claim be valid?—Pete Orsatti, Oakland, Calif.

A. In December 1961, the UN General Assembly unanimously passed a resolution that outer space and celestial bodies belong to no state and that no state can claim ownership.

Q. Is it true that Jayne Mansfield is converting to Catholicism? What was her original religion?—Roberta Haynes, Dallas, Texas.

A. Jayne has been taking instruction in the Catholic faith. At one time she was a Methodist.

Q. Does Drew Pearson's brother Leon work for his famous brother?—B. L., Bryn Mawr, Pa.

A. No. Leon Pearson, a journalist and correspondent for NBC, died recently of a coronary attack at age 63. Two years younger than his brother Drew, he became an outstanding journalist on his own.

Q. Is it true that Postmaster General J. Edward Day can be jailed if the Post Office Department spends more money than the amount appropriated by Congress?—T. Rogers, Miami Beach, Fla.

A. Yes. The Anti-Deficiency Act provides that he may be fined $5,000 or imprisoned for two years or both if he spends more than appropriated.

Q. Are all of Bob Hope's four children adopted?—H. Bullock, Urbana, Ill.

A. Yes.

Q. Who said that the real danger to the U.S. today is not communism but internal crime?—Ralph Werthum, Louisville, Ky.

A. Sen. John McClellan, who said recently: "American civilization is heading for the scrap heap unless we can reduce the lawlessness and violence that is the curse of our country."

Q. Juan Bosch—president of the Dominican Republic—I am told his wife is a Cuban with pro-Castro, Communist leanings. Is this true?—E. Ortega, New York, N.Y.

A. It is not. Bosch's wife, the former Carmen Quidiello, has had all her family property in Cuba confiscated by the Castro regime, which has denounced Bosch as a "Yankee puppet."

Q. How much more will Newton Minow get from the Encyclopaedia Britannica than he gets from the government as Chairman of the Federal Communications Commission?—Leon Frenke, Jackson, Miss.

A. Minow gets $20,500 from the government, will probably get three times that amount when he goes to work for the Britannica people.

Sta-Puf/Sta-Flo
Rinse Starch

LUCKY GALS

$100,000 NORGE REFRIGERATOR

SWEEPSTAKES

270 LUCKY GALS WILL WIN

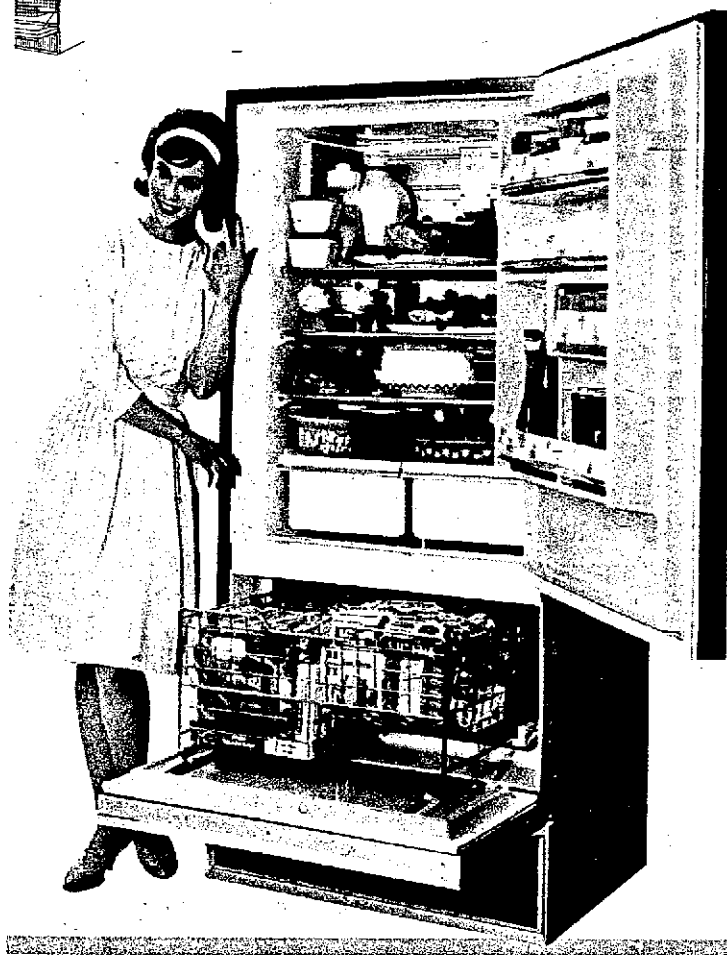

Enter now! It can be as easy as writing your name. Enter as many times as you want. See easy rules below.

GET LUCKY TODAY

Save time and treat your family to a more beautiful laundry with all three Staley products. STA-PUF® RINSE restores original fluffy softness to fabrics; smooths hard wrinkles to cut ironing time. ■ Use STA-FLO® LIQUID STARCH for super-smoothness and economy. ■ Get STA-FLO® SPRAY STARCH for light, touch-up or in-between starching. Sprays smoothly, evenly. Your iron can't stick.

WIN A NEW 1963 NORGE® 2-Door Refrigerator-Freezer

Imagine having freezer space for 122 pounds of frozen foods right in your kitchen. That's what this Norge Refrigerator-Freezer gives you. And the separate freezer door tilts down to support the glide-out freezer basket. That makes it easy to reach every one of those 122 pounds. The spacious refrigerator section has automatic defrosting, handy glide-out shelves and finger-tip convenience in the deep Handidor—perfect storage place for things you need most often. It's the most convenient refrigerator-freezer you could own. When you win, take your choice of white or coppertone color (Model No. 733-580).

A. E. Staley Mfg. Co., Decatur, Illinois.

LUCKY GALS SWEEPSTAKES

How to Enter:

1) Fill in the entry blank below, or print your name and address on a plain piece of paper. Then mail with a label from Sta-Flo Liquid Starch, Sta-Puf Rinse, or Sta-Flo Spray Starch to:

Lucky Gals Sweepstakes
Box 5050
St. Paul 4, Minnesota

A plain piece of paper with any one of these product names printed on it may be substituted for a label if you prefer.

2) Enter as often as you wish, but each entry must be mailed in a separate envelope. Entries must be postmarked no later than August 4, 1963 and received by August 10, 1963. All entries become the property of the

A. E. Staley Mfg. Co. No mail received with entries will be answered.

This Sweepstakes is open to all residents of the U.S.A. except in those areas where sweepstakes are prohibited, restricted, taxed or otherwise restricted; and is not open to employees (or families) of the A. E. Staley Manufacturing Company, its subsidiaries, advertising agencies, or the sweepstakes' judging organization.

Winners will be selected in a blindfold drawing conducted by Spotts Mailing Corp., an independent judging organization. Winners will be notified by mail before Aug. 30, 1963. The decision of the judges will be final.

Any liabilities for federal, state or local taxes on prizes received in this sweepstakes will be the responsibility of the prize winner.

A list of winners will be provided to anyone sending a self-addressed, 5-cent stamped envelope to:

What will happen to them?

by LLOYD SHEARER

LONDON.

THE TROUBLE WITH MOTION-PICTURE STARS is that many people take them seriously.

Unfortunately this is particularly true of the easily impressed younger generation, which has a high hero-worship quotient.

Let any person, however ignorant and unlearned, become a movie star, and immediately he or she takes on the authoritative mantle of an oracle.

In the words of one honest performer, Marlon Brando: "As soon as you become an actor, people start asking questions about politics, astrology, archaeology—the lot. And what's even funnier, you start giving opinions."

Worse yet, let an actor and actress become involved in any titillative scandal, and overnight they burgeon into celebrated, valuable attractions doted upon by a gossip-hungry public, curious for every crumb and detail of their sordid private lives and willing to pay for a peek.

The public and the press reward scandal by lionizing its practitioner so that youngsters grow up frequently believing that one of the wages of sin for motion-picture players is increased income, or that the best way to achieve prominence in show business is to get involved in a headline-producing love triangle.

Happy marriages don't count

I've had theatrical agents say to me time and time again: "If a dame like Joanne Woodward who can really act—if she would only get mixed up in some divorce mess, her price per picture would double." Or in the matter of Lee Remick: "She's a good little actress, but she's got no color. Another thing—she's happily married. Who's interested in a broad who's happily married?"

Female beauty writes its own ticket in our culture. We place a premium upon discord, divorce and marital disruption under the guise: the whole world loves a beautiful lover. Where motion-picture stars are concerned we pervert our standards, our ethics, our sense of values. Take the case of Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton. We have turned them into international celebrities, household words, paragons of style, fodder for comedians and columnists so that they stay constantly in the public eye and ear.

For example, the following jokes have now become standards in routines used by comics working both sides of the Atlantic: "Look at what happened to poor Eddie Fisher married to Elizabeth Taylor. This was like trying to flag down the Super Chief [or Flying Scotsman] with a Zippo lighter . . . I understand the doctor who examined her is not expected to recover . . . Speaking of doctors, they really love Richard Burton. After the news came out that Burton's face is pock-marked, doctors were swamped by male patients. They all wanted Richard Burton acne scars . . . They say it cost $40 million to make Cleopatra. I don't think Caesar spent half that much."

This sort of omnipresent notoriety has paid off geometrically for Taylor and Burton. Three years ago, when her MGM contract ran out, Elizabeth was getting $4,000 a week with a guarantee of 40 weeks work. Her present asking price per film ranges from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000 plus a percentage of the profits. She has a corporation set up in Switzerland to take full advantage of the relatively low Swiss tax payments. Her agent, Kurt Frings, makes the most fantastic demands ever conjured up in the history of motion pictures. These include special expense accounts for Liz, an entourage of hairdressing, wardrobe and make-up specialists, cars, household personnel, and on and on ad nauseum.

In addition to astronomical film salaries, Miss Taylor has just set a new record in another medium. TV has agreed to pay her $280,000, the highest fee ever paid for a single video appearance, to conduct a guided TV tour of London à la Jackie Kennedy's video tour of the White House.

The public wants to see

The truth is that Elizabeth Taylor is as qualified to conduct a video tour of London as Tommy Manville is to lecture on the secret of long and happy marriage. But as one TV producer explains: "We're aware that what Liz knows about London can fill a thimble. But let's face it. This dame has become the femme fatale of the twentieth century. She's already gotten two guys to leave their wives for her and maybe more to come. The public is curious to see how she looks, especially to see what her affair with Burton has done to her."

"The tour of London—that's just a sugar-coated gimmick, a sop to public opinion. Besides, the program was sold to Chemstrand even before it was shot, and CBS has agreed to telecast it in October."

Richard Burton, notoriously frugal, has also profited handsomely via his liaison with Taylor. A few years ago it was common knowledge in Hollywood that while he was a fine stage actor, "Dickie-boy" lacked "star-magic" and was worth about 35 cents at the box office.

Today, Burton is getting $350,000 and a percentage of the profits for co-starring with Peter O'Toole in Becket. Moreover, he has upped his asking price to $500,000 a film, with many takers.

Prior to Cleopatra Burton never received more than $125,000 per film, and on the basis of his then box-office draw, he was outrageously overpaid.

An official of the Hal Wallis company, which is producing Becket for Paramount release, told me: "Everything Burton has today in the way of film appeal, he owes to Liz Taylor. True, he's rugged and speaks beautifully. True, he's a masterful actor, but his appeal has always been limited to the stage. His magnetism comes across footlights, but the camera has never been able to capture it. Now, thanks to Liz, the women in the audience are going to want to study this guy more carefully, to see if he's got bedroom eyes, to examine the sex appeal a little more closely. That's what we're counting on. It's sad but true. This guy owes his new-found financial eminence to Liz."

The reason I point out the considerable financial advantages which have accrued to the lovers is that apparently so many people are willing to overlook immorality providing it is profitable.

In the course of researching this article I asked 100 members of the general public, none of whom were connected with show business, this question: "What do you think will happen to Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton?"

I then asked the same question of show people who know the two personalities intimately, who have worked, eaten, talked and dated with them.

The difference in response by the two groups was amazing.

RICHARD BURTON

The general public with few exceptions seemed indifferent and permissive, tolerant and liberal, ready to accept the Taylor-Burton entente as "a lark" . . . "a bit-of-a-do" . . . "two hams in search of an audience" . . . "par for the course" . . . "one of those things."

Here are some typical, random replies taken down at London Airport from arriving and departing passengers:

A 19-year-old Belgian working as an au pair girl, or mother's helper, in Middlesex: "It hasn't done them much harm, has it? After all, they're both bigger than ever."

A furniture assembler from Copenhagen, age 22: "All I can say is I wish I was Richard Burton."

An American girl from Shaker Heights in Cleveland, age 22, touring Europe: "In this atomic age, what counts is now. They're obviously having a ball."

A Canadian woman of 45, traveling with her husband: "I think that whatever happens they will both remember this for the rest of their lives. Surely it is their grand romance."

A Scottish woman, 38, from the Isle of Skye: "It is absolutely disgusting—not their living in sin but their callous disregard for their children and the mates they've discarded without benefit of divorce. These two are brutally and unappealingly selfish. What sort of example are they setting?"

A French dancer, 22: "What will happen to them? First, they will enjoy the physical allure which they have in common. But they will not enjoy their mentalities, because these they do not have in common. Then they will separate. It is that way with most experimental couples."

An English bookkeeper, 26: "Good show."

An American hotel executive from Los Angeles: "They're entitled to their indiscretions but they shouldn't flaunt them. I'm sorry they're living in the Dorchester Hotel instead of mine."

An American exchange student, 21, from Oak Park, Ill.: "If they weren't movie stars, nobody would care. It's no sweat off my back."

Among these people there was surprisingly little censure or adverse criticism. Many of the youngsters said frankly they wouldn't mind "exchanging positions" with Burton and Taylor. Declaimed one airline hostess: "If you're beautiful, you can get away with murder. If you're beautiful and a movie star both, then you get away with somebody's husband. Society has two sets of rules, one for movie stars and one for the rest of us. I just wish I was a movie star. It's a license to misbehave with forgiveness assured."

Among show business personalities conversant with Taylor and Burton, there was a much different attitude as to their eventual fate. It was more realistic, penetrating and knowledgeable, born undoubtedly of more insight and background into the situation.

Here is a sampling of show business replies to the question: "What do you think will happen to Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton?"

A director: "No good will come of it even if they get married, which I doubt. Richard is a compulsive lover. No man has ever had more off-stage success with actresses. Marriage will not change him. Elizabeth is not a stupid girl. As a mistress she might hold him with her lust. As a wife she will never hold him with her love."

An actor: "It is a sad, sad thing, because this man Richard Burton is a great, great actor, potentially one of the greatest of our time. But he is selling his greatness down the river. For what? A pretty face, a figure already tending to fatness, a mind uneducated and immature, but most of all he is doing it for greater financial success. He has made many trashy films in his career, and he has deprecated them all. Now he will make more at a higher and higher stipend."

A writer: "Regardless of what these two do to each other, Burton will be the loser. He was and is one of the foremost Shakespearean actors of this century. He has overwhelmed Elizabeth with his Shakespearean lore. He has made her feel like some inferior Hollywood confection so that she holds him in awe and is desperately afraid of losing him. When he leaves her side or departs the Dorchester without her, she is like some lost, lonely little puppy."

act, and he does, but she's determined to show Burton that she, too, is a pro. What will happen to them?

"If Burton marries her, he becomes number five in her husband collection. If he doesn't, all hallelujah will break loose."

An actress: "Time magazine says Richard in the last 20 years has given 75,000 women a lasting memory. I confess I am one of those 75,000. Richard is fascinating. He knows how to communicate his enthusiasm for life. He has a deep, booming voice and blue-green eyes and a rough, pocked skin, and in a gloomy, melancholy, Welsh way he's terribly attractive to women. He makes a woman feel that she's lighting up his life, delivering him from darkness, showing him the way to glory. I admit it: I found him irresistible."

"But Richard is not a strong man. Over and over again he succumbs to women and money. Each time he's put to the test, he fails. Ask his wife Sybil. She knows the long, sad history of his personal failures."

"As for Elizabeth, I wish her only the best. She's a dear. But Richard is not for her. In the end he will hate her for having turned him into Mr. Elizabeth

Richard Burton's tempestuous romance with tub-mate Taylor has boomed him into a new highly paid box-office attraction.

"She needs a strong man around her, a father-substitute, a promoter like the late Mike Todd. Richard is a strong, bright, wild, perceptive and vital man. Elizabeth is a sweet, kind, gentle, spoiled child—but they no longer need each other. They should go their separate ways. Richard, from what I know of the situation, would like to return to his wife, but Elizabeth won't let go—not until she has another man waiting in the wings. She has now reached that point in life where she needs the companionship of men."

A cameraman: "I like them both. They're fine people. Burton is a pro, a professional actor and professional Welshman, learned and disciplined. And discipline is what he's taught Liz. On V.I.P.s, the picture they made together after Cleopatra, she was generally on time and worked hard. Basically she doesn't like to Taylor, for having exposed to himself his endless infatuation with beauty and money. If she goes on like this I fear very much she will end up as did poor Marilyn. I think the only thing which might save her is the fact that she has children. An actor and an actress rarely mate well. Look at Larry Olivier and Vivien Leigh."

What does it all add up to? Merely this: Cast no stones upon them, for which of us is without sin? But no one should envy Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton or fashion their lives after these two. For despite their love, their wealth, their notoriety and the flag of brave happiness they unfurl in public—they are at heart unhappy, fearful, wracked by the awful truth that they have prostituted their good names for the fleshly pleasures, transient and quickly forgotten.

Cool clothes for teenagers

by VIRGINIA POPE Parade fashion editor

IT'S A WONDERFUL WORLD in the summertime, especially for the carefree teenage set. To complement the fun and the gaiety, we present a summer wardrobe also suitable for early fall.

Since teenagers would rather be called juniors than anything else, you'll find these fashions in the junior department of your store. The dresses illustrated here come in sizes 5 to 15.

Fabrics make a dress almost as much as the styling, and the materials used in these dresses are, to borrow a teenage word, just "huss." There are lots of cottons and cotton blends masquerading under covert, denim and twill labels.

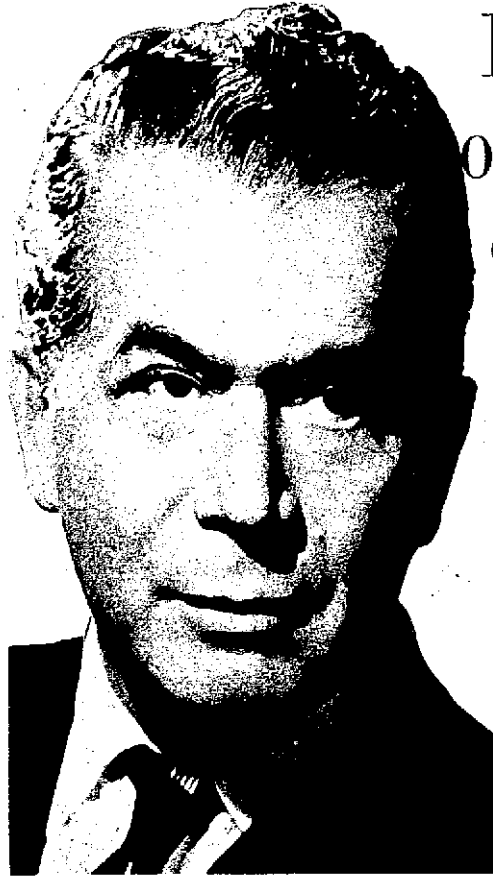

Slim shifts will be popular but won't crowd out the romantic full skirt done up in a host of sheer materials.

For further information, write to Virginia Pope, Fashion Editor, PARADE, 733 Third Ave., New York 17, N.Y. Please enclose self-addressed envelope.

Nautical shift. This snappy dress, slim as a pair of pants, is of navy Fortrel and rayon broadcloth. The same fabric makes the sailor collar and edging on pockets. Striped cotton dickie adds dash of "salt." Guy Gibson. $18.

my favorite jokes

by BERNIE BERNIS

EDITOR'S NOTE: There's a fairly common genetic pattern in vogue these days. The sons of cantors frequently become show business stars. Al Jolson's father, Allan Gale's, Steve Lawrence's, Jackie Mason's—all of these were or are cantors. Now comes a further addition to the roster in Bernie Bernis. Bernie was born in Brooklyn, son of a cantor, and entered show business at age 5. He played Jewish theaters in Philadelphia and New York, then graduated to the Borscht Circuit in the Catskills. Recently Bernie wrote, produced and starred in his first comedy album, Bernie Goes to Washington, which features routines dealing with the experiences of a Jewish President of the U.S. The album has caught on, and Bernie has been booked into several night spots where he tells such jokes as these:

I read that the average waiter walks 12 miles a day. No wonder my soup is always cold by the time I get it!

The hardest part of battling temptation is putting your heart into it.

Three Hollywood youngsters decided to play house. The first said: "I'll be the father." The second said: "I'll be the mother." The third said: "And I'll be the divorce attorney."

A panhandler stopped a man on the street and asked, "Will you please give me $4,000 to buy a cup of coffee?" "What?" said the man. "Isn't that a lot of money for a cup of coffee?"

"Yes," replied the bum, "but I like to eat at drive-in restaurants, and I don't own a car."

I asked a child psychologist if he believed in spanking. "It's permissible," said the psychologist, "if you have a definite end in view."

I was touring Italy and stopped in a small Italian town and had two eggs. When the waiter brought the bill, I was amazed at the amount he charged me. "Are eggs so scarce?" I asked.

"No," replied the waiter, "eggs aren't scarce, but American tourists are."

A cannibal chief told a prisoner: "You must stick around for the festivities at tonight's banquet. You'll be profoundly stirred."

A 7-year-old boy was being taught the proper way to ask a girl for a dance by the teacher in the dance instruction class. A half-hour later the kid asked the teacher, "Now, how do I get rid of her?"

A friend of mine was expecting an important business call when he noticed that his teenage daughter was preparing to call someone. Seeing her father's obvious anguish, the girl smiled and said, "Don't worry, Dad. I won't be a minute. I just want to hang up on him."

I have a very petty neighbor. He keeps borrowing back everything I borrowed from him.

Sign on a finance company: FAILURE IS OUR MOST IMPORTANT PRODUCT!

My buddy took his girl to a restaurant the other night and asked if she knew the difference between filet mignon and hamburger. She said she didn't. Then he called the waiter and said, "Bring us two hamburgers."

LOUISIANA SHRIMP DISH

—a snap to prepare

by BETH MERRIMAN Parade food editor

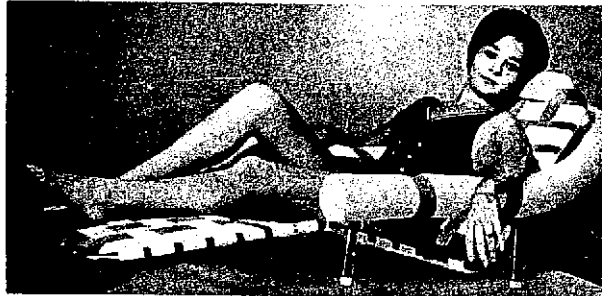

Down yonder in Louisiana, Jambalaya is a favorite dish in the Creole tradition, which blends the best of French, Spanish and Colonial cooking. Ordinarily, Jambalaya takes hours of careful preparation, but our recipe cuts cooking time to a minimum. It's made mainly with canned foods from your pantry shelf, plus the seasonings you have on hand. What's more, it's every bit as delicious as the dish that requires hours of cooking. Serve with a salad of greens.

PANTRY SHELF JAMBALAYA

- | | |
|-------------------------------|--|
| 1/4 cup butter or margarine | 1 can (10 1/2 oz.) condensed bouillon |
| 1/4 cup chopped onion | 1/2 teaspoon each sugar and chili powder |
| 1/2 cup diced green pepper | 1/2 teaspoon bottled hot pepper sauce |
| 1/2 cup chopped celery | 1 cup uncooked rice |
| 1 can (4 1/2 oz.) deviled ham | 1 can (8 oz.) peas, drained |
| 2 cans (5 oz. each) shrimp | |
| 1 can (3 or 4 oz.) mushrooms | |
| 1 can (1 lb.) tomatoes | |

Melt butter in skillet; add onion, green pepper and celery; cook until onion is tender, but not brown. Add deviled ham and drained shrimp. Drain mushrooms and tomatoes. Measure liquids and bouillon; add enough water to measure 2 cups. Add to skillet with seasonings. Add rice; cover. Simmer 15 minutes. Uncover; top with drained tomatoes, mushrooms and peas. Cover; simmer 15 minutes, until rice is tender. Toss lightly before serving. Makes 6 servings.

Three leading Harvard seniors tell

What today's

by ROBERT CAMPBELL

IN THE COMING DAYS, colleges across the nation will graduate the class of '63—some 400,000 young men and women on whom, in the years ahead, will fall the leadership of our country.

What will they be like? What are their beliefs, their values? How are they different from classes of other years?

At Harvard University, the oldest U.S. campus and one which has produced more than its share of prominent Americans, PARADE sought answers to these questions. Students, administrators, professors were interviewed. From their different views, a coherent image began to form.

For David Riesman, Harvard's famed sociologist and writer on American culture, the class of '63 is one that has begun to turn away from the complacency of students of the 1950s, whose chief goal was "the good life"—a well-paying job and a home in the suburbs. Today's collegians, claims Riesman, more often seek "interesting work, meaningful tasks that are relevant not only to their personal qualities but to social needs and hopes." He finds a renewed interest in politics. Students are "in search of challenge."

John Monro, dean of the college, sees the class of '63 as far more intellectually able than his own of 1935, and also more confident. "We were in college during the Depression and we were concerned about our own misery," Monro says. "These students are interested in helping others. They're social-service-minded."

What do the students themselves think? Below, three Harvard seniors give their answers. Each is a top member of the class of '63, a potential leader of the future. Each has occupied a good vantage point from which to observe his classmates. What they have to say, about themselves and their contemporaries, is important to all of us.

Fred Gardner, 21, comes from New York and majored in English at Harvard (he switched from biochemistry). He's worked as a construction welder, teacher (in Mexico City), writer (in Hollywood) and warehouse hand. Last fall he served as speech-writer for a candidate for senator from Massachusetts. Next year he hopes to be in Ecuador, studying labor unions on a Fulbright scholarship.

Mainly, though, Fred wants to be a writer. At Harvard he directed productions of two of his own plays—The Ruin Never Falls, about construction workers, and Henlock, about Socrates—was reporter and book editor for the Crimson, Harvard's daily paper, and finished a novel.

"I just want to be a good writer," Gardner says. "If I can make a living at it I'd like to write for the theater—if not, some other kind of writing."

At the same time he isn't ready to starve

for his ideals, nor does he know anyone who is. "This is not to say I don't have the guts to fail—it's just that I do recognize other responsibilities. I'll be getting married next year and I know I'll want certain standards of comfort. Harvard students are interested in a stable life, and their attitude rubs off on you. It's not a congenial atmosphere for an artist. Perhaps America isn't either."

His classmates, Gardner thinks, are far more concerned with problems that affect them directly than with vaguer threats like war. "The whole possibility of nuclear war is unreal to people, and they put it aside—except when there's a crisis." He recalls Harvard's reaction to the Cuba blockade:

"It was the first time our generation had lived through a day of war hysteria. People looked at each other as if to say good-bye. I have to admit, though, the only reaction in my room was that we decided to stop washing dishes for the duration of the crisis."

In Ecuador next year, Gardner plans to "study the conditions that make for a democratic as opposed to a Communist-dominated trade union movement." Before deciding on this project, he thought of entering the Peace Corps (there are some 40 Harvard graduates currently overseas in the Corps). He views the Corps as a symbol of his generation's patriotism and interest in other peoples.

"All over America," Gardner says, "people are getting the idea that you can serve your country by your education, by your talents, by your trade—by what you can teach, and not just who you can shoot."

Boone Turchi, 21, is president of the vestry of the Episcopal Church in Harvard and Radcliffe—a student-run organization that does everything from coach basketball for slum kids to sponsor seminars by distinguished professors and church leaders.

The church, however, is far from being the whole of Turchi's interest. Immediately after graduation, he plans to begin a long walking tour of Turkey, Syria, Jordan and North Africa in preparation for a career as a developer of underdeveloped nations. His senior thesis—his major is economics—is on regional development in Mexico.

Turchi reconciles his interest in religion with his interest in underdeveloped nations by means of an idea often heard at Harvard. "I need a base of power from which to do good," he states. "If I were in Afghanistan, for instance, overseeing a development program, I would be helping others—building dams, feeding and clothing people."

Turchi believes he is in a minority at Harvard as an active, committed Christian. "Skepticism is the virtue most admired here," he says. "At Harvard, you sometimes hear President Pusey attacked for being 'soft on Christianity.'"

"Our big job is to move the church from the periphery into the center of life. Today it's too often a place where one goes to get groups at Harvard are in a state of intellectual ferment—each publishes an outstanding magazine—and, according to Dean Monro, "there's a lot more interest in religious matters than there was a few years ago."

After his Near East trip, Turchi plans to get married—to a girl from his home, near Portland, Ore.—then enter the army (he is in ROTC). After that, it's back to school to study business or public administration.

"Just about every underdeveloped country has a plan for economic development," Turchi says of his future career. "The only problem is, they're not developing. Somewhere there's a place for a person with the tools and the skills. Being that person will give me power to do good."

Michael Rice, 22, from Sioux Falls, S.D., is a Rhodes Scholar and government major who will spend the next two years in England, at Queens College, Oxford. He expects to work eventually in business management or government, perhaps even go into politics. While still a Harvard senior, Rice wrote, for the newsweekly Time, a year-end current-affairs quiz that went to schools all over the country and was news director and president of WHRB, the university radio station.

Agreeing with Dean Monro that today's collegians are "social-service-minded," Rice observes that 1,000 Harvard volunteers each year devote time to teaching in prisons and mental hospitals, tutoring backward kids, trying to register nonvoters, even spending summers working in Tanganyika. "You look at all these activities and you've got to conclude students are getting more serious," he says. "They feel they're an active part of adult society. They feel they can be heard, they can have some effect."

Unafraid of a nuclear war, Rice dismisses the Cuba-blockade crisis: "Everybody had a wonderful time feeling frightened." His thoughts on the Cold War summed up much of what his classmates said. Like them, he assumes the world of the future will reflect, pretty much, the postwar world of tension he grew up in.

"There is a minority of students," he says, "who profess to be genuinely in terror of the world blowing up. I don't feel that way."

"I think if you look at the big crises of the past several years—Laos, Berlin, Vietnam, Cuba—you see that the more inflamed the crisis gets, the greater is the realization by the governments involved that it must not run out of control. And this is a pretty strong check against rash action."

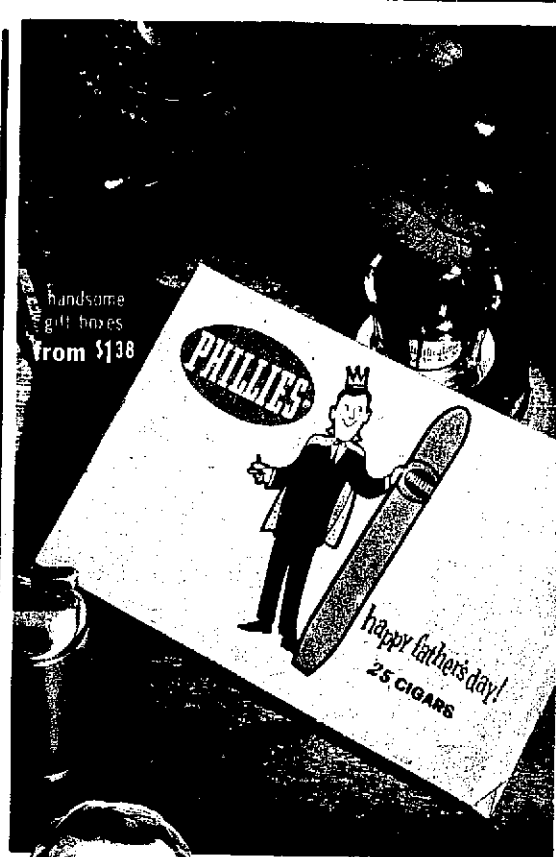

"What we'll have, I believe, is just a continuation of the Cold War indefinitely. There will be different trouble spots jumping from one place in the world to another all the time. Maybe we'll have a little progress here and there, but we won't see a real breakthrough on either side."

"We're bound to go on as we are. I don't ever see a peaceful world."

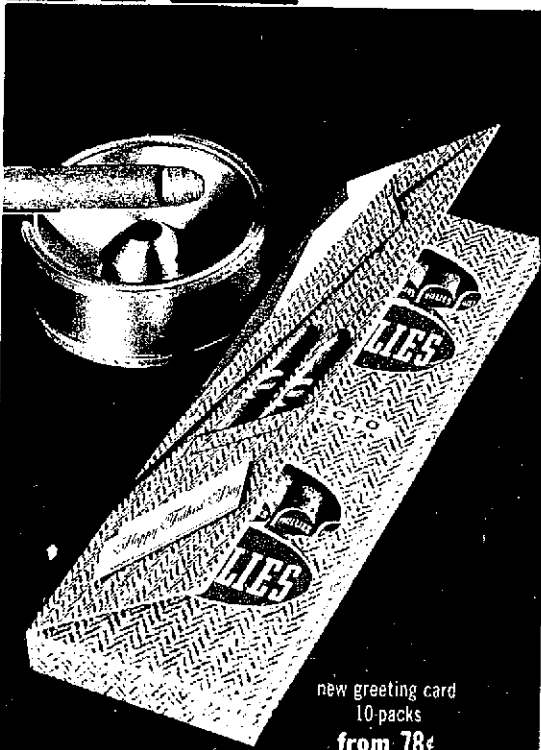

away from the world."

Turchi admits his religious beliefs were given a rough going-over by professors and courses when he first came to Harvard, and he thinks his experience may provide a lesson for others. "The average student comes to college with faith—but it's a faith without any foundation," he says. "What happens then is that he loses this faith without getting anything worthwhile to replace it. So he's left with nothing. In my case, I was lucky enough to find teachers who made religion intellectually respectable."

Turchi's interest in religion may reflect a growing trend. Both Catholic and Jewish

the golden gifts of babyhood

Sometimes new mothers concentrate so hard on the technicalities of baby care they forget to enjoy their babies. Your delight in your baby is one of the great golden gifts you can give. The baby who is talked to (and laughed with) lovingly, develops security and sociability. The baby who is played with happily gains confidence early and learns invaluable lessons in co-operation.

The golden gifts of babies. The nicest thing about babies is that they give us love, joy and hope without exacting any fee whatever.

Vitamin C availability. I know you mothers usually think in terms of orange juice for baby's vitamin C. But it should be reassuring to know that Gerber Strained Apple Juice and juice combinations will give your baby just as much of this important vitamin as Gerber Orange Juice. One can of any of the other eight Gerber Juices supplies over 100% of the recommended daily dietary allowance for vitamin C.

P.S. Gerber Apple Juice is a particularly good starting juice because it's especially mild and well-tolerated by babies.

Golden rules for baby care. By-the-book rules are fine as guides but all rules do not fit all babies and any rule is only as good as its flexibility. Guides to good mothering: heed your doctor and your common-sense head and lead with your heart. Happy is the baby whose mother makes adjustments for his (or her) individuality.

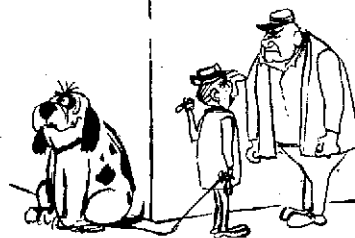

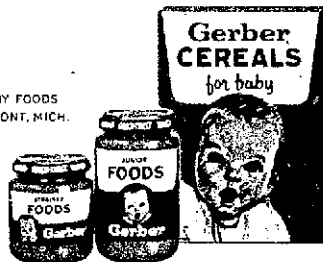

Growth patterns. Your baby grows much faster the first year than the next few put together. That's why he needs protein a-plenty to give that growth a boost. Gerber Strained Meats are high in protein, low in fat and ever so easy to digest. Points to remember:

- Gerber Meats are cooked by an exclusive process which preserves the utmost in nutritive values; insures a smooth moist texture.
- They're the products of two great specialists—Gerber, famous for fine baby foods and Armour, famous for fine meats.

For your baby's well-being: Gerber prepares over 100 baby foods—infant formulas, cereals, strained and junior foods—to meet your baby's nutritional needs. We're proud to say:

"Babies are our business... our only business!"®

Anecdote of the week

SENATOR STUART SYMINGTON (D., Mo.) received a touching letter the other day from a widow who complained that she had been unable to collect her widow's pension. The sympathetic Symington investigated; found she had lost her pension rights because of a technicality: she had become a widow, it seems, by murdering her husband.

WIDOWS UP. There are now 8,250,000 widows in the U.S. -- 4 for each widower.

FREE TRAVEL. Ten years from now Europeans will have one passport and one currency, travel without restrictions from one European country to another. So says Robert Marjolin, an executive of the six Common Market countries.

LAST STRONGHOLD. Governor Nelson Rockefeller recently signed a bill extending rent controls in some 240,000 apartments in his state, making New York the last stronghold of rent ceilings in the nation.

ENGINEER DROPOUT. In the next decade the Soviet Union will graduate 1,350,000 engineers as opposed to our 435,000. The attrition rate of engineering students in American colleges is approximately 54%. In some state universities only 20 out of 100 engineering students get their degree. One reason: poor, purposeless, uninspired instruction. Another reason: unqualified students.

DIAL POISON. The British are setting up a National Poisons Information Center at Guy's Hospital, London, so that people can phone a special number and be given immediate information on how to identify a poison taken accidentally or deliberately and what measures to take to counteract its effects. There is now one such Poisons Information Center in Leeds, which in 16 months handled 740 inquiries, 489 involving children who had swallowed a number of poisons by accident.

POCKET MONEY. How much pocket money does the average teenager, 15-18, spend each week? According to the Census Bureau, around $10. Almost half the teenagers earn their pocket money via part-time jobs.

CIGAR RELIEF. Cubans escaping from Castro-land have smuggled tobacco seed out of their homeland -- 15,000 tobacco seeds weigh one ounce, which makes smuggling relatively easy -- and have set up tobacco plantations in Honduras. Cigar leaf from these new plantations is now being sold to the factories in Ybor City in Tampa, Fla., thereby helping to save the traditional industry there.

THE FRENCH WAY. In France, where the government owns the mines, the railroads, the public utilities and several major factories, all government employees get four weeks vacation. Most of them take their vacations in the summer, when Paris is emptied of Frenchmen and filled with Americans.

VANITY. Norman Rockwell, the American artist, recently sketched President Tito of Yugoslavia, 71, in a 30-minute sitting in Belgrade. Two days later a Yugoslavian official asked to look at the sketch. "You've made the President look rather old," he said. "He'll have to see that portrait before you leave." A few hours later, with the sketch rolled up in brown parcel paper, Rockwell fled the country.

CUBAN REFUGEES. The problem of what to do with Cuban refugees in Florida grows stronger. In Miami, many residents feel that the more than 100,000 exiles there are disrupting the local economy. About 20,000 have found some sort of employment in Miami. Another 28,000 are receiving checks from the U.S. government averaging $73 per month. The U.S. is spending more than $60,000,000 per year on Cuban refugee relief, much of it in free food and medical care. Biggest need is for a relocation program to get the Cuban refugees out of Miami and settled in other parts of the country. Less than 2,000 are leaving Florida each month, many preferring to remain in Miami with at least one employed relative.

Harry's Girls will appear on NBC-TV next season.

RUNAWAY GIRLS. From now on it's going to get tougher and tougher for American TV series to be produced abroad. Overseas unions are demanding American pay scales for their members. MGM recently tried to produce in London a show called Harry's Girls. It's a half-hour program slated for airing on NBC-TV next season with Colgate sponsoring. The British unions insisted upon Hollywood salary and residual scales thereby wiping out the comparative labor differential. Union officials in Hollywood threaten that if TV films are produced abroad, and then shown in this country, they will call upon their members to boycott the sponsor's products.

LA REINA RULE

WHAT YOUR NAME MEANS

DEAR MISS RULE: Would like genealogy on CAVALEER or CAVALIER—P. C., Long Beach.

P. C.: CAVALEER originated as the Old French and English titles "Cavalier" and "Chevalier," both describing

"knight-at-arms and horse-man." English forefathers include Thomas Le Chevalier of Kent in 1272. The family shield granted to Anthony Cavaler of London in 1554, has a gold-winged, gold-maned silver Pegasus (a winged horse), with a red rose on his chest, centered on a red background with a border of silver and blue squares.

DEAR MISS RULE: What is the background of COLAHAN—R. S., Lakewood.

R. S.: COLAHAN was initiated as the Irish clan name Mac-Uallachain, denoting "sons of the little, proud one." The Colahans were natives of Offaly in the Emerald Isle. Their coat-of-arms, awarded to the closely allied Holohan clan, has a gold castle tower supported by two silver rampant lions, placed above two silver crescents and below three red rings on a silver stripe across a blue shield.

DEAR MISS RULE: What have you on ARREGHENI—A. C., Long Beach.

A. C.: ARREGHENI has an Italian background and is found to be from the baptismal name Arrigo, coupled with the nickname ending "-eni." Arrigo (Harry or Henry in English), means "Ruler of an estate." No coat-of-arms is available for Arregheni.

DEAR MISS RULE: Kindly give the source of ASHBY and the shield.—H. S., M. A., Long Beach.

H. S., M. A.: ASHBY was taken by the family founder from his native town of Ashby. Places by this name are in the English counties of Lincoln, Norfolk and Northampton. Ashby had the root words "Aesc-byr" alluding to "settlement by the ash-tree." Lincolnshire ancestors include Roger and Henry de Ascheby, recorded in the late 1200's. The Ashby shield is blue, emblazoned with an ermine coated chevron placed between three gold leopard faces. The Ashby motto is "Be just and fear not."

DEAR MISS RULE: Please identify KAVANAUGH.—T. M., La Mirada.

T. M.: KAVANAUGH or Cavanaugh was originally the Irish name O'Caomanac, descendants of Caoman, meaning "gentle one," a neighborly characterization of this family's proud progenitor. Caoman was a direct descendant of an 11th century king of Leinster. The Kavanaughs were created barons in 1554. Their shield has a red, rampant lion placed above two red crescents on a silver background.

DEAR MISS RULE: Could you analyze BLEWETT.—M. B., Long Beach.

M. B.: BLEWETT is English, but originated from the old French word "Bluet" deciphered as "little one of pale complexion." The family shield, held by the original Bluet branch, has a green chevron between three green eagles with outspread wings, on a gold background.

DEAR MISS RULE: What have you on BETTES and BETTIS.—O. B., Orange; J. B., Long Beach.

O. B., J. B.: BETTES and BETTIS represent descendants of an English progenitor called Belto, meaning "brilliant one." These names can also be translated as "sons of the blessed one," from the old French-English "beat-sone." Frances Bettes was a Huntington land owner in 1581. The Bettes shield is black, emblazoned with three red 5-leaved clovers on a diagonal silver stripe.

DEAR MISS RULE: Kindly analyze BINNALL.—A. P., L. B., Long Beach.

A. P., L. B.: BINNALL is English, reflecting the Anglo-Saxon phrase "Binna's-Hall." Binna, a primitive baptismal name, was derived from "Win-e" meaning "friend and protector." "Hall," which originally formed the last half of Binnall, designated a "manor house." No other data is available on this name.

Send your name to La Reina Rule in care of the Southland Magazine, Independent, Press-Telegram, 604 Pine Ave., Long Beach 12, Calif. for origin, meaning and brief genealogy for reply only in this column.

All campuses are different and yet alike. This is a campus scene at USC which is ending its biggest year.

USC's Biggest Year

By Jerome Hall

A CATHOLIC, a Protestant and a Jew donated three parcels of land way out on Figueroa Street in 1880 so there could be a University of Southern California. When it opened, the tuition was $12. In the ensuing 83 years it has seen many advances—not the least of them a hundredfold increase in tuition—and this week USC closes perhaps its most important year.

The face of the university is changing, both literally and figuratively.

It is, it boasts, a "University in Transition," trying to overcome an athletic-factory image with new-found academic excellence while at the same time spawning a national championship football team. Very difficult.

THE SCHOOL that produced so many of our civic leaders is gaining academic stature so lofty that one of its deans said recently, "I don't believe I could even get into school now." Entrance requirements now are more stringent than those at the University of California and UCLA.

While grades go up, so do new buildings. Half-million-dollar and multimillion-dollar grants are being gathered in by the handful.

The university scored a major breakthrough the past year. It obtained a grant of $6.5 million from the Ford Foundation, one of the largest appropriations ever made by the famed philanthropic unit. USC convinced the meticulous Ford Foundation investigators that it is a university in transition.

USC LONG has had easily the largest impact on the Southern California community. There are those who claim this region is controlled by USC men. There's some truth to that. If all the USC alumni—all 80,000 of them in the Southern California area—were to attend this week's graduation exercises it would mean:

- Two-thirds of the Los Angeles County courtrooms would be closed, for two out of three judges are USC men.

- It probably would be a school holiday, too, because two-thirds of the school administrators wouldn't be at their desks.

- It would be difficult to get a prescription filled. Half the pharmacists would be gone.

- It would be impossible to get a dental appointment. Two-thirds of the region's dentists are USC-trained.

Q. What is the difference between a decision and an opinion of the Supreme Court? D. S.

A. A decision is reached by secret vote of the Justices, and the Chief Justice then assigns a Justice the task of writing the opinion in the case. An opinion is the statement of the reasoning by which the Court fortifies its decision in a particular case.

Q. Where did the Punch and Judy Show originate? W. P.

A. The Punch and Judy Show began in Italy, but the exact origin is obscure. The word "Punch" is from the Italian "Pulcinella" or "Punchinello." Punch and Judy Shows became popular in England during the late 1600s. Punch was often cast in allegorical plots designed to teach a moral.

Q. How far apart should trees be planted for shelter belts? R.N.

A. Typical shelter belts in mid-western states have 10 rows of trees, the rows planted about 10 feet apart and usually placed at right angles to the prevailing winds. Low shrubs are planted in the first row on the windward side, then higher ones in succeeding rows. The 9th row contains the tallest and fastest growing trees.

Q. What is the largest freshwater lake in Europe? A. T.

A. Lake Ladoga in Soviet Russia, which has an area of 7,000 square miles. Part of the lake belonged to Finland before 1940, but it has since been ceded to the U.S.S.R. It forms part of a canal system connecting the Baltic and White Seas.

Meet Flip—America's Craziest Boat!

White water bubbles around hull as Flip, strange vessel used in oceanographic research, starts a submergence test off San Clemente Island.

AMERICA'S craziest boat, a 355-foot, sausage-shaped ship designed and built to be sunk, is ready to roll back some scientific frontiers off the Southern California coast.

The weird-looking research vessel was constructed and outfitted in a San Diego shipyard at a cost of $800,000 for the world-famous Scripps Institute of Oceanography at La Jolla.

Called the Flip, short for floating instrument package, she—or, as more irreverent sailors prefer to say, IT—is the brain child of a 36-year-old physicist, Dr. Fred Fisher.

NEITHER a surface ship or a submersible, Flip has neither propulsion power or a control system of its own. Flip's biggest claim to fame is that she can flip from the floating horizontal position to a vertical stance with more than 300 feet of her hull under water.

Staggering as this might be to comprehend it is a relatively simple operation, thanks to Flip's revolutionary design.

By Lou Jobst

Flip is built in two sections: a 300-foot salami or sausage-shaped after-section 20 feet in diameter and a four-story bow (or periscope-like top in the vertical position) which is 55 feet in length.

The hull is lined with 11 ballast tanks, eight of which are flooded in sequence to flip the Flip from a horizontal floating position to a vertical position, a maneuver that takes about 10 minutes.

AS THE TANKS are flooded with approximately 1,500 tons of sea water the after end slips beneath the waves and the bow rises above the surface.

All equipment aboard the ship, ranging from a kitchen stove to twin 1½-ton air compressors, are on trunnions and swivels so they can change position with the craft.

Flip, already given a full sea test in May about 200 miles offshore, in the vertical position looks something like a giant parking meter peeking above the waves.

Flip can carry a crew of six plus a four-man scientific team. These men live in the bow which also houses an electronics lab on the third deck, a wet lab containing mechanical equipment and winches on the top floor and two diesel generators on the fourth.

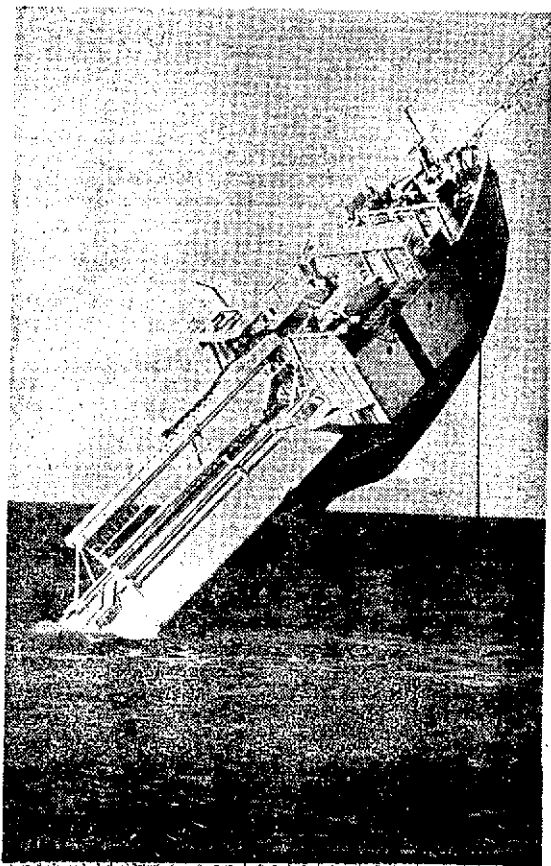

LADDERS ALLOW the scientists to scramble up and down the hull when in the vertical position.

Flip is a unique oceanographic research tool because it provides the scientist with a steady platform, anchored deeply in the sea, despite conditions of the ocean.

Its steadiness and silence will allow heretofore impossible studies of underwater acoustics. Its builders believe it is the ultimate craft for underwater acoustical research. It can also be used for a wide range of other oceanographic studies such as ocean movement, wave action and light diffusion.

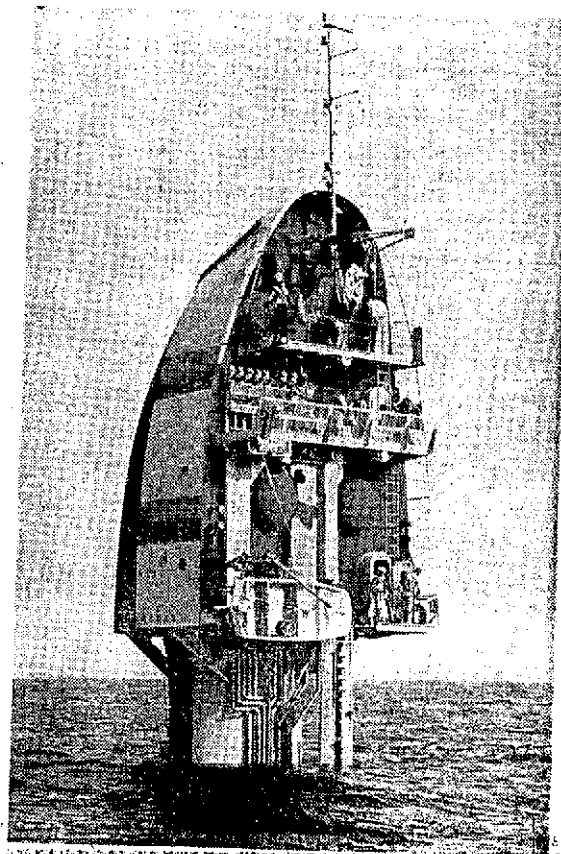

Some far-thinking planners envision Flip as the forerunner of permanently drifting sea platforms which could be used for a wide variety of purposes such as missile platforms, weather stations, communication centers and lighthouses.

Flip will get its first big job this summer when she is towed midway between Hawaii and the Aleutians for a series of mid-ocean experiments.

Crew clings to bow, at left, as rails are about to become decks. Shift from a floating horizontal position to a submerged vertical condition takes approximately 10 minutes. Vessel has 11 ballast tanks and eight are flooded to bring the craft to erect state for sea studies.

When brought to vertical (right), the craft is in working position, providing a steady platform for its crew and team of scientists. As man turns more and more to the sea for food and other resources, such research tools as Flip gain new emphasis in underwater study.

Perry Como, in his days as soloist with Ted Weems band . . . a shy crooner and nervous before the microphone.

The Days of DIF and NI'LL

By Ted Krec

Rudy Vallee, the original crooner with the megaphone. He began an era and the "mike" carried on the tradition.

I CAN'T SAY for sure how or when it all started. No one can. But possibly it was back in pre-historic times.

Maybe a group of cavemen was seated on the strand near what we know today as the Nu-Pike. And maybe one of the company, moved to exhibitionism by the marimba-like music pounded out by his cohorts on the ribs of a mastodon, picked up a conch shell and brayed through it. Maybe that's how it all began.

All I know is that orchestra vocalizing has been around for a long, long time.

And even though I wasn't there when it started, they don't call me Ol' Ted for nothing! I remember when it hit its peak.

It started to gain momentum in the late 1920s, just when radio was coming into its finest hour.

A YOUNG, curly-haired bon vivant named Rudy Vallee began to set the girls ga-ga by picking up a megaphone (theretofore an instrument used exclusively by cheer leaders) and "crooning" through it.

It's a good thing he had that megaphone, or no one could have heard him over the din of the band. But they did hear him—and they liked him. So, when the microphone came into popular usage, Rudy was all set.

Don't forget, up until this time most vocalizing had been done by leather-lunged, barrel-chested chaps of the stage, men who had the capacity to shout down the orchestra, and frequently did!

But with Rudy, it was something new—the start of an era. With the megaphone, and later the microphone, it didn't matter how feeble the performer's voice was—he could "croon" and be heard.

It was too much for Rudy to ask that he have the field all to himself for all time. Right on his heels were a couple of youngsters named Russ Colombo and Bing Crosby.

WHILE RUDY remained a bit nasal, Russ and Bing began a new twist—the "boo-boo-boo" type of rendition. Was it popular? You bet your isinglass side curtains it was! Why, I even remember hearing a song written about the three of them, aptly titled: "Crosby, Colombo and Vallee." This was rather a parody of the three boys, and it was the last gasp of the leather-lungers—because it wasn't long before the crooners took over.

As the world spun into the early '30s, crooning was here to stay, and in the late '30s and early '40s, it hit its peak.

Who (in my age bracket) ever can forget Glen Gray's Casa Loma Orchestra, with vocals by Kenny Sargent? Or Jimmy Dorsey and his band, with vocals by Bob Eberly? And do you remember band-leader Sammy Kaye breathing into the microphone: "These lovely words—by Tommy Ryan!"?

There were plenty of others. Tommy Dorsey with vocals by Jack Leonard and, later, Frank Sinatra. The great Glenn Miller with his prolific vocalist, Ray Eberly. Even the smaller organizations had top crooners. I remember one of my favorites—Ted Weems and his orchestra, with vocals by Perry Como!

You should have seen Como in those days. I interviewed him back in the early '40s for a magazine and you wouldn't have known him. He was just a kid, and a mighty nervous one. He was so timorous, in fact, that he shook perceptibly whenever he stood before the microphone. A real nice, nervous kid with a great mop of curly, black hair—and a mighty hard guy to interview because he was so shy. True, he has acquired a lot more polish and smoothness, and he's not nervous anymore. But one thing hasn't changed—then, as now, when he stepped up and started to sing, you forgot everything else!

OH, THOSE WERE the halcyon days! I can see it—and hear it—now! The band would break into a sentimentally sweet refrain and play it through once. Then the musicians would go into an improvisation as a good-looking young chap would approach the mike. By prearranged signal, the lighting man would flood the stage with a blue spotlight—and then the youngster would start his plaintive wail.

The vocalist's pronunciation usually was guided by the beat of the music, and as a result, it always came out something like this:

"And—DIF you leave me,

"Then—NI'LL not be the same!"

See what I mean? That's why I call this era "The Days of Dif and NI'LL."

But they were good days, with great tunes and a rather frantic way of life which was interrupted by World War II.

THEN THE ERA of the big bands shuffled along, leaving in its wake such soul-stirring numbers as "Don't Forget Your Pal on Guadalcanal," "Goodbye, Mama, I'm Off to Yokohama" and "There'll Be a Hot Time in the Town of Berlin."

Patience! I waited for hostilities to cease and the big bands with the crooners to return. The war ended, but the big bands never came back to any degree.

What did we get? Well, for one thing, we got Elvis. And if I thought "DIF" and "NI'LL" were funny before, I was in for an awakening! Try this one:

"Forma dollin olive yoo; anna allus weel!"

Just in case you're not with me, the young man was saying:

"For, my darling, I love you; and I always will!"

I STILL LISTEN to contemporary music while I'm riding in the car—but I don't pretend to understand it. I'm afraid music has passed me by—I can't even beat out a bassanova rhythm with my fingers on the top of my desk!

But at night, when I get home, know what I do? I sneak into the house, draw the shades, load up the record player and turn out the lights. I listen to vocals by Ray Eberly, Kenny Sargent, Bob Eberly and Frank Sinatra. I just listen, all by myself. And I must say, I feel positively subversive!

Bottles shaped like fish once contained bitters; now collector's items.

Why Do People Collect Bottles?

By Clarence T. Hubbard

WHEN I PIONEERED the collecting of "character bottles" several years ago, I never realized that California, especially Southern California, would run away with the show.

Character bottles, or figural bottles, are glass containers shaped as humans and things. They were originally mostly bottles used to dispense various liquids and powders and often the shape tied in with the product.

For instance, cucumber oil was sold in a pale green bottle moulded to represent a cucumber. Meat sauce came in an amber bottle contoured to resemble a hambone. There was a unique bottle shaped like a bunch of asparagus tied with a wire or string just as asparagus is marketed today.

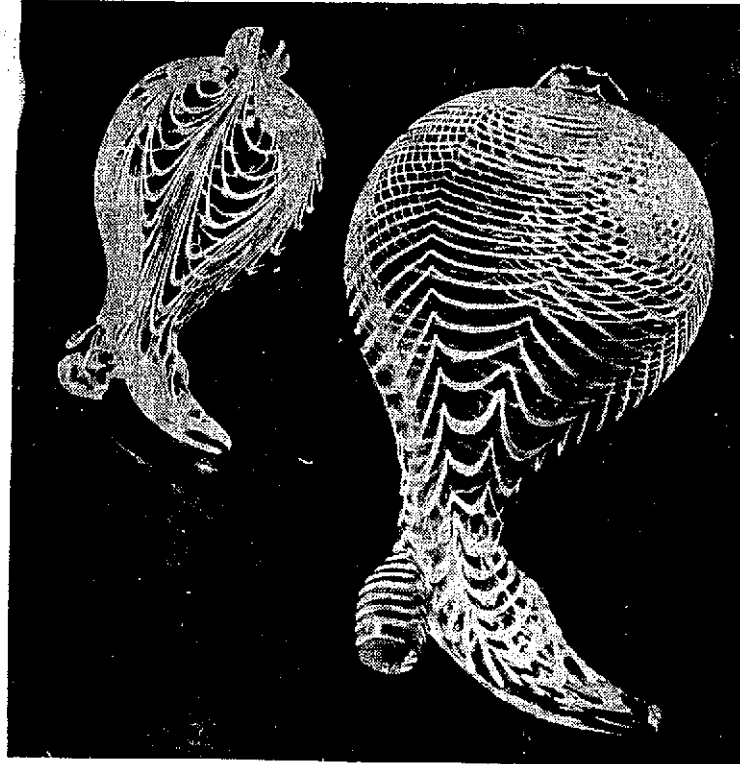

Southern California got into the act so strongly through collector enthusiasm. California brings an enthusiasm into its activities that other states lack. Persons moving west from the east, and many native Californians, just got started collecting these bottles. In fact, Southern California is the only area I know of that has bottle clubs. The members gather regularly not only to exhibit and discuss their finds but they also go out on expeditions of digging and come up with old bottles of many kinds from pioneer days.

BITTERS BOTTLES presently capture the favor of these searchers—old tonic bottles that contained tonic bitters claiming healings for almost everything. The Pure Food Act did not come into being as law until 1905, so these bitters made back in the 1800s contained spirits and sometimes opium. But it is the empty bottle the collectors want. Not all of these bitters bottles were in special shapes but many were, such as the Pineapple Bitters shaped as a pineapple in amber. Or the National Bitters in honey amber as an ear of corn, the corn symbolizing the agricultural growth of America. Brown's Celebrated Herb Bitters came in a beautiful bottle resembling an Indian Princess. There were many log cabin shaped bottles containing bitters, some also molded in elephant reproductions. Then there were hundreds in odd-shaped bottles not resembling any figure; some are found with their original labels.

Only a few whisky bottles were "shaped"; one, Hart's whisky, came in an amber bottle shaped as a heart. Gin appeared in a bottle of humorous appeal; on one side was a man's head, his hair drawn up, a frown on his face. The word "BEFORE" was lettered thereon. The obverse side showed him all smiles, with "AFTER" blown into the bottle rim. Schnapps came in a flat bottle resembling a coachman.

Moon-shaped bottle of orange-colored glass; early French origin; very rare.

Striped, shoe-shaped bottles show the results of careful workmanship for which today's production lines have no time. These originated in 1870s.

Possibly the first figural bottles in America arrived in California first—kummel bottles from Russia shaped as bears! Sailors brought them over empty and sold them for a dollar apiece. Saloon keepers bought them as an oddity for bars. They came in a dark green glass, also in a milk glass. I even have one from Germany, marked non-alcoholic, to get around tax laws. Today kummel is manufactured and bottled in the United States in similar bear-shaped bottles that are now paint sprayed.

A CHRISTMAS TREE bottle, a modern character bottle, which attracts more attention than any of my older creations, was obtained in San Diego in a department store. Later attempts to duplicate this attractive bottle have been unsuccessful but there are many to be searched out in Southern California.

These amusing bottles are packed with human interest and are so fascinating that now interior decorators are hunting them out. Some people use them for book ends, for bar decorations, others on shelves especially where the sun can shine through them. Not too many were made in color although there are some cobalt blue bottles—one a rolling pin, another a small bust of George Washington, a third a French poodle dog.

However color is introduced into all bottles by filling them with water tinted with vegetable dyes. I have a lobster-shaped bottle filled with red colored water. A nationally known perfumer in Los Angeles is buying up French and English wine bottles "in shapes" and refilling them with toilet water for resale at a good profit. These imported character bottles, used for table wines in days of old abroad, have about 800 different shapes, are usually a foot high, and appear as butterflies, peacocks, a hand holding a pistol, as musical instruments, famous people, some as fishermen, even one as a Ballerina.

MANY OF these found their way to Southern California through seaports. Early settlers also brought them along. And saloons and restaurants used them.

Mrs. Paul Godfrey of Grass Valley is outstanding as a collector of these bottles and has a fabulous display in her home, even one bottle as a lamp-post. She has all the "classics" as well as many also acquired on digging excursions. One of her bottles is a railroad engine, a foot long.

Bottles from the author's collection include (l. to r.) Grover Cleveland, woman's leg wine bottle, John Bull caricature, Food the Baby, tiny bottle, woman acrobat, coachman, ear of corn, Booz, and Victor Hugo.

Boy Grads CAN Get Better Jobs!

By Dick Westermann

IT'S GRADUATION eve and, at last, your moment of glory has come. Your name is called, you walk forward, knees a little wobbly, and take that hard-to-come-by sheepskin. A wave of pride sweeps over you and for seconds you are master of all. The world is your oyster.

Then, if you are normal, a wave of humility sweeps over you.

Looking back you can see those people who helped make this evening possible. There are Mother and Dad, a score of teachers, a Scoutmaster, a Sunday School teacher and high school athletic coach. Each one of these individuals, helped bring about this occasion. The transition from boy to man occurs just about at this point in your life.

By next Monday you're ready to look for a job and you wonder just where to start. Here's a secret. You are starting a week too late as hundreds of other grads do every year. The ripest time to land a summer job is during the first two weeks in June. Employers have a pretty good idea of what they want for summer (extra) help and applications that hit June 1 to 14 get preference.

IN PICKING a vocation you are making the second most important decision in your life. The other is when you choose a wife. After 20 years as the manager of an industrial employment agency I have taken the questions asked by young men at this stage of the game and come up with a few concrete answers.

First, you must remember that if an employer is going to invest in you it is going to be for a profit. He is going to want eight hard hours of work a day delivered ungrudgingly and with a smile. The clock watchers die on a job within a matter of weeks.

Appearance counts. I like to see a young man walk in wearing a pair of clean slacks, a shirt and tie and with his shoes shined. Watch the fingernails and, above all things, that old job loser B.O.

HERE ARE SOME of the "don'ts" I get from personnel managers:

1—No shrinking violets or pansies. I told one boy yesterday, "This job is hard work, blood, guts, grease and sweat. It's hard back-breaking labor." The kid passed out on me and didn't revive for three minutes. When he got up he made a dash for a car and was gone in a flash.

2—We don't run a nudist camp, boys coming in with exposed navel, swimming suits, Bermudas, or shirts that flop outside trousers.

3—No nonconventional hairdos—Surfer hairdo fans and beatnik beard club members are invited to waste their time at some other less sensitive employer's office.

Thousands of June graduates are starting the hunt for jobs. The author here assists one young man in quest.

4—We know you're masculine and you don't have to prove it by an overpowering scent of B.O.

5—This is California and not a "wild west show." No cowboy boots, Stetson hats or cowboy belt buckles, please.

AIDS IN SECURING a job:

First, see your job counselor or at school. If the counselor does not have a position in mind for you, try the local employment and State employment agencies; the two offer separate and different advantages. The state has more jobs—also many more people by ratio. The private employment agency, once visited, will be more interested in you because, in putting you to work, a fee is charged. There's nothing like the lure of the long green at an agency office to get things "going your way." You are a high school graduate and in the top 30 percent of the labor market available.

Your next best avenue of approach is the help wanted columns of The Long Beach Independent, Press-Telegram or some newspaper where employers state what they want and the necessary qualifications.

THE MOST HORRIBLE

thing in the world is to phone a company and ask a lot of silly questions. In my employment agency, I never take a phone call seriously. If the young man is really interested he will be at my door. So, go down to the employer's building. Secretary asks you to fill out an application. Do this as neatly as possible but remember to leave out any small blaze of glory that you might have enjoyed a summer ago that might read, "Worked at Mars Construction Co., summer 1962, $2.78 hour." This big money kills you dead than a mackerel.

Then comes the big moment. "Will you please come in, young man? Mr. Jones will interview you now." You walk into the manager's office. shake hands with a tight grip. This sometimes makes or breaks an interview. I have never hired any young man who gave me the too often used "jellyfish" handshake. Grab one sometime and you'll know what I mean. You smile and sit down being very careful not to smoke unless your host does.

The first question, "what type of position are you looking for?" can always be countered, if you don't know by answering or asking, "just exactly what is open?"

The manager names two positions. Select the one you like best and sell yourself.

THE NEXT-TO-LAST

question in any interview with a young man is almost always, "Why do you want this job, young man?" I like to see this answered with a good concrete reason such as, "In a year or so I intend to get married and when that time comes it will be handy to have a little money around!"

THE LAST QUESTION

in many interviews kill off 30 percent of the applicants that have just graduated: "When can you come to work?" The dumbos will give a long story about how they want at least a week to rest after graduation. The next fellow gives the right answer: "Right now!"

Then again, Mr. Jones might use the old-fashioned but still-much-used 24-hour waiting period test and say, "We will let you know in a day or two about this. How's that?" The smart applicant turns smiles and says, "I will appreciate any consideration that you give my application. I realize that I don't have a world of experience but there is no place I would rather start up the ladder than right here. Good day, sir." The manager will smile. The secretary will turn as you go out the door, grin at him and say, "He's certainly a fine young man."

New ANTHONY plan helps you keep your new pool in top shape AT NO EXTRA COST!

A 1963 Anthony Pool is the finest home pool ever built. It has the latest style, most dependable equipment and construction. When we finish a pool we carefully check all parts; adjust and regulate motors, pumps, heaters and filters. Likely they will require no care for a long time. But if you should need further service, Anthony has the far-reaching organization to come to your aid quickly at no extra cost!

"IF THE OWNER OF A 1963 ANTHONY POOL DOES NOT GET SERVICE, HE HASN'T ASKED FOR IT" says Phil Anthony, president of Anthony Pools.

Often he doesn't even have to ask. We have a great new policy of routine check-back on our completed pools—just to see that everything is still operating in top shape.

If an owner calls for service our pool crews can make quick repairs. We have skilled men, parts and equipment in every area every day. Warranties are fulfilled cheerfully and promptly. This is one of the extra assurances you have when you let Anthony build your pool.

WORLD'S LARGEST POOL BUILDER—Over 20,000 careful pool buyers have picked Anthony to build their pools. That is twice as many as have picked any other builder. Why was Anthony preferred two-to-one? Was it quality, or price, or dependability? Was it the assurance of "Service after Sale"? We believe that it was all of these.

PROVE IT TO YOURSELF—If you are planning a pool, certainly it is just good business to get a quotation from Anthony, the world's largest pool builder. Chances are that Anthony can save you a lot of money. Phone or drop in to any of our twelve neighborhood offices. There's no obligation.

ANTHONY POOLS

The world's largest pool builder, Anthony has built twice as many pools as any single builder.

When the Dean Clairs decided it was time for better things in their home, they decided upon redoing their kitchen and refitting their other rooms rather than make a move to a new location. Above view of their refurbished living room, looking into the former dining room, now music room, is a key to the new look of their quarters. Below right is a glimpse into a former small bedroom that is now an attractive den.

SOUTHLAND HOMES

With a New Look for Better Living

By Stella George

LOCATION prevailed as the deciding factor when Mr. and Mrs. Dean Claar, 1106 Ridgewood Ave., weighed their small home against other possibilities in a desire for improvement. They decided to stay put and customize their home for a new look in keeping with better living.

Services of two expert designers, Kay Langen, kitchens, and Edith Armor, interiors, were engaged, with delightful results.

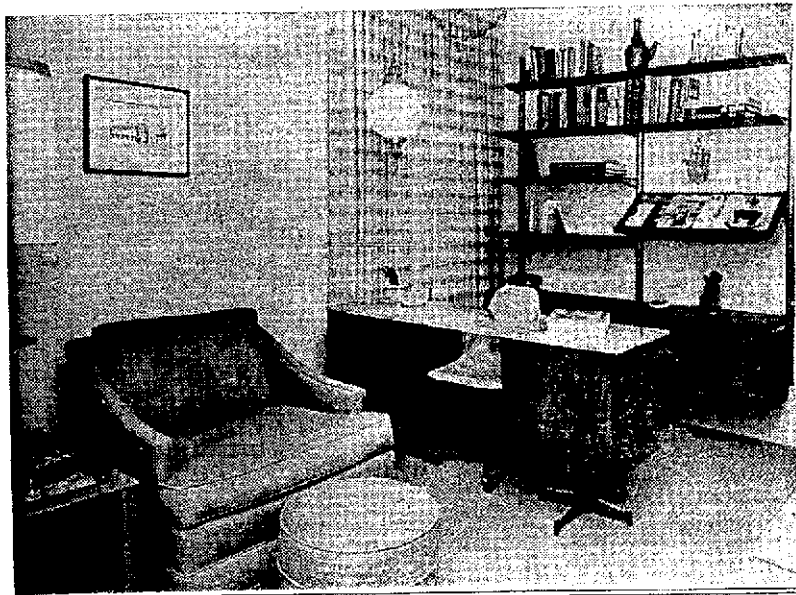

A wide archway at the far end of the living room leads to what was formerly the dining room but is now a music room, with the arch forming a frame for the fine furnishings within. A mural is the background for a grand piano. An unusual white lamp hangs above the piano. An occasional chair near the buffet is Chinese Chippendale. (Note: this is not, as some readers might suspect, a misprint.)

UNUSUAL accessories were injected into the decorating theme. The decor is contemporary with Far East accents. The

DRAPERIES, CARPETING SIGNAL HILL

—Staff Photos by Joe Risner

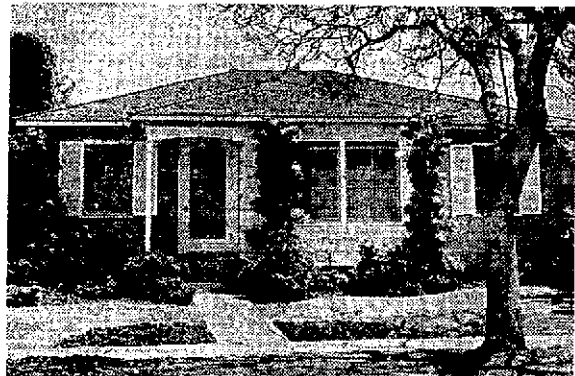

Abundant storage features the "new" kitchen which has added spaciousness without major structural alteration.

Oriental touch is most evident in small pieces and the mural. The fascinating object on the buffet, for example, is an ancient Chinese dressing table with a brass mirror.

The living room has a white fireplace and a white end table near a long antique white sofa. A gold and shrimp occasional chair with open arms is across the way. A stereo unit is near the front door. An interesting decoration is used here: a brass lectern which holds an open art book.

The kitchen is outstanding. It must be remembered that this is not a large house, but no walls were pushed out when the kitchen was remodeled. Features include the spaciousness of the room; an abundance of cupboards (there are 15), and drawers (which number 15); and an uncluttered work area. The cupboards and drawers are covered with walnut formica. A built-in stove is centered between two long work areas which extend to a steel sink.

The den is particularly worthy of mention. Actually, it is one of three bedrooms which is used as a study. The room is small, and located in the rear of the home. So expertly is it furnished, however, that it seems half again as large as it really is. One wall is glass which overlooks the rear garden.

Customized interior is a feature of this modest home.

Here's a plan for summer fun, a man-sized outdoor barbecue with ample working counter and a handy wood bin.

By Bill Meyerriecks

YOU'VE often heard it said that food tastes better when it's cooked outdoors.

Anyone who's enjoyed a steak broiled over hot hardwood coals knows that's true. And there's something even more special when the chef not only made the fire with his own hands, but also the fireplacel

A brick barbecue is one of the most rewarding projects a home-owner can undertake.

THE ESSENTIAL ingredient for success is a good plan. If you start laying bricks without knowing exactly what your creation will look like, it's easy to get into trouble. An ugly duckling made of brick and mortar is not easy to discard.

This week's Sketchbook plan tells you precisely how many bricks you need and where to place each one to get the result shown in the illustration. With the plan, a carpenter's square and a level, it's next to impossible to go wrong.

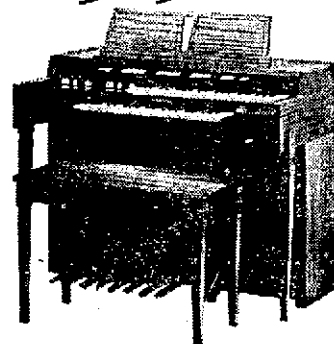

Dimensions of the barbecue are 67½ inches wide, 42 inches deep, 33 inches high at the cooking level and just 5 feet high at the top of the chimney. The brickwork is scaled to accept a Majestic Model OF-38 outdoor grill, which is slipped into place upon completion.

TO ORDER, specify Barbecue Plan S-111 and send name and address and 50 cents to Building Editor, Southland Magazine, 604 Pine Ave., Long Beach 12, Calif.

Bottles

Mrs. Millicent Holmberg of Lomita, who operates The Glass Bottle, has a private collection of figural bottles, including every colored one available. William Schoenberg of Los Angeles is another avid fan who collects his bottles from all over the world.

THE ENTIRE country is now figural bottle-minded whereas once I was the sole assembler of these quaint bottles. Obviously Southern California has taken over.

Subjects of this hobby may be found at auctions, in old stores, at antique shops, by mail, even joining the bottle clubs in their diggings, and especially by letting others know of your interests—this gets you farther than any other effort.

Pursuing the hobby in either a large or a small way, offers two attractive phases. First, small cost: true, some bottles have gone up to $50 to $75 each in price, but the average is around $5 to $10. Secondly, no two collectors can have the same exact bottles. They are not catalogued as stamps, any collector will soon find some bottle no one else can ever duplicate. Everyone likes them—children and adults, women and men.

Have Fun With an Indoor Luau!

By Mildred K. Flanary
Southland Magazine Home Economics Editor

IF YOU like to give gay and memorable parties, you'll find you can't miss with a Hawaiian luau, for a luau is synonymous with good times.

Although traditionally held-out-of-doors, you can create the islands right in your own home. Set the mood with whatever props you have available; green plants, flowers, straw hats, shells and fish netting to provide the necessary tropical background, then let guests' costumes do the rest.

Your "at home" luau menu will probably have to be an adaptation of true Hawaiian dishes, but remember that this is a feast and abundance and variety are prime requisites. Often two or three main dishes are served, each featuring a different kind of meat and seasoning.

One island inspired main dish that always makes a second helping a must, is Mandarin chicken. Tender pieces of chicken are simmered in a zesty prepared barbecue sauce, orange juice and brown sugar, making a rich, spicy-sweet combination folks are certain to like. Pineapple

Mandarin Chicken

- 1/2 cup barbecue sauce
- 1/2 cup orange juice
- 1/4 cup brown sugar, packed
- 2 tbs. all purpose oil
- 2 tbs. flour
- 1/4 tsp. salt
- 4 cups cut-up cooked chicken
- 1 can (13 1/2-oz.) can pineapple chunks, drained
- 1/2 cup sliced water chestnuts
- 1 teas. candied ginger, chopped
- Cooked rice
- Macadamia nuts or almonds.

Combine barbecue sauce, orange juice, brown sugar, oil, flour and salt; mix well. Cook, stirring until mixture comes to a boil and thickens slightly. Add chicken, pineapple, water chestnuts and ginger; cover and simmer 10 minutes. Serve over rice and sprinkle with nuts.

Hawaiian luaus usually are outdoor events, but one can be fun indoors, too. Mandarin chicken is a luau treat.

Recipe of the Week

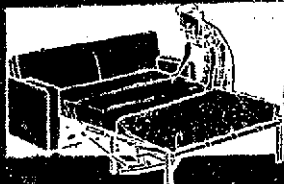

IT'S CAKE that again "takes the cake," in this case the $5 prize for the week's best recipe, for Mrs. Sam Clodfelter, 1356 St. Louis Ave., Long Beach 4. The recipe:

Moonlight Cake

- 10 eggs, whites only
- 7 egg yolks
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 1/2 cup sugar (sift 5 times)
- 1 cup cake flour (sift 5 times, including salt)
- 1 teaspoon cream tartar
- 2 teaspoons flavoring

Beat egg whites until frothy and then add cream of tartar. Continue beating until egg whites are stiff but not dry. In another bowl beat the 7 egg yolks until creamy and add 2 tablespoons of beaten whites and beat again. Add gradually the sifted sugar to the whites. Now combine the yellow and white mixture and fold in the flour and flavoring. Bake in Angelfood Cake pan, rinsing the pan with cold water before putting in the batter. Bake in slow oven (175°) about 1 hour. Turn pan upside down until cake cools.

What's your favorite recipe? For each recipe published in this space, Southland will pay $5. Men are urged to submit their recipes along with the ladies. Send yours, with name and address to: Recipe Contest Editor, Southland Magazine, 604 Pine Ave., Long Beach 12, Calif.

New Roundup on Suicide

By Ben Zinser

Southland Magazine Medical Science Writer

HERE'S THE latest research roundup on the suicide problem:

Body weight: Grossly underweight persons and obese persons commit suicide more frequently than do persons of normal or near normal weight.

Season: A person is more apt to attempt suicide in the most delightful of all seasons—spring.

Race: Suicide is more common in the white than in the colored population.

Sex: Suicide occurs with greater frequency in males. In the United States, white males account for three-fourths of all suicides.

Age: Suicide is rare under age of 15, but increases rapidly with age.

Marital status: Single men, in this country, commit suicide more than twice as often as do married men.

Geography: Highest suicide rates are in West Germany (particularly Berlin), Hungary, Japan, Austria. Lowest: Ireland, Spain, Italy, The Netherlands. Intermediate: United States. In the U. S. the highest rate is in the West, lowest in the South.

BY ITSELF, emotional stress cannot produce permanent diabetes in a totally nondiabetic person, says an editorial in the journal Diabetes.

On the other hand, there is considerable evidence to support the view that stress may convert a prediabetic condition to actual diabetes.

The report is by Dr. T. S. Danowski of the University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine.

APPLE JUICE is more readily acceptable to babies than is orange juice, and the apple juice is less likely to cause adverse side effects, a new study discloses.

Two Winchester, Va., pediatricians say those babies fed apple juice exhibited less rash and colic than those who were given citrus juice.

The doctors, reporting in Virginia Medical Monthly, say citrus juice is no longer necessary as a source of vitamin C. The vitamin, they explain, usually has been added to canned fruit juices, and use of supplementary vitamins in infants and young children is "nearly universal."

Skill of decorators used today by makers of mobile homes is seen in bedroom above. Done in subtle green and beige tones, room has an air of spaciousness and relaxation by use of mirrored sliding closet doors. Left of room, permitted by expanding unit, is full-sized lounge or sewing room. Built-in dresser drawers allow freedom of movement. Hanging lamp adds touch of refinement. Mobile homes have one, two or three bedrooms and one may easily be converted to a den. Homes have a growing market.

Living the Trailer Way

Ten million citizens living in mobile homes by 1970? That's the prediction of economists and housing experts, says the Mobile Home Manufacturers Association. Present rate of growth of "the trailer way" is about 250,000 newcomers annually. Retired citizens are discovering the economical advantages of park living. Fine de luxe and modern parks are being developed at the rate of about 1,000 a year. Rents average from $40 to $65. Available are central recreation clubhouses, swimming pools, shuffleboard courts, pitch and putt golf courses.

Although mobility is a factor in the psychology of trailer ownership, persons only move once in every three years. Nine out of ten who make the choice never go back to climbing stairs or cutting grass in conventional dwellings.

Include chapels, libraries, underground television wiring, and the appeal of individual or group activities like bridge and bicycle and hobby clubs and you have the attractions which are putting people on wheels.

Modern mobile home parks are designed by top architects and cost between $250,000 and a million dollars to construct. They are not even distant relatives of the old park which sprung up out of necessity in the early days of trailering.

Military and personnel and professional workers also form big segments of this expanding market, according to the Trailer Coach Association.

Mobile homes, by definition, are the larger trailers used more or less for permanent or semi-permanent dwellings. Travel trailers are the smaller units used for weekend and annual vacations. Both are financed like automobiles, both come as completely furnished packages.

New USC building rises behind Sandra Jane Philippi of Downey, at left, and Connie Teitel of San Bernardino.

USC Closes Its Biggest Year

WITH THIS sort of influence, USC has forged a position as "the big school" hereabouts, though not the largest (full-time day enrollment about 7,000, total about 18,000 compared with UCLA's 19,000). Now "the big school" wants to be the best.

The gyration involved in trying to change its long-held image of athletic factory while at the same time adding faster and faster to its sports championships, is difficult. But USC is doing it—with money.

There is under way a $106 million expansion program. "USC is entering a new era," says university president Dr. Norman Topping. It would be disrespectful to say that Jascha Heifetz was hired to teach the fiddle, but that, in effect, is what's been done.

"The money is not all going for bricks and mortar," says Dr. Topping, though new buildings are going up faster than tuition fees. Four million dollars worth of dormitory construction is under way. Main-campus area is being increased from 101 acres to 165. Even one new building would be an important event for a college that is still using classrooms that were opened its first year (1880), but eight buildings currently are going up.

SUNSET POOLS

Life in a Police State

By VERA WILLIAMS
Southland Magazine Book Editor

"SPECULATIONS About Jakob" by Uwe Johnson (Grove, $4.50) is a kaleidoscope as much as it is a novel.

Unlike the kaleidoscopes of our childhood, this one falls into place to present reality, not only the life of an East German railwayman but a crazy quilt picture of Germany—for life today in divided Germany IS a crazy quilt.

Uwe Johnson is the best of the German writers of the post-Nazi literary resurgence. His novel gives a better idea of what Germans in the East go through day by day than even the best of trained reporters can present. As the story begins, the Jakob of the book is dead; he has been run over by a railway engine. Uwe Johnson then proceeds, with great imaginative power, to fit pieces of Jakob's life together by way of conversation between the men who worked with Jakob; interspersed are comments by a secret policeman who has tailed Jakob. A girl who has fled to West Berlin, but who lived with Jakob's family in the East recalls incidents of Jakob's life to mind.

All are mere fragments of a man's life, but they add up to the life of every man under the police state. Jakob hates the Communist regime, yet he refuses to block a Russian troop train bound for Hungary to crush the revolt. As a switchman he could have delayed the train; as a practical German he tells himself it would have been but a futile gesture. Thus, Jakob is shown to be the personification of so much that is equivocal in the German of today.

DR. CHARLES MALIK, former president of the U. N. General Assembly, is an Arab (a Lebanese), but an Arab with a difference. His heart and mind understand and stand with Western civilization. Because this is so his book "MAN IN THE STRUGGLE FOR PEACE" (Harper and Row, $5) has words for the West that would better be heeded.

The West is losing the Cold War, he says; "the Communists are unbeatable in war, due to the continued existence of the nuclear stalemate." What is to be done? "The only way out is to change the rules of peace in order to beat the Communists at their own game, to out-revolutionize their revolution and to out-subvert their subversion under conditions of peace." It sounds like good advice.

SO OBVIOUSLY does Edward Hodnett, author of "THE CULTIVATED MIND" (Harper, $4.95), love and enjoy such things of the mind and spirit as literature, the arts and science that the reader is moved to obey the Biblical injunction: "Go thou and do likewise."

Through Plutarch and Lytton Strachey he clears a path for appreciation of biography. With Newton, Pasteur and Darwin he emblazons the way to scientific vision. He enlists Faulkner, Cervantes and Dostoevsky to point out the human predicament. A book with which to lean back in the rocker for, let's say, half hours at a time.

"STARS AND OUTER SPACE MADE EASY" by Carlos S. Mundt (Naturegraph $1.95) blasts away at old horizons of the mind. It prepares the reader for, and inspires him to explore, a subject soon to be as fundamental to the way of life on this planet as—well, as dining on processed plankton. For three decades, the author taught astronomy to "beginners" at San Francisco State College and on educational television.

Baja's Gold Rush Days By Betty Hardesty

A GOLD RUSH started in Mexico's Baja California in 1870, when thousands of gold-seekers tramped the quiet streets of Ensenada en route to the gold discovery site. Gold had been found glittering in the dry stream beds of the Sierra Juarez Mountains east of the small fishing harbor and town called Ensenada de Todos Santos.

Miners returning with gold dust to spend for food, fun and drink, brought a boom to Ensenada, but when no more gold could be found, the town returned to sleepy ways in the mild sunshine. Surviving is a hotel that was built to accommodate the social and commercial activities of those mad days. This first hotel, triangular in shape and three stories high, was owned by the American International Land Company, holders of the first land concessions.

First hotel in Ensenada stands today as a reminder of gold rush days in the back lands of Todos Santos Bay.

navigator, Juan Rodriguez Cabrillo, serving the Viceroy of Mexico in 1542, sailed into Todos Santos Bay, he saw only one small Indian rancheria. Father Junipero Serra paused at the same shore in 1773 during his land march to Alta California. He must have regretted the lack of running water needed for a mission site. The Dominicans left no buildings to mark their passage.

Founder of Ensenada, pioneer cattleman Don Pedro Gastelum, however, built such a sturdy adobe ranch home that it is in use today. This oldest building of the town, has three front doors opening on the street that is Gastel-um's name and is picturesque with quaint establishments.

NEAR THE BAY is a frame house, now used as a customs office, constructed in 1884 by an English syndicate that received a huge land grant and permission to settle and farm. Agriculture land a few miles south of Ensenada yields the world's largest late summer harvest of chili peppers.

About 480,000 bales of cotton yearly are shipped from Ensenada, primarily a fishing port and U.S. sportsmen have long known of its plentiful supply of game fish. By 1950 the tourist business had brought back prosperity far surpassing the gold rush days.

Honor to Old Glory

Ceremony in May 1961 in New Bedford School yard notes 100th anniversary of first raising flag over a school.

By Maymie R. Krythe

OLD GLORY will be honored Tuesday upon the occasion of its 186th anniversary, but its components of 50 stars and 13 stripes will be far different from those of its original form and widely divergent from the several banners used by the Colonies.

To standardize the American Flag, Congress set up a committee in 1775, with Benjamin Franklin as a member, and assigned the group the task of choosing a model ensign.

On June 14, 1777, Congress resolved:

"That the flag of the 13 United States be 13 stripes, alternate red and white; that the union be 13 stars, white in a blue field, representing a new constellation."

AT FIRST, both a star and a stripe were added for each new entrance to the Union. But later it was decided that this would result in narrow, indistinguishable stripes. Therefore in 1818, Congress decreed that there should be only the 13 stripes, to honor the original Colonies; and that for each new state a star should be added to the flag's blue union.

Soon the Stars and Stripes became known around the globe as—the symbol of the rising young republic in the New World. But, strange to say, 100 years passed by before the idea of having our banner flown over public buildings was acted upon by Congress. Twelve years later—1889—a school principal,

George Balch, of New York City, is said to have started the custom of having a patriotic program on the date when our flag was adopted June 14 and other schools all over the country soon began to observe this holiday.

President Woodrow Wilson in 1916 proclaimed the observance of Flag Day on June 14; and now it is celebrated in all the 50 states.

RECENTLY, Mrs. Virginia A. Hughes, of New Bedford, Mass., brought to my attention an interesting story in connection with our flag. Today in this New England city formerly noted for the whaling industry, there's an old structure, the Allen F. Wood School, once the 5th Street Grammar School. Over this building, according to local historians, the Stars and Stripes was flown for the first time over an American school house, on May 11, 1861.

The principal, Sylvander Hutchinson, conceived the idea of flying the national banner each day at his school. He suggested that a collection be taken, with both pupils and teachers contributing, to purchase a flag and pole. Thus began a custom that spread rapidly, and as Mrs. Hughes has stated:

"Many do not know that from this effort it became the law of the Commonwealth that every school fly the American Flag and this has spread to almost every school."

Tricky Display Unit

Base of this display unit is a round of plywood. Added are wooden bead legs and an egg-crate background.

By Lorena Fleissig

EFFECTIVE use of round scraps of plywood makes stands to display art objects. A six inch round of plywood (see photo) is elevated here by means of four large wooden beads. Small nails with flat heads were used but thin screws just long enough to go halfway into the wood could be used.

The textured backing of the stand is simply a divider from a commercial egg-crate. The pressed paper square is fitted corner-wise halfway around the stand and carefully nailed. The excess paper is trimmed away.

A covering spray of gold paint will give it a finish that looks professional. The unit is attractive and useful as a window display.

Setting for 'Spencer's Mountain'

By Fred Taylor Kraft
Travel Editor

AFTER carefully considering the problem of selecting an appropriate setting for "Spencer's Mountain," his fine new motion picture for Warner Bros., writer-producer-director Delmar Daves chose Jackson's Hole in the Grand Teton Mountains of Wyoming.

Daves had shot other screen successes in the area for Warners, and grew to know and love the people there. But the deciding factor was the scenery which he calls "breath-taking — the most spectacularly beautiful that I have seen anywhere." Warner Bros. invited me along with about 75 other newsmen from throughout the United States to go to Jackson's Hole to see for myself — and while there attend the world press premiere of "Spencer's Mountain."

DAVES WAS, as usual, so right. I can think of no superlatives which might adequately describe this extravagantly gorgeous spot.

From the forested Jackson's Hole, dotted with lakes and streams, rise the Grand Teton on the west — right now white with snow to their very base. The Shoshone Indians called these mountains "the hoary headed fathers." Later, in 1819, French-Canadian trappers passed this way looking for beaver and called the peaks "Les Trois Tetons" (The Three Breasts) because that is how they appeared to DIANA RUPP, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rupp Jr., 5477 Dairy Ave., Long Beach, has completed her flight training at Pan Am's San Francisco school and won her gold wings as a stewardess. She has been assigned to the company's Seattle base, to fly aboard Jet Clippers on Hawaii and Alaska routes. She attended Long Beach City College.

Wyoming's State flower — (red), fringed gentian (yellow), fireweed (scarlet), lupine and larkspur (blue), dogwood (white), fleabanes (lavender), balsamroot (yellow), shooting stars (light violet), wild crab (pink to deepest red), and wild plum (white).

OVERHEAD flies the bald eagle and in the streams — if their eyes are sharp — visitors may see those behemoths of the winged fraternity — the trumpeter swans — swimming with their broods.

In early September the willows and aspens and sumac turn into glorious yellows and golds and reds, and elk venture warily from their lofty retreats to bugle their challenge and engage in mortal combat for their harems.

Is it any wonder that Delmar Daves chose Jackson's Hole as the setting for his Technicolor "Spencer Mountain?"

GRAND TETON National Park is reached from the west on Wyoming Rte. 22 or Idaho Rte. 33 from U. S. 191 near Sugar City, Idaho, a highway that brings visitors in over Teton Pass, a historic and beautiful route. However, it is steep and not recommended for trailer travel.

Visitors also may come into the Park from the southeast over U. S. 26 and 89 by way of the Snake River Canyon.

Once in the park, it is only a few miles to Yellowstone by way of U. S. 89 and 287, a route not open between Nov. 1 and May 1.

them. Today these peaks are called the Grand (13,766 feet), Middle, and South Teton.

In their vast shadows, in the forests of cedar and lodgepole pine, and along the rambling Snake River which cuts a crooked swath through the Hole, the willows and aspens are budding. Wary elk, moose and mule deer pause from their grazing in the lush grass to watch intruders from a respectable distance. Black bears are beginning to visit the camps and dude ranches, but the grizzlies are less friendly. Coyotes yelp in the frigid night. Cougars and mountain lions leave only their tracks to betray their presence.

CHIPMUNKS and golden gophers extend a merry greeting in the green-carpeted forests, but beavers are less frivolous as they concentrate on their dam building.

All this will go on and on throughout the summer, but in the immediate weeks ahead the visitor also may gaze in wonderment at the miracle of the wildflowers.

For, beginning late in June, the Flora that transforms the Hole into a riot of color includes Queen Ann's lace (white), Indian paintbrush —

AROUND THE WORLD WITH

DELA PLANE

"We change planes and go to Europe from New York. I understand we can buy cigarettes cheaper on the plane and we want as many as we can when we land..."

CHEAPER on the plane but not all brands available. And not always in quantity. American lines usually carry just enough for package sale at the seat. BOAC usually carries only British. Swissair seems to favor Kents and carries them by the carton to sell in quantities.

Safer bet is to buy at the tax and duty-free store at the Idlewild Airport departure building. (Both liquor stores and cigarette shops on the second deck.) These cost about $1.50 a carton. Liquor is about $2.50 a fifth.

There is one problem with this. You order and pay and the delivery is made ON the plane. You are only allowed two cartons of cigarettes in most countries. Foreign customs are pretty lenient IF you don't push them right in their face. If they see you have more, they HAVE to charge you.

So... carry a couple of flight bags if you can. Distribute anything over two cartons in bags, coat pockets, anywhere. The usual question by customs is: "How many cigarettes?" Your answer is: "Just enough for my personal use." Or: "Have you anything to declare?" Answer: "No, just articles for personal use." That usually does it.

Cigarettes (American), by the way, will cost you 70 cents in England; 60 cents in France; $1 in Greece; 35 cents in Spain; or 25 cents in Mallorca where they are smuggled. Load up in Spain or on airplanes between countries.

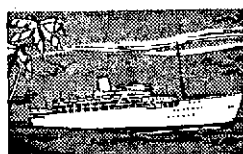

"Do you think it advisable for a young woman to go to Mexico City alone on a vacation?"

SAFE ENOUGH. There's a little gigolo work and some shakedown in some of the tourist centers. I'd try to meet some tourist men rather than locals. Mexico City is not the best place for this. It's more relaxed around Cuernavaca or at the nearby Lake Tequisquitengo resorts.

"Our 19-year-old daughter wants to go to Europe and bicycle around alone. We don't think this is at all safe."

POLICE CONTROLS make Europe a lot safer than America for travelers. But I don't think she'll have much fun alone. Write American Youth Hostels, New York City, and get their list of summer bicycle or scooter trips.

They've got some where a supervisor goes with the group for a month. Then they turn the group loose—but as a group or in pairs. By that time, they know how to get along. Then they go alone and practice what they learned. Inexpensive, too.

Two for One

Memberships are now being offered in International Holidays Inc., which the organization explains will entitle holders to goods and services valued up to $2,500 on a "two for the price of one" basis. A membership costs $25, and is good for one year.

Members may stay at any one of more than 150 hotels and motels in the West by paying the regular rates for the first night and getting the second night free; or pay the single rate for double occupancy. More than 100 restaurants offer members two meals for the price of one. In addition, there are benefits at theaters, and for bowling, dancing, ocean fishing, golf, horse racing, dog racing and football. Some lines of merchandise, such as cameras, are included.

International Holidays, Inc. also offers members' internationally advertised tours at reduced prices.

Long Beach offices of International Holidays Inc. are at 956 Locust Ave.

Gold Country

Southern California vacationists who wish to explore their state's Mother Lode country should be informed of the most interesting spots before they go. There's no better way to do this than reading a newly revised Sunset book, "Gold Rush Country" (Lane-Book Co., Menlo Park, Calif., $1.95).

This revised guide covers the area from Sierra City south to Mariposa, section by section, with new information, including road data, updated maps, and scores of photos. In addition to the well-known towns, brought to life are such almost-forgotten places as Rawhide, Mormon Bar, Jenny Lind, Yankee Jim's and Timbuctoo.

African Visas

With travel from the United States to South Africa climbing steadily (totals for the first two months of this year rose 72 per cent over comparable figures for 1962), South African consulates have been recovering many last-minute visa applications. This has slowed down processing in some cases.

In order to avoid unnecessary delays, visitors to South Africa are therefore urged by the South African Corp. to submit their applications for visas to the nearest consular office at least 30 days prior to the date of their departure. Tourist visas for travel to the Republic are available without charge from the Consulates General of South Africa at 360 Pine St., San Francisco 4, Calif.

Theater City

Five new legitimate theatres have opened in Berlin—all of the off-Broadway type, according to the Berlin Tourist Office. The five theatres give performances ranging from avant garde plays to forgotten classics. Berlin also has some 16 major theatres.

Alps To Baltic

Motorists will soon be able to explore the byways of Germany on a special itinerary labeled the "Holiday Route." Signs will direct drivers to scenic roads and interesting towns off the beaten path. The new route stretches 750 miles from the Alps to the Baltic Sea, and links Berchtesgaden, Wasserburg, Dinkelsbühl, Goslar, Celle, Lueneburg, Luebeck and other towns often bypassed by the hurried traveler.

Scout Jamboree

Of the several important international conferences scheduled in Greece this summer, the largest will be the 11th Boy Scout Jamboree which takes place from Aug. 1-11 on the historic plains of Marathon.

OUTSIDE HOUSE PAINTING NOW ELIMINATED

BEST IN NATION Homeowners are requested not to spend a single penny on painting their residence until they hear the FLEXON STORY. This remarkable material insulates, waterproofs and beautifies, and every Fiberglas FLEXON job is factory guaranteed for 10 full years against chipping, flaking or peeling.

Another boon of the space age has been accomplished for the homeowner... an exterior wall coating so tough and durable that it is guaranteed to totally eliminate house painting for over 10 years. This remarkable textured coating is Fiberglas FLEXON.

This outstanding product when applied is approximately 20 times the thickness of ordinary paint and makes a wall surface that resists all climatic extremes.

Fiberglas, a product of Owens-Corning, brings to FLEXON its great strength, its wonderful insulating properties, its resistance to time, weather, and chemical attack.

PROVEN OVER MANY YEARS

FLEXON is one of the oldest, tried and true coatings and has been applied on thousands of homes and commercial buildings. These buildings have remained in perfect condition after more than 10 years' exposure in all types of weather.

ington and British Columbia are unfolded in "The Pacific Northwest" (Doubleday, $5.95).

Because each state or province is different in political behavior, economic problems and opportunities, and cultural development, each of three authors deals with his home area: Stewart Holbrook, Oregon; Nard Jones, Washington; and Roderick Haig-Brown, British Columbia.

The reader discovers that while each area is a separate entity, they are well unified with similar historical development, scenic endowments and recreational opportunities. It's a book the people of the Pacific Northwest will appreciate, and one from which nonresidents will harvest much rich lore of a "last frontier." The book is beautifully illustrated with photographs.

THE STORY of sportscaster Russ Hodges' life with the unpredictable baseball Giants of San Francisco and formerly of New York is told with no punches pulled in "MY GIANTS" by Russ Hodges with Al Hirschberg (Doubleday, $4.50). This will be his 15th season with the team, and he has traveled from coast to coast with them through years that sometimes have been triumphant, sometimes disappointing — but never dull.

Caroline Lujan and Mexican-American champion sheepdog.

By Eleanor Avery Price

LARGEST show ever—Harbor Cities Kennel Club's "Colonel Ernest E. Ferguson Memorial Dog Show and Obedience Trial" is set for June 22-23 at Long Beach Sports Arena, 270 E. Seaside Blvd. Entries must be submitted to Jack Bradshaw, 727 Venice Blvd., Los Angeles 15, by noon Monday.

Ole! And now also make plans to attend Club Canofilo de Baja California's first two dog shows and obedience trials June 29 and 30 at Villa Marina Motel, Ensenada, Baja California. Chartered by Mexico Kennel Club, this new organization has members on both sides of the border, who own the fine Shetland sheepdog, pictured on this page with attractive Miss Colton, Caroline Lujan. The dog's name is American and Mexican Champion Merrywood Candy of Pintura American U.D. and Mexican P.U. Other Southern California members are Edith Izant, president; Maggia Sturgeon, recording secretary; Bill Sturgeon, working group director, and Eleanor Gislser, terrier director. Edith Izant, 8311 S. La Sierra St., Whittier, has entry blanks.

JUDGES for the events will be Manuel Ibarra, president of the Mexican Kennel Club; Senora Thelma Von Thaden, past president, and several American judges.

According to the club flier, these rules apply south of the border: Two legs only are needed for a Mexican obedience degree. All dogs other than those with Mexican degrees must start in novice obedience. Breed championships are awarded by the Mexican Kennel Club to dogs having earned three certificates. The judge may or may not award certificates. American champions enter open classes. Only Mexican champion dogs compete in specials.

Pinks Pay Off in Floral Beauty

By Joe Littlefield

PINKS, sweet williams and carnations all belong to the same family and some pinks, like Lady Hamilton, barely missed becoming carnations in their development. Pinks are well worth the cultural trouble to grow them, rewarding with a lengthy display of floral beauty.

My favorite pink, till a more satisfactory one comes along, is Dianthus Rose Marie, a bloomer just about all year long! The single rose-colored flowers have a faint, spicily fragrant carnation scent. But try to find this one at nurseries! Very few wholesalers grow them. Perhaps this is due to lack of enough sources where many cuttings may be had or because the big growers don't know about them and think there's not much of a market for them. I've even had to buy some for a member of the Santa Barbara Business Men's Garden Club, having recommended them in a lecture to this group, the plants not being available locally there.

Fortunately, there are several new introductions of pinks, small double flowers, lovely colors, foliage more the size of carnations, that blossom for a number of months. Check with your local nurseryman or garden center dealer about them if you would like to buy and plant them.

Be sure to plant them where they'll get at least half day of sun. Full sun would be ideal, excepting in desert areas.

Many gardeners lose carnations, pinks, or sweet williams because they plant them a little too deeply, water stands around them, rot sets in and plants die. They won't tolerate continual moisture around the trunks. That's why you should plant the top of the root ball an eighth to a quarter-inch above level of surrounding garden soil level. Slope the soil downward away from top edge of the root ball and make a furrow to catch the water. Then water cannot possibly stand around plant trunk.

PLANT SOME carnations for large, showy flowers. The secret of keeping them from growing tall, leggy, and vine-like, is to snap off the tops, twice, before you let them grow to maturity.

When the plants are about six to eight inches tall, snap off the top. When two or three new shoots have grown out five inches or so, snap off the tops again. Plants then grow bushy, produce shorter flower stems, but provide many more branches with flowers.

"What Is a Fuchsia Society?" will be discussed by S. G. Copeland at a meeting of the Fuchsia Society in Machinists Hall, 728 Elm Ave., Thursday evening. A potluck supper at 6:30 p.m. will precede the meeting. Members will supply a plant table.

The Newest Sensation In Plant Nutrition and Deep Soil Penetration

TERR-O-VITE

The All-Purpose Fertilizer that Makes Water Wetter

"Doc" Cha-Kem-Co says:

Why is

TERR-O-VITE

TODAY'S BIG VALUE

It's the answer to modern gardening the complete fertilizer PLUS

TERR-O-VITE supplies the important nutrients all plants must have to thrive.

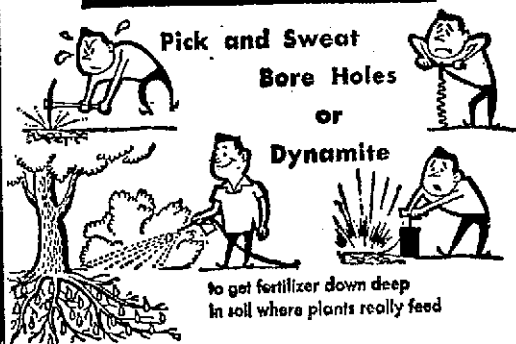

TERR-O-VITE contains elements that enter into the manufacture of vital root-forming enzymes and also reduces transplanting shock.

TERR-O-VITE's heavy concentration of Chelating Agents plus Chelated Iron, Zinc and Manganese help to prevent and cure Chlorosis (yellow foliage) induced by high concentrations of alkali in soil or water.

TERR-O-VITE's chemical reactions in the soil break down Adobe, Caliche, Hardpan and Alkali soils so they can be broken with a trowel instead of a tractor.

TERR-O-VITE's Wetter-Water principle saves water and fertilizer by reducing runoff.

You don't need to

Just Spray on TERR-O-VITE

the key that unlocks the secrets of full plant nutrition

WARNING!

There are imitation products on the market that are supposed to be "as good as TERR-O-VITE but cheaper." Beware of such imitations. They may be fertilizers made with inferior grades of urea, high in biuret content. This chemical is known to be toxic to many plants when used consistently. Protect your plants by refusing such imitations. Insist on TERR-O-VITE.

Tips on Gardening

Garden tips for the week ... Aerate compacted lawn areas with the tines of a spading fork, or preferably with a coring tool which you can find in any nursery.

Plant dwarf cushion chrysanthemums for summer-long color displays.

Set dahlia tubers out for late summer color. Drive stakes in beside each bulb to support top growth when it comes.

Spray, feed and water roses regularly. A mature peat moss or bark mulch around each bush will help conserve moisture and keep the weeds down.

Many culinary herbs are available in pots for setting out in the garden. Several potful of herbs near the barbecue area can be useful and aromatic companions.

Pinch back new chrysanthemum plants when you set them out and continue pinching the new growth until July. This makes bushy, sturdy plants. Fertilize regularly.

Garden Talk

Long Beach Garden Club members will hear a talk by Mrs. Ralph Bogg at a meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at Linden Hall, 218 Linden Ave. Mrs. Florence Sunn, newly elected club president, will conduct the meeting. A question and answer period is planned. The public is invited.

By Dorothy Jonson

Have you noticed that bugs and pests never take vacations in the summer? They arrange for their holidays in the winter and we, therefore, have to spend much of our time during the summer months protecting our plants from their attacks.

Spraying plants is always somewhat of a shock to them, so when it is necessary to bring out the artillery, choose a material that will destroy as many insects as possible in one operation.

For ornamentals there is a product combining Malathion and Dieldrin that will eliminate both sucking insects (aphis, thrips, etc.) and chewing insects (worms, caterpillars, etc.). The Malathion kills on contact and the Dieldrin remains on the plants for a couple of weeks or more, continuing to destroy.

For vegetables and other food crops, a spray or dust containing pyrethrins is safe to use. Start using it early in the season as a preventive and continue its use right up until the time of harvest.

TERNSTROEMIAS

A shrub that is little known but will be long remembered once it is seen is the ternstroemia. Its foliage is dark green to bronze, and becomes more beautiful in the full sun. Its popularity is due to the glossy foliage and its ability to adapt itself to almost any climate. It does as well in the desert areas as along the coast.

Ternstroemias require acid soil, so we recommend the use of Gro-Mulch when planting these shrubs.

These slow growers will attain a height and width of 5-6 ft. This makes them popular in oriental plantings. This easy to care for shrub requires very little pruning and is almost entirely pest free.

Their distinctly different foliage makes them beautiful shrubs for accent to plant with camellias and azaleas. To make your landscaping outstanding, plant ternstroemias. These eye-catching shrubs may be purchased at the GARDEN SHOP NURSERY at 5431 E. Spring St. (at Bellflower Blvd.), Long Beach, phone HA 5-1362.

Why that extra weight may not be fat!

Pre-menstrual "water logging" can add from 2 to 7 pounds to your weight.

If every month your weight goes up, you feel stuffy and bloated and your dresses don't fit correctly, you are most likely suffering from pre-menstrual water logging. You see, during the five to ten days before your period, your body retains extra water. This gives you an extra burden to carry around. It puts pressure on delicate female tissues causing headaches, nervousness, irritability and skin flare-ups. This is when the amazing new medical discovery, Pamprin, helps you the most.

New Pamprin is a combination of medically proven ingredients that help your body adjust to your menstrual period. Pamprin gently relieves your body of extra water and extra weight. It also relieves headaches and cramps during the pre-menstrual period. Pamprin contains no hormones, narcotics or harmful sedatives. It has given thousands of girls and women wonderfully effective relief. Get Pamprin at your drugstore... before your next period.

MILES ARNOLD

Farm House Decor

THE ORANGE groves are still disappearing. No longer do fields of fruits and vegetables stretch out in geometric patterns as far as the eye can scan. Orange County has gone metropolitan, with houses, freeways and shopping centers replacing the groves and vegetable fields. But not all the farm houses have vanished. And perhaps the most interesting one of all is a great farm house which symbolizes all the rural splendor of Orange County's former years.

Located at 6601 Manchester Blvd., Buena Park, is Arnold's Farm House, one of Orange County's most interesting and popular restaurants. From its great neon windmill, several stories tall, to its stained glass windows and modern farm interiors, the Farm House reflects the skilled, thoughtful planning of its creator, Miles Arnold, who also owns Arnold's Town House restaurant in Long Beach.

The Farm House, which often accommodates 2,400 guests on Sunday; is the largest such serve-yourself buffet-style operation in Orange County. Open daily, except Monday, from 11:30 a.m. to 8:30 p.m., it features four marvelous entrees each day—round of roast beef and baked ham with pineapple sauce (both $1.95 on the dinner); filet of northern halibut ($1.85) and farm-style fried chicken ($3.10). Featured Sundays are such delectables as the super-popular baked breast of chicken Hawaiian-style, with pineapple sauce, shaved almonds and toasted coconut; roast turkey and dressing (both $2.10) and prime rib au jus ($2.60). All are accompanied by three salads, chosen from a variety of 20; potato, vegetable, roll and butter and beverage.

Father's Day Edition

MEET THE FATHER OF YEAR

A devoted worker in juvenile recreation programs, William J. Brockmann of 17123 S. Ardmore Ave., Bellflower is Father of the Year in the Long Beach area. With him are members of his family, Dan, 15, Sandy, 13, Heidi, 8, and Mrs. Brockmann.

(See Story on Page 2)

Father of Year Title Won by Bill Brockmann

By GEORGE ERES

William J. Brockmann, 37, of 17123 S. Ardmore Ave., Bellflower, has been selected winner of the "Father of the Year Contest" conducted by the Independent, Press-Telegram.

Mrs. Barbara Brockmann, who signed herself "his loving wife" in nominating her husband wrote:

"Bill is a wonderful, loving father to his three children, Dan, 15, Sandy, 13 and Heidi, 8. But he loves all children as his own and works constantly for their welfare."

Dan, Sandy and Heidi, polled independently, unanimously agreed with the selection of judges.

But hundreds of youngsters in the Bellflower area are a silent testimony to their approval of the choice.

Bill organized the Little League in Bellflower.

"We didn't have a recreation program here," said Mrs. Brockmann, who along with her husband has been active in P.T.A. work. They both have been voted lifetime memberships in the Lincoln Elementary school P.T.A.

AN EX-SEMI-PRO football player with the Compton Athletics and the L. A. Steelers, Bill was one of those who inspired the youngsters. "He also coached, umpired and watered down the field," said Mrs. Brockmann. "The boys would be over helping to mow the lawn so Bill could get out to the field faster," she said.

"Some of the criticism of Little League ball was right," Bill said. "There was too much of the parent in the game, but we've tried to see that the kids keep the game. We try to see that everybody gets to play; not just the stars." Nevertheless stars have developed from the league. "Some of our boys have become all conference players," he said.

"And good in their studies, too," added Mrs. Brockmann.

In addition to Little League ball, Brockmann also helped start the "Pop Warner Kids Football" program for 10-to-12-year-olds and coached the first team in the city.

INVOLVED AS HE is in organized play activity, Brockmann is aware of the dangers. "Organization is a good thing, but you can get overorganized," he says. "There should be just enough organization to guide the activity."

"The most important thing I think he's done is to start a Youth Employment Agency in the city," said Mrs. Brockmann.

"It came about through the Bellflower Coordinating Council," said Brockmann who is a past president of the group set up to work with youth and community problems.

"We had some surveys made of drop-outs in the schools and found it was a pressing problem." With the help of the State Employment Service, the schools and private individuals, the program now operates the year-around. Started about a year ago, some 700 youngsters have been placed in part-time and summer jobs. "It's too early to tell how effective we've been in stopping drop-outs, but we seem to be getting some good results."

HE IS A past Cub Master in the Boy Scout movement, is on the stewardship committee of the Community Presbyterian Church and on the city's Park and Recreation Committee. He was chairman of the city P&R committee last year and during his term in office the city started and carried out plans for development of the second park in the community. The one park that exists is simply a park area. The Flora Vista Park will be a fully developed recreational facility on a 15-acre site. It will be finished by October.

Bill Brockmann, winner of the annual Father of the Year award for this area, is a great sports enthusiast. He helped start Little League play in Bellflower and is a close observer of the program. Here he is shown with his son Dan, 15, who has hopes of a baseball career.

HE'S 'UMP' FOR ALL

Although he participates in many games with the family, Bill Brockmann, the "Father of the Year," at times is called upon to serve as an impartial official. Here he watches daughter Heidi, 8, make a table tennis play.

SCHOOL COMES FIRST

Champion dad, Bill Brockmann, is a great believer in outdoor exercise for all of his family. However, school work comes first. Here he helps Sandy, their 13-year-old daughter, with some of her home work.

do the same things—we go to the beach, to the mountains and on picnics," said Brockmann. "Dan's interested in surfing and I got interested in it too. Surfing's like most other things—a few fellows in the sport can give it a bad name. For the most part surfers are fine fellows."

The youngsters all have their chores around the house.

"WE DON'T believe in 'handing' things to the children. We like them to work for what they get. Dan wanted a surfboard, so we let him earn the money for it," said Mrs. Brockmann.

Brockman, a Navy veteran and salesman for the George Oliva food brokerage firm of Los Angeles, and his wife have a strong sense of civic, church and social responsibility. Their world of activity is in Bellflower where they live and where they have set down roots. But Bellflower is not the entire world the Brockmanns know. They have strong feelings about human dignity and are opposed to discrimination of any kind.

"Being named Father of the Year is a wonderful tribute," said Brockmann. "I enjoyed doing all the things I suppose they chose me for. I didn't do them for an award. Actually, every father is a Father of the Year whether they are interested in outside activity or just concentrate on their own families."

Many Prizes Await Outstanding Father

There are many great prizes awaiting William J. Brockmann and his family as a reward for being chosen "Father of the Year."

A large engraved trophy will be presented the winner by the Independent, Press-Telegram and from various firms in the area will come prizes that include:

$17.95 Stein-Bloch sport coat and slacks from Buftums', Broadway at Pine.
$10.00 pair of men's slacks from Foreman & Clark, 144 Pine Ave., and Lakewood Center.
$10.00 flash camera from Winstead's Cameras, Downtown Long Beach and Los Altos.
One-year family pass from the West Coast Theater, 333 E. Ocean Blvd.
$10 gift certificate from Ted's Men's Wear, 3020 E. Anaheim St.
$20.00 gift certificate from Carl's Furniture, 1220 E. Pacific Coast Hwy.
$20 gift order from one of these McMahon Furniture Stores: 1895 E. Anaheim St., 317 L. B. Blvd., 802 Avalon Blvd., Wilmington, or 16810 Bellflower Blvd., Bellflower.

Men Like Jewelry If You Will Buy It

Few fathers will consider buying themselves anything in the line of jewelry but if you should provide them with such a gift for Father's Day it will make their eyes sparkle with pleasure.

The Jewelry Industry Council reports there is a wider variety than ever of handsome masculine jewelry gifts to choose from to suit every taste and pocketbook. And, best of all, a gift of jewelry is "something special" that every Dad is bound to remember with pride for years to come.

Isn't it about time to replace that old-fashioned worn watch of his with a sleek modern one he will be proud to wear? Today's new watches for men, developed with one eye on style and one on science, are slimmer, more streamlined and practical delights. They wind themselves, resist wind, dust, water, shock and magnetic fields—and some are even electronically powered without any winding mechanisms at all.

AVAILABLE in all price

ranges, an attractive new watch is certain to bring Dad a proud glow and be useful as well.

Personal jewelry, such as cuff links, tie bars or tie racks, is welcome in every man's wardrobe. Whether in karat gold, sterling silver or gold filled, it combines good taste with lasting sentiment.

Pen and pencil sets, lighters, belt buckles, wallets, key chains and money clips are other enduring Father's Day gifts.

Book Makes Ideal Gift

If your Dad likes to read, one of the current top-sellers in books always makes a good Father's Day present.

Here is the best-seller list compiled this week by the Publishers' Weekly:

Fiction

Raise High the Roof Beam, Carpenters, and Seymour—J. D. Salinger.

The Glass-Blowers—Daphne du Maurier.

The Sand Pebbles—Richard McKenna.

Seven Days in May—Fletcher Knebel and Charles W. Bailey II.

Grandmother and the Priests—Taylor Caldwell.

The Moonflower Vine—Jetta Carleton.

The Moon-Spinners—Mary Stewart.

Fail-Safe—Eugene Burdick and Harvey Wheeler.

The Tin Drum—Gunter Grass.

The Light of Day—Eric Ambler.

Nonfiction

Travels With Charley—

HE'LL WEAR IT

Most any man loves a sweat shirt when he putters around home on his day off. Here's one Dad will approve for it is of cotton knit that won't shrink or stretch and is very comfortable. It comes in a choice of solid colors with contrasting collars and will be found at Crockett's, 135 E. Broadway.

John Steinbeck.

The Whole Truth, and Nothing But—Hedda Mopper and James Brough.

The Ordeal of Power—Emmet John Hughes.

The Fire Next Time—James Baldwin.

Happiness Is a Warm Puppy—Charles M. Schulz.

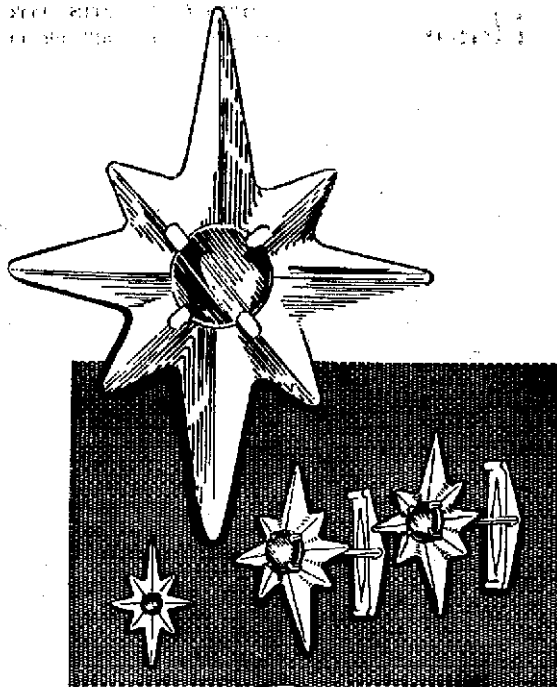

O Ye Jigs & Juleps!—Virginia Clay Hudson.

The Great Hunger: Ireland, 1845-1849—Cecil Woodham Smith.

Final Verdict—Adela Rogers St. Johns.

The Fall of the Dynasties—Edmond Taylor.

Silent Spring—Rachel Carson.

STARS FOR A STAR

Here's a galaxy of stars any man will appreciate. Genuine black star sapphires are mounted on yellow gold stars for this cuff link and tie set shown by C. C. Lewis Jewelers, 333 Pine Ave. The set also is available in sterling silver.

CARDIGAN SWEATER
He'd Look Neat in This

The woman who says she doesn't know what to get a man for a gift hasn't had a good look around.

He's a do-it-yourself man? Give him a package of sandpaper. He likes clothes? Give him a drip-dry shirt and let him wash it out himself. The possibilities are endless once you get started. And they can mean less work for you if you play it right.

Take, for instance, shoes. He probably needs a new pair and you don't know what size he takes after being married to him for 15 or 20 years. The solution? It's simple. Stores now carry gift certificates for men's shoes. Hand him one and let him pick out same and trot home.

YOU CAN always get him solid gold cuff links and articles like that, but it's unimaginative.

Seriously, the man on your gift list should present nary a problem this year. Every hobby under the sun is catered to; gifts of fashion are no longer monotonous and toiletries are really handsome.

He might like a gold-filled pocket knife that's both slim and elegant. There's one on the market that has a stainless steel cutting blade and a flexible manicure file.

The pure wool cardigan is done up in an Ivy stripe and a design that's actually somewhere between cardigan and vest and could serve as either. Perfect for country living, this is the kind of sweater that's handy for the city, too.

Serve Chicken for His Treat

Many fathers might choose broiled steak with French fried onion rings. But the National Father's Day Committee (we are a little vague as to just what that committee is) asks us to report that they have declared chicken the official main course for Father's Day.

HERE'S HIS THRONE

George Dahm relaxes in a Rest-O-Crat reclining chair that's fit for a king like Dad on his day. Noted for their comfort, the chairs come in fabric or naugahyde with solid eastern birch trim. Here's real comfort for Dad after a hard day's work. These chairs are being featured at the Berkshire House, 4310 Atlantic Ave.

Shirt-Buying Tips Provided by Expert

NEW YORK (NEA)—The good, old days for Leonard Lee means Diamond Jim Brady standing around with his shirttail hanging out.

Lee, one of a handful of custom shirt-makers still operating in New York, presides over a venerable firm which has made shirts for, not only the legendary Diamond Jim, but Jimmy Walker, Enrico Caruso and hundreds of the world's great.

The 71-year-old head of Budd, Ltd., advises anyone buying a shirt to:

Have at least 12 shirts in the wardrobe. If you wear a fresh one each day, the flow from laundry to drawer will be uninterrupted.

Select a good laundry (or a good wife). Good laundering is vital to the long life and appearance of a shirt.

Choose shirts for color and style. Do not be afraid to wear shirts of different hues—just match them to the suit being worn.

Pay attention to the collar shape. Remember? Long face, spread or rounded collar; round face, pointed collar.

SOME MEN have found a compromise between standard shirts and custom-made garments in reasonably priced made-to-measure shirts.

However, Lee observed, such shirts are not custom-tailored in the full sense. The price of such shirts is about half Lee's beginning price of $15. And when you really fall into it, you can spend as much as $40 for a single shirt—depending upon fabric choice.

To Lee's customers it is the little things which count. One advertising executive insists on a monogrammed Greek letter "A" politely placed below the left breast pocket—always blue.

One New York theatrical agent prefers unusual fabrics like Japanese habatai silk. Industrialist Arthur Vining Davis required a special collar; one collar point was cut away more than the other to permit his tie to be centered just right.

CARRIES SPARE

Unusual custom shirt feature includes sewing an extra collar to the shirt-tail. Idea is to keep it the same color as most of the garment when it is washed and bleached.

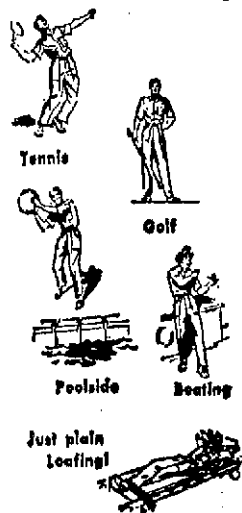

FOR MEN OF ALL AGES

Here is a suit for the man who likes the straight hanging sack coat with soft shoulders, flap pockets and center vent. Pleatless trousers are in traditional colors. These are from Buffums' Men's Shop, Pine at Broadway.

Let's Show Dad We Are Really Devoted to Him

By KAY SEE

Father's Day gives us a chance to express, openly, the sentiment we all secretly hold the rest of the year!

While Mother's Day is sentimental, so are most other days for there is a different heartfelt devotion we may show her daily. But for Dad, well, things seem a little different in most homes and for that reason we all can really make him king for a day, June 16.

Father's Day, 1963, will be more widely observed than ever all across the United States this year. For that reason this supplement of the Independent, Press-Telegram is offering many suggestions for gifts he will enjoy.

THE CONTINUING theme, "Juvenile Integrity Starts in the Home," will once again keynote the observance that during the past 53 years has become one of our biggest national celebrations.

As all good leaders should,

Dad directs by example. Ever on call to meet the minor as well as the major emergencies that arise in family life, Father is the household trouble shooter, a sturdy anchor in the squalls that beset the lives of his youngsters and a rock in the tempests of their adult years.

Certainly, Father is no longer the dignified patriarch of former years. He has willingly relinquished his stuffy 19th Century attitudes which envisaged him as the "word of the law" with "judgment undisputed" and a "don't ruffle my dignity" attitude.

MODERN DADS get closer to their kids by doing such undignified things as teaching them how to slide bases, cast a fly or cook over an open fire. Dads with faces as grimy and hands as greasy as their sons' and daughters' can be found repairing doll carriages, building scooters or crawling about an H-O train layout.

Dad spends more time with his children, and not only shares their interests, but also channels their enthusiasms through wholesome activities to worthwhile goals.

How can we express our appreciation to these Dads? Of course, it should be shown 365 days a year, but human nature being what it is we frequently tend to forget. As a result when Father's Day rolls around on the 16th of June it offers us an opportunity to focus our attention and affection on Dad.

IT ALSO gives us a chance to express our sentiments in a more tangible fashion. Nothing will make your Dad more proud than to have some evidence that you are proud of him.

According to the Father's Day Council, it has become traditional to honor Dad with "a dinner of chicken, cranberry sauce, ice cream and cake and the trimmin's." When he sits down to this dinner make sure that he has a good array of appropriately wrapped gifts at his place of honor at the table.

Gifts of business wearables, sportswear, sporting goods, smokers' articles, hobbies, luggage, tools, jewelry, cameras and photographic accessories, or any of the myriad other presents that may warm his heart should mark "His Day."

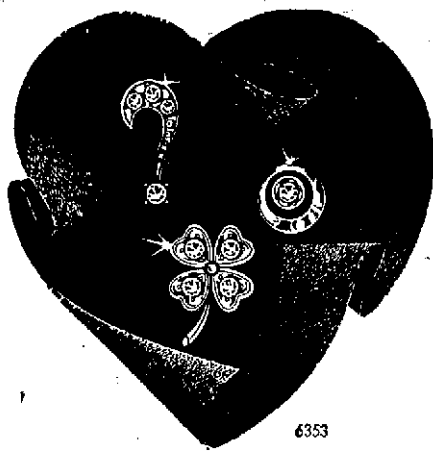

NEWEST IN SPORT JACKET

Something new under the glorious summer sun is this sport jacket by Louis Roth. Even the fabric sets a man apart from the crowd and it is styled for summer comfort and neat appearance. Howard Amos, 120 E. Broadway, offers it.

Plans Set for Big Two Days in Lompoc

LOMPOC — Sky diving — fast-draw gun contest—Navy underwater demolition team exhibition—missiles —sportsman's show—flower show — flower field excursions—all-day entertainment — street dance—parade—industrial exhibits.

Where will all this variety be?

It is only the preliminary programming for the 11th annual Lompoc Flower Festival to be held June 22 and 23 in Lompoc in the Valley of Flowers. This year's festival is teamed with the celebration of the city's 75th birthday.

* * * *

MORE THAN 50,000 persons are expected for the two-day event which will get underway Saturday, June 22, with a huge parade featuring more than 20 floral bedecked floats, bands, military marching units, missiles and countless numbers of other entries.

Focal point of the festival will be Ryon Park where gaily colored tents will house a variety of concessions manned by local service clubs and organizations. An all-day entertainment program is planned for Saturday and Sunday on the open stage in the park. In addition, industrial exhibits will be housed in the area including those from leading aero-space firms and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

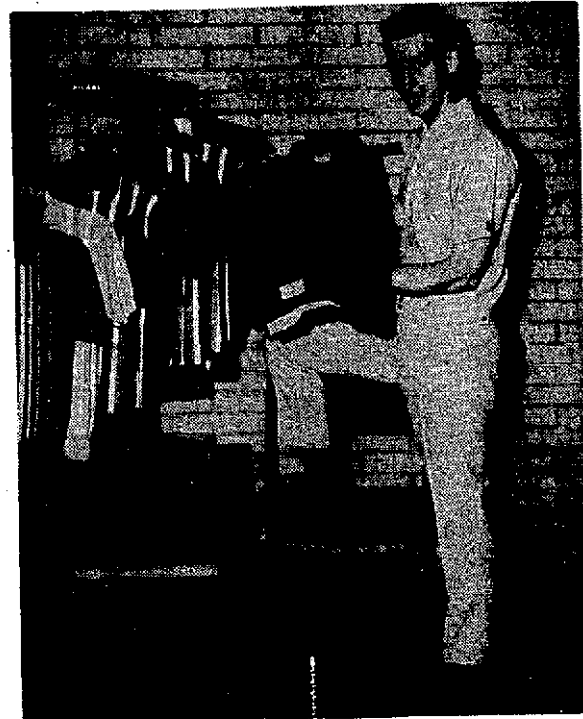

SATURDAY NIGHT will be highlighted with a huge street dance in the center of the city sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Sunday, the fun continues with the concessions still operating in the park along with entertainment. Also, during the two-day event, a sportsman's show will take place on County Airport property featuring displays and a fast-gun draw demonstration.

Mainstay of the festival for the past 41 years has always been the Alpha Club's annual Flower Show featuring hundreds of floral exhibits.

Too Many Pitchers

LOS ANGELES (AP)—When Maury Wills first reported to Dodgers he was a pitcher. But when he saw so many pitchers on the premises he asked if he could try out for second base.

GIFT HE WILL WEAR

Matching slacks and shirt will be a gift that Dad will enjoy for they look sporty and are real comfortable. Offered by Mullen & Bluett in Lakewood Center, these "Slak-Mates" are of fast color, completely washable and you may select from eight popular colors.

Good Old Days Are Recalled

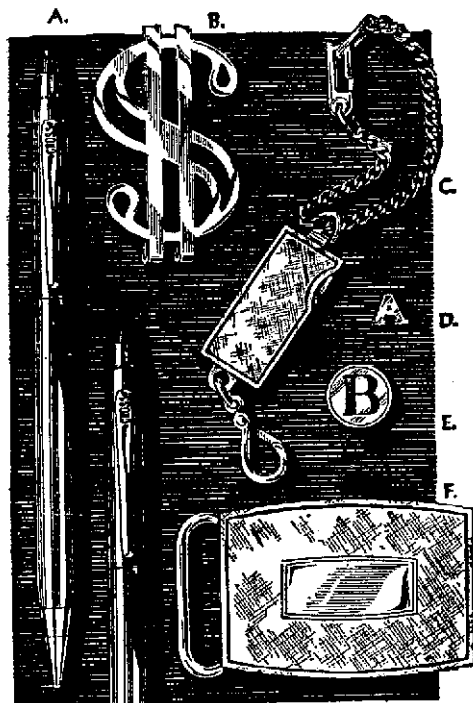

CARROLLTON, ILL. (AP)—There were times when school expenses were the little things in life.

Charles K. Barnett, new Greene County superintendent of schools, delved into a large leather-backed book he found in the superintendent's court house office dating back to the 1800s.

He found that S. F. Corrington, county school superintendent 100 years ago, went to Bloomington, Ill., and his expenses were $23. He squandered 75 cents on an office spittoon and spent two bits for a flue cover.

His Hole-in-One Is Wasted Shot

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Dr. Ralph Hampton got a hole-in-one at the Milburn Country Club golf course but it won't count. To accommodate heavy crowds the club has two holes on each green. Each group switches the flag to the other hole before leaving the green. Hampton hit the cup on his tee shot at the 125-yard 15th hole. But it hit the alternate hole which had been used by the preceding golfers.

Authority Is Shown by Rings

Because rings have always signified authority, they are high-ranking with fathers of all ages as gifts. There are rings marking schools, colleges and fraternal groups, as well as signet rings. A handsome ring containing a masculine stone such as a glowing star sapphire or an onyx is a gift of lasting beauty which Dad will wear with pride and pleasure.

AND FATHER can even wear a sparkling diamond in a ring as an extra special reminder of his family's love and appreciation.

If Dad likes to be a happy host during his leisure hours, the jeweler has a broad collection of gifts to make his relaxing time more enjoyable. Gleaming silver bar tools, ice buckets, tongs, pitchers and dishes will all go far to make his entertaining more delightful to him as well as his guests. And for his office, the smoker will cherish a silver cigarette box, an elegant ash tray, or a table lighter.

For his personal use, desk clocks, picture frames, military brushes or silver-handled clothes brushes are always welcome as lasting tokens of regard.

IT'S FUN to check Classified for things you want to buy.

"No, there were no important phone calls while you were out—just two for you, Father!"

Minister Now Real Sky Pilot

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—Because he travels extensively to give mission talks, and with an eye to possible missionary assignments in Africa or South America, the Rev. Marion Anthony Serraglio has become a licensed single-engine aircraft pilot.

"It's not a direct attempt to get to Heaven," Father Serraglio says, "but it might be a quicker way."

Leather Hats and Ties Shown

Sport and casual dress hats and caps in sueded and brushed leathers are top news. They are water repellent, light in weight and come in various colors.

Leather ties are a brand new development and come in a variety of solid deep colors in smooth and suede leather.

Big Margin

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Kentucky's Wildcats have won 267 basketball games and lost only 37 in loop play since the Southeastern Conference was formed in 1933.

Dana to Risk Much in Coming TV Show

Dana As Jose: The road to independence.

NEW YORK (NEA)—Bill Dana's series for next season represents a financial flyer.

Dana, alias Jose Jimenez, says he'll be losing money for '63-'64 by doing his new Bill Dana Show over NBC-TV. But there's method behind his monetary madness.

"What I earn now in personal appearances and guest shots," he says, "is much more than I'll make from the series next year. But this is a gamble. If the series is a hit, I could easily be a millionaire. And I admit I like money; I'd like to be financially independent."

"IF I WAS, I could do things I never thought possible. I could take time to write a Broadway musical comedy. I could sponsor young performers—I get a big kick out of doing that. The fact that I was partially responsible for the success of Don Knotts is very gratifying to me." (Dana, when he was a Steve Allen writer, gave Knotts his first big break.)

The Dana show will, of course, have Dana as Jimenez, a hotel bellboy. While Jose is a complete Dana creation, there is no Dana in Jimenez.

IN FACT, the actor talks about the character in the third person—as though he is somebody he knows. Dana is proudest of the fact that fine actors, like Sidney Poitier and Lee J. Cobb, have told him that he is a real actor, not merely a comedian.

He's also proud that Latin Americans enjoy Jose and realize that Dana isn't ridiculing anybody in his characterization.

"Jose," says Dana, "is very popular in Mexico."

He seems not to realize that they really love Bill Dana.

You Can Select Neat Fashions in Hose for Good Gift for Dad

There are some neat fashion ideas afoot for Father's Day, with the big news in men's socks.

New "pin-ribs" with fine gauges, not much bigger than chalk stripes found on flannel suits are a note in men's hose. Beautiful new heather treatments in spun nylon yarns — cable striped crew socks — white with classic argyle patterns and bantam-weights in a blend of Dacron Polyester and cotton — all fit fine with new suits and slacks.

LOOK FOR brushed Orions that combine durability with a cashmere-like texture; Ty-cora sports socks colored to blend with or match the sports shirts of the same yarns; tweedy cottons—side patterns; clock-like designs; blends of Acrilan-nylon, and Acrilan-viscose-rayon as well as raised rib and lises.

Classic rib-knits, meshes with self-cooling effect and patterned stretch nylons as well as all-over basketweave effects are complemented by neat checks in Ban-Lon weaves. Dad will also like the combinations of silk and nylon in fine socks.

Unless they are "stretch" hose it's important to know styles, proper fit and fashion trends in socks before buying.

FIND DAD'S correct socks size by checking his shoe size, then follow this simple guide:

Shoe Size Socks Size

8-8½	11
9-9½	11½
10-10½	12
11-11½	13

Most brands stop at size 13, but some manufacturers go up to size 15 in a solid color, mercerized cotton sock. Your favorite men's shop or department will help you find them.

The three most popular lengths in men's socks are elastic-topped short, mercerized cotton anklets; half hose which should be worn with garters, and hi-rise socks which were originally worn with walking shorts and now find favor for conventional wear.

IT'S A GOOD IDEA to select several pair in each length so that Dad can enjoy a real sock wardrobe.

It's wise to look for mercerized cotton yarns when selecting socks for active dads. It is particularly absorbent, evaporative and resilient; best of all they don't shrink in washing.

Guest of Honor Is Forgotten

SCOTTSVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The Scottsville Police Department held a banquet to honor Chief Louis Borders. Someone forgot to tell the chief, though. Instead of being the honor guest, he was on an out-of-town business trip.

Allison Shines in Tight Spots

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Bob Allison of the Minnesota Twins has turned out to be a player who comes through in the pinch.

In 1962 the big outfielder drove in the deciding run in 15 games as the Twins finished second in the American League race.

One of his defensive gems of the season was a leaping catch that saved a no-hit game for Jack Kralick.

Display Dad's Fishing Trophies

Dad's fishing trophies may be mounted on an oval or rectangular piece of decorative paneling to create an unusual display for the recreation room. Available in handsome wood-grains, plastic-surfaced hardboard can be cut with a fine-tooth saw.

Son Joins Dad as Writing Team

NEW YORK (AP)—Julie Styne, veteran Broadway composer, has a new partner—his son, Stanley—in writing the score for the musical version of "The Ghost Goes West."

Styne, who is 56, said he will concentrate on the music, and his 30-year-old son will do the lyrics. He noted the collaboration as a family first.

"Henry is so practical he'd want a gift the whole family can use so I'm refurnishing one room as his den."

Cigars, New Pipes Make Good Present

If the man of your home is a smoker, then you have it easy when it comes to a Father's Day gift.

Perhaps you feel that a carton of cigarettes would hardly seem a gift to him and rightly so. But, cigars or pipe might provide the answer.

Most men who smoke do care for the aroma of a good cigar but seldom treat themselves to the added cost. He'll be pleased that someone remembered to gift him with the smoke he enjoys most.

A box of cigars is among the easiest of presents to pick up these days as they are available everywhere. The gift-buyer is only minutes away from a gaily-wrapped remembrance, if he takes a quick look at Dad's favorite cigar label or box name.

IF THERE is uncertainty about Dad or Grandpop's preference, the gift-buyer can successfully "guess-timate" Dad's pleasure, from among a choice of these popular types: Perfecto — medium in length, shaped at both ends—suitable for the regular all-day smoker. Panetela — straight and slim for the younger man. Corona — large, long cigar — for relaxing after dinner and TV-watching. Cigarillo-type—pencil-thin, short cigar—for young smokers, or for quick enjoyment by all smokers between larger cigars.

A gift of cigars is good too, for the business man who does not smoke them, but likes to keep a supply on hand for his business associates who do.

Pipes are now slimmer in order to be carried easily in "narrowed-down" clothing. They still conform to 13 basic shapes — with certain styles more popular in various regions.

IN CHOOSING a pipe for dad, granddad, son or husband this Father's Day, the Pipe and Tobacco Council suggests that you choose a style carefully.

Eastern pipe smokers' preference is for large bowls: "apple," "pot," or "oom-paul" shapes. New Englanders prefer smaller shapes with short bits. The "poker" or "woodstock" pipes are suitable gifts in this area.

In the south and southwest, pipe smokers like small bowls, especially the style known as the "full bent," while in the resort sections of Florida, all styles sell equally well.

In the Midwest, top choice is the "bulldog" shape. This shape is number one seller of all pipe styles.

On the Pacific Coast, all fancy shape pipes seem to be most popular. Pipe smokers in the eastern half of the nation are more conservative, while pipe smokers out west tend to choose flashier shapes and styles.

ACCORDING to the Pipe and Tobacco Council, the basic shapes are: Billiard, Dublin, Bulldog, Poker, Apple, Pear, Churchwarden, Oom-Paul, Woodstock or Semi-bent, Prince, Bent Billiard, Pot and Canadian.

All of these basic shapes are new and slimmer, except the pot and churchwarden. The "pot" is very round and big bowled, while the "churchwarden" has an extremely long stem.

Many styles of stems and bits to choose from for your Father's Day gift include half-bits and short stems.

Pipes come in varying shades of brown, natural wood.

Fourth Straight

CHATTANOOGA (AP)—The McCallie School has won the Mid-South Association title the last four years. The association comprises prep and military schools in Tennessee, Alabama and Georgia.

NATURAL CLOTHING FOR MEN

135 EAST BROADWAY

Accessories, Seat Belts Good Gifts

Auto accessories, anything from a cigarette lighter, that works to a set of safety belts, will be appreciated by Dad as a Father's Day gift. And, shopping for them is easy—either in the various stores or in a service station.

With the nation's safety leaders urging installation of safety belts in all cars, most any service station can provide them at moderate costs and such a gift would not only protect Dad but other members of the family who ride with him.

* * *

PERHAPS the radio in the car Dad drives to work isn't functioning because of a worn out tube. Repair work on them is nominally priced and it would be a gift he will appreciate.

New seat covers would be appreciated. Even a new floor mat might make a big improvement in Dad's car. Look over the car Dad drives and see what you might do to make his daily trips to work a little easier. It's a chance to give him something he will appreciate and the cost will be nominal in most instances.

Make Room for Men in Beauty Salons

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Association

Memo to Women: You may not know this, but our beauty salons—long strictly feminine establishments so far as customers are concerned—are being invaded by men.

Some cities such as New York and Hollywood, have strictly male beauty salons where a man can go for a permanent wave, a hair-dye job, a manicure and a pedicure, or a facial.

But in cities where there are as yet no temples of beauty devoted exclusively to the male sex, the men are sneaking into the women's shops early in the morning and late at night, to make use of many of the aids to youth and good looks that women have learned to depend upon.

In Memphis, for instance, beauty shop owners estimate that male customers now make up anywhere from 20 to 30 per cent of their business. And most of these men have started patronizing beauty salons within the last five years.

What's behind this sudden desire of men to look their best that is overcoming their timidity about entering beauty salons as customers?

My guess is, with women spending as much as they do on beauty aids and openly changing their hair color to match their moods and fascinate their husbands with a completely new look, the men are beginning to feel drab and old in comparison.

No woman today has gray hair, except by choice. And when a husband sees how much younger his wife looks without any silver threads among the gold or brown, he may start wondering if he wouldn't look 10 years younger himself if he went in for a dye job.

Besides, we live in an age when looking as young as possible is all-important. Men feel this almost as much as women do.

So if men are sneaking into our beauty salons in ever-increasing numbers, perhaps we women ought to let them know that they don't have to sneak.

FOR DAD'S PARTIES

This battery-operated crapshooter will be a big hit any time Dad throws a party for his pals. With a realistic action as the dice does a chewing motion as the dice are rolled from a cup onto a table. This is available at all F. W. Woolworth stores.

Leather Looms Big in Fall Men's Wear

By WALTER LOGAN

NEW YORK (UPI)—One of the features of the recently completed showings of men's wear for fall has been the resurgence of leather, especially suede, in products ranging from ski wear to neckties.

Leather has been revitalized through use of color. It has been reduced in weight and newly styled. Many of the suede products are machine washable.

One of its most popular uses for fall is in combination with woolknit sweaters where it often forms the front and back of a sweater or is used as trim on pockets, collars, cuffs and as buttons.

HERE IS A rundown by the Leather Industries of America on some of the biggest uses of leather:

LEATHER GARMENTS — Casual jackets in suede or smooth leather, sometimes in combination with knit. There is a well-tailored deep brown suede jacket with natural shoulders and a slight suggestion of body tracing. A pale tan jacket is as machine washable as a shirt.

For more casual wear there is a five-button smooth leather jacket with rib knit collar, cuffs and back waist. One variation is a pullover with suede front and back with knit side panels and sleeves in a diamond pattern—olive suede or varying shades of green.

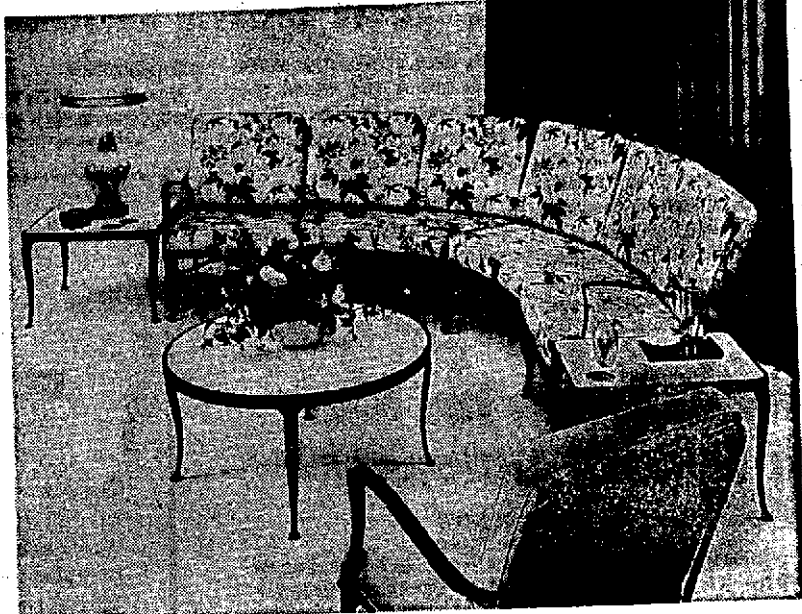

OUTDOOR COATS range from a 39-inch long cabretta leather topcoat with flapped hacking pockets to a midway length (32-inch) suede alpaca-lined parka with a hood that unbuttons. A suburban suede coat has button down flap pockets, a zipout pile lining and a button-off pile collar.

Leather also turns up in ski and after-ski wear. One ski parka is 34-inch length, lined in alpaca and with removable hood. One is a suede waist length Bavarian-style cardigan with knit jacquard trim in snowflake design on edges and crew collar.

SHOES — The rugged "beefy" look of the heavy brogue is back but the leathers are much lighter and some of the appearance is achieved through new methods of port hole perforations and larger wingtips. Many high gloss smooth leather dress shoes feature a sweeping line from tip to the high-riding trousers now being worn. Popular too are brushed leather boots, slippers with elastic gores, waxy leather hand-sewn moccasins and lightly grained leather oxfords with raised toplines.

JACKSONVILLE (AP)—Ray Terry, son of Hall of Famer Bill Terry, made it four in a row when he won the Timuquana's annual golf club title.

ALUMINUM COMES INDOORS

Long favored by many for outdoor furniture, aluminum comes to the living room now with this offering manufactured by the Brown-Jordan Co. of El Monte. Comfortable polyfoam cushions with zipper covers are attractively styled. Note the graceful scale followed in the mouldings and leg castings. Various baked enamel finishes are offered.

Boone Set for TV Experiment

By DICK KLEINER

NEW YORK (NEA)—Herc, right from the Boone's mouth, are the facts about next season's most intriguing television experiment, The Richard Boone Show.

In case you missed the announcements, this hour-long NBC show will be an anthology series with a difference.

The difference is that it will be acted by a repertory company—the same actors and actresses each week, in different roles.

"There are two advantages to a repertory company," Boone says. "The first is that we will have continuity of actors. I think the reason why television anthologies have so far not been as successful as ordinary series is that the public does not get to know and like the actors. On our series, they will, because they will see them every week."

"SECONDLY, we'll have more rehearsal time through this device. One week I may have a small part—I'll only be on camera for one scene that takes one day to shoot. The rest of that week I can be rehearsing for a bigger part the next week.

"On most shows, the actors get one day of rehearsal. This way, we'll get four or five."

Boone says he's been "fiddling" with this idea for four years, and "trying to sell it" for three. CBS turned it down, but NBC said yes quickly.

He has already assembled 11 of the 14 performers he wants for his company. He used two criteria for picking them—the range of parts they could play and "their emotional capability." He auditioned 2,800, found 300 who were qualified, settled on 11, with three to go.

MEN, BE ON YOUR GUARD!

Women Are Urged to Revolt and Make Pop Do More Work

EDITOR'S NOTE—You may be treated like kings on Father's Day but perhaps you had better be on the alert. Vivian Brown, well known Associated Press writer, declares in the following story how women should cut doing a lot of jobs around the home.

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

It's time to put the men back at the plow, and turn in your work permits, ladies.

A frustrating aspect of a home is that there are chores. But fewer and fewer men are doing them, as more and more women take on man-sized jobs—painting, plastering, building, plowing.

Modern machinery that makes these tasks easier has put women in overalls and on tractors as they thrived on compliments.

But flattery has gotten her no place as she labors in the sun or damp cellar, while the man of the house is fishing, golfing or lounging in the hammock.

How to get the man back to the work bench?

You can take either a positive or negative approach. Confront him with situations that can be solved only by his manly skill or affront his intelligence so that it hurts.

WASH THOSE logarithms right out of your head, and forget you ever knew how to compute the lumber needed for that screened-in porch. Take your bows on the strawberry mousse.

Try to maintain his growing suspicions that you are not as bright as he thought you were. Dangerous, maybe. Could be the house will blow up, if he allows you to continue to repair the water pump.

When the time comes to remove the wallpaper at the stairwell, balance the ladder precariously, and leave it there teetering, until he returns from work. Look hurt when he asks if you've lost your mind.

And when you're out on the mower-tractor-plow that he generously bought you for your birthday, mow down a patch of the asparagus bed or the bee balm he's saving for his favorite birds. It should make a quick incision, worth the pocketbook loss.

WHEN HE'S invited the boss for dinner, neglect the front lawn. He may mow it in self-defense, especially when you tell him that it's the lawn or the dinner as far as you are concerned.

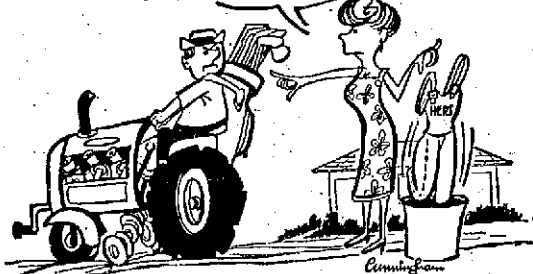

A pile of leaves left in the yard can cut him to the quick, but he'll move them before his guest arrives.

You can win a lot of points by becoming a sloppy painter, splashing it on fishing rods, golf clubs, tennis rackets, until he finally says, "look, I'll do all the painting around here."

Wait until he's rented the floor scraper for the weekend to tell him that your bursitis is kicking up. He'll either take over or see the money go down the drain.

Dizzy spells come in handy

NO MORE GOLF UNTIL YOU FINISH YOUR CHORES!

when it's time to wash the windows.

WHEN THE faucet leaks, take it apart then tell him you don't know how to put it back.

Give him the king-size superlatives when he does a job, and reward him with an unforgettable meal, adding "that it's so nice to have time to whip up something good."

Any subterfuge you may use in accomplishing Project: Man-at-work is permitted. Doctors advise that men need more exercise, and it should be the duty of every good housewife to provide it. Even if she must create the situations that will encourage him to leave his favorite chair.

Fashionable Wear Good Surprise Gift

Most Dads buy clothes for comfort and long wear. Too often they stay away from high fashion.

Science and modern design have now made it possible for Dad to look right and feel right during the warm weather months ahead in well cut smartly colored suits, shirts, ties, and furnishings.

Here are some tips that will help in the selection of gifts of wearables that will delight Dads on their day in June:

The "tall look" is the theme in suits. Slim, trim, uncluttered masculine lines enhanced by stripes and other vertical effects set the trend in the new summer suits.

THE COLORS range from medium to dark and one of the leading shades is navy blue—flattering to men of all complexions. Also very smart are the olive blends—some mixed with blues, others with soft tans or grays.

As far as fabrics are concerned, the choice ranges from luxurious blends of mohair or silk with worsteds, through blends of worsted with man-made fibers, to some rather miraculous constructions of man-made fibers that permit the suits to be put through the entire cycle of a washer-dryer and emerge pressed and ready to wear.

All of the same characteristics are available in sport jackets, too. Ranging from pure Tussah silks through the entire cycle of a washer-dryer and emerge ready to wear.

SIZZLING GOOD

An important family activity has officially achieved national recognition. June has been declared National Barbecue Month. And what could be more taste tempting than Sizzling Spareribs. French bread, sliced tomatoes with onion rings, the vegetable of your choice and coffee will round out your menu.—(National Barbecue Month Council photo.)

Personality Shows in Way Man Cooks

By MILDRED K. FLANARY
I.F.T. Food Editor

A man's personality strongly influences his cooking style.

According to a nationwide survey conducted by the National Barbecue Month Council, there are four main categories of outdoor chefs.

Some men are completely in one group while others, more complex, have cooking styles that fall in or out of several categories. See if you can recognize the man of your choice in any of these four categories:

The PRIMITIVE — he will have none of your modern, chromim-plated, automatic outdoor grills. A simple fire within a pile of rocks is good enough for him.

ANOTHER type is the OLD PRO—a peerless performer at the pit. His steaks, done to a turn, bear little flags reading "rare," "medium," and "well-done," according to his guests order.

The GOURMET CHEF—is the proud possessor of an outdoor grill that is roughly the size of the Chavez Ravine. It consists of two Dutch ovens (one just for warming), a special broiler, an automatic rotisserie, as well as a deep pit where he can bake clams or lobster wrapped in seaweed, when the occasion demands. The GOURMET never gives a simple Cook-Out.

BUT BARBECUING would be a lost art if it weren't for the final type—THE GOOD JOE—who puts in a hard Saturday mowing the lawn, or putting new bottom paint on the boat—then takes over at the grill in the early evening. This is the man who knows outdoor cookery is a family affair, who really enjoys a cookout — with whatever equipment might be handy, and whatever meat, be it ground meat, frankfurters, steaks or spareribs in the refrigerator.

Today, the "chef" has chosen to sizzle some spareribs.

Grooming Aids Good for Gifts

There are all manner of things which a man enjoys receiving but which he never thinks to buy for himself. Most of the time he says, "I don't really need it."

But every man appreciates good grooming aids... even when he won't admit it. Today, there is such a wide selection on the market that it is easy to find the exactly right one.

There are all manner of items to help a man become more handsome. Besides aftershave lotion, cologne and shaving creams, there are sticks, special men's deodorants, hair dressings (not sticky like the old fashioned ones), special talcums and all types of colognes—to be purchased individually or in specially selected gift kits.

quet, combine all ingredients; blend well. Store in covered jar in refrigerator. Shake before using. Makes from 3/4 to 1 cup sauce. Don't hurry the ribs—they'll require 45 minutes to an hour to get cooked through.

Give Dad Some New Tools and He'll Get Those Repairs Made

Say, Mom, do you complain about Dad not doing minor bits of repairing around the home? If you do, maybe now is the time to do something about it.

Most men are do-it-yourself at heart. They are confident they can put up the garage shelf you want, fix the hinges on the gate, build a flower box or put in some concrete to extend the patio.

But, maybe Pop doesn't have the tools.

So a set of tools would make an ideal gift for Father's Day and maybe you can get those home repair jobs completed.

Dad's workshop may be an elaborate set-up geared to meet the needs of a country home, or it may be merely a tinker's kit keyed to the occasional needs of an apartment dweller. In either case, there are new tools and replacements for old tools that are sure to please him.

Check on his "basics." Does he have a good set of screw drivers, a well sharpened saw, a jack plane, a butt plane, an axe, a good level, a sturdy one-pound hammer?

HOW ABOUT a good miter box and hack saw, a good variety of pliers, chisels, wrenches and mallets?

Now that you have taken an inventory of his hand tools, what can he use to good advantage in power equipment?

Beginning with the basic quarter-inch power drill, there are a host of attachments for that tool that can saw, sand, polish, mix paint and drive screws. Power saws speed up carpentry jobs in addition to making clean and accurate cuts. Routers perform any number of tasks including decorative work and grooving.

There apparently is no end to the jobs that can be done by radial saws. They crosscut, rip, miter, bevel, plane, sand, sharpen, groove, cut special moulding shapes and can be made to joint, mortise and shape.

TABLE SAWS perform many of those tasks and some can also be converted into drill presses as well.

Several types of tin snips, ballpeen hammers, a good vise, an assortment of files and some good soldering tools will be of great help in working tin and other metals, while electric sanders take a lot of the enervating arm work out of woodworking projects.

Completely built, ready to install work benches for the home handyman are available in suburban lumber and hardware stores. These are equipped with vises and power outlets.

BOOKS ON woodworking, carpentry, metalworking and other homecrafts also make fine gifts.

Drawing equipment, oil paints, water colors, brushes, easels, palets, palette-knives, canvas and canvas boards—all make fine gifts for the part-time artists.

Model builders go for the kits that produce ships, motor cars, airplanes and any number of things not the least of which are miniature railroads.

The many, many other hobbies include hi-fi, "ham" radios and, of course, outdoor cookery.

TROPICAL SLACKS

These Haggar wash-and-wear tropical slacks will keep Dad cool and comfortable. They are all pre-cuffed in a size that will fit him. See them at Levins, 316 Pine Ave.

Good Samaritan Spoils His Fun

SAUSALITO, Calif. (AP)—Air Force T. Sgt. Oliver B. Cleavenger, 35, found an isolated beach fishing spot off Ft. Baker, reached by a 100-foot rope tied to a tree. Someone saw him dangling and called rescuers. Spoiled his day's fishing.

'SNO SECRET

Despite finger to lips, it's no secret that Mitzi Gaynor, a current cutie, is a shot in the arm for the lagging night club business. The leggy lass is packing 'em into clubs right across the country—and no wonder.

Maybe Dad Would Like to Pick Gift

While it may seem to lack the personal touch, a gift certificate might be the best answer for a Father's Day gift.

Most men have certain ideas on tools, clothing and even auto accessories they would like, yet they never reveal such things to the family. And, while they may seem to appreciate deeply such gifts as home furnishings, neckties and socks, the real spark of pleasure might come if they could select their own gift.

A gift certificate gives just such pleasure. Family members might give him a certificate from a major department store. And they might be surprised at which department he visits when he uses the certificate.

So unless you are certain what the man of your home would desire, give a big thought to a gift certificate.

SHE'LL SELECT LUCKY DADS

A "Mystery Shopper," shown here with her back to the camera, will circulate through stores in Lakewood Center to select 50 fathers who will be guests of the Lakewood Center Businessmen's Association for dinner and then a trip to a Dodgers baseball game. Shown with the mystery woman are Vic Manzo, chairman of the promotion, and Mary Beth Chace.

There is a big night ahead for some 50 fathers in this area!

They will be guests of the Lakewood Center Businessmen's Association July 2 at the Dodgers-St. Louis Cardinals baseball game in Dodger Stadium.

They also will be provided with a free dinner and free bus transportation to the game.

* * * *

INCLUDED in the group will be William J. Brockmann, 17123 S. Ardmore Ave., Bellflower, the winner of the annual Father of the Year Contest sponsored by the Independent, Press-Telegram.

The other guests will be selected by a mystery shopper who will circulate in the stores in Lakewood Center Thursday and Friday evenings, June 13 and 14 and during the day Saturday, June 15.

Vic Manzo, manager of C. H. Baker Shoes in Lakewood Center, is chairman of the promotion.

CLASSIC COOLNESS

Luxurious Oxford cloth is now offered in a light batiste weave that will go through the hottest day in airy comfort. This new Arrow Gordon Dover Club shirt has authentic Ivy styling with a softly rolled button-down collar. It will be found in Phil Hahn Men's Wear, 5211 E. Second St.

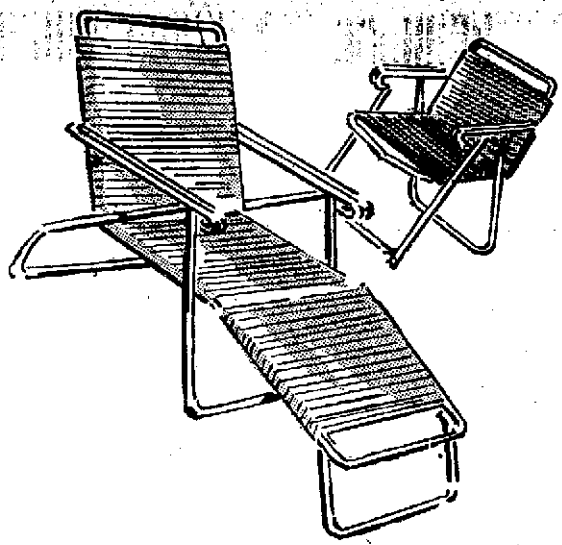

Most Men Like to Fish

Young or old, most men are fishing enthusiasts.

So sporting goods or department stores will provide an ideal place to shop for a Father's Day gift.

The finest of rods, reels and other tackle are being shown now at moderately low prices compared to past years. Perhaps a new tackle box would be appreciated. Or, boots, hat and other wearing apparel are needed.

Long Beach sportfishing landings also provide tickets for future trips which would make a great gift for any Dad who goes deepsea fishing.

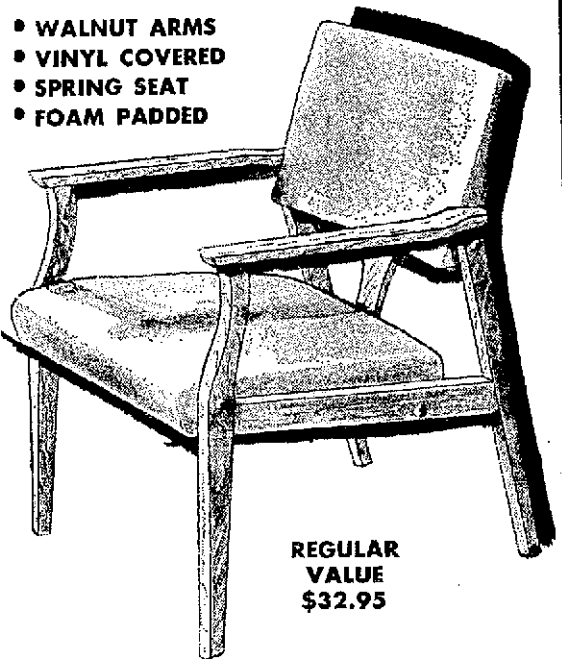

This five-position aluminum folding chaise with ram's horn arms and non-tip legs would be a gift that Dad and the family will enjoy in the patio. It is 73 inches long and comes with white and turquoise or black and white cording. Offered at Newberrys, 433 Pine Ave.

FATHER'S DAY —

Mom, Let Dad Enjoy Patio

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Time was when we were all happy to get outdoors in summer. But now that we LIVE out there, we have our doubts, what with fence-to-fence lawn, fancy furniture, exotic plants, artistic lighting, barbecue equipment that is an engineering production. Some homes have art on the terrace walls.

Everything is getting too precious.

A wonderful stage has been set. But the family wants to know: when does the play begin.

Nobody enjoys the rules and regulations.

DAD IS ACCUSED of running the lawn mower into the new patio furniture, and nicking it. The kids are told to take off their shoes when they walk on the grass. There is barbecue grease on the patio walk, charcoal ashes on the deck, and shame on the thoughtless person who put his feet on the new chaise lounge cushions.

C'mon now, let's enjoy the summer.

Trees are for little boys to climb. And if you can't play baseball in your own backyard, well, now! But Mom worries about those glass hurricane lamps, clay strawberry barrels and her prized dahlias.

The Junior set has been fast losing ground anyway to parents' projects. How can we have slides and swings when we need a pretty lawn for croquet, asks Mom, who has just become an expert on crab grass removal.

IF THE MAN of the house says he'll be 'dandelioned' before he'll lie in the broiling sun and clip the grass around the trees with manicure scissors, he's got a point. Visitors will never notice the difference, unless they're midgets.

The trouble with the new fancy outdoor diggin's is not so much that there is no diggin' allowed, but rather that the family just doesn't dig the rules.

Everybody must be prepared to take his post when a dark cloud appears.

Perish the thought, but happens—everything must be moved into the garage until the shower is over. How many times can one do this with vigor during a rainy spell?

Let's get a new perspective on our outdoor living, and live it up. If the cushions aren't waterproof, and dirt-proofed, we're sorry, Mom. And if your outdoor furniture can't take it, for shame, you're not a good shopper. Breakable gear doesn't belong outdoors with the elements. And if you insist on taking a facsimile of the kitchen stove into the yard, you had better make a slip-cover for it, or suffer the consequences.

We don't mind tiptoeing through the tulips that you've placed in the entrance path, and putting raincoats over the boxwood when it storms, but couldn't we please use the swimming pool if we promise not to get the water too dirty?

Sport Wear Appreciated by Fathers

Just because he is the working head of the household, don't think that your Dad is no longer young at heart.

Maybe he seems to you to be wearing drab clothing all of the time and seems content with his lot. But inwardly, he is just about as "sporty" at heart as today's teen-ager.

Give him the chance and he will prove it to you!

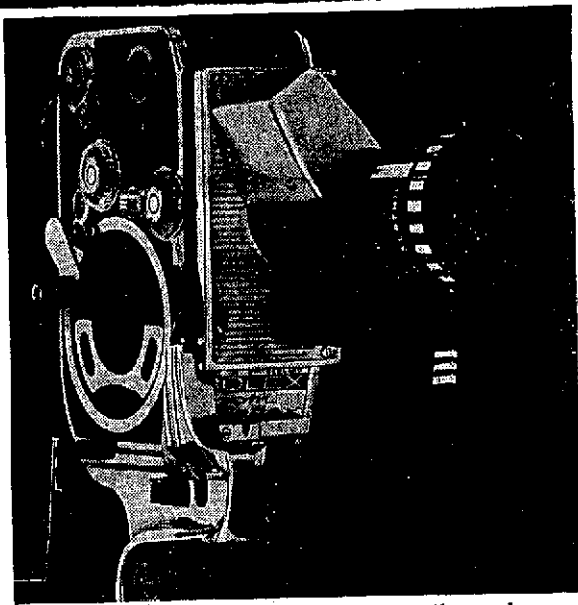

If you plan to give him a shirt for Father's Day don't make it an ordinary white or pale color. Try him with a sporty check of gay colors. Or, the newest in knit wear.

The same goes for neckties and hose. These are gifts you can supply without pondering over the size.

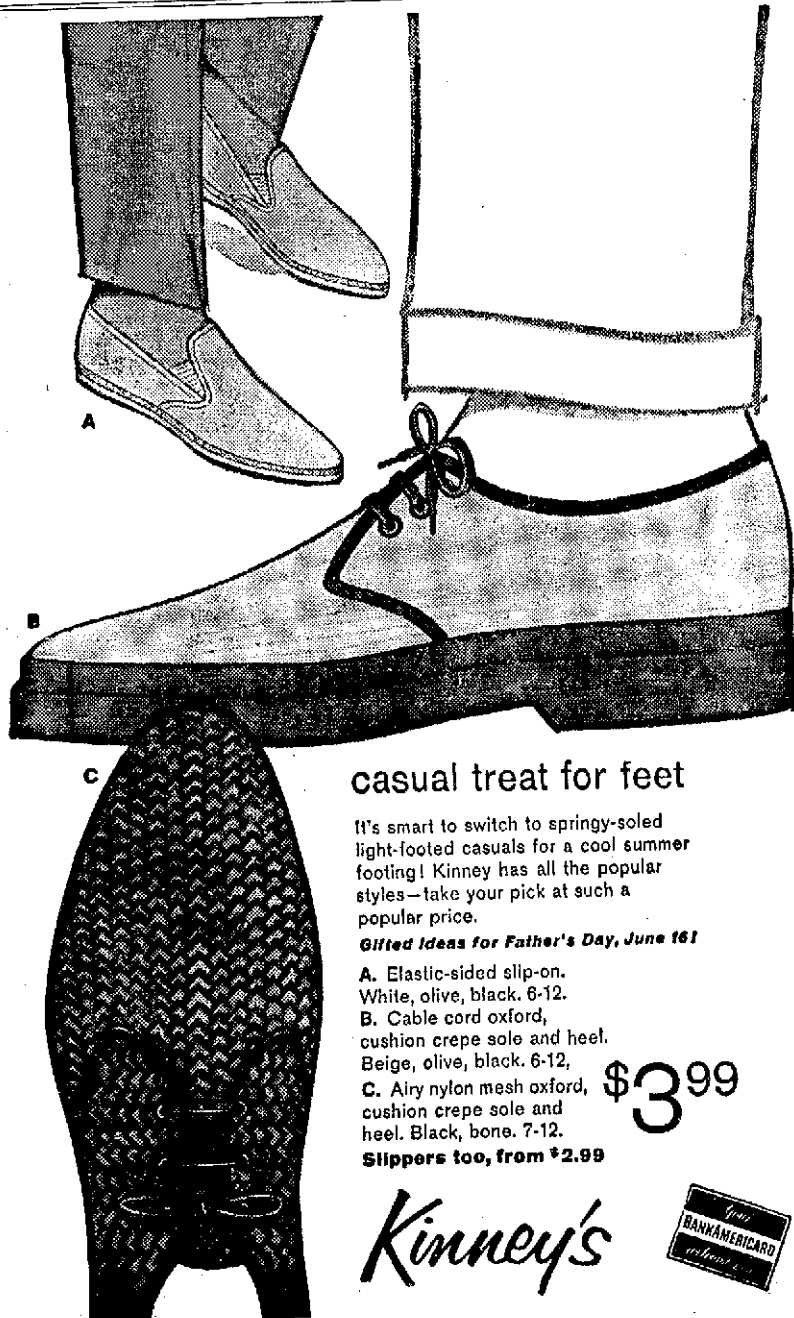

Sportswear is one way you can show Dad that you still feel he is young at heart.

Fish Tip

Always wipe fish dry before broiling it; this method helps the fish to brown.

Dad or any other member of your family can be a great cameraman with this Bolex Zoom Reflex 8. It is easy to control the zoom for closeups to telephoto distance. You won't miss a shot for exposure is measured under all light conditions. This Father's Day gift suggestion will be found at Winsteads Los Altos or their downtown store.

Raid Seen on L.B. School Fund

By JIM McCAULEY
L.P.T. Sacramento Bureau

SACRAMENTO—Amendments were tacked at the last moment on two major Assembly school-finance bills which drastically will slash state school aid to Long Beach and other areas receiving federal funds as compensation for tax-free U.S. government installations in the area.

Dr. Francis Laufenberg, Long Beach Unified School District budget director, estimated the action could cost the district $1 million a year.

The Long Beach district is to receive $1.3 million in federal funds the next budget year because of tax-free federal property in the district.

Congress has been voting such "impacted-area" aid on the theory that if private industry were there instead of government installations, the property would be yielding local tax revenue and because the district bears the burden of educating children of government personnel.

But under amendments to two state-school-aid bills OK'd by a subcommittee headed by Assemblyman Gordon H. Winton, D-Merced, 80 percent of federal impacted-area funds would be deducted when the state figures the allowance of a district for state school aid.

Laufenberg said the Winton subcommittee amendments were added quietly to state-school-aid bills pending before the Assembly Ways and Means Committee at its final hearing last week.

"There was no debate nor opportunity given for testimony," said Dr. Laufenberg.

However, there had been some discussion about raiding the fund by a 1961-session interim committee.

Laufenberg said $1 million in state-school-aid cuts would be equivalent to an additional 12-cent tax load on Long Beach school district property owners.

Laufenberg said San Diego, Oakland, San Francisco and other areas that would be hard-hit by the Winton subcommittee amendments have been alerted.

Two state-school-aid bills, one by Assemblyman Robert Crown, D-Oakland, the other by Assemblyman Charles Garrigus, D-Fresno, will come up for a full Assembly vote this week.

Laufenberg said the raid on federal funds in Long Beach and other communities now educating children of federal employees could realize an additional $25 million for the state.

"I think the amendments probably were added because there was so much pressure from Beverly Hills and elsewhere against a previously proposed $25-million, countywide, school-tax-equalization provision," he said.

Normally, all sides get a chance to testify concerning any pending legislation for major policy change.

"I think the amendments were tacked on at the last moment without discussion because the sponsors knew what a furor it would cause," declared Laufenberg.

KATIE HARRISON... Brought Her Megaphone

Katie Harrison's Here! Her Big Party's Tonight

By ANDY PARK

Fighting Katie Harrison jetted back to Long Beach Friday for a week-long visit with thousands of friends, former students, admirers and well-wishers.

She left her tennis shoes at the airport in Bourbon, Mo. "because they were over the 40-pound limit," but the Saturday afternoon agenda was juggled to allow a visit to a local department store to get the 75-year-old former Wilson High School journalism teacher a new pair.

She did bring her 1930 megaphone, a gift of Desmond's, to "whip up a little pep at the party."

In case you are one of the seven or eight persons in the Long Beach area who do not remember Katie Harrison, you should know that the pert teacher was there when they opened the doors of Woodrow Wilson High School, taught journalism there for 25 years before retiring in 1951, won 17 All-American awards for her school yearbook, the "Campanile" and single-handedly led the cheering section at virtually every

Wilson athletic event for a quarter century.

Katie — Miss Kathryn Harrison — managed to find time during those years to endear herself to countless numbers of Wilson youngsters who looked upon her as a combination foster mother, father confessor, "pal-of-a-gal" and top-flight teacher—all rolled into one.

Katie stayed around Long Beach for five years after she retired at the age of 62, but then she decided to return to her home in Bourbon. At that stage, "Fighting Katie" became "Letter-writing Katie" and the annual Christmas letters—some 500 of them—began to pour forth to former students and friends all over the world.

Distance made the heart downright lonesome, and Frank Marshall, Morris Hayter and a group of Wilson students of the '30s decided to send for Katie and get her back on home grounds for a visit.

The idea mushroomed and more than 600 alumni chipped in for tickets to a gala to be held in the Petroleum Club

BILL ON OIL REVENUE FLAYED BY COUNCIL

Integration Showdown Nears

ALABAMA, U.S. ARMIES MOVE

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (UPI)—The federal government and Gov. George C. Wallace moved their respective armies into position Saturday for a showdown Tuesday over the court-ordered desegregation of the University of Alabama.

Wallace already has 825 armed state troopers, conservation officers and deputy sheriffs on the campus and a high-ranking officer in the Alabama National Guard said another 600 National Guardsmen would be moved into Ft. Brandon, about a half mile from the school, today on orders from Wallace.

The Army wasn't discussing its preparations, or even confirming any were being made, but there were reports of military movements at several points in the South.

In the Birmingham crisis, President Kennedy ordered 3,000 troops into the vicinity of the city, and 2,000 of these soldiers still are on Alabama soil.

At Foster Auditorium, the building where Negro students Vivian Malone and James A. Hood will attempt to register Tuesday, state officials literally drew the line where Wallace apparently will make his "stand in the schoolhouse door."

The line, a half circle about 10 feet across, was painted Saturday in front of the main entrance by state workers. A second such line was painted in front of an alternate entrance, apparently in the event the Negroes do not use the main door.

Late Saturday afternoon

United Press Movietone and the American Broadcasting Company (ABC) were advised by state authorities that they would have to give up an apartment they had rented near the campus and converted into a news center.

Similar orders reportedly were given to other networks and picture agencies.

Four troopers, one wearing a helmet and all of them armed, entered the UP-ABC apartment, showed

Drilling Ban Seen Possible

By GEORGE WEEKS

In a strongly worded policy declaration, the Long Beach City Council Saturday denounced a legislative bill designed to strip the city of its tidelands revenues.

It then ordered a review of city-state relationships on tideland matters and of plans for expanding development of the tideland oil field.

At conclusion of a 65-minute special session, the council by a 5-2 vote adopted the 1,100-word protest aimed directly at the Dolwig bill, which passed the Senate Thursday.

IT WAS a twofold counterattack, directed against both the attempt to take 100 percent of the tideland revenues for the state treasury, and Section 3 of the bill transferring oil-contract authority from the city to the state.

If the bill becomes law, "the City of Long Beach will have no recourse but to do all in its power to prevent such uncontrolled oil development within the city limits," the statement declared.

SPECIFIC measures that may be taken, as well as the whole question of city-state relationships, were referred to the council's Oil Committee for review.

In view of predictions that an Assembly committee will refer the bill to a joint legislative group for a two-year study, the council withheld more specific action.

But Chairman Raymond C. Kealer of the Oil Committee, who presented the statement, left no doubt that these actions could include withdrawal of the

FROM CANADA'S FORESTS TO SOUTHLAND BREAKFAST TABLE

Newsprint Today Modern Miracle in Old Art

By LOU JORST
L.P.T. Staff Writer

OCEAN FALLS, British Columbia—The newspaper that hit your doorstep today is the end product of an industrial miracle as old as civilization and as up to date as the Space Age.

It begins here on the wooded slopes of Western Canada and ends as your eyes follow the printed word across this page.

In between it has touched the lives of tens of thousands of workers, ranging from wide-shouldered Canuck lumber jacks to ink-stained Long Beach pressmen, and is a daily reminder that people of different lands can work and prosper together.

IT IS the remarkable story of NEWSPRINT, a paper yarn that began with the splitting of papyrus reeds in Ancient Egypt and continues at this moment in wilderness outposts such as this fjord town of 3,000 men, women and children.

Ocean Falls, perched on the side of a snow-domed mountain in the cloud-shrouded Cousins Inlet 325 miles north of Vancouver, is one of 12 pulp and paper towns in British Columbia, Canada's leading forest industry province.

Accessible only by sea-plane and ship and drenched annually by more than 200 inches of rainfall and snow, Ocean Falls was founded in 1906. It is now a production center for Crown Zellerbach Canada, a U.S.-Canadian forest and paper products giant.

Located at the end of a 14 mile long manmade lake, the community is the home of six huge machines which each year produce nearly 200,000 tons of newsprint and kraft paper from wood pulp.

This is enough paper to feed the presses of the I, P-T which prints about 163,000 newspapers daily, for almost a decade.

These highly intricate machines are each about a half-city block long and run 24 hours a day, producing thousands of feet of newsprint per hour at speeds of 30 miles per hour.

Logs of pine, cedar, spruce, hemlock, balsam and fir are cut from vast forest stands in the Queen Charlotte Islands and barged or towed to Ocean Falls where they are ground into pulp for feeding into the machines.

Crown-Zellerbach produces about 550,000 units of pulp chips a year and one mountainous stockpile at the CZ Elks Falls paper plant is valued at more than $750,000.

While the company's 1,000 logging employees cut more than 450 million board feet of wood each year, the company has planted 15 million new trees on 25,200 acres of timberland since 1946.

"There are more trees growing in British Columbia today than when the forestry industry began," says Tom Hargreaves, manager of the $60 million Elk Falls plant.

Elk Falls—located at the mouth of the Campbell

River, famed for salmon fishing—is one of CZ's newest plants and is undergoing a $35 million expansion program.

Unlike isolated Ocean Falls, the newer plant has daily contact with the outside world and is adjacent to a modern city of 7,500 permanent residents. This population skyrockets to 20,000 persons during the summer.

However, the person who comes to Ocean Falls must be able to get along without the outside world for at least 11 months out of the year.

From the above compilation of taxpayer gifts to themselves, it is apparent why Congress hesitates to decrease such programs. The list does not include the recipients of state, county and local relief benefits. It is a reminder of the observation of Al Smith that "nobody wants to shoot Santa Claus."—I.A.C.

Why Is a Smokejumper? His Basic Training Will Make You Wonder

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another of a series of stories on forest fires and how they are fought. There will be others by Outdoor Editor Donnell Culpepper in weeks to come.)

By DONNELL CULPEPPER
1, FT Outdoor Editor

REDDING—A good fireman loves to fight fires. Hazardous though it is, firefighting units ranging from the community level to the United States Forest Service attract certain types of men.

Once they learn the art of fighting fires, they usually stay with the service.

Today, we are going to give you a close look at the smokejumpers, how they live, what they do and what manner of men choose such dangerous work for their occupation.

When you hear just how hard a smokejumper recruit has to work in his training period, you'll wonder why in thunder he ever volunteered.

It's just this: this young man, from 21 to 27 and no older, wants to jump from airplanes, he wants to fight fires, he wants to be a part of the USFS.

Otherwise, he wouldn't be taking 120 hours of basic training at $2.19 per hour, then paying back to Uncle Sam $1.10 for each meal and $10 per month for lodging.

HE'S DOING this because he likes it and he is not whining about a fellow student who wants $150 per week as a starting salary for putting his feet on a desk.

The only USFS smokejumper base in California is situated at the Redding Airport. The smokejumper idea started in Montana, although some previous work of that nature was done in the isolated areas of home Canadian provinces several years ago.

There is no immediate plan to establish such a base in Southern California although the fire hazard there is extreme. The regional USFS office in San Francisco drew up the original plan to train men already in the USFS in smoke-jumping.

THE IDEA caught on enough so that there were many volunteers for the first year. That was last season. And there's no doubt that there will be more than enough for this year's training.

Robert McDonald is the superintendent of the smokejumper unit at the Northern California Service Center (that's what the USFS calls this Redding Airport installation).

Two squad leaders serve under him and they have 25 smokejumpers on call after the training period, plus one master rigger for the parachutes.

HERE'S THE way a smokejumper trainee starts his day:

He arises at 5 a.m., dresses and reports for training without breakfast, without even a glass of water, for to take even a drink of water might cause him to become ill in the next three hours.

He takes a mile run just as a starter, does setups, push-ups, pullups, rope-climbs and stretches. He practices roll-overs and then takes on the tricky obstacle course, and, oh, brother, what a course it is!

NEXT COME practice let-downs, such as a man would have to make if he fell into a tall tree. Next there are exits in harness from a 40-foot tower and jumps from a mockup airplane.

Practicing spur climbing is a MUST because many fires are in timbered areas where three-top landings are not unusual and jumpers must learn how to get themselves and their parachutes down from the trees.

Learning how to operate chain saws, first-aid and radio training and all phases of fire behavior and fire control are incorporated in the 120 hours' work.

THEY GET a break at 8

Beauty Firms
Plan Merger

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Davis Factor, chairman of Max Factor & Co., and Edouard L. Courmand, president of Lanvin-Parfums, Inc., have confirmed the two companies had approved a letter of intent looking into a possible merger.

Under terms being negotiated there would be an exchange of MAX Factor stock to stockholders of Lanvin on a 1 to 2 basis. There would be no change in personnel.

JUMPERS ON the way down to fight fire in Shasta National Forest. "Smoke jumping" in the U.S. began in Montana, although some jumps to fight blazes were made in Canada several years earlier.

and wire-mesh helmet, can flash in the pan for the USFS, teen, ax, shovel etc.—about 100 pounds of it—then heads for the plane which already is warming up.

HE DRESSES in the airplane in case he is fortunate enough to get into the DC3 or the C46 where there is room to stand.

Once on a fire, he makes that $2.19 per hour as long as he is working, but he must subtract his time out for eating and sleeping.

Often it is necessary to pull out smokejumpers by helicopter, but the USFS insists that they first pack their equipment and walk out if possible after the fire is controlled.

This smokejumper bit is not

NEARING THE GROUND, jumpers will battle a small lightning-caused fire and will try to put out the blaze before it can grow in Shasta National Forest. Only U.S. Forest Service smokejumper base in California is at the Redding Airport.

IN THAT WAY the USFS has developed a well-rounded, well-trained fire-fighting man who is highly specialized and has foremanship skills. Perhaps he returns to the forest the next year in a far different capacity.

In this story I have mentioned "fire behavior" training. It is best explained in this manner: The trainees are given a three-day course, with the school divided into three parts, fire physics, meteorology and fire behavior.

The combustion process, heat transfer and energy yield compose the physics section; atmospheric factors, weather analysis and forecasting make up the meteorology.

Fire behavior concerns fuels, topography, weather and all kinds of fire problems.

THE USFS, with no budget for planes, other than the few at the Redding base, contracts for helicopters, tankers and the various other types of aircraft now being used.

The USFS, like the California Division of Forestry, is finding that such contracts mean less expense in the end. To maintain a complete fleet of planes is too expensive, even for a government like ours that goes for a hundred billion a year.

In all contracts with the private plane owners and pilots, the USFS has the same rigid requirements which must be met before a pilot takes a plane into the air to Actually a smokejumper usually goes through the first season doing just jumping, then takes the following training: 24 hours each of fire behavior, helicopter operations, air operations; 30 hours of instructor training, 30 hours of leadership training, and 30 hours of pumper training.

WORLD NEWS BRIEFS

British Doctor Jailed in Scandal

THIS INFORMAL GROUP in swim suits includes Dr. Stephen Ward, who was arrested in London Saturday, and three of the girls who have been involved in the scandal that has shaken the Conservative government of Britain. Christine Keeler (right) is the girl whose relationship with War Minister John Profumo triggered the scandal. Marily Rice-Davis (left) and Paula Hamilton-Marshall have been questioned in the case.

LONDON (UP)—A socialite osteopath claiming acquaintance with the royal family was arrested in the government's sex scandal Saturday night. He was accused of living off prostitutes' earnings.

Unable to make bail, Dr. Stephen Ward, 43, was held in jail for a hearing Monday. It was Ward who disclosed relations between ex-war minister John Profumo and Christine Keeler, pretty, 22-year-old red-head described in Parliament as a call girl.

That disclosure led to Profumo's resignation Wednesday and touched off the scandal that has shaken Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's conservative government and might imperil its future.

Ward, who says he has treated actress Elizabeth Taylor, former Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill and half the British cabinet, formally was charged with living off prostitution from Jan. 1, 1961 until Saturday. No names of prostitutes were mentioned in the charges.

Five Die as Rage Drives

SAN JOSE (UP)—A jealous husband's fury, driving him to sideswipe at 100 miles an hour a car carrying his wife and his boss, killed five people Saturday in the smashing wreck of four vehicles on the Nimitz Freeway.

Four others were injured. California Highway Patrol officers said Edward Sylvia, 26, the enraged husband, would be charged with felony manslaughter.

Sylvia was pulled from his burning pickup truck and apparently escaped major injury.

The dead: Mrs. Audrey Sylvia, 21, of Fremont, Calif., the wife; Donald W. Gordon, 41, of Fremont, manager of a ready-mix concrete plant in Newark, Calif., where Sylvia worked; David L. Danner, 31, of Fremont; Mrs. Helen B. Greene, 50, of Portland, Ore., Danner's mother-in-law, and Dean W. Cook, 24, of Fremont.

Sylvia said Gordon had made advances at Mrs. Sylvia at a party and he had become infuriated and chased them in his truck when they left the party.

Yacht Debris Found

MIAMI (UP)—A life preserver from the yacht Morning Star, missing since last Sunday with five unidentified persons aboard, was found Saturday near the Bahamas, the Coast Guard reported.

Baby Drowns in Pool at Lakewood Home

A two-year-old Lakewood boy drowned in his family's swimming pool Saturday.

The body of Ronald Tuey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Tuey, was discovered by his brother, Peter, 9, about 6:30 p.m. in the five-foot-deep pool in the backyard of the residence at 5841 Eastbrook Ave. He was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Helen's Hospital.

NOW IT'S 'SPECTACULAR'

New Name for Beauty Fete

In addition to a new format, a new executive director, a new playbill for the foreign girls and a new bathing suit for the new American girls, this year's IBC contest has a new name. It will now be called the Long Beach International Beauty Pageant SPECTACULAR, IBC president James Crocker, announced Saturday.

The word "Spectacular" was added to the name after the National Broadcasting Company, which will broadcast one hour of the contest on a nationwide network this year announced that it would be calling the production the Long Beach International Beauty Spectacular.

Executive director Wayne Dillard said he decided to keep the word "pageant" in the title to prevent confusion locally.

"This production has been known as a pageant for so long that we didn't want to make a radical change in the name all of a sudden," he said. "Besides, that is what it is going to be—a bigger and better pageant than we have ever had before."

Russia Asks U.N.

Meeting on Yemen
UNITED NATIONS (AP)—The Soviet Union asked Saturday for a meeting of the United Nations Security Council to discuss Yemen.

A U.N. spokesman said the meeting was likely to be Monday or Tuesday. The announcement came after Soviet Chief Delegate Nikolai T. Fedorenko called on the Secretary-General U Thant.

LOVELY WELCOMER

Desert's 'Miss Bikini' Now Miss Long Beach of 1963

By BOB SANDERS

Carol Soroka, one of Long Beach's loveliest lovelies, is giving up her bikini this year for a play suit.

The tall (5-foot, 5-inch) statuesque (37-21-35) brunette will give up the title of "Miss Bikini of 1962" which she won at Palm Springs last July within the next few weeks.

When she sheds her bikini title, however, it will not be altogether.

SHE WON the coveted title of "Miss Long Beach" this week over 15 other beauties in the annual contest sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Consequently, in addition to representing the city at myriad civic events during the year she will don the IBC play suit to act as official hostess of the International Beauty Pageant to welcome the contestants here Aug. 8.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Clemmer, the new Miss Long Beach (the title used to be Miss Welcome to Long Beach) is one of six children who lists her major interest as her family.

"THE BIG advantage of being from a big family," she says, "is that you are never alone. There is always someone to do things with. I really feel sorry for people who are the only child in their families. They miss so much."

At the full-blossoming age of 19, Carol is as industrious as she is beautiful.

She already has been working as a secretary to a Los Angeles manufacturing firm for more than a year, in addition to winning a series of beauty contests.

Fresh out of El Monte High School she took a job as a waitress at Lake Arrowhead in June of 1961 to save enough money to take a college business course.

After only one semester at Long Beach State College that fall, she had a freeway accident whiped out her car and, at the same time, her transportation to and from Long Beach State.

CAROL SOROKA ... LB's New Greeter

CAROL won the title "Miss Bikini of 1962" at Palm Springs with her statuesque 37-21-35.

Undaunted she took a job selling, of all things, men's underwear at Walker's Department Store, where Saturday she picked up the $300 wardrobe she won as Miss Long Beach, and went on to her secretary's job.

WHILE AT Lake Arrowhead, she says, she waited on movie actor Dan Duryea but denies that had any bearing on his helping, as one of the Junior Chamber of Commerce judges, to pick her for her new title.

"He didn't remember me at all," she says, although it's hard to believe he could forget.

Not too interested in an entertainment career because she and her fiancé, a lucky 31-year-old drafting engineer named Richard Lieb, plan to get married after her year as Miss Long Beach is over, the 110-pound beauty has sung with dance bands and taken lessons in modern dance.

ENDOWED with greenish-brown eyes, coal-black tresses and a classic profile, she has cultivated a quick bright smile and a deep suntan which she keeps in shape by lying in her backyard in the sun at every opportunity.

Asked how she felt about winning the Miss Long Beach title, she replied:

"It was really all luck, you know. If I had lived across the street I would have been a resident of Paramount and ineligible for the contest."

IN HAWAII AFTER SOUTHLAND STAY

JFK Calls for Tax Cut, Bias End

LOS ANGELES (AP)—President Kennedy pounded away politically Saturday for a tax cut and racial equality, and then flew off to Hawaii to take up the civil rights issue with the nation's mayors.

The President's blue-and-white jet airliner lifted off the runway at Los Angeles International Airport at 7:12 p.m. (PDT) for a five-hour flight to Honolulu.

Kennedy planned to discuss the touchy civil rights issue with Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana during the Pacific flight. The two are in the 50th state for a Kennedy talk and consultations with the national conference of mayors today.

Earlier, in an out-and-out political speech at the Hollywood Palladium, the President was wildly cheered by a group of Democratic women who paid $10 apiece to breakfast with him. Kennedy tied politics and the racial issue together in his speech.

He promised that "we are going to meet our responsibility in the 1960s to provide equality of opportunity, to give every child, regardless of his color, a fair chance."

And he said his proposed $10 billion tax cut is vital to prevent economic strangulation and a string of deeper and deeper recessions.

Later the President relaxed by the swimming pool at the Santa Monica home of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lawford.

The first sunny Saturday in weeks brought thousands to the beaches, and between 3,000 and 4,000 concentrated around the Lawfords' beachfront home, hoping the President would make a repeat performance of his famous swim there last September.

At that time more than 1,000 bathers — some with their clothes on — accompanied the President on a vigorous swim in the Pacific Ocean.

Guests at the Lawford home Saturday were mostly members of the White House staff, although Mr. and Mrs. David Niven joined them.

Souvenir Hunters Have Field Day

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Souvenir hunters descended upon the Hollywood Palladium after President Kennedy's breakfast with Democratic women Saturday and cleared off the breakfast table—taking even the president's untouched glass of orange juice.

One man, Ronald Lamont of Inglewood, Calif., leaped forward to seize the chair which the president had occupied and wouldn't let go until manager Sterling Way agreed to sell it to him. The price: $30.

their credentials and asked to see the setup.

After inspecting the quarters, the newsmen were advised they would have to move "a block farther down the street."

When the newsmen protested the apartment was outside the restricted zone, as outlined in an official June 7 university memorandum on news coverage, they were told that state highway patrol head Al Lingo was running the show and that his order "superseded" the early directives.

Lingo, who is in charge of all police officers on campus, explained that he and his men were on hand to "preserve the peace. But we won't escort them (the Negroes) around the campus," he said.

Presumably if the Negroes require protection it would be up to the federal government to provide it, as it did at Oxford for Negroes James Meredith and Cleve McDowell when they entered the University of Mississippi.

Meanwhile, Police Chief W. N. Marable said a man who had identified himself as an "American Nazi" had been told to leave Tuscaloosa. The chief said the man, whose name he did not know, came by the police station to ask for permission to demonstrate and was told to leave the city. Marable said the man departed.

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP)—State police arrested six white men Saturday night and confiscated a cache of weapons that included clubs, bayonets and pistols. Col. Albert Lingo, state public safety director, said the six were arrested near this university city where an integration showdown is scheduled Tuesday.

Lingo said the men had billy clubs, bayonets, baling hooks and six pistols.

They were charged with carrying weapons without permits. Lingo said all six were jailed immediately.

He identified them as Frank Herman Cash, 44; Arvil Cagle, 22; William Ross Keith, 34; Ellis Raymond Dismore, 56; Herbert Eugene Reeves, 33; and Gary Thomas Rowe Jr., 32. All live in the Birmingham area.

Lingo said the men did not say what they planned to do with the weapons.

(because we go out of our way for him)

Most people in this area can reach Community Savings within a few minutes. For this dedicated cyclist, it takes a little longer, but he feels it's worth his while for the extra services he gets. From exchange checks to safe deposit boxes, from drive-in teller windows to our Save 'n Travel Club, Community offers him many conveniences that go beyond our higher earnings policy. Not the least of these is our desire to be of help... and perhaps this is the major reason why he's willing to pedal farther. Over 34,000 savers now enjoy these benefits plus the financial security that goes with a Community account. Savings are insured with the F.S.L.I.C., an instrumentality of the United States Government. Community's conservative management policy and its 35 year earnings record are further protection for your funds. Another plus: Community is a part of Financial Federation Inc., with assets over one-half billion dollars. Consider these service and safety factors, then visit your nearest Community Savings office. Chances are you're only minutes away.

Council Still Can't Get Pay Hike, Opposition Less

By GEORGE WEEKS
 Long Beach voters have decided, for the third time within nine years, that a city councilman should serve for little more than token pay. But this time the electorate does appear to be moving toward an eventual increase of the $200 monthly salary allotted to the city's top policy-making officials.
 A charter amendment that would have raised pay to $400 a month failed at Tuesday's election by fewer than 1,200 votes. (The unofficial tally, subject to minor correction by the vote canvass, was 24,477 against, 23,319 for the raise.)
 In the two preceding show-downs on comparable proposals, the adverse majorities were 25,074 and 20,461. The last previous test, on a $400 salary plus a doubling of the mayor's expense allowance to $1,200 annually, went down, 69,263 to 44,189, on Nov. 6, 1936.
 A proposed boost to $500 for councilmen lost on Nov. 2, 1934, by 49,273 to 28,812.
 EVEN THE PRESENT pay level squeaked through by only a narrow majority when presented on Feb. 24, 1943, by the increase from the old salary of $50 went through by less than 2,000 votes — 23,610 to 21,568.
 Some observers attribute the outcome of Tuesday's charter vote to an inconsequential added item in the proposition — an increase in the fee for councilmen sitting as members of the Board of Equalization from $10 to $20 per meeting. The cost would have been nominal because Edwin W. Wade was an exception.
 "This definitely ought to be corrected," said the mayor. "In my opinion a pay raise should be submitted again — it's too early to say just when."
 The mayor is on record as favoring a pay scale substantially higher than any yet submitted to the electorate. His argument is that the salary should be consistent with the responsibilities of the office.
 NO OTHER councilman has gone that far. The consensus appeared to be that if the question is revived, it will suggest no more than a meager salary. To some extent, council members agree that they should be paid like a board of directors rather than as full-time executives. (Actually, the city management and his department heads are the executives.)
 But it still rankles that the 1948 salary level should be expected to compensate for duties and demands that have been enough.

Slate Free Film Series on Liberty

A Chamber of Commerce-sponsored series of free films, to be known as Long Beach Liberty Theater, will be shown weekly starting Monday.

The films include such titles as "The Structure of the American Way of Life," "A Look at Socialism," "A Look at Communism," "A Look at Capitalism," "The Profit System," and others.

The 12-week series will begin at 8 p.m. Monday and continue each Monday night at Alice M. Birney grammar school auditorium, Spring Street and Maine Avenue. The same program will be repeated Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Patrick Henry school auditorium, 3720 Canehilly Ave., starting June 11, and on Wednesdays, starting June 19, at the J. H. McGough school auditorium, Bolsa Avenue and Bay, Seal Beach, in cooperation with the Seal Beach Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The first films to be shown are "True Revolution," the first of a series of three produced by the California Free Enterprise Association, "Communist Imperialism," and a color cartoon, "Going Places."

Report by city manager on Assembly Bill 2223 relating to statewide activities in field of water pollution and water quality control.

Proposed amendments to municipal code to restrict city's participation in north side Orange Park Plaza and of Orange County activities between 27th Street and 29th Street, except at Adams Street and north city limits, except at Adams Street.

Proposed traffic signal modification and installation at Woodruff Avenue and Carson Street.

Authorization for Dr. F. D. Lirbach, city health officer, to attend hearings in Sacramento June 18-19 on pending health legislation.

More Sugar in U.S. Markets Than Last Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—American markets got 17 per cent more sugar in the first five months of this year than in the like period last year, an Agriculture Department report disclosed.

Deliveries by refiners, beet sugar processors, importers and sugar cane processors in the Florida-Louisiana producing area totaled 4,181,000 tons to June 1 compared with 3,574,000 tons in the corresponding period last year.

Officials said these delivery figures substantiate previous statements that there is no shortage of sugar in this country or cause for the earlier sharp price increases or for stockpiling in fear of shortages. Deliveries in May totaled 1,025,000 tons, by far the largest quantity sold in the market in any one month since last August.

tonight with enough left over to pay for a round-trip jet ride—her first—a week at the Breaker's International Hotel and a jam-packed schedule of individual and group reunions with old friends.

Katie packed up her megaphone—she used it to lead cheers—and her tennis shoes (the "heavy" ones that were left behind) and came back in style.

The party tonight is the highlight. Katie will be there, beginning at 4 p.m., "to say 'Hello' to everyone who wants to say 'Hello' to me." Then they will have dinner, a program featuring Katie as the speaker, and top off the evening by dancing to Glenn Miller and Hal Kemp records.

Katie will dance too—"if anybody asks me."

The first thing Monday morning, Katie will visit Wilson High. "But I don't know this new principal so I hope he won't mind an elderly lady strolling around with the kids."

The rest of the week, Katie will visit, tour, greet, and meet everyone "who'll speak to me."

If her first two days back in town are any indication, it'll take Katie Harrison an hour to walk half a block down Pine Ave. . . . even if she only acknowledges every other friend she meets.

Unruh Summons Assembly Into Special Sunday Session

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Speaker moved into what shaped up as a hectic final two weeks. Jesse M. Unruh summoned a special Sunday session of the California legislature to clear the decks of routine measures before the Tuesday deadline for the lower house to finish action on its own bills.

Democratic leaders had flown south to see President Kennedy Friday, and Unruh said that ruled out a Saturday meeting.

THE SENATE, which "stopped the clock" a full day past the Thursday deadline for passing its own bills, was in recess until Monday. It finished late Friday, and will go to work on hundreds of Assembly bills this week.

The legislature's busiest week of 1963 set the stage for showdowns on most of the major issues, still pending after five months.

On the Assembly floor awaiting votes were Gov. Brown's $3.25 billion state budget and his two key tax revision bills—a speedup in collection of bank and corporation taxes and withholding of personal income taxes.

THE ASSEMBLY Ways and Means Committee amended the big spending program for 1963-64 to require a simple majority instead of two-thirds of the members for passage.

That would speed it to the Senate, and to a two-house conference committee which will work out the final version.

Assembly Republicans, at least two of whose votes will be needed before a budget can be finally passed, have vowed to block the budget unless withholding is defeated.

The final version still will need two-thirds, since it must take effect at once to provide funds to operate California's government starting July 1.

city-controlled oil development in the East Long Beach field.

"If we decide to withdraw the application, we may do so at any time before the commission meets on June 27," Kealer said.

Long Beach Assemblyman Joseph M. Kennick, who flew here from Sacramento for the meeting, told the council, "I would strongly assume that the Dolwig bill will join the Winton bill (its Assembly counterpart) in a two-year study."

Kennick is chairman of the Assembly Committee on Manufacturing, Oil and Mining. His committee will meet at 3:45 p.m. Wednesday to consider the bill.

"Long Beach is coming out of the legislative session in moderately good shape," Kennick said. "I believe there will be unanimity in the committee for the interim study."

CITY ATTY. Gerald Desmond agreed with the legislator that the protest policy statement fairly expresses the city's position.

The only opposition came from Councilman Robert F. Crow and lame-duck Councilman Andrew Baird.

Crow objected to referring the city's countermeasures to the council's committee.

"We should take some type of action," he said. "Now is the time to come out in the open and discuss our position."

Baird asserted that the city's statement would "only aggravate them"—apparently meaning Long Beach opponents in the Senate.

"They are already aggravated to the point of taking our birthright away from us," Kealer retorted.

WHEN CROW mentioned criticism of Long Beach's handling of the trust funds and Southern California budget analyst, City Manager John R. Mansell flatly denied the charge.

"This has been reviewed by the city auditor, city attorney and others," Mansell said. "It is entirely false."

He described the Dolwig bill as "based on clay—misinformation and misleading the people of California."

Mansell said he favored a legislative interim study—but not as a compromise.

"It will give Long Beach a chance to tell its story," he said. "A previous interim committee, the Allen committee, commended the city after seven hearings. I hope and trust that when the new committee comes down here they will make the same findings."

CITY ATTY. Desmond reported that Sen. Richard Dolwig had promised to amend his bill on the Assembly side to remove the section placing in the state rather than the city the authority over tideland oil development contracts. Desmond noted, however, that the bill was passed by the Senate in its dual form, both as to the contract authority and the taking of all the oil revenues.

Under 1956 compromise legislation, 50 percent of tideland oil revenues now remain in Long Beach for city use restricted to specific trust purposes. The legislation came about as a result of the 1955 Mallon decision by the State Supreme Court holding that the city's authority over tideland oil development contracts, declared 50 percent of the oil funds and all the gas revenue surpluses to trust needs.

Ralston Impresses Stanford Alums

Stanford alumni, usually difficult people to please on the subject of their football coach and team, are busting their buttons with pride this weekend as a result of the Southland visit of a Cal alumnus.

The man from hated Berkeley is Stanford's new football coach, young John Ralston, who endeared himself to Long Beach citizens last January when he went out of his way to appear at the Century Club banquet in honor of another Cal man, Johnny Olszewski.

JOHN RALSTON
Hay on the Farm

Ralston visited Long Beach and Los Angeles this past week and before the old grads met John, one could hear only mutterings of "who is this young sprout?" and "why did we have to hire a Cal man?"

After they met Ralston, the alums' general opinion was an enthusiastic "I think we've got something here."

Ralston pulled no punches. He admitted he was unhappy with the Big Red's spring game performance, even though the underdogs tipped the Alums, 26-13.

"We didn't look like much," he declared. "We needed 20 more days of spring practice."

He startled many by insisting he had "no long range program at this minute." (Usually a new coach will inform his alumni that he needs three years to produce a winning club, principally to get himself off the hook for three years.) "I intend to shoot for as many wins as possible THIS season, with no plans to alibi for any defeat."

He then committed the mortal sin of pointing out that USC and Washington were "the class of the Coast," which everybody knows but few new coaches have the fortitude to admit.

"Those teams have the personnel, especially USC," continued Ralston. "It's up to me to try to develop similar personnel. It's my job, nobody else's."

A coach doesn't come much closer to placing his neck on the chopping block, but Ralston's forthright attitude immediately endeared him to the old guard... and that's not an easy assignment at Palo Alto.

HAS THE TRANSITION from Berkeley to Palo Alto been difficult for Ralston?

"Not at all," answered John. "I've got a few barbs from both sides here and there, but that was to be expected. In fact, last week I saw our old quarterback, Joe Kapp, in Canada and the first thing he asked me was about CAL's recruiting program. The first thing I said to him was 'I could care less.'"

Ralston, a noted recruiter while at Utah State, has resembled a traveling salesman since spring practice concluded. For example, last weekend he was in Washington and Canada. On Monday he returned to the Bay area, then roared into the Southland from Tuesday until Friday. He scooted right back to Palo Alto Friday—to talk to his boys.

"Some of the kids finish their final exams Friday and I want to talk with every single one of them before they leave on summer vacation," Ralston explained. "I want to point out their mistakes, explain what they can do to correct them and instill some confidence in the shy boys. I'll talk to 75 boys about 30 minutes each. It'll take a lot of time, but I think it's extremely important."

RALSTON ENCOUNTERED an "interesting" situation when he assembled his candidates for spring practice: His three best backs were quarterbacks! He solved that "problem" at once by shifting Steve Thurlow and Dick Ragsdale to halfbacks so that they could perform in the same backfield with No. 1 quarterback Clark Weaver.

"It doesn't make sense to have a third string quarterback when I can have a first string halfback," he reasoned with strategy that might make Walt Alston blush.

In the personnel department, he named two area youngsters as "outstanding"—fullback Glenn Myers of Banning and tackle Bob Nichols from Narbonne. He had this to add on personnel:

"We were late on the job of recruiting, but the hay's not in the barn yet. We've still got our eyes on about five prospects USC hasn't grabbed... including a dandy from Long Beach."

OTHER RALSTON QUOTES:

"Our schedule is filled through 1970. No dates are available until 1971!"

"I spent a lot of time with Jack Curtice. He helped me a lot in breaking-in and taking over his job. He's a great guy."

"When I was at Cal, I didn't believe it was tougher to get into Stanford, despite all the talk. Boy, I sure know the difference now."

No wonder the Stanford alums love Ralston. He's slapping that hay in the barn as if he resided on the Farm all his life!

Cleveland's Kralick Bad News for Nats Again, 6-1

FANS BENEFIT, BUT PLAYERS SLIGHTED

Wagner Blasts Dodger Stadium

By ROSS NEWMAN
Leon Wagner has pretty much decided on the course his life will follow once his league career is over. Daddy Wage will be a consultant to ballpark architects.

"They spend millions of dollars on these new parks and they're designed only for the comfort of the fans," moaned Wagner. "They don't take into consideration the ballplayers and we're the ones who bring in the money."

Wagner spoke while gazing at the broad expanse of multi-colored Dodger Stadium seats early Saturday afternoon.

A few hours later he jogged out to left field to again fight the battle of self-preservation with that piece of leather which has become so famous, or should we say infamous.

As bright lights of the towering standards were turned on, Wagner squinted through the glare and again cursed Walter O'Malley.

"If it's the last thing I do I'm going to get glasses on that guy when he's in the field," said manager Bill Rigney Friday night after watching Wagner search for a Bob Allison single which turned into a double and opened a two-run Minnesota rally.

But Wagner didn't have his glasses on as Danny Osnicki hurled the first pitch Saturday.

"I want to wear them," said Wagner "but I've got to have the strength cut down. I know they'll make me a better fielder, but you know, man, I don't mind being called a terrible fielder in this park."

On a recent visit to Dodger Stadium, Chicago's stellar sophomore Floyd Robinson confided: "This park is impossible. I just cross my fingers when I'm in the outfield."

"Man, it's not the colors," said Wagner. "It's the glare from the lights. By the time the ball comes out of the lights it's right on top of me."

Wagner's partners in the Angels' outer defense, Albie Pearson and George Thomas, were asked if they agreed with Daddy Wage; George offered half-support while Albie offered some paternal advice.

"During day games the color of the seats mix with the white shirts to make it plenty rough," said Pearson, the leading candidate for the All-Star centerfield berth.

"But at night the lights and background are perfect."

"What Wagner must do is watch how the bat hits the ball and then go after it by the sound. It's better to hesitate than go off on a wild search as soon as the ball is hit."

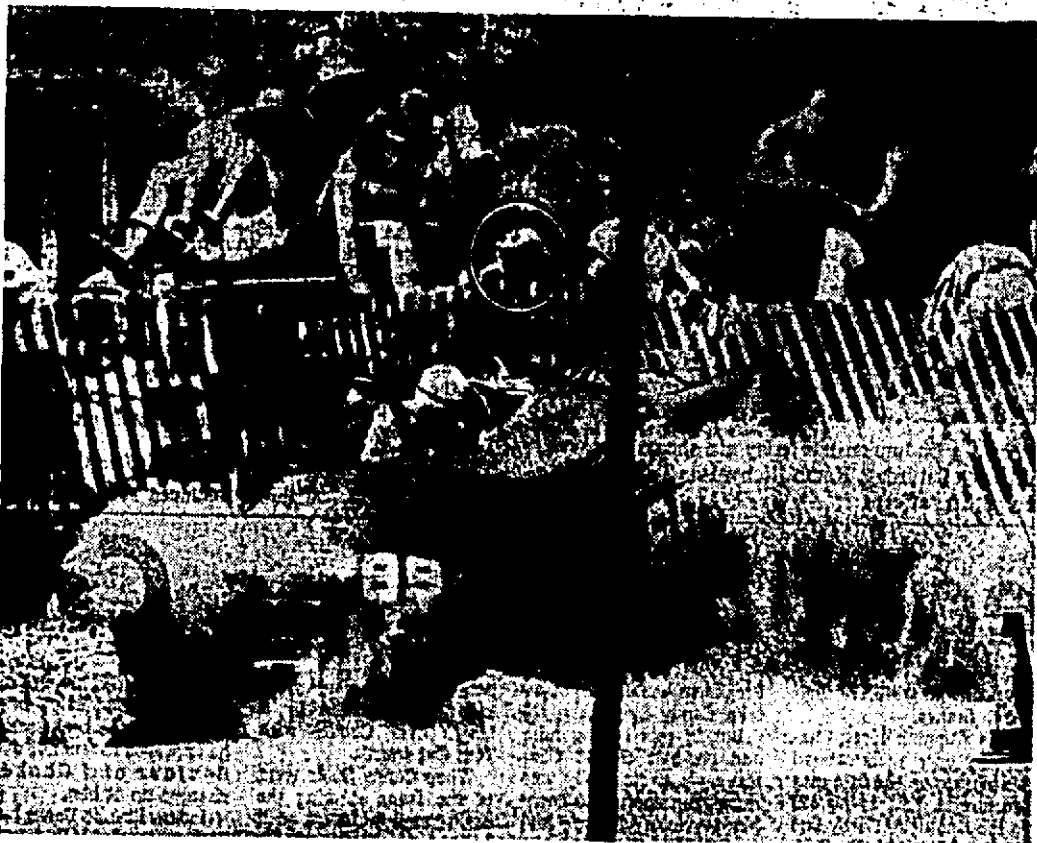

the lower levels and the yellow at the top.

"I find it especially tough when I'm playing rightfield following a line drive hit to left center, and I'm sure Leon has the same problem. The ball stays along the yellow and it's impossible to pick out."

"I don't have too much problem with the lights and I think that if you play the outfield regularly here you should in time be able to lick all the problems."

You don't suppose that optometrist could fit a pair of rose-colored glasses for Daddy Wage?

Tiger Power Rips Yanks Again, 8-4

DETROIT (UPI)—Norm Cash and Rocky Colavito blasted a pair of two-run, third inning homers Saturday night to help power the Yankee killing Detroit Tigers to their sixth win in seven attempts against New York this season, 8-4.

Chisox Bow, Lose Chance to Gain Lead

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Haywood Sullivan's pinch single with two out in the bottom of the 10th inning scored Gino Cimoli with the run that gave the Kansas City Athletics a 7-6 victory over Chicago and cost the White Sox a chance to take over the American League lead.

Chicago remained a half game behind the Baltimore Orioles, who lost 7-1 to Boston.

The A's blew two leads before finally putting it away. Cimoli opened the rally in the 10th with a one-out single off Joe Horlen, took second on a fly ball and came in when Sullivan singled.

Ed Charles socked a triple with two aboard and scored on Norm Siebern's single in the seventh, showing the A's into a 6-5 lead, but the White Sox sent it into overtime with the tying run on successive two-out singles by Landis, Nellie Fox and Floyd Robinson.

In 30 innings against the Senators this season, first with Minnesota and then with Cleveland, Kralick has limited Washington to two runs.

BALTIMORE (UPI)—The Baltimore Orioles Saturday night signed veteran pitcher the DeLoek, who complained bitterly when he was given his walking papers by the Boston Red Sox last week.

Giants Lose 6th Straight

HOUSTON (AP)—Rookie Rusty Staub stroked the game-winning single in the eighth inning as the Houston Colts sent San Francisco's reeling Giants to their sixth straight loss Saturday night, 2-1.

Right-hander Bob Bruce and reliever Hal Woodeshick limited the Giants to five singles in outpitching southpaw ace Billy O'Dell. The loss dumped San Francisco into a tie for third place in the National League, one game back of Los Angeles and St. Louis and even with Chicago.

Woodeshick bailed out Bruce in the ninth after Willie Mays and Willie McCovey walked with none out. Against Woodeshick, Matty Alou hit into a forced play and Orlando Cepeda grounded into a game-ending double play.

ERNIE FAZIO's leadoff walk started Houston's decisive eighth inning. He was sacrificed to second and with two out, Carl Warwick walked before Staub delivered his clutch single to right center.

Don Larsen replaced O'Dell and fanned Howie Gosz for the third out.

The Giants tagged Bruce for three straight singles with none out in the fourth but had to settle for one run.

The defeat was the 10th in the last 13 games for the Giants.

McBean Hurls Bucs Over Braves, 6-4

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—On the strength of strong relief pitching by Al McBean, the Pittsburgh Pirates reached the .500 column Saturday, edging the Milwaukee Braves 6-4.

McBean, who worked 5 1/2 innings after rescuing Vernon Law, held the Braves scoreless on two hits and provided an insurance run for himself with a timely single in the eighth.

Fidgety Lew Burdette, frequently rumored on the trading block, lasted less than two innings against the team he has beaten 25 times.

Burdette was given a lead in the opening inning when Eddie Matthews clouted his first homer since May 19th.

Smith Hero as Hawks Belt Benton Plating

Arky Smith's homer and double led a nine hit attack as the Long Beach Nitehawks rolled over Benton Plating of San Diego 7-1 at Helix High in La Mesa Saturday night.

Ed Klecker pitched four-hit ball for the Hawks and allowed no earned runs.

Ask any pitcher in the National League which batter he would least like to face, and the answer undoubtedly would be Willie Mays.

There have been hitters with higher averages and more home runs than the sensational centerfielder of the San Francisco Giants, but few, if any, as totally devastating.

It is rumored that Willie used a bat as a feeding ring.

But for every triumph in sports there is tribulation, and there are pitchers who have gotten Mays out on occasion. In anticipation of Willie's arrival at Dodger Stadium for Giant-Dodger games Monday and Tuesday nights, the question was put to him:

Which pitcher would you least like to hit against?

"The toughest pitcher I ever faced was Ewell Blackwell, who used to pitch for the Cincinnati Reds. I couldn't hit him to save my life. They said he was nearly through when I hit against him. Man, I'd hate to be up there trying to hit him when he was in his prime.

"Maybe I got one or two hits off him but it had to be an accident. He'd wind that long ring arm of his behind his back, then shoot the ball out sideways like from third base. I'd keep looking for the ball but I never was able to pick it up."

What about pitchers active today?

"Don Drysdale of the Dodgers gives me the most trouble. He doesn't throw exactly like Blackwell but he reminds me of him.

He's got the same kind of crossfire pitch, almost by way of third base.

"Like Blackie, Drysdale crowds you a lot. Until last year I used to pick up the flight of the ball on Drysdale pretty well. He was a different pitcher last year. He took charge. He quit fighting himself. Before that, if a guy got a base hit, he used to get mad at himself. It doesn't fluster him at all anymore."

Are there any other pitchers who give you a hard time?

"Yes. There's that Don Cardwell, now with Pittsburgh. I know he doesn't have a good won-and-lost record but don't let that fool you. He's a good pitcher. At least, he gets me out."

"Another real good pitcher in our league is Art Mahaffey of Philadelphia. This young fella is a good pitcher now but he's gonna be great in another year or two."

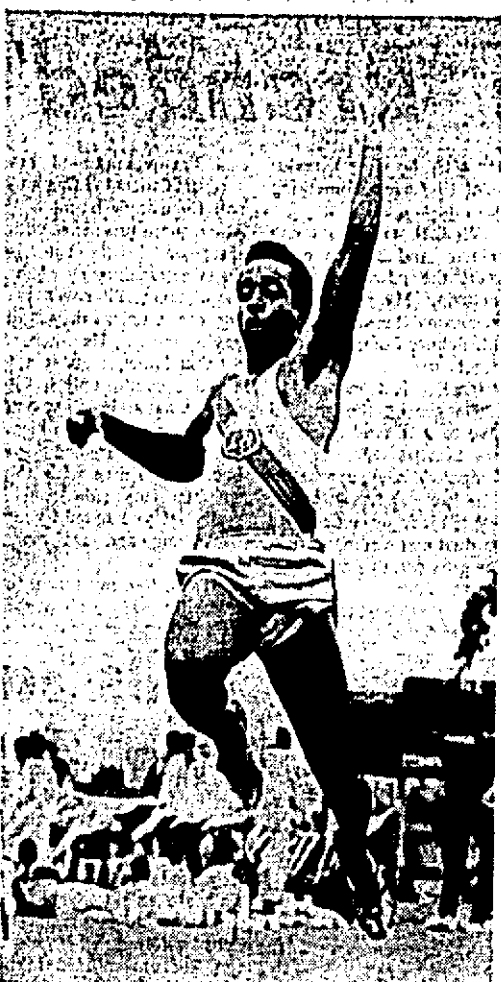

What other pitchers do you most respect?

"Of course, there's Warren Spahn. I've always had trouble with him, but so has everybody else. Spahn is not a fast ball pitcher like the others. He doesn't try to strike you out but you never see a fat pitch from him and he always gets a piece of the plate. I can't outguess him so I don't even try."

"Robin Roberts used to be tough for me. I managed to get my share of hits off him but not many when it was important. That's when he'd rear back and give it that little extra. I don't ever remember getting a hit that beat Robbie."

Say hey!

Snead 'Avoids' 36-Hole Finale

GRAND BLANC, Mich. (UPI) — Julius (Moose) Boros stretched his lead to four shots and Sam Snead's current consecutive money winning record was snapped in the second round of the Buick Open golf championship Saturday.

The easy-going Boros mowed over the long Warwick Hills golf club course to add a one-under-par 36-35-71 to a first round 66 for a 137 total. That put him four shots in front of Canada's George Knudson, southpaw Bob Charles of New Zealand and the giant Bayer.

Snead, who had cashed checks in 54 consecutive tournament appearances since 1958, shot a triple bogey seven by four-putting the final hole for his second straight 77, which caused him to be cut as the field was narrowed to the low 75 and ties.

AAU Meet Easily Won by SCVYY

STANFORD (AP) — Santa Clara Valley Youth Village easily won the team title with 82 points in the Pacific Assn. AAU track and field meet here Saturday.

Top marks included Ed Burke's 192-5 hammer throw for SCVYY, a 6-9 high jump by Cal's Roger Olsen, a 1:50.4 half-mile by San Mateo's Ron Benson and a 9:06 3,000-meter steeplechase by Tom Oakley of the Youth Village.

PELHAM MANOR, N.Y.

(UPI)—Al Oerter, who competed on the West Coast Friday night, competed here Saturday in the New York Athletic Club's Spring Games and won the discus at 197-2.

His was one of seven records broken. Best of the remaining records was a 1:50.1 half-mile by Missouri's Robin Lingle.

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI)

—Notre Dame upset defending champion Western Michigan to win the Central Collegiate outdoor title by 3 1/2 points. Only meet mark was a 6-8 high jump by Missouri's Ross Tunnell.

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (UPI)

DEL CONTE'S SCHOLARSHIP EARNS AWARD

Ken Del Conte, starting halfback on USC's national championship football team, Saturday was given the annual AAUW Scholar-Athlete Award for outstanding scholarship, leadership and athletic ability.

Del Conte, a 1959 graduate of Morningside High in Inglewood, majored in English at USC and attained a B-plus average.

Del Conte was the fifth best rusher on the 1962 Trojan team, compiling 151 yards on 35 carries.

Ken will continue his studying in graduate school next year at USC.

Prep Hurls Shot 60-6 at Houston

HOUSTON (UPI)—Randy Matson, an amazing schoolboy weightman, put the shot 60 feet 6 inches Saturday night to win that event in the second day of the U.S. Track and Field Federation national championships.

Matson, who recently was graduated from Pampa, Tex., High School, became only the second high school athlete in track history to toss the college shot more than 60 feet.

Matson's effort ranked third best by collegian standards this year and was the first time a Texas athlete had ever gone over the 60-foot mark.

Earlier in the day, Matson was nosed out in the discus by Danny Roberts of Texas A&M who had a toss of 170 feet 8 inches. Matson had 169-7 1/2.

BRITISH GOLF TITLE WON BY LUNT, 28

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (UPI)—Michael Lunt, a 28-year-old English textile executive, atoned for his failure in the Walker Cup matches Saturday when he defeated his millionaire countryman, John Blackwell, 2 and 1, to win the British amateur golf championship.

It was the 76-degree heat as much as Lunt which beat Blackwell, who still feels the effects of the torture treatment he received as a prisoner of war in Japan.

The eccentric Blackwell was serious Saturday — so serious that he did not joke with the gallery and took only one drink out of the bottle of vodka and orange juice which he carried.

I, P-T All-City Track and Field

Poly's Motley Player of Year

By DOUG IVES

Marvin Motley, only a junior but already one of the greatest prep broad jumpers in CIF history, has been chosen track and field athlete of the year on the All-City cinder team named today by The Independent, Press-Telegram Board of Athletics.

The smallish Poly star edged three teammates, James Miles, Charles Swanson and Earl McCullough, in one of the closest battles ever waged for track and field's top honor. In the end, it was Motley's superlative efforts in the CIF and state finals, the former which he won and the latter he lost by this (--) much, that gave him his margin of victory.

His mates all were more versatile in the league campaign and the early CIF qualifying, but when up against the best in the CIF and state finals, each excelled in only one event—and none had a more ominous record in his specialty than did Motley.

Soaring over 23 feet became commonplace with Marv—he once did it on 19 or 20 jumps—and he vowed before the state meet that he would go over the 24-foot "barrier."

HE MADE GOOD THAT PROMISE, clearing 24-3 1/2 inches, only to finish second by one-quarter inch to a Berkeley boy.

The 5-9, 160-pounder, who climbed to 24-6 in a meet last year but never was really consistent even at 23 1/2 feet, won the CIF title at 23-10 3/4.

Motley's surge to the top was an uphill climb which saw him overcome a late start due to basketball, an injury and a bout with measles, which sidelined him one week.

Strangely, his biggest obstacle was his desire to better himself. In order to make first-string football, Motley built up his legs to the point where they were so heavily muscled that it was not conducive to good broad jumping.

Just as he was able to condition himself into a football job, he also was able, through hard work, to cut down some extra-pounds in his thighs to again make himself a tremendous broad jumper.

POLY, AS IT USUALLY DOES, dominated the varsity team. Motley, Miles (hurdles), Swanson (100, 440) and McCullough (hurdles) were joined by teammates Fred Muench (220), Doug Bagby (shotput) and John Fairchild (mile).

Others chosen were Wilson pole vaulter Jim O'Mahoney, Jordan high jumper Jim Keck and half-milers Jim Hamlin of Jordan and Stan Bauer of Wilson.

Miles was a CIF champion in the low hurdles and a sixth-place finisher in the 100. McCullough was fourth in the CIF lows and a surprise third in the state meet. Swanson was seventh in the 100 finals and all three ran on Poly's second-place relay team.

Bagby wound up fifth in the CIF shotput, with a best mark of 60-5, achieved in the prelims. Muench ran an exquisite 21.1 considering he's a sophomore and Fairchild had a top mile of 4:28.1.

Bauer and Hamlin duelled often in the half-mile, with Hamlin emerging with a slightly better time of 1:56.0. Keck surprised a lot of people by clearing 6-2 consistently after he hadn't bettered 5-10 in dual meets, while O'Mahoney was a consistent 13-foot pole vaulter.

NFL Ticket Sales 'Scandalously' High

Pro football has had more than its share of embarrassing headlines in the past few months... enough, it was feared at first, to result in fans losing interest in the game and this vitally affecting attendance.

But that's not the case. Reports from the various clubs in the National Football League reveal that advance ticket sales point to the '63 season being the biggest in history despite the scandals.

The suspensions of Paul Hornung and Alex Karras for gambling; the firing of five Detroit players for betting on one game; the death of Daddy Lipscomb from an overdose of narcotics; the fact the owner of the Baltimore Colts is still under suspicion for wagering on games; the arrest of Boyd Dowler over a minor incident on the University of Colorado campus, and other things haven't slowed down the rush to the ticket windows.

And the two clubs in which fans have shown the most lively interest are the ones hardest hit by the scandals—Green Bay and Detroit.

For instance, Green Bay, which made an all-time record club profit of $255,501 after taxes last season, has revealed that all 38,600 seats in the Packer stadium have been snapped up by season-ticket subscribers... and that requests for 6,000 more had to be turned down. Plans are now under way to add some 4,000 more seats by next fall.

Meanwhile, sale of single-game tickets in Milwaukee, where the Packers annually play three games, has been halted because of the huge advance season-ticket sale. Over 40,000 of the 3-game booklets have been sold.

IN DETROIT, SEASON TICKET sales have already passed last year's total of 31,000 and may ultimately threaten the record of 38,000.

On top of that, just one week after Hornung and Karras were suspended, NBC gave the NFL a vote of confidence by paying a record of $926,000 for the rights to televise the championship playoff game next December. That's the largest sum ever paid for the home TV of a single sports attraction.

The American Football League, which has lost over $8 million in three years, also reports an encouraging increase in its advance sales.

When the NFL scandal broke, it appeared that the public might turn more to the American League.

But it may not be altogether "clean," either. According to a report just received from a source that was well informed on the NFL mess, the AFL itself may be in the headlines shortly over some alleged strange incidents the past season.

KARRAS' SUSPENSION, of course, was not unexpected... but Hornung's involvement was a stunning development to the average sports fan. Even more shocking is that it was "known" in the league for some time.

In his first public statement after the penalties, NFL player representative Pete Retzlaff of the Eagles revealed on NBC's Today show that Paul... "couldn't stay away from it (gambling). He's been guilty of it for the past three years. He's been warned REPEATEDLY to stop it and stay away from it, but he never did."

While in Las Vegas recently, we found the "boys" reluctant to talk about the link between Hornung and his "West Coast businessman associate" with whom he was involved in betting. The businessman, of course, was Bernie Shapiro, a slot machine operator.

But it was learned that other gamblers quickly caught on to the fact that Hornung was supplying information to Shapiro and that the latter also was betting money for him.

They began to bet "with" Shapiro. And whenever he passed up a "key" game... the other gamblers took it to mean that Hornung wasn't betting for some reason and they laid off the game, too.

THIS "BROKEN PATTERN" betting plus the fact that gamblers had cleaned up on two Packer games early last season led to the team being taken "off the board" by bookies for the next few games.

But the Packers were back on for the Thanksgiving Day "biggie" with the Lions. And Vegas operators chuckle when it is told that Shapiro really got burned on that one.

Hornung is said to have told him the Packers would "murder" the Lions this time around after being extremely lucky to barely beat them, 9-7, on a field goal by Hornung in the closing seconds of their first meeting.

So, Shapiro, the story goes, chunked it in heavily on the Packers.

But that was the game in which the Lions "murdered" Green Bay, 26-14.

It's getting so, you can't even rely on "inside information!"

of fight as Los Angeles. Only (They used 8-ounce gloves instead of the 6-ounceers previously worn in title fights in New York.

"I thought I won it," the crest-fallen Rodriguez said. "I did my best. What can you say?"

"All my Latin friends told me not to fight him in New York. But I said, why not? And now..."

Griffith's determined effort in the last round, although it wasn't as effective as it may have looked from a distance, proved the difference in the fight.

Both Rossi and Devlin gave Rodriguez again, Griffith said, "why not? He's a good fighter and we make a lot of money when we fight each other."

Griffith's victory ended Rodriguez' streak at 12. His record is 50-3. Griffith's record is 36-4. A poll of the ringside showed 17-6-1 for Rodriguez. In their last meeting at Los Angeles, the ringside poll showed Griffith, the loser, the two but Griffith's earlier round and the fight from the lightly waged contest, two officials.

SINGING NEW TUNE, 'DON'T PEN ME IN'

Arnie 'Branded' by Army of Ads

By OSCAR FRALEY
NEW YORK (UPI)—Arnold Palmer, everybody's fairway hero, is trying to get his game back into shape today by laying aside his fountain pen.

Arnie, one of the most muscular young fellows you will ever meet, practically collapsed from exhaustion because he's been signing so many endorsements and contracts of late. It's the price a successful golfer must pay in the new stature of the game.

Just to give you an idea of how things are going, let's pipe in on an interview with any famous golf star after he wins a major event. It goes something like this:

"Well, it was a nice one to win and I'd have to credit the new equipment I'm using. My putting was exceptional because of the Old Hickory Company's new target toe special putter which I've just endorsed."

"On second thought, I'd have to give credit, too, to the Steeljet Swingweight Company's new superhydro-dyne irons and hand fileted woods made of compressed sawdust and oleomargarine. The greatest, this new model I've endorsed."

"Of course, there's the ball I'm playing and I'm sure the Crocheted Cannonball Company's brand new supersquare pro pellet with the peanut brittle center is the sweetest thing ever built for distance. I'll never use any other, unless they stop paying me... Heh, heh.

"You know, I guess not dressing comfortably is the thing that's been wrong with my game for too long. These new Spears and Saw-buck golf shirts with the spaghetti-lace side panels really let you extend your backswing and get more power."

"Then, too, my feet usually kill me along about the 12th hole. But these Tender Bunions Footsies with the ventilated alligator laces are really something. Come in 18 colors. Brand new idea, too. You throw away the shoes and keep the spikes.

"On top of that, you know I got quite a caboose on me back here and I used to have trouble stooping down to read the line of my putts. These new slacks by the Superstretch Company with the galvanized pockets welded over rubber nylon are the answer to a golfer's dream."

"But, like I said, I always used to get tired about the 12th hole or so. So I came up with a plan for endurance that really paid off. At the end of nine holes I drink Pensacola, the brand new Florida softdrink. Gives a guy a great lift. Try to get that name in for me, will you.

"And, oh yeah, you might say Pensacola is manufactured right near my new course, Crushed Coconut Country Club. No, of course I don't really own it I play out of there to advertise it on the tour. Is it pretty? Darned if I know, I've never been there.

"But to get back to this energy kick, maybe you noticed I carried a package of that new breakfast food, Raisoney. Great, simply great. Made out of raisins and honey. Munch a handful of that every once in a while and you'll feel strong, man, really strong.

"Well, fella, I've got to go now. A man's delivering my new 15-cylinder turtle turret convertible and I have a date with the El Ropo Cigar Company representative. Love those cigars, if the price is right."

Which maybe will clue you as to Palmer's current difficulties on the tour. Shucks, it wears a man out just trying to come up with all those brand names.

THE ANGELS bounced back into contention with three tallies in the second, two of which were unearned. Versalles' error combined with singles by Billy Moran, Felix Torres and Bobby Sadowski—the latter struck out in a pinch-hitting role—closed the gap to 4-3.

under fly balls like so many inebriated ensigns. The Dodgers were able to get away with their mistakes, but the Cubs suffered when Santo and Rodgers collided in the seventh inning.

A pinch-hit, two-run homer by Merritt Ranew made it a 3-3 contest in the Cubs' sixth, taking starter Bob Buhl off the hook and voiding any chance of a deserved victory for Johnny Podres.

MANAGER Walter Alston yanked Podres after a walk to Jim Schaffer with two out in the sixth and the Dodgers leading 3-1. Ranew drove Larry Sherry's third pitch deep into the right field seats.

This performance by Sherry influenced the official scorer to give Perranoski credit for the victory, although Sherry was the pitcher of record. Perranoski worked three innings and allowed only the homerun by Santo.

Don Elston (2-1) was the victim of the Dodgers' three-run seventh, all runs being unearned as the result of the Santo-Rodgers collision.

DICK Tracewski, who had a busy day at shortstop and handled 12 chances, started the winning rally with a single after one out. Wally Mott battered for Sherry and popped up behind third, but all hands were safe when Rodgers bumped into Santo, who dropped the ball and was charged with the error.

Wills' fourth hit scored Tracewski from second and two more runs crossed as Jim Gilliam grounded out and Ron Fairly singled. Willie Davis tripped after John Roseboro walked in the eighth, and Tommy Davis cracked his fourth homer for two final runs against Don Brewer in the ninth.

A passed ball, charged to Dick Bertell, had given the Dodgers their first unearned run in the opening inning.

The Dodgers' 13-hit display was their best in a month.

Boy Hurt in Sports Car Race Mishap

MONTEREY (AP)—A racing car spun out of control and slammed into a fence, injuring a 12-year-old boy spectator at the U.S. road racing championships Saturday.

The boy, Jeff Tuttle, suffered major injury to his right foot and ankle and was rushed to surgery at Monterey Hospital.

The car, driven by Walter Maas of Mountain View, Calif., first hit a hay bale and then the fence, a portion of which hit the boy.

Skip Hudson of Santa Ana, Calif., won Saturday's featured Class A-G modified cars race with an average speed of 85 miles an hour for the 30 minutes. He led from start to finish around the nine-turn, 1.9-mile circuit.

Stan Peterson of Oakland was a half-lap behind in his Lotus.

Says

IT'S OUR FIRST ANNIVERSARY!

We have sold "3309" automobiles in our very 1st year and thank you for the real confidence you have placed in us. There's a big difference in automobile dealerships. It does not stand out on a sign or show up in lights—it has to do with people—who they are, what they are and the manner in which they want to do business. It's people who make the dealership accomplish something—and stand for something. Sound company policies, carried out by a sincere staff, have resulted in satisfied customers. These satisfied customers have made Oscar Gregory Chevrolet grow during our first year of business. We're celebrating our anniversary now with a tremendous sale of new Chevrolet cars and trucks and OK used cars. Why don't you spring into summer in an Oscar Gregory Chevrolet. It is the smartest make you'll ever move. "Now over 300 new cars to choose from."

Fishin' Around

By DONNELL CUMPTER

28 Years for Tackle Busters

It's time now to talk about the Tackle Busters again. In case you are a stranger in our midst and wonder what the Tackle Busters are, let me tell you that they are the most ambitious fishermen in the city. They are the boys and girls who are begging for proper training and equipment so that they may fish.

The Recreation Department formed the Tackle Busters 28 years ago in the old Belmont Recreation Center. At that time there were only a few boys—perhaps a girl or two—in the group. In 1962 the program had grown so that 600 boys and girls were taking summer training.

There are no dues and boys and girls under 16 do not have to have fishing licenses and a traveling instructor goes from park to park, telling the youngsters how to tie leaders to hooks, wrap rods, make tackle boxes and also teach them the basic principles of fishing etiquette and conservation.

Parents often volunteer to help and their assistance is needed, particularly on field trips to piers, barges and other points of interest.

The summer session is climaxed with the All-City Fishing Rodeo on Belmont Pier, which the Southern California Tuna Club helps sponsor. Also, there are two Family Nights, one for the northwest area, the other for South-eastern parks.

DAN DYER, SUPERVISOR of special activities for the Recreation Department, has worked up the following schedule for this summer's activities:

Monday, June 24, Houghton Park, 10 a.m. to noon; Wardlow, 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. and each Monday thereafter until the fishing rodeo.

Tuesday, June 25, Bixby, 10 a.m. to noon; Silverado, 2 p.m. and thereafter.

Thursday, June 27, El Dorado, 10 a.m. to noon; Whaley, 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. and thereafter except July 4 when the class will meet at the same hours on the preceding Wednesday.

Friday, June 28, Cherry, 10 a.m. to noon, Veterans, 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. and thereafter.

Special events, Fishing Rodeo, Thursday, Aug. 22; Family Nights (northwest) Aug. 19, 6:30 to 9:30 p.m., and (southeast) Aug. 20, same hours.

Wednesday fishing, July 17, 24, 31 and Aug. 7, 14 and 21, will embrace trips to Belmont Pier barge Paradise, Matineland, Pierpoint Landing, Seal Beach Pier and, finally, Belmont Pier.

Tom Collins, a veteran of six years in playground work at the parks, will be the traveling instructor this year. Any adult who has spare time is invited to help with trips or attend any class. All trips will be on a low-cost basis and, of course, are not mandatory.

THIS SOUNDS LIKE Lake Henshaw of years ago. Floyd Boyles, San Diego, trying to verify operator Maurice Staker's claim that good bass fishing had returned to the lake, caught and released 50 bass in eight hours of fishing.

Then he kept five, which weighed from 2-12 to 4-8 for a total weight of 20½ pounds. Three of the fish weighed the same 4-8. Triplets, no doubt! In all that fishing, Floyd used a variety of lures. He found that an injured Minnow was excellent in the early and late hours, while plastic eels and worms, mostly of dark colors, worked best in midday.

Fishing lakes and streams of the Upper Yosemite country will be opening within a week. Tioga Pass, highest of the transierran roads, was opened May 28, but most of the main trails to lakes and streams remained blocked by snow.

The Tioga Pass road was built in 1882 as an access road to the Great Sierra Consolidated Silver Mine. It was purchased with funds raised by private subscription in 1915 and donated to the U.S. government.

Extensive improvements were made in 1961 and the old 21-mile section of narrow, twisting, bumpy road was replaced with a straighter two-lane highway. I personally can recommend it as one of the most beautiful mountain roads in the west.

PETER S. FITHIAN, who does a great job in putting on the Hawaiian International Billfish Tournament each year, has added a gimmick this year that should appeal to many of those who go from California to Hawaii.

Immediately after the closing banquet of the tournament (June 22) Pete and his associate, Allan B. Bell, will conduct a party to a plane at the Kailua Airport, then to Honolulu and there they will board a waiting South Pacific Airlines plane for Tahiti—one week in the famed island for $475, transportation and all expenses.

Pete calls this a vacation for himself; he says he needs on after the HIBT is completed. And a vacation it must be because in the package deal are inter-island trips to Moorea and Bora Bora. Pete says you can even spend a second week for $150 and almost become a "resident" of Tahiti.

Pete makes it look so fascinating that anybody with a $500 bill could not say no. There are tamaaraas (Tahitian night feasts) and dancing all night—every night—if you wish.

Of course, if you prefer to fish again after all that fishing on the Kona Coast, you may do so. Otherwise you can look over Tahiti's beautiful dolls (live) or relax. Can one really relax in such a place?

Clover Cards 65, Takes 2-Shot Lead in Santa Ana

Dick Clover of Recreation Park is back on the victory medal wrapup are John Richardson of Palos Verdes CC and Bud Bradley of Rancho.

Clover, the defending champion, putted only 22 times to last week, Clover fired a six-under par 65 Saturday to take the first round lead in the 17th annual Santa Ana City Championship at Willowick. Sharing second place at 67 heading into today's 36-hole 11th.

Sports Beat

A horse at River Downs in Cincinnati bolted his rider and ran the wrong way down the track. It was a funny incident, at least for awhile.

Jockey Guillermo Silva didn't think it was funny, however, as the runaway horse bumped the mount he was riding, and the result found Silva in the hospital with a broken leg.

ONE STORY that was funny, however, came out of Syracuse, New York. It involved Arkansas manager Frank Lucchesi in a game with Syracuse of the International League.

Lucchesi was kicked out of the first game of a twin bill, climbed a 40-foot tower to view the rest of the contest, was ordered off or forfeit the game, and then capped the day by being thumbed out of the second game.

Come to think of it, Lucchesi didn't think it was so funny.

THE NCAA baseball championships opens Monday in Omaha, Neb., with Missouri, the nation's No. 1-ranked team, in the favorite's role.

Monday's slate finds Penn State against Arizona, Florida State against W. Michigan, Texas against Southern California (8 p.m.) and Holy Cross against Missouri.

PROMOTER Joe Louis has offered Willie Pastrano a $50,000 guarantee to defend his light-heavy title against Harold Johnson in Los Angeles in August.

ON THE baseball front, Kansas City has optioned pitcher Dave Thies and outfielder John Wojcik to Portland and recalled Moe Drabowsky and Ken Harrelson from that club, while Baltimore has put Chuck Estrada on the disabled list.

WISCONSIN's all-American end Pat Richter was one of 10 athletes in the Big Ten to be awarded a medal of honor for "the greatest proficiency in scholarship and athletics."

Other well-known stars on the list were Jerry Lucas of Ohio State, basketballer Dave Downey of Illinois, swimmer Chet Jastremski of Indiana and footballer Paul Flatley of Northwestern.

COLORADO Springs, Colo., has tentatively been awarded the 1965 World Figure Skating championships.

MANCHESTER, Eng. (UPI)—Jan Lehane of Australia rallied from a 3-0 deficit to upset Darlene Hard, 6-4, 8-10, 6-4, in the lawn tennis championship here Saturday.

"Mike Sangster of England won the men's title over Australia's 18-year-old Tony Roche, 19-17, 6-4.

Tennis Briefs: Fred Stolle of Australia upset Chuck McKinstry, 7-5, 6-4, in the final round in Stockholm, Sweden.

Amateur star Ray Emerton of Australia beat Jose Mendez in four sets in the final of the British Open, 6-3, 6-4, 7-5, 6-3.

Top-seeded Bjorn Borg of Sweden won the Wimbledon men's singles title, 3-6, 6-3, 6-2, 6-1, over Ken Rosewall of Australia.

2,500 Entries in L.B. Dog Show

The final tally will begin Monday on thousands of entries received at Harbor Cities Kennel Club headquarters during the past three weeks for the 28th annual Long Beach all-breed dog show and obedience trial, June 22-23.

Utilizing the facilities of the Long Beach Arena, the Municipal Auditorium and surrounding grounds, the show is expected to reach the prestige position of being America's largest canine competition. Approximately 2,500 pedigreed dogs, including...

Renault R-8 at Mission Inn

By BILL EMERY
Will Rogers called the Mission Inn in Riverside "the most unique hotel in the world." Renault describes the new R-8 "the world's most advanced compact car." We put the two together last week end for one of the most memorable motorlogs of the year. The Mission Inn is a combination Californian historical landmark and world tour with collection of objects of art and interest by their location. We recommend the guided tour conducted by the remarkable May Spiller to be sure of seeing all the principal parts of the building and to become oriented quickly. The Inn was built by Frank Miller over a period of many years during his life in Riverside from 1874 until his death in 1935. Patterned after the California Missions, the Mission Inn was a hotel built to pay tribute to the romance of the old Spanish California places and times. Kings, Presidents, poets, authors, playwrights, songwriters and many other prominent personalities have lived and visited this world renowned resort.

To describe briefly its history, a 72-page handbook is available at the hotel desk. This handbook cannot begin to detail the treasures that can keep a visitor weeks at a time viewing.

Slightly more than an hour from Long Beach on the Riverside freeway, the Mission Inn is a must for any Southern California resident or visitor. Whether dining in the Californian Room, the Alarcon or the Spanish dining room which opens into the patio by broad arches, Mission Inn serves up a cuisine with as much skill and care today as it did in the days it entertained its most eminent guests.

Peter Vachek, now completing his third year as the Inn's general manager, was one of three hotel men in Southern California awarded "hotel man of the year" this year. His impressive background includes several years as manager of India's finest hotel.

Greeting us as we checked in was Guy Taylor, sales manager, who immediately recognized our new R-8 as a French-built Renault. "I drive a Caravelle myself," he told us. The freeway "cruisability" of the rear-engine Renault R-8 is remarkably swift and comfortable. The 4-cylinder engine with 4-speed forward shift produces sports car power even when loaded with passengers and luggage.

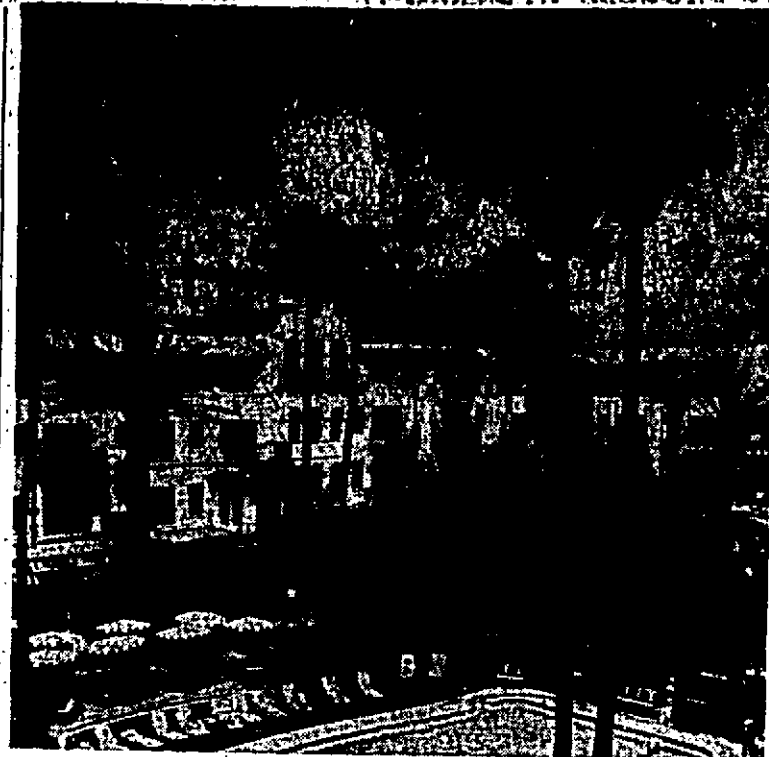

A remarkable innovation in the engine design—five main bearings—support the crankshaft on either side of each piston rod. This acts to suppress vibration at all speeds. Other engine features include removable wet-cylinder sleeves, a single-throat downdraft carburetor with automatic choke and a hermetically sealed crankcase that seals in oil fumes.

The sealed cooling system is a Renault first. A special coolant is sealed in the radiator at the factory and you never add water or antifreeze. Other "luxury car" features included on the R-8 are self-adjusting hydraulic disc brakes, individual coil suspension and rear swing axles.

With 10.5 cubic feet of luggage space up front and another storage space behind the rear seat (which we didn't use), there seemed to be more than ample storage on the R-8. We did get good use out of the two roomy glove boxes for our nick-nacks.

Coming back, we had an opportunity to test the power of the remarkable R-8 climbing up the steep divide on the San Bernardino freeway to Los Angeles. Sitting in the cushiony-soft chair-like bucket seats, we sailed over the top with power to spare.

Back to Import Auto at 1460 Long Beach Blvd., a check on gasoline mileage showed an amazing 35.7 miles per gallon. Frank Marshall and Dick Scatchard accused me of dragging along a Dauphine. They said I should have gotten at least 37 mpg!

THINGS are really getting serious in the argument over Daylight Savings Time in Oregon areas near California. With California on official DST and Oregon officially holding with standard time, it's something of a problem.

It even provoked violence in my old home town of Klamath Falls, 18 miles from the state line. The president of the merchants association, who advocated that Klamath Falls adopt DST as a city procedure, was approached in his shoe store by a woman who disagreed.

She disagreed with a gun. The merchant is recovering in the hospital from two gunshot wounds. The gunman is languishing in jail where an hour one way or another doesn't make much difference.

OLD question reanswered: The concrete sign AAE, on the east side of Signal Hill near the Traffic Circle, represents American Association of Engineers.

Long Beach City College chapter of the AAE put the sign on the hill years ago and, for the most part, have kept it in good condition. Telling what it means has made me an item every two or three years—this time in answer to a note from M. G. McDaniel.

LETTERS still come in here offering ideas for relieving the local man who had a long spell of hiccups.

Latest one, from Eva Arnett of Modesto, advises strapping the victim up tight in a belt. Tie it on right around the short ribs, she says.

Somebody else in a letter a while back suggested a different kind of strong belt. That proposal was to load up with some slugs of straight whiskey.

MEMBERS of the Long Beach After Dinner Speaking Society will be sharing their talents with the whispering pines today.

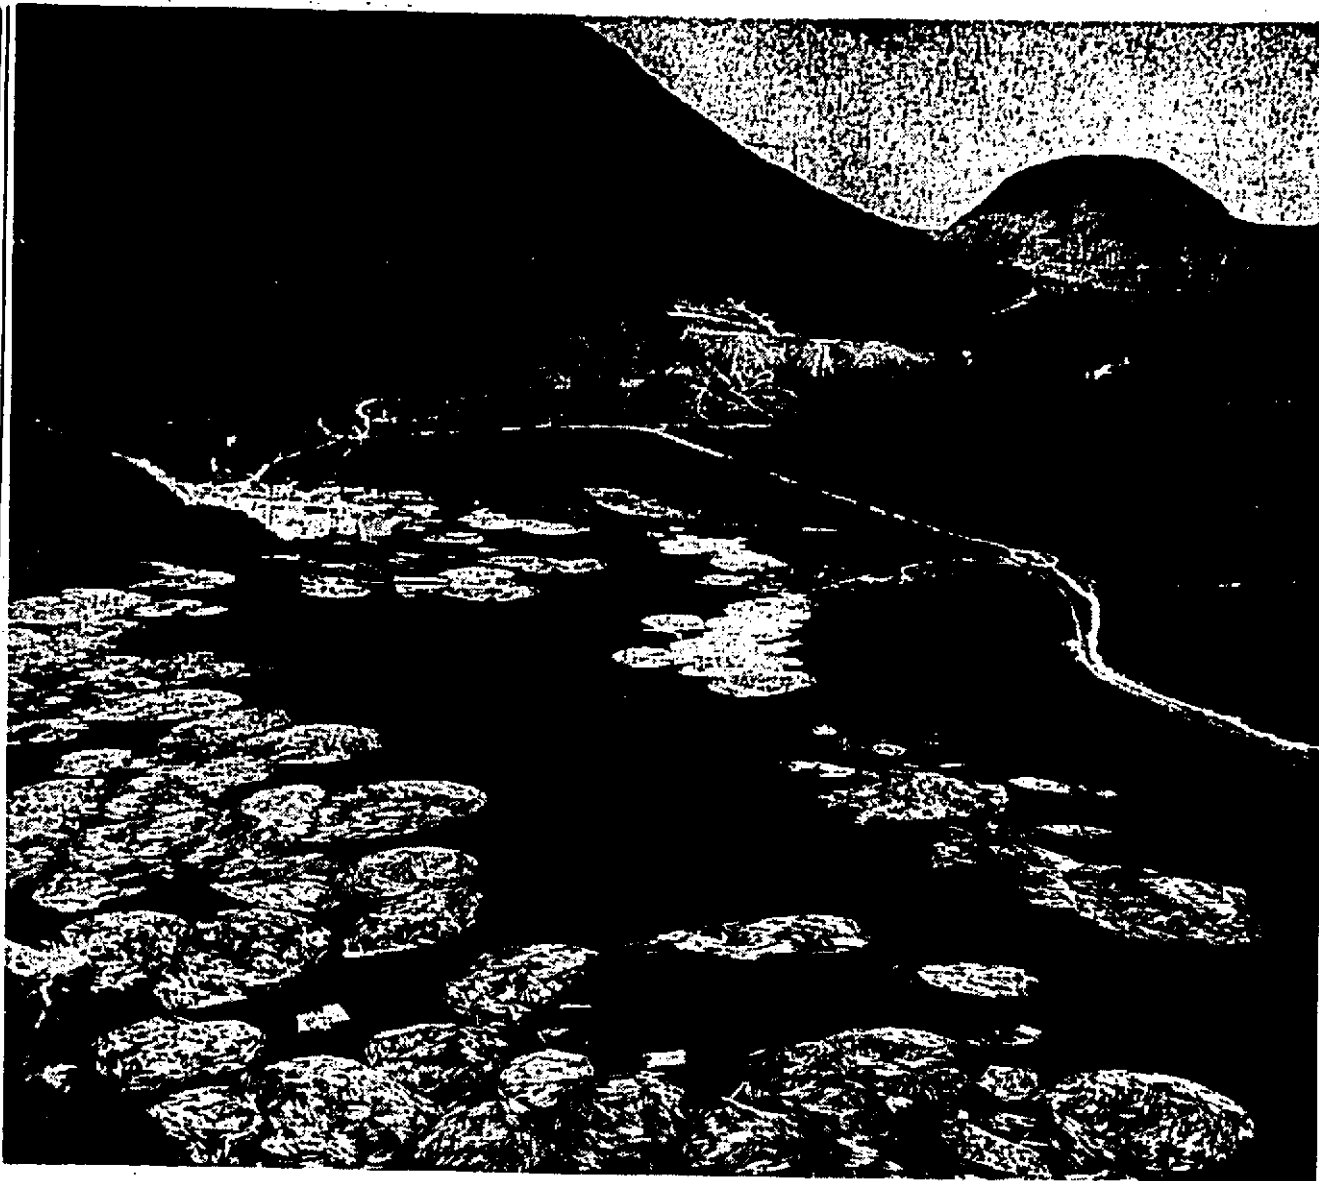

A group of them are at Idyllwild as guests at the lodge of a member, Dr. Bill Carnes. They're spending the entire weekend orating and declaiming in the mountain surroundings. Some of the gabbling will be out-of-doors and that should be most interesting to squirrels and other wildlife.

FLOATING FOREST of felled trees, tied into "booms" of several thousand logs each, are stored in British Columbia lake awaiting transport down river (left) to newsprint mill at Elk Falls. The lumberjack still plies his ancient and arduous craft (see photo at top right) to provide raw material for mills, but production of newsprint today is a highly automated process.

FIRST STEP in reducing huge trees to newsprint is shredding them into small chunks, which are then stockpiled (right) until they are needed. To make pulp, chips are ground between huge emery wheels and mixed with water. Then pulp is run through paper-making machine (below).

Long Journey for a Floating Forest

every 12, warns J. W. Hill, for 37 years a Crown Zellerbach employee.

There is no television and the only direct daily contacts are nightly radio broadcasts. The community is boxed-in by rugged and uninhabited wilderness.

There are only 17 miles of narrow roadway, much of it built of wood because concrete can't be laid.

OCEAN FALLS HAS DEEP sea berths and the 10,000-ton newsprint ship, MS Bessegen, plies between the Port of Long Beach and this remote hamlet every 10 days, bringing supplies in and carrying newsprint and other paper products out.

The Port of Long Beach, one of the major lumber and newsprint ports on the West Coast, handled more than 330,000 tons of newsprint last year, of which 117,000 tons came from Crown-Zellerbach.

"The newsprint and lumber products industry plays a vitally important role in the economic well-being of Long Beach Harbor and our market hinterland," asserts H. E. Ridings, president of the Long Beach harbor commission.

"It is a dynamic and expanding business and one we hope to grow with."

LONG BEACH-LANDED newsprint is delivered throughout the western U.S. and as far away as Denver, Colo.

Other paper products of Crown-Zellerbach, which had a net sales of $120 million last year, are shipped through Long Beach. These range from wrapping paper for department stores to toilet tissue to embossed napkins to fruit wrappers for the fruit industry and printed (Crown has one of the world's biggest and newest color presses, a giant which can print 17 colors simultaneously at its Richmond division plant) containers of all shapes and sizes.

To support these vast enterprises Crown-Zellerbach has cut miles of roadways (99.1 miles of new roads in 1962) in the Canadian wilds and operates a huge ocean-going fleet which includes unique self-dumping log barges, gargantuan pulp carriers and ocean-going tugs.

CROWN-ZELLERBACH'S 14 divisions, which employ nearly 6,000 persons, also operate their own railroad, air arm (amphibious planes), sales force and research and science division.

But the big newsprint machines are the heart of the industry, producing more than one-half of CZ's profits.

The machines are already miracles of efficiency. Bleached wood pulp is fed into them in a solution which is about 80 per cent water. The watery pulp is then passed across a fine mesh screen at high speed. Most of the water drops through the screen and the pulp is carried onto a series of rollers which press and dry the pulp into damp linen and, finally, into finished newsprint.

ONE MACHINE ALONE can produce a 274-inch roll of newsprint 486 miles long in 60 minutes.

The BC paper and woods products industry is a big economic force in western Canada, each year purchasing more than $100 million in supplies and material and using 15 per cent of all the electrical power produced by British Columbia's big hydroelectric industry.

Newsprint is the muscle of this industry, taking one-third of all the wood felled each year in British Columbia's 110 million acres of forest land.

YOUR NEWSPAPER'S PART in the miracle of newsprint is impressive.

The Independent, Press-Telegram uses about 21,000 tons or 30,000 rolls of newsprint a year.

The total annual cost of newsprint to the I.P.T. is $2.8 million, or approximately $8 for every man, woman and child in the city of Long Beach.

And from the point of view of the lumberjacks who must fall the trees—that's a big hunk of forest.

Senate Action on Oil-Grab Bill Gave LB Stern Warning

ALTHOUGH there appears good reason to believe the bill will be shelved in the Assembly, State Senate passage of Sen. Dolwig's measure to strip Long Beach of all tideland oil revenue control is a matter of the gravest concern to the people of this city.

That one house of the Legislature could adopt—even by the barest majority—a proposal both palpably unjust and at odds with already established Senate and legislative policy must be realistically recognized as indicative of the seriousness of the city's problem of defending its rights at Sacramento.

This development clearly justified the action taken by the City Council in special meeting Saturday providing for a Council review of city-state relationships in tidelands matters and of the city's plans for future development of the Wilmington Oil Field. When there are signs of a possible invasion, it's advisable to inventory the arsenal.

THE COUNCIL'S action, in view of the provocation, was on the side of moderation. In this it was in keeping with the city's long-standing policy of cooperation and fair-dealing with the state in the tidelands situation.

In accordance with this policy, the city in the middle 'fifties agreed to compromise legislation for a 50-50 allocation of Long Beach tidelands funds for city and state administration. The city at that time forwent other recourse that could have tied up the funds for years during litigation and legislative battles.

The Council's statement of yesterday rightly charges that the Dolwig bill violates the spirit of that two-way compromise.

Not only that, but it violates current legislative policy with respect to the Long Beach tidelands, embodied in a concurrent resolution already adopted by both houses. This resolution provides for a two-year interim study by a joint committee of the Legislature to work out a report on the best use of profits from the development of the East Wilmington oil field and to make other recommendations as regards the Long Beach tidelands.

In the face of this decision, the Dolwig bill arrogantly proposes to dictate the conclusions of the study before it is made.

This bill got by the Senate by the minimum vote for passage. It is now in the Assembly where a hearing before the oil committee is scheduled next mid-week. Inasmuch as the Assembly has already shelved for interim study an almost identical measure originating in the Assembly, the best forecasts are that the Dolwig bill will get like treatment in the Assembly.

BUT IT would be folly for Long Beach to let the Senate vote on this arrogant and unfair bill pass without making immediate and vigorous protest and without recognizing its significance as relates to the long struggle ahead. To fail to see the warning, and to act accordingly, would be inviting encroachment on the rights of the people of Long Beach. It's time for a reminder in some quarters at Sacramento that Long Beach citizens are also residents of California.

JFK Cooling on Tax Cut, Reform

By The I. P-T Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON—Congressmen are beginning to wonder just what it is the administration wants in the way of tax bills this session.

The President had sought both tax reform and reduction, and was pursuing both with vigor as the year began, but now there are indications that he is backing away from both. That, at any rate, is the information being handed out privately to some of our lawmakers.

The subject of reform became an uncomfortable proposition at the outset, being an unwieldy sort of thing, complicated in itself and made more so by the many varying interests who would like to reform taxes their own way.

In other words, Kennedy had not been lashing the troops forward in behalf of tax reform so much as he was agreeing with Rep. Wilbur Mills (D., Ark.), chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, that there should be reform, and there is a difference here which is significant in the passage of legislation.

Now, evidently, the word is being passed that tax reduction is not the overwhelming goal of the year it had once been.

For one thing, the administration had been encountering more and more resistance to the idea of spending more and taxing less. And, for another, the concept of "reduction" has seemed more and more fleeting as the prospects for additional taxes have mounted. Mills, proposed Social Security tax hike would soak up some of the money a tax cut was supposed to leave in private hands. Enactment of the Medical Care for the Aged bill would increase it still more. State and local taxes keep mounting. In other words, a person who would claim to have reduced taxes—against this background—might wind up with egg on his face.

Significantly, too, the economy seems to keep right on moving no matter what happens or does not happen here in Washington, a fact not fully appreciated or understood by some planners.

DREW PEARSON

Lyndon Johnson Sounds New Emancipation Proclamation

WASHINGTON—Vice President Johnson's recent Gettysburg speech has had some of the groundswells of Lincoln's Gettysburg address. In it Johnson proclaimed that "to ask patience from the Negro is to ask him to give more of what he has already given enough."

At first, like Lincoln's speech, it was ignored by most newspapers. Lincoln's speech was written on the back of an envelope. Johnson did not have an early press release of his speech, but the Washington Post got hold of a carbon copy, published it on page one, and the New York Times PEARSON and other papers immediately followed.

The speech has now become a sort of emancipation proclamation for the Kennedy administration, and some of the White House functionaries are irked that it was the Vice President, not the President, who made it.

In the speech, Johnson said:

"One hundred years ago the slave was freed. One hundred years later the Negro remains in bondage to the color of his skin."

"The Negro today asks justice . . . the Negro says 'now.' Others say 'never.' The voice of responsible Americans . . . says 'together.'"

Some Kennedy critics have been comparing this with the three speeches the President made during his recent trip South when he talked about the TVA, the race for the moon, and the importance of law and order, but did not mention the race problem. They have been trying to drive a wedge between JFK and LBJ.

This highlights two significant facts about the relative positions of the President and the Vice President on civil rights:

1. Johnson is from Texas. His ancestors fought in the Civil War to prolong slavery. Kennedy comes from Massachusetts, home of the abolitionists who precipitated the Civil War.

2. Johnson, the southerner, has been much more forthright on civil rights than Kennedy, the northerner.

Dating back to the days when he was Senate Majority Leader, Johnson—in 1957 and 1960—passed the only two civil rights bills passed in 83 years. He did this despite the bitter and relentless opposition of his southern Senate friends, most of whom had voted to make him Senate leader; and despite poor health and the necessity of working until after midnight, and even all night, to break Senate filibusters.

For the past two years, Johnson has made speeches similar to that he made in Gettysburg, including the election campaign and including the South.

Finally, the Vice President, as head of the President's Equal Employment Opportunity Committee, has probably opened up more jobs to Negroes than any man since Abraham Lincoln. The first thing he did when he took over the committee was to call in the big defense contractors and lay down the law. No equality, no defense contracts, he warned. These are the companies employing several million workers, not just a few stenographers.

Result: Negro employment in the $4,500-to-$20,000-a-year jobs jumped 25 per cent last year.

This is what a Texan has done without much fanfare in Washington.

THE DEMOCRATIC Senator from California, Clair Engle, was kidding the Republican Senator from California, Tom Kuchel, about the flood of critical mail he was getting from the right wing.

"Yes," agreed Kuchel, a bit irritated. "I even got a certificate from the vigilantes certifying that I was a 'traitor.'"

Sen. Engle, who has also made vigorous speeches exposing the right wing, went back to his office to inquire whether he had received such a certificate.

"Yes," replied his secretary, "but we didn't want to upset you. We tore it up and threw it in the waste paper basket."

"Hell, when I get certified that I'm a traitor by an organization like that, it's an honor," exclaimed Engle. "I want to frame it."

DAVID LAWRENCE

Wallace Within His Rights in Challenging Court Ruling

WASHINGTON—However unpalatable the views of Gov. Wallace of Alabama may be to many people who disagree with him, the fact remains that, strictly speaking, it is inaccurate to label his attitude as "defiance" of the law.

The Alabama Governor actually is exercising his constitutional right to "challenge" any decision of the Supreme Court in order to try to get a different ruling from that which has prevailed. If he still doesn't get a new ruling and he fails to conform to the court's order, he must pay the penalty of what is legally spoken of as "disobedience" or "non-compliance."

Lawyers versed in constitutional law know, but the general public doesn't realize, that there is no such thing as the "law of the land" in relation to the finality of all decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States. The correct phrase is "law of the case."

This means that an individual can test any law or ruling and has a right to pursue the matter from the lower courts to the highest court, arguing new points not covered in previous cases. Gov. Wallace emphasized this on the "Meet the Press" program on TV last Sunday as follows:

"We are just raising the constitutional question for the courts, the federal court system of the land, and they may change and rule in our favor. They did rule in our favor in the South for many years and then changed in 1954. Why should not we continue—in fact, in the Savannah case the other day, in Georgia, a federal court ruled for the first time since 1954 that it is harmful to Negro and white children to integrate them into the school system."

It was pointed out immediately by a panel member that the decision was reversed the next day by the Circuit Court of Appeals, but Gov. Wallace then commented that the case "hasn't gone yet to the Supreme Court, and the next case that we raise, they may rule in our favor." He quoted with approval a statement by President Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1937:

"Our difficulty with the (Supreme) Court today arises not from the court as an institution but from human beings within it."

The Alabama governor added: "I haven't said I would disobey a federal court order for defiance's sake, but for the purpose of testing. As Governor of Alabama, I have the right to test in the courts the validity of this order involving our school system."

The layman may call all this "legalism," but that's the way the judicial system operates in America. It is hard not only for laymen but for lawyers to be sure what the decisions of the

BOB HOUSER

GOP Fractures Remain With Hopeful Rx in the Offing

REPUBLICANS have only a year to reduce their fractures in California if they expect to run without hobbling in the June, 1964, presidential primary. Actually, they must split and mend much before the June ballot date to have time to test both legs, trot and sprint.

However, new X-rays of the past fortnight show only a compounding of the fractures and a prognosis less salutary than Mickey Mantle's.

Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater canceled a Chavez Ravine appearance in August because he didn't want to be caught in an intra-party pincer between the Los Angeles Young Republicans and the county GOP Central Committee.

Richard M. Nixon left with Californians, in addition to his heart, a piece of advice—that Young Republicans should spend more time defeating the other party than in attacking Republicans, i.e. Sen. Tom Kuchel.

William J. Nelligan, new president of the California Republican Assembly, apologized to the League of Women Voters for the Assembly's Orange County unit and its "intemperate" resolution attacking the League. Nelligan won the presidency after a bitter fight with GOP supporters of the John Birch Society within CRA.

THE FIGHT itself launched a new GOP satellite, United Republicans of California, oriented right and anti-Nelligan. Nelligan's CRA board of directors joined him in calling UROC's raid of CRA membership lists "highly unethical."

There was a happier note last month. The Orange County Republican Assembly announced unanimous approval by presidents of the 14 Orange County RA units to remain in the statewide CRA. Their only hedge—"as long as the new state CRA board remains honest in dealings with us."

Clearer statement of the problem and of a possible solution seems to be that of L. A. County GOP Chairman Jud Leetham. He engineered separate meetings of party members who styled themselves liberal and conservative.

He noted in a memorandum to Republicans that the conservative movement has reached a state of self-assurance and strength which indicates it will be an important and recognizable voice in the party's councils in the future—as it should be. But, within the general enclosure of the Republican principles, Leetham said, "there ought to be room for a dynamic Republican liberalism; perhaps an imperative need for it. Nevertheless, Republican liberals must be under the same strictures as those with differing positions of making a sound intellectual case."

LEETHAM SAID he had received inquiries and expressions of concern that the Republican liberal point of view was not getting an adequate presentation. "I am inclined to believe this is so."

This belief led him to call the meeting of liberals and to admonish that "the party unable to create a climate of respect among its varying elements inevitably hands over political power, by default, to the other side."

Conservatism and liberalism were discussed at meetings Jan. 19 in Los Angeles, and March 19 in Rosemead. Then Leetham followed through with the April appointment of a 48-member Republican Advisory Committee on Policy and Doctrine headed by Dr. George C. S. Benson, president of Claremont Men's College.

IT'S JOB: to set forth the principle on which all Republicans agree . . . to state basic Republicanism in basic English . . . to delineate the framework of ideas and procedures in which all Republicans can work. Leetham said the 48 people on the committee represent every band in the spectrum of the Republican party, and "the strength and stability of the party are in direct ratio to the full use we make of this sweep of views, sometimes divergent, always Republican."

Dr. Benson said Saturday the committee has had a couple of meetings and is working on drafts but that nothing is ready for release or comment now.

John Lived Words: 'God Is Love'

EDITOR: "There was a man sent by God, and his name was John."

The sympathy and compassion which men of all faiths and beliefs have shown to us in the loss of our beloved Pope John will long be remembered. That for the first time, those outside the church have understood the deep affection and closeness the Catholic feels to his Pope is in itself a great consolation to us.

This gentle, kindly man who wished only to be a good priest, succeeded in creating understanding and good will everywhere he went and with everyone he met. Pope John lived the words, "God Is Love." Truly this was a man of God to have loved so many in life, and to be so loved in death.

Dilworth Quoted on Censorship

EDITOR:

For those opposed to censorship, I recommend a careful reading of an address made April 16, 1957, by the then Sen. Nelson Dilworth in San Francisco before the Commonwealth Club.

A free copy of the "Sixteenth Report, Senate Investigating Committee on Education" published by the state is available by writing to the Secretary of the Senate, in Sacramento.

Concerning the selection of books for our schools, Mr. Dilworth makes this observation: "There must be a margin of safety of strength beyond the expected need to prevent disaster. So in selecting our books we should seek to provide that margin of safety and, if necessary to err, to err on the side of safety. This is a true maxim in all fields of human endeavor." (page 277)

As a member of the said committee, the former Senator directs his comments to vital issues concerning our California educational system.

How Objective Is U.N. 'Guidance'?

EDITOR:

I agree with Mr. Van Steenberg that the United Nations as a controversial subject should be studied in our schools, that young people should be encouraged to think critically and rationally on such an issue, and that a school system has a responsibility and an obligation to objectively guide students in the study of issues.

Where Mr. Van Steenberg and I would disagree is that in many instances the United Nations as a controversial subject is not being taught as such in our schools. My concern has been the method in which the students are being "objectively guided" in their studying of the U. N.

Were our children to be as objectively guided in their studies of American history, our Constitution and capitalistic "free enterprise" system of government, as some of them are in their studies of the United Nations, we could accomplish much in the building of good citizens and America.

Mr. Van Steenberg who is a social studies teacher and also a member of the American Association for the United Nations (an organization promoting the U. N.) seems to be beating his own drums, and not very objective either.

Language in the News

By Charles F. Smith and Robert Thompson-Davis

Questions from readers: "What does the word 'hoax' come from?" Jack James, Gardena, Calif. It is thought to derive from the "hocus" of "hocus-pocus," which, in turn, comes from the Latin expression hoc est corpus—"This is the body."

"Could you tell me some Arabic phrases of greeting and farewell?" E. M. Veith, Long Beach, Calif. Here are some, expressed phonetically: ah-sah-LAHM ah-leh-KOUM!—The usual Arabic greeting. Literally it means, "Peace be with you!"

MAH-salamah,—"Good-bye" (to one leaving).

B'KHA-tir-koom—"Good-bye" (to one staying).

And when a guest comes to your house (or tent), you say AH-lahn ooSAH-lahn, meaning "This is your house and you are your family."

"My maiden name was Bunte. What does it mean?" Mrs. C. H. Steln, York, Pa.

It is German for a Swiss land division, meaning "enclosed pieces of land."

A CITATION for community service is presented by Fred A. Dow (left), new chairman of the board of the Community Welfare Council, to Dr. Paul M. Aijian, outgoing chairman, at a recent meeting.

Mental Health Shortages Cited

By MARK CLUTTER

Lack of personnel, facilities and funds for mental health work were reported by a psychiatric panel at the annual meeting of the Community Welfare Council.

The doctors told of long lists of patients waiting for treatment, lack of funds, acute shortages of psychiatric workers and limited programs.

"In the Long Beach area there are only 10 psychiatric caseworkers to serve a community of 450,000 persons," Bernard Miran, executive director of the Jewish Family Service, said at the Friday meeting in the Armed Forces YMCA.

"They have an average case load of 100 a month," he said. "They should not have more than 25 or 30."

"THEY DO not provide a minimum service. They provide a token service in a very fine community."

Speakers on the panel were Miran, Dr. Boyd Krout, in charge of the psychiatric department of Harbor General Hospital, and Dr. Roger Schock, director of the State Mental Hygiene Clinic in Long Beach.

Also, Dr. Robert Kagan, acting director of the Long Beach Psychiatric Clinic for Children, and Dr. Robert Newhouse, director of mental health services at El Cerrito Hospital.

Mrs. Raymond Still acted as moderator.

Officers and directors were elected. The officers are Fred A. Dow, chairman; Mrs. Frederic M. Wise Jr., vice chairman, and L. G. Estes, treasurer.

The directors: Mrs. Angelo Iacaboni, Donald E. Graves, Dr. Paul Woudenberg, N. L. McLaughlin, Miss Florence Genschmer, Dr. Louis Swanson, Mrs. Ora Knudson, Dr. Julius Robbins, Mrs. Gertrude Withers, L. A. Roberts, Mrs. Don Muchmore.

L. G. ESTES and Don Gill were presented with citations for their work in trying to obtain county tax relief for those cities which provide their own health departments. Long Beach is one of the cities which must pay such double taxation.

The Welfare Council is a Community Chest agency that serves as a planning and coordinating body for 83 organizations in the Long Beach area. It surveys community needs and recommends plans for action.

Senior Boys Elect All Girls Queens

MIDDLETOWN, R.I. (AP)—This year's graduating class at Middletown High School was the first and someone thought it would be a good idea to select a queen.

So the boys in the class placed a queen's crown on the head of each and every girl.

Sabin III Clinics Set Thursday

L. F. L. Los Angeles Bureau

The last of the polio vaccine clinics—to administer Type III Sabin oral vaccine—will be held Thursday from 6 to 9 p.m. at eight health centers in the Long Beach area.

Dr. K. H. Sutherland, county health officer, pointed out that after Thursday, with the possible exception of some pre-school and school children, persons desiring polio vaccine will have to obtain it through private sources.

A 25-cent donation is asked of each recipient, but vaccine will be given free to those who cannot afford to pay.

In the local area, clinics will be held at:

Bellflower—10005 E. Flower Ave.
Compton—300 E. Rosecrans Ave.

Downey—11215 S. Myrtle Ave.

Lawndale—14516 Grevillea Ave.

Norwalk—12360 Firestone Blvd.

San Pedro—122 W. 8th St.

Torrance—2300 Carson St.

Wilmington—612 W. "E" St.

Dr. Sutherland urged individuals to take the Sabin vaccine even if they have completed the Salk anti-polio series. Although the Salk vaccine is 85 per cent effective in the prevention of paralysis, taking the Sabin vaccine will increase the individual's protection and also slow the spread of the disease to other persons, he said.

The health officer also recommended that an individual take the Type III vaccine even if he missed Type I and Type II clinics. The earlier doses always may be obtained from a private physician, he pointed out.

Still No Answer On Plane Phones

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The familiar pay telephone booth is not going to be installed soon in airplanes.

The Federal Communications Commission ruled that despite six years of research, a practical air-ground radio telephone system for the general public has not been developed. However, it said it would consider future proposals for the service.

L.B. Camera Day

Long Beach Camera Day will be held next Sunday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Recreation Park by local camera dealers in cooperation with the Recreation Department. Photographs and photographic equipment will be on display, and models will be provided for camera fans.

Also a factor, said Gallagher, was the completion of the Lincoln Park underground garage in November 1962.

Candidates Hail Council Victors

By BOB HOUSER
Political Editor

Dana E. Brown, a finalist in the 3rd District Long Beach councilmanic race, has offered his congratulations to incumbent Lewis D. Reese on his reelection and said, "I wish him well for the next three years."

"My heart is full of gratitude to those who did so much in my behalf these last several weeks. It would be impossible to thank personally the hundreds of sincere workers, but I do want to mention George A. Hart Sr., Lloyd C. Leedom, Jim and Bobby Vance, Mrs. Jackie Campbell and Fred Shanbour. We had the support of five of the weekly newspapers, hundreds of wonderful and loyal friends and almost 21,000 voters. For this I will be eternally thankful."

"Not being able to say 'Thank you' in person, this is my humble way of expressing my sincere appreciation to those of you who cared enough about our city government to try to make a change."

OTHER THANKS

Henry J. Kosman, 1st District council candidate, congratulated winner Raymond C. Kealer with a hope that "you get in there and continue your good work." Kosman also thanked his supporters.

Otho R. Cordray, 9th District candidate, extended his thanks to all who voted for him.

Plan Chico Shop Center

Newman Associates of Long Beach has unveiled plans for development of a new 35-acre shopping center called "North Valley Plaza" in Chico, Calif., which will include a huge Montgomery Ward department store.

Harry Newman Jr. said the 82,000-square-foot Ward's store will be the major unit in the regional shopping center which also will feature a bank, drug store, supermarket, junior department store, coffee shop and auxiliary stores surrounded by landscaped malls.

The new ultramodern single-level Ward's store designed by Eddy & Paynter, A.T.A., architects of Bakersfield, and to be built by Ernest W. Hahn, Inc., general contractors, Hawthorne, will be completed in the spring of 1964.

Budget Trimmer Bites Too Deeply

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Gordon Allison, administrator for the superior courts of Maricopa County, used a sharp pencil when he trimmed the budget requests for next fiscal year.

But Allison went farther down the economy route than he intended.

A check by county officials showed Allison had cut his own $10,248 salary from the budget.

'Turtles' Recognize Local Man

Because he took a hard knock on the head—and was well prepared for it—Harry T. Duncan will get national recognition this week.

Duncan, 28, an employee in the city street division, was showered with 175 pounds of plate glass and a copper angle bar when a big window in the downtown Wise Building fell out last April 1.

But he was wearing a "hard hat" and wasn't even stunned. His only injuries were bruises on the shoulders.

ON MONDAY, City Manager John R. Mansell will pass along to Duncan a certificate and emblem of the nationwide Turtle Club. The awards go to workmen whose lives were saved or who averted serious injury by wearing the special helmet-like aluminum headgear.

At the time of the mishap, Duncan and a coworker, Sidney Panting, were cleaning up debris from the collapse of another window in the same building. Panting suffered a long gash in the leg.

SEC in Another Move to Enact Tighter Securities Mart Control

By JACK LEFLER
Associated Press Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The second move to tighten control of the vast securities industry highlighted business and financial developments this week.

It was made by the Securities and Exchange Commission in recommendations to Congress for drastic legislation. The first set of SEC proposals came out last April.

This newest attack on what an investigation revealed as "grave abuses" was directed primarily at the far-flung over-the-counter market in which some 15 million Americans own $100 billion of stock.

IT IS INTENDED to provide greater protection for investors in stocks that are not listed on the New York, American and regional exchanges.

Key proposals would: Bring 4,200 corporations whose stocks are sold over-the-counter—mainly in telephone transactions between buyer and seller and securities dealers—under the same rules of full disclosure of financial facts as apply to listed stocks.

Make more stringent the standards for brokerage firms.

Require all broker-dealers registered with the SEC to become members of the self-policing agency of the securities market. This organization is the National Association of Securities Dealers.

THESE proposals received general approval and support from financial leaders, although spokesmen for the banking and insurance industries were dubious that additional regulation was needed in their areas.

The business picture looked sparkling to members of The National Association of Purchasing Agents, the men who buy products for industry.

A poll showed that they considered business to be surprisingly good with prospects of getting better. The second half of this year, they believe, will be better than the first. Most of those surveyed expected capital spending to increase.

ECONOMIC straws in the wind included:

—Retail sales in April totaled $20.6 billion, 5 per cent above the March 7 per cent ahead of April 1962.

—Inventories held by manufacturers, trade firms, wholesalers and retailers in April increased $250 million to $10.73 billion.

—Investment in new construction in May rose to an

Harry R. Christensen, prominent Long Beach funeral director, Monday begins an affiliation with the Dilday Family Funeral Directors, 1250 Pacific Ave., as memorial counselor and director of public relations, bringing together two names well known in the funeral profession.

Christensen has served the people of Southern California as funeral director for more than 27 years. He is co-founder and former owner of Christensen-Pino Mortuary.

Long a leader in civic affairs, he is a 25 year Kiwanian, past president of Downtown Kiwanis Club and honorary member of East Long Beach Kiwanis. He served on the board of the Chamber of Commerce and YMCA, and for two years as president of the Civic League.

In addition, he holds memberships in Power Squadron and Tuna Club and is a life member of Long Beach Yacht Club.

VA Center Researcher Wins Prize

Dr. H. W. Magoun, a brain researcher and a consultant at Long Beach Veterans Administration Hospital for the past 12 years, has won the $5,000 Passano Award for his contribution to knowledge of brain function.

The award will be presented June 19 in Atlantic City, N. J., during the annual meeting of the American Medical Association.

THE PASSANO Award was established in 1943 to encourage medical research and is sustained by annual contributions from the Wilkins & Wilkins Company of Baltimore, a medical publishing firm.

Five persons who have won the Passano Award subsequently have been awarded the Nobel Prize.

Dr. Magoun is dean of the graduate division at UCLA and professor of anatomy. He was honored for his discovery of the center of consciousness and other findings concerning brain function.

DR. MAGOUN, a Ph.D., collaborated with John D. French M.D., a neurosurgeon, in establishing a brain-research laboratory on the grounds of the Long Beach VA Hospital. Within two years it became one of the largest and best known neurophysiological laboratories in the world.

The Long Beach laboratory served as the nucleus for the establishment of UCLA's Brain Research Institute, dedicated in 1961.

VA hospital officials say Dr. Magoun has been "directly or indirectly responsible" for obtaining more than $2½ million in grant support for research programs at the Long Beach VA Hospital.

Egypt Temple Rescue Plans Win Approval

CAIRO (AP)—The United Arab Republic Saturday accepted a plan to save the Abu Simbel temples by cutting them up and moving them in segments from Nile banks to be flooded by the Aswan high dam.

The project, to cost $36 million, calls for reassembly of the temples on high ground above the present site. A rival proposal to cut the temples from the hillside and float them to safety would have cost $58 million.

Information Minister Abdel Kader Hatem announced the government's acceptance of the piecemeal operation, suggested by a six-nation commission of experts.

Cholera Deaths

RANGOON, Burma (AP)—Health authorities Saturday clamped a quarantine on Bassein, a seaport 100 miles southwest of here, following six deaths from cholera.

tend the Summer Playcamp from Monday, June 24 through Friday, Aug. 30. This summer there will be a class in puppet shows and classes specializing in drama, dancing, painting, swimming. Huntington School is now located at 2935 Spaulding St. Classes are held in modern, fireproof, well lighted rooms and the playground is enclosed by a high fence. Transportation is available and hot noon lunches are offered. Call Florence K. Lewis, director at 438-1111 for further information.

READING is important for youngsters and adults alike. Students who are able to do their homework more effectively and more rapidly have increased time for leisure and fun—and better grades.

Adults are able to increase their pleasure reading.

The Dan/Ro System is making available to persons of all ages, courses in Speed Reading.

Classes will be held during the summer at such locations as Fernan Lasuen High School in San Pedro, the North Orange County YMCA, Marymount College in Palos Verdes, Biola College in La Mirada, and the Dan/Ro Clinic in Downey. They will begin shortly with both afternoon and evening sessions, under the supervision of Reading Specialist Dan Rosenwasser.

In addition, courses in phonetic spelling, written composition, tutoring, speech dynamics, and shorthand and typing will be available. For elementary school children, summer classes stressing the fundamentals of reading, written composition and arithmetic will also be available.

Additional information on the new courses may be obtained by calling WA 3-4009 or 655-4770.

will conduct a course on "Making Junior High School Mathematics More Interesting and Useful." June 17-28, Vice President William Teague will head up a seminar on "Institutional Fund Raising and Promotion." June 24-27. A ministerial workshop will be offered June 10-14. Design June 24-28.

and construction of simple scientific instruments for the classroom will be offered. An athletic coaching clinic is scheduled for June 24-28 and will feature noted lecturers in the field.

Other courses include: Techniques in elementary school art; debate and extemporaneous workshop; a school publications' workshop; an opera workshop.

Additional information about these workshops and others, along with regular courses during the sessions, are contained in Pepperdine's Summer School Catalog, which will be mailed on request.

HORSEBACK RIDING, Nu-Pike visits, swimming, and even daily morning classes (for students who need it) in the three R's, is part of the summer program at the Morris Manor School beginning June 16.

The half-day summer school and half-day camp activities is an innovation at the 28-year-old private school. Other summer fun children will enjoy includes visit to museums and libraries, arts and crafts, outdoor games at public parks, picnics, and watermelon feeds. Special trips will be made for older children to Disneyland and Knotts Berry Farm.

The Morris Manor School cabin at Camp Angeles is available each weekend where children may fish, swim, ride, and hike.

Phone numbers are HE 5-0457 or HA 5-0613.

TWO FIVE-WEEK sessions will be offered by the Reading Development Center this summer, to begin June 17 and July 22. Programs in speed, developmental and remedial reading will be augmented by a college preparatory program and by study skills programs.

The Center will offer reading programs designed for students who are unable to profit from the educational opportunities provided for them in our public and parochial schools because they have been unable to make sufficient progress in reading to take advantage of these opportunities. There will be developmental programs helping average and good students to become better students and readers. There will also be speed reading programs.

The programs are offered in a well-staffed, well-equipped center in which a variety of tested and clinically sound approaches are used to correct student deficiencies.

Students will be instructed in groups of five or less except for speed reading groups.

Instruction will include appropriate training in word attack, phonetic analysis, learning readiness, study skills, vocabulary building development of comprehension and reasoning skills.

THE LOALBO School of Languages, 835 Locust Ave., offers a language program with qualified instructors.

Renato LoAlbo, director, announces that all languages (modern and classical) are taught by the "direct method." English as a foreign language for remedial purposes is also offered. Individual as well as group instruction is offered in any language.

Children's groups in any language will begin July 1. Call 434-8828 for information.

COUNTRY DAY SCHOOL, for the 28th summer, has planned their "Happy Summer Days" program to provide fun for boys and girls, aged five through 14, July 1 through Aug. 23. The school is in one of the few remaining rural areas in the Long Beach-Orange County districts. Recreation and not summer school is the keynote to this program.

In this safe, roomy surroundings they will provide swimming lessons in the pool; picnics, horseback riding, fishing, handicrafts, supervised games, sports and other activities. A full staff of recreation specialists will assure a child a happy vacation. Transportation is furnished from Long Beach, Gardena, and Rossmore.

WILBUR AND DOROTHY KELLOGG, directors of the Playmate Day School, 2650 Pacific Ave. (phones, GA 4-4994 or GA 6-5734) announced the school, will have a fun-filled camp program for your children this summer. The program includes swimming, excursions, arts, crafts, cook outs, hay ride, camp fire singing, nature studies, Bible stories, and pier fishing. Arrangements can be made also for special tutoring classes.

Reservations are now being taken for the summer camp beginning June 17 to Aug. 29.

LAPIN BROS. School of Beauty will open their fourth location in Long Beach, at 2670 E. Pacific Coast Hwy. The 6,000 sq. ft. structure will be air conditioned, with the most modern equipment.

Lapin Bros. are famous as the originators of modern methods of hair coloring. Instructors in Long Beach will be Flavio Banks and Mr. Tony, style contest winners. Day and evening classes will be available.

Demand for Marinello Beauty School graduates is greater than the supply, and men and women find they can make a prompt start up the ladder of a successful beauty career.

Marinello is the world's largest beauty training organization, and over 15,000 Marinello graduates own their own salons. The Long Beach school is a show place, with a fully air-conditioned location at 432 Pine Ave.

Beginner classes are now being formed for the summer session, and enrollment officials urge prospective students to make immediate inquiry, in person or by phoning HEMlock 5-9109.

Anniversary
NEW YORK (UPI) — The Rehearsal Club, which has been a non-profit home for fledgling actresses since 1913, celebrated its 50th anniversary May 15. More than 10,000 young women have found accommodations at the club while trying for stage careers.

"Raiders" Expelled
NORTHFIELD, Vt. (UPI) — Norwich University has expelled 14 cadets for participating in a party raid at fashionable Vermont College in neighboring Montpelier. Eighty-four cadets were given lesser but severe punishment while trying for stage careers.

icans to 23 Democrats and change the total House lineup to 257 to 178 in favor of Democrats.

If nouveau Republicans Bennett and Butler really are Democratic plants to dilute Clawson's vote, the plot thickens. In alphabetical order, Bennett and Butler have the 1 and 2 positions on the ballot, generally considered to be advantageous. Since ballot position is rotated in each Assembly district and since the 23rd has two districts, Bennett's name has No. 1 spot in the 38th A.D. and Butler's name moves up to No. 1 position in the 52nd A.D.

Republicans elected Don Clausen through a massive effort as a national showcase exercise. They marshalled some 1,200 volunteer workers from outside the 1st District to get out voters on election day. The crew including 25 of the state's 28 GOP assemblymen as well as State GOP Chairman Caspar Weinberger, who rang doorbells with the rest.

PARTISANS of Del Clawson plan similar outside firepower in the coming 23rd

District election and for some of the same reasons. A GOP victory would provide a unique propaganda piece against the Kennedy administration, especially in a district so long represented by a Democrat and which enjoys a 9-5 Democratic registration edge (92,642 to 50,231).

Adding to the book of campaign practices called "coincidence" or "dissembling," depending on partisan viewpoint, is the candidacy of Armand Porter. To offset the possible detriment of a double Porter entry on the Demo side, Carley V. Porter exercised an Elections Code prerogative of having his name flagged with the numeral "1" on the ballot.

WORRISOME factor to most candidates is the district's general apathy expected to result in a Tuesday turnout of less than 45 per cent. This, with a divided Democratic vote, could help Clawson, whose GOP votes in this kind of upset effort are as good as bankable.

With the possible exceptions of Armand Porter and Quigley, most candidates have strained to exhibit a conservative front to voters who favored the Francis anti-Communist amendment while it was being rejected statewide.

L.B. Woman Is Author of Book on Records, Public Libraries

Patrons look to libraries for recording collections equal in quality to book collections. But few libraries have had a readily available source of information on how to establish and maintain such collections.

Now comes "Recordings in the Public Library," a guide to the selection, cataloging, use and care of disc recordings—and the author is Mary D. Pearson, head of the Long Beach Public Library's art, music and philosophy department, which includes the photograph section. Preparation it has been a five-year project. The volume, designed for public and college library use, will help these libraries meet the needs of their patrons through the resources of sound.

THE AUTHOR, who joined the library staff in 1944, received her library degree from Columbia and was among the first students to register at Long Beach State College, which awarded her a Master's degree in education. "Recordings in the Public Library" is the third American Library Association publication written or compiled by members of the Long Beach Public Library staff. The first was "Descriptive List of Professional and Non-Professional Duties in Libraries," prepared by a committee headed by Mrs. Theodora R. Brewitt, librarian here for many years. The second was "Subject Index to Poetry for Children and Young People" (1957) by Violet Sell, Dorothy Smith, Ardis O'Hoyt and Mildred Bakke. All three are standard reference works in libraries throughout the United States and abroad.

Way to Cut Transport Cost

SAUGUS, Mass. (UPI)—Dr. Paul Dudley White, noted heart specialist, says one way to cut school transportation costs is to have the children ride bicycles.

"Get more youngsters bicycling and we will cut down on the cost of school buses," White told a social club yesterday after leading a procession of bicycle riders over a six mile route to mark the opening of bicycle safety week.

Postpone China Red Congress

TOKYO (AP)—The fourth session of Red China's second national People's Congress has been postponed until the fall, Radio Peking reported.

No reason was given. The congress acts as a rubber stamp for decision of the ruling Communist Party.

Kennedy Moves to Gain Equal Rights for Negroes Through Peaceful Means

By HARRY SHARPE
United Press International

President Kennedy moved on a broad front last week to gain equal rights for Negroes peacefully. But he also was prepared to use troops wherever violence gets out of control.

His primary concern was to end mounting racial strife in the South—the latest at Lexington, N.C., where a white man was shot to death and a news photographer wounded when enraged whites and Negroes rioted.

But his actions also embraced the whole nation. In rapid-fire order he met with 100 business executives and urged they voluntarily desegregate their hotels, theaters, stores, restaurants and "other problem centers" in both South and North. The response was mostly favorable.

NEXT HE ISSUED orders barring discrimination in the hiring of Negroes on government-aided projects and apprenticeship programs. And U.S.-supported state employment agencies were warned they would lose federal funds if they practiced discrimination. Meantime the President and his advisors worked arduously on far-reaching civil rights legislation to be presented to Congress this week.

Then he climaxed a Western speaking and inspection trip by flying to Honolulu where today he will lay the problem of racial tension before the national conference of mayors.

The President also struck another racial rights blow in a commencement address at San Diego State College. He said he wanted to see an American educational system that guarantees equal opportunity for a Long Island banker's son or the offspring of an Alabama Negro sharecropper.

IN THE BACKGROUND, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy was spearheading moves to maintain peace in the South. Attention was focused particularly on the all-white University of Alabama where this week three Negroes are scheduled for admission. Gov. George C. Wallace has pledged personally to block them though he is under court injunction not to do so.

The President had 2,000 troops and supporting units on the ready at Ft. McClellan, Ala., should violence erupt. Wallace proclaimed, however, that there would be no disorders.

In contrast, Negro student Cleve McDowell enrolled without incident at the University of Mississippi where last year the President had to use troops to force the acceptance of Negro James Meredith.

Presidential Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said the purpose of Mr. Kennedy's Honolulu talk was to "explore with the mayors the mutual and related responsibilities of the federal and local governments in meeting the rising problem of race relations." Previously the chief executive had met with nine state governors and some community leaders.

ATTY. GEN. KENNEDY frankly admitted to a world-wide radio audience that, despite some progress, this country's record in handling racial problems "is bad." He added that "we intend to do much more." Many Southern cities were cooperating in removing racial barriers, and strong bi-partisan forces in Congress were ready to take up the presidential cudgel over powerful Southern opposition.

Another sombre story highlighted the week's news when Pope John XXIII, spiritual leader of 500 million Roman Catholics, died in Vatican City in the fifth year of his reign.

Born 81 years ago as Angelo Giuseppe Roncalli, the one time Italian peasant, who became known as the Pope of Peace, died of cancer without seeing the end of his greatest religious project—the Ecumenical Council which was suspended with his death.

A SECRET CONCLAVE of the College of Cardinals will meet in the Vatican June 19 to choose his successor. The new pope immediately will face the crucial decision of reconvening the council which Pope John regarded as his legacy to mankind.

The council brought together the entire Catholic hierarchy to debate modern church reforms and point hopefully toward reunion with other Christian denominations. Pope John's whole life was restoration of faith in the brotherhood of man, with tolerance and understanding. The council was his chief instrument to that end.

The pontiff, elevated to the papacy in 1958, went to his death in agony and prayer, his faith in the Supreme Being being unshaken. Thursday his body was interred temporarily in the grottoes of St. Peter's Basilica after more than a million mourners among many creeds had paid him homage.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY said that the Pope's concern for world peace and the human spirit "transcended all boundaries of belief and geography." Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, an avowed atheist, sent "profound condolences" and called Pope John's efforts toward peace "fruitful."

The President had hoped to visit the pontiff personally during his trip to Europe later this month. Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson headed a Protestant-Catholic U.S. delegation to the funeral.

In other news spheres, Mr. Kennedy arranged to meet in London with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan to discuss problems facing the Western alliance. The chief executive also will visit Ireland, Italy and West Germany.

Republican National Chairman Rep. William E. Miller, N.Y., said he would step down when his current term expires and also will not seek re-election to the House. He will resume the practice of law in Buffalo.

THE NATIONAL Aeronautics and Space Administration chose Boeing Company, Seattle, and Douglas Aircraft Co., Santa Monica, Calif., to make a study of manned space stations that would stay in orbit with four crew members with Gemini spacecraft while an Agena spacecraft carried supplies.

The Supreme Court ruled that the "agency shop" is valid under federal law, but that the states may prohibit it. Under an agency shop agreement, workers who don't join a union must pay the union the equivalent of union dues and fees to keep their jobs. Such shops are now included in about six percent of all collective bargaining contracts. The decision was hailed by the National Right to Work Committee as "a great victory for individual freedom."

In another far-reaching decision, the court overruled California in its 40-year fight for a bigger share of the entire Colorado River water system. Main victor was

Arizona which is now free to push a billion-dollar reclamation project. The life-giving Colorado and its tributaries are the only source of water in much of the arid south-west.

The President was in Honolulu Saturday for his speech to the mayors. It was a last stop on a Western speaking and inspection trip that took Mr. Kennedy to Colorado Springs to address the Air Force Academy commencement; to El Paso, Texas, and to San Diego and Los Angeles.

AT COLORADO SPRINGS, the chief executive announced he had decided to go ahead with the development of a supersonic commercial airliner to compete with a craft being developed jointly by Britain and France.

The plane would fly twice the speed of sound at 60,000 feet. The President said the United States could not afford to lag in commercial air transportation.

He also told the graduates that Khrushchev's "reckless" missile debate in Cuba demonstrated that military policy and power "must be tied closely to political and diplomatic decisions in the future."

Before leaving Washington, he urged the World Food Congress to work toward banishing hunger from the earth. He proposed five basic guidelines, starting with the declaration that "the persistence of hunger is unacceptable, either morally or socially." Delegates from more than 100 nations were on hand.

A FEDERAL GRAND JURY at Chicago indicted Teamsters' President James R. Hoffa and seven others on charges of fraudulently obtaining $20 million in loans from the Central States Teamsters' Pension Fund and using more than $1 million for their own benefit.

A two-year FBI investigation of the $200 million fund led to the 28-count indictment. Hoffa is one of eight union trustees of the fund. He faces previous indictments on other charges.

An eight-nation committee reported to the Organization of American States (OAS) that international Communists have turned Fidel Castro's Cuba into a Soviet military camp and training base for Latin American Communists. It called on the 20-nation organization to ban all travel to Cuba and otherwise try to isolate the nation.

SOON AFTER HIS RETURN, Castroite terrorists raided the U.S. military mission in Caracas, Venezuela. They set fire to the mission building after forcing six unarmed Americans and four armed Venezuelan army guards to surrender their uniforms and guns. The fire caused $20,000 damage. The marauders escaped.

The State Department meantime gave U.S. commercial airlines permission to resume flights over Cuba. The flights were cut short after the Russian missile crisis. The airlines have suffered a competitive disadvantage.

A Northwest Orient DC7 airliner under charter to the Army crashed in stormy seas in the Gulf of Alaska and all 101 men, women and children aboard perished. The plane was en route to Anchorage from McChord Air Force Base near Tacoma, Wash. The victims were mostly Army men and their dependents. Cause of the disaster was a mystery.

How 3 Freeways Meet in Orange Co. SOUTHLAND PROGRESS

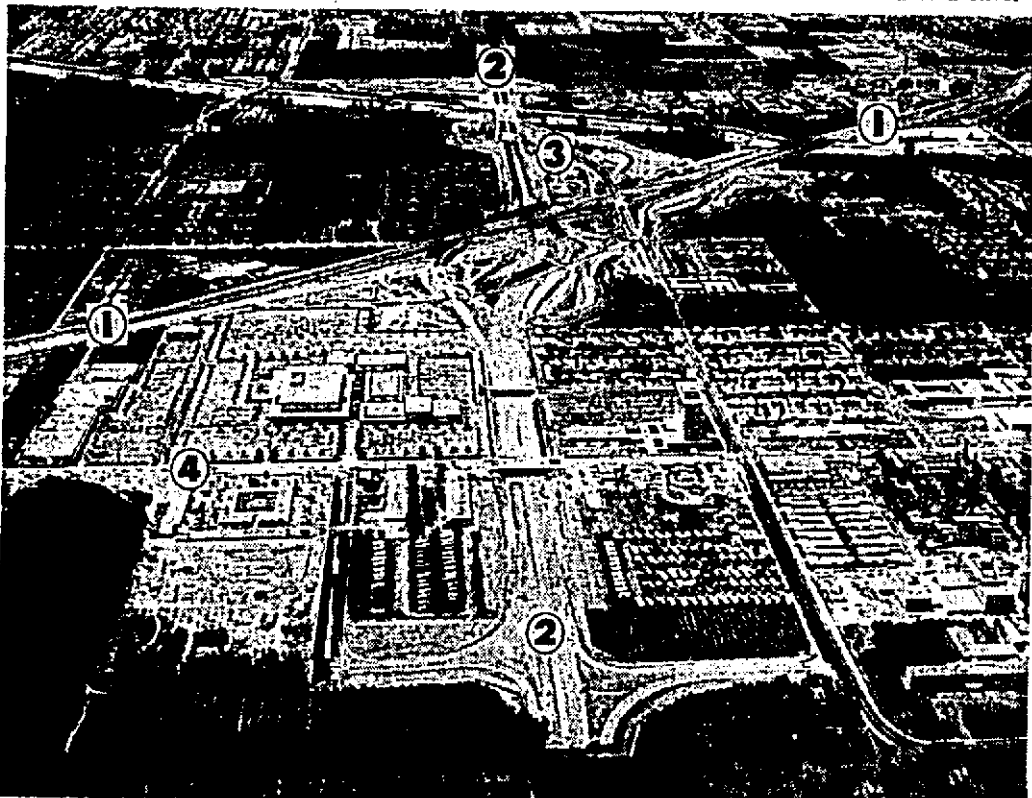

★ BUSINESS-REAL ESTATE-INDUSTRY ★

THE NEWL. INDEPENDENT, PRESS-TELEGRAM, JUNE 9, 1963

POSITIONED BETWEEN the four cities of Garden Grove, Santa Ana, Anaheim and Orange, one of Southern California's most complicated freeway interchanges is under construction. Crossing the Santa Ana Freeway will be the Garden Grove Freeway, while extending northward from the complex will be the Orange Freeway. Engineers say this is more complicated than the four-level "stack" in Los Angeles and is rivaled only by the East Los Angeles interchange. In addition to the three freeways, the complex has to tie in with Bristol Street and get traffic over the Santa Ana River and a railroad spur line.

RAILROAD TRACK ADDED PROBLEM

Further complicating three-way freeway interchange is necessity of bridging Garden Grove Freeway service road over this branch of SP Railroad.

L.B. Diamond Jubilee Pins 'In Style' Now

All that glitters isn't always a diamond. Or maybe you would say "Things aren't always what they appear to be."

Maybe so, but it isn't stopping citizens of Long Beach who are celebrating the 75th Anniversary of their city.

Many of them are sporting a three and one-half carat sized "commemorative diamond" pinned to their lapel or on their tie.

In the case of ladies you will see the gems in all sorts of unexpected places—like in the hair or holding a scarf around the neck.

WHAT IT ALL adds up to is that during this Diamond Jubilee year many people have decided to show enthusiasm for their city in a visible way. They will wear the symbol of their Diamond Jubilee, a jumbo-sized rhinestone in a Tiffany mounting.

Commemorative pins are being sold at service clubs and organization meetings, as well as at the Diamond Jubilee headquarters, 130 Pine Avenue. Price for the pins is $1 each.

"WE HOPE that the idea will catch on and by the time Jubilee month comes in November, almost every-

Foster Heads Committee

Appointment of J. R. 'Bob' Foster, Southern California Edison Co. district representative, as chairman of the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce Research Committee has just been announced.

He succeeds Ralph Taylor of the Independent, Press-Telegram, who held the post three years.

Foster has been with Edison ten years, working in the sales departments of Huntington Park, Redondo Beach and Long Beach. He was transferred to Long Beach three years ago as an industrial representative for the company.

HIS PRESENT position, to which he recently was named, calls for him to assist the district manager in governmental affairs.

He lives at 440 Daroca St. with his wife and son. His wife, Joyce, is a school teacher.

Foster is familiar with Chamber work as he was affiliated with the Redondo Beach Junior Chamber of Commerce while working in that district.

As chairman of the Research Committee, Foster's job will be to take on a major phase of the Chamber's day-to-day work in forwarding the economic growth of the Greater Long Beach Area.

The Research Committee is presently sending to press the Chamber's 1963 Business and Economic Index which will be printed in the July issue of "Long Beach," monthly publication.

Recently published was an industrial directory which also was a product of the committee.

L.B. Chamber Publication Gets Award

National honors in photography, art and design have been won by the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce for its monthly publication, "Long Beach," started last year. It won first place in national competition sponsored by the National Association of Commerce Publications. And it won over the Los Angeles Chamber publication, which placed second in this category.

Bill Boyd, who has edited Long Beach Chamber publications the past five years, accepted the award recently at the NACP national convention in San Diego.

ARCHES FOR CHURCH DOME

Interesting design against the sky is made by tall crane and workers installing arch framework for gold dome which will top new Saint Germain Foundation Church being built at northeast corner of 8th Street and Magnolia Avenue in Long Beach. Mrs. G. W. Ballard is president of local branch of Foundation, which has headquarters in Chicago. Much of work on church is by donated labor. It will be air-conditioned. It is hoped the building will be ready for dedication by Thanksgiving.

Realtors to Hear

Foe of Communism
James G. Law, prominent since 1960 in the fight against communism, will address Long Beach realtors at their breakfast meeting Tuesday, according to Jack Saxon, program chairman. Law is a veteran correspondent and editorial writer, and has been active in veteran and civic organizations. His appearance is under sponsorship of the Coast Federal Savings and Loan Association. The realtors meet at 7:15 a.m. in the Crown Cafeteria.

1963 Building Nears $41½ Million at Huntington Beach

New home construction, the permit was issued to Orange County record, which has soared building permit valuations to a record level in Huntington Beach this year, failed to lead the dollar-volume activity in the beach city for the second week in a row.

The week's building volume totaled more than $150,000, boosting the year's total to almost $41.5 million. With almost a month to go before the mid-year point is reached, that total already is more than 62 per cent of the 1962 year-end total of $66.5 million, which was an all-time

DURING THE WEEK, permits were issued to the following:

Henry M. M. plant processing glass house, 17301 Edwards St., $14,000; De-maine Development Co. semi-public swimming pool, 11343 Golden West St., $12,000; Harry J. Two Advertising Men Get I, P-T Promotions

Promotion of two staff members of Independent Press-Telegram advertising departments to the positions of sales managers of their respective organizations has been announced by James Duncan, retail advertising manager, and Warren Mitchell, national advertising manager.

Roy Jarvis becomes retail sales manager and Arthur Stephan becomes national sales manager, effective immediately.

Stephan's career with the Long Beach newspapers dates from 1934 and includes positions of dispatch delivery boy, apprentice and journeyman printer, circulation district supervisor, retail advertising salesman and auto editor.

UPON MERGER of the Independent and Press-Telegram in 1952, he was employed in the firm's Los Angeles representative office, returning to the newspapers as national advertising salesman in 1955.

Jarvis served in the U.S. Air Force during the Korean conflict, after which he entered the weekly newspaper business in Long Beach as a copy boy, progressing to advertising manager of one of the publications.

He joined the Independent Press-Telegram in 1960 as a retail advertising account executive.

PLAQUE WINNER

George L. Richards, president of the Long Beach Insurance Association, presents plaque to John R. Lokey, winner of the National Automobile Club's "ASK" month membership drive. At left is Leslie W. Chambless, "ASK" month chairman; and in rear is Edward N. Catchfield Jr., local district manager of the auto club.

Auto Club Plaque Goes to John Lokey

John R. Lokey of the Lokey Insurance Agency, 1420 E. Artesia Blvd., was winner of the recent National Automobile Club "ASK" month campaign, sponsored by the Long Beach Insurance Association. Lokey Friday was presented a plaque by George L. Richards, association president. The "ASK" month campaign is held annually to attract more members into the non-profit service organization.

Leslie W. Chambless, vice president of the Michael Luby Insurance Corp., served as National Automobile Club "ASK" month chairman. He was assisted by Edward N. Catchfield Jr., local district manager of the auto club.

A HUSTLING CITY

Huntington Beach Sets Fast Pace in Growth

HUNTINGTON BEACH—When it comes to hustling, make way for this city, now hailed as the fastest growing spot in California. Population now is recognized as in excess of 50,000, and predictions are for 85,000 by 1965.

A recent progress survey might be itemized as follows:

Four tentative tract maps for 810 houses approved by planning commission for city council action.

Commission approval also given for 585 houses on 120 acres at Bolsa Avenue and Sprindale Street.

Douglas Space Plant construction proceeding rapidly, with 1,500 payroll expected on job by end of year.

FOUNTAIN VALLEY area in midst of housing boom;

Huntington Harbour moving into fourth and fifth units;

Driftwood Inn project slated for completion this summer at Beach Boulevard and Pacific Coast Highway.

Half dozen commercial buildings under construction along Beach Boulevard;

Auto agency to open new quarters soon on Beach Boulevard;

New Huntington Valley bank due to open at Warner Avenue and Beach in July;

Plans shaping up for new Civic Center;

TRACT of 365 $30,000-plus homes planned at Brookhurst and Adams;

Fifty-eight acre Broadway Shopping Center at Beach Boulevard near San Diego Freeway route due to start before completion of the freeway, slated to be finished from Long Beach as far as Beach Boulevard by July, 1964.

These are only a few of the growth indicators for Huntington Beach, with the "picture" changing daily.

Dividend Declared

The board of directors of Knudsen Creamery Co. of California has declared regular quarterly dividend of $0.25 per share to shareholders of record as of May 31, 1963. The dividend is payable on June 14, 1963, and also applies to holders of Voting Trust Certificates for common stock.

Downey Man Quoted in Magazine on Land Issue

In the May issue of House & Home, a national magazine, reference is made to a fight being waged by Harry E. Beddoe, Downey realtor, and past president of the Downey Board of Realtors, over the recent "tendency on the part of some" to indict the entire land industry for the mistakes of a few.

The article points out that a few non-realtor developers have been accused by federal grand juries of fraudulent advertising.

HOWEVER, according to this same magazine, "responsible land developers, including Beddoe, have rushed to the defense of an industry which they feel has been badly damaged by publicity about the dubious activity of a handful of subdivider."

The article states that Beddoe has done considerable research to refute the so-called exposes which it says have unfairly tarred everyone within the industry.

"In the boom of the 1880's, Hollywood was a bust. It was overgrown with cactus," Beddoe is quoted as saying.

"IN 1866 California's highly respected former governor, John G. Downey, began buying acreage southeast of Los Angeles — what might be called wasteland by today's critics. He paid 75 cents an acre and sold it readily to easterners for $10.

"Today it costs as much, for one square foot as it did for two acres in 1866."

The reference is made to a fight waged by Harry E. Beddoe, Downey realtor, and past president of the Downey Board of Realtors, over the recent "tendency on the part of some" to indict the entire land industry for the mistakes of a few.

Other action taken by the board included declaring a 25c per share dividend on the company's common stock, payable on July 1, 1963, to stockholders of record on June 21, 1963.

Moore told directors that Continental Trailways gross revenues for the first four months of 1963 were up 7% over the same comparable of 1962.

Buena Park Man Retains Division Post

BUENA PARK—M. E. Hylton, 5320 Brae Burn Place, was reelected vice president-general manager of Continental Trailways' Western Division by the company's Board of Directors at a recent meeting in Dallas, Texas, according to M. E. Moore, president of the bus line.

Hylton now has charge of all Continental Trailways operations in Arizona, Nevada, California, Washington, Oregon, and portions of Utah, New Mexico and Texas. His home office is located at 1501 South Central Ave., Los Angeles.

Other action taken by the board included declaring a 25c per share dividend on the company's common stock, payable on July 1, 1963, to stockholders of record on June 21, 1963.

Real Estate Leads Southland Economy to New High in May

Paced by record sales in real estate, the Southland's economy soared to a record peak in May, it is reported by the research department of Security First National Bank.

Based on the number of local business activity, high-lighted the advance in May County, the bank's real estate index rose to an estimated 122.4 from the 1957-58 average of 100, according to L. H. Showalter, vice president and manager of the bank's Long Beach office.

Security's report pointed out the overall record level in business activity is a continuation of the moderate upward trend which has been evident in all but one (March) of the last six months.

MAY'S BUSINESS INDEX reading was reported at 132.1 (preliminary), approximately 2.6 per cent above the previous high of 129.5 set last February. In May, 1962, the index stood at 124.4.

Bank clearings, another widely recognized measure of local business activity, highlighted the advance in May County, the bank's real estate index rose to an estimated 122.4 from the 1957-58 average of 100, according to L. H. Showalter, vice president and manager of the bank's Long Beach office.

$669,750 Project OK'd at Stanton

STANTON — A $669,750 apartment development boosted construction in Stanton to $680,812 during the past week.

Permits for construction of 17 four-unit apartment buildings valued at $39,000 each and a $6,750 recreation building totaling $669,750 were issued to Westport Development Co. of 700 W. Orange-wood Ave., Anaheim.

The multi-family residences will be erected in the 10600 block on Vine Vale.

Other permits were issued to Paul Eaton, 2000 Syracuse St., swimming pool, 12,000; William Johnson, 7131 Avenue 51, change station to living room, 1,000; George Anderson, 7131 Palisades, porch addition, 500; and a mobile home, 1213 Beach Blvd., commercial kitchen, 1,000; and a mobile home, 1213 Beach Blvd., commercial kitchen, 1,000; and a mobile home, 1213 Beach Blvd., commercial kitchen, 1,000.

L.B. Appraisers to Hear Gange

The Society of Real Estate Appraisers will hear a talk, "How High Is Up?" by Gary Gange, special consultant to the Southern California Gas Company, at their dinner meeting Wednesday.

The meeting will be at the Edgewater Inn Marina Hotel, 6400 E. Pacific Coast Highway, at 7 p.m. according to J. C. Foster, president.

A prominent olive grower and civic leader in Tulare County, Gange has become widely known throughout the country for his humorous and inspirational talks about Americans.

Addressing the appraisers, he will speak of the tremendous growth of California and the increasing need for more fuel, water transportation and schools.

Ray Pascheco will be chairman of the day and will introduce the speaker.

'Bill of Rights' Proposal Approved by NAREB

A "Property Owners' Bill of Rights" championed by L. H. Wilson of Fresno gained some state government.

"There is much muddled thinking," he commented, "about the individual's property rights under the Constitution. This bill is intended to spotlight just what those rights are."

The bill, except for minor changes in wording not affecting its essential provisions, was adopted as a resolution by the Nevada legislature on March 12.

Wilson is president of the California Real Estate Association. He is one of the principal authors of the statement, first drawn up last March by CREA as a means of stressing the rights as well as the obligations of property owners, real estate brokers and salesmen.

"We are apprehensive," Wilson said, "over continuing erosion of our liberties and the loss of freedoms by our citizens and property owners."

"In California, CREA is resisting class legislation, special privilege legislation and special rights laws. We plead for equal rights for all as guaranteed by the Constitution."

"In particular," he continued, "and especially for the property owner, we seek to maintain the right of selection, the right to sell or rent to whom and whenever he pleases."

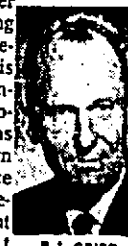

WILSON STATED that he does not see the document as being in conflict with civil

Santa Ana Sherwood Estates Offer Seclusion for Families

"Secluded accessibility" is an important plus-factor attracting home buyers to Sherwood Estates-Santa Ana, new million-dollar residential development of the George D. Buccola Co.

Conveniently located to the triangle of the Santa Ana-Garden Grove-Newport Freeways, the development is within easy reach of key Orange County industrial tracts, schools at all grade levels, and major shopping centers.

"AND YET, the development is delightfully secluded," Developer Buccola pointed out, "We've kept it wooded—and walled it in for added seclusion and protection."

"Privacy and seclusion key-note our homes, too. They're four and five bedroom models, with three or four baths—and two complete floors for friction-free big-family living."

Containing almost 2600 square feet of living area, the homes include such luxury features as carpeting, built-in electric range and oven, dishwasher, huge walk-in closets and two fireplaces in some models. Prices range from $30,950 to $33,250, with excellent financing available.

Sherwood Estates-Santa Ana is located on Santa Clara Ave. between Tustin and Newport Aves. near the Santa Ana Freeway. Furnished models are open from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. daily.

Forum to Discuss Multiple Listing

An open forum discussion of proposed changes in multiple listing service will highlight the program at Thursday's breakfast meeting of the North Long Beach Realty Club.

It will be conducted by Joe Hodge, multiple listing chairman for the Long Beach District Board of Realtors. The club meets at 8 a.m. in Mayo's Restaurant, 5925 Cherry Ave.

Fast Move-ins, No Downs Spur Sunshine Homes Sales

IMMEDIATE OCCUPANCY

Buyers can move right in when dealing with Sunshine Homes at Huntington Beach.

No down payment, immediate occupancy and choice location in the smog-free south coast locale are playing a large part in the continued sales of Huntington Beach Sunshine Homes, Unit No. 3, according to S. V. Hunsaker Jr., vice president of S. V. Hunsaker & Sons, builders and developers of homes in Southern California since 1932.

Located adjacent to a park site, near schools, industrial areas and beaches, these homes have three or four bedrooms, two full baths, family room and over-size two-car garages.

POPULAR features in these quality homes include wall-to-wall carpet, built-in range and oven with hood and exhaust fan, Insinkerator disposer, Formica counter tops, vinyl tile and natural finish cabinets.

Specifications also include silent forced air heat, all copper plumbing, and aluminum sliding windows with screens.

Located in a quiet, residential neighborhood, offering the maximum of privacy, Huntington Beach Sunshine Homes, Unit 3, include the most popular of west coast architectural planning. Furnished model homes are open daily for inspection and may be seen on Heil Avenue between Golden West and Edward streets.

$45 per share for each 13 1/2 shares held of record at the close of business May 17. The rights offering expires June 17.

Sale of the 40,000 shares increases the book value of the bank's stock from $26.18 on 548,375 shares outstanding to $27.46 on 588,375 shares outstanding. Total of the bank's capital stock, surplus and undivided profits rises from $14,354,659 to $16,154,659 in the sale.

Dean Witter & Co. is heading a group including Evans McCormack & Co. and Crowell, Weeden & Co. to underwrite the sale.

C. Arnholt Smith, president and chairman of the board of United States National, said the capital increase will enhance the bank's ability to better serve the growth and financial requirements of the dynamic Southern California area, where the bank now has 29 branches operating in the major five counties.

Diamond Head Houses Score Big Buyer Response

Added value built into the homes at Springdale South's newest unit, the Diamond Head Series, has brought about a huge response during preview showings, reports Sy Bram, executive director of Sunkist Plaza Builders. Bram added that this is possible "because of volume buying and careful planning. This has been responsible for a rapid sales pace in each of the previous Sunkist Plaza developments."

The company, builder of several quality home developments throughout the Southland and one of the most respected building firms, has a huge mass buying power cost, which has resulted in "something that catches the discriminating homebuyer's eye."

To reach the development from Long Beach area, drive east on Garden Grove Blvd., to Golden West Street; right on Golden West (south) to Bolsa Avenue, right on Bolsa to Edwards Street and the have been referred to as some models.

IN OLD WORLD CHARM

Four courtyards divide Meredith Manor Apartments in Fullerton which are open for leasing. Here is a section of one of the units developed by Eddy Meredith.

Prestige Apartment Units Now Leasing

Exclusive Meredith Manor apartment homes in Fullerton, a $3.5 million dollar project, planned and executed by Eddy Meredith, one of Orange County's outstanding builders and designers of fine homes, will be open for advance leasing to adults this weekend.

The Prestige Meredith Manor apartments, located between Harbor and Lemon on Orangefair in Fullerton, consists of 160 units of one, two and 3-bedroom all electric, air-conditioned homes leasing from $175 to $275 per month. They are located on 11-landscaped acres and are the culmination of three years' of planning and designing by the president of The Meredith Co., and his staff to produce the most modern apartment homes in Orange County with the motif and decor of "Old World charm" and in a setting of quiet beauty of shaded malls, sunlit gardens and shaded by giant Mission olive trees to act as screening and to add beauty to four great Olympic-sized pools in the four manor courtyards.

NEREDITH MANOR is divided into four courtyards—Amesbury Court, Birchwood Court, Craillet Court and Danbury Court—each with its own beautifully shaped Olympic-sized pool reflecting the greens of the olive trees and blues of the sky.

New Orleans-style lacy ornamental white wrought iron frames the patios and balconies of the apartment homes, creating the illusion of being in the midst of the Deep South.

Not only the great manor courts but the entire grounds, parkways and entrances are lush with plantings.

Escrow Group to Hear Real Estate Panel

Long Beach Escrow Association will hear a brokers' panel discussion at its Wednesday night meeting at the Lakewood Country Club, 3101 Carson St.

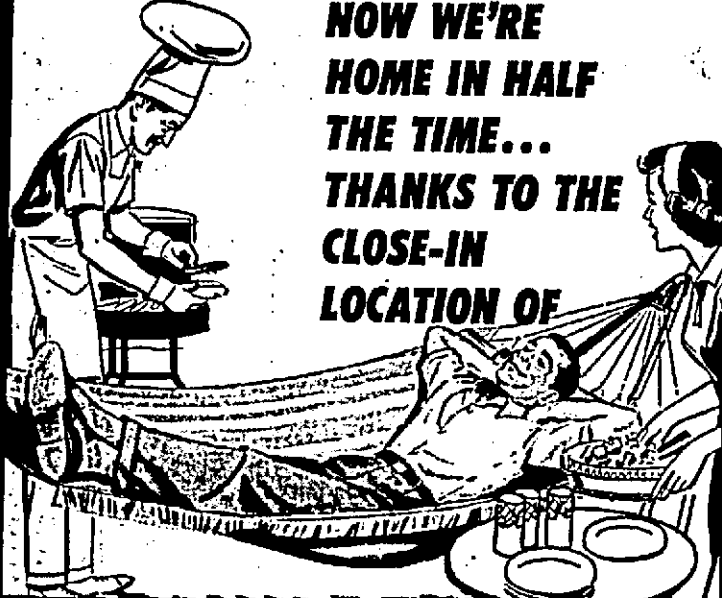

The panel will be sponsored by the Long Beach District Board of Realtors, with Larry Lackman, board attorney, as moderator.

On the panel will be Melvin Mould, board president; Joe Hodge, multiple listings chairman; Isabelle Patterson, realtor; and Mildred Stanley, chairman for publications and public relations.

There will be a social hour at 6:30 p.m., with dinner at 7:30, followed by the program aimed at a better understanding between escrow and real estate people.

Garden Park Estates Offers Large-Family Luxury Homes

Today marks the presentation of Garden Park Estates' new and more spacious versions of the popular "award-winning" two-story luxury homes, expressly designed for comfortable, large-family living. Officials of this "city-within-a-city" at Knott Avenue and Garden Grove Freeway have reported.

To the larger Plan S-C introduced about a week ago, Garden Park Estates '63 unit now has added larger versions of Plans S-A and S-B. These, it was emphasized, are presented in addition to the community's exceptionally wide selection of distinctive one and two-story homes. DESIGNED with two full stories, the new homes have spacious dining rooms, living rooms highlighted by decorated fireplaces, and five bedrooms, one of which is the master bedroom on the second floor. This room has its own fireplace. One-story plans are designed with three and four bedrooms, two attractive baths and family rooms and dining rooms. Exterior elevations in both one and two-story homes include handsome and diverse contemporary and conventional stylings.

FULL PRICES from $18,800 to $25,000, it was explained, and the range of financing includes VA terms of nothing down, except impounds and closing costs; VA; conventional loans, and either 30 or 35-year FHA loans. Furnished models are on display every day until dark. From Long Beach drive east on 7th St. (Garden Grove Freeway) past Long Beach State College straight to Knott Avenue and Garden Park Estates.

LUXURY IN TWO STORIES

"King-size" versions of spacious two-story luxury homes now number three at Garden Park Estates, Knott Avenue and Garden Grove Freeway. The new, larger plans are in addition to the selection of one and two-story, quality-built homes already available, officials emphasized.

$338,220 Project Tops Permits Issued at Anaheim

ANAHEIM—A light week of activity in the Anaheim Building Department was highlighted by one large development of 38 apartment units to be built by Russell Jay at 1412 S. Knott Ave. at a cost of $338,220.

We're proud of this plan!

IT'S NEW FOR 1963! Why fight the inconvenience of an old-fashioned house when this planned-for-the-future home has so many wonderful facets!

Here is the largest, most luxurious master bedroom suite in this price range...a full, private wing of the home including huge walk-in closet and bath! Another wing of the home, with two bedrooms and bath, makes ideal, completely separate children's quarters. The spacious living-dining area, with its unique interior planter court, serves as the center of family entertaining. The conveniently planned kitchen is immediately accessible from the front entrance, the roomy garage and service area, as well as from the dining room. In Troy Hills 3rd Unit, combed redwood fences, furnished at no additional cost to the buyer, provide these homes with an even greater measure of privacy.

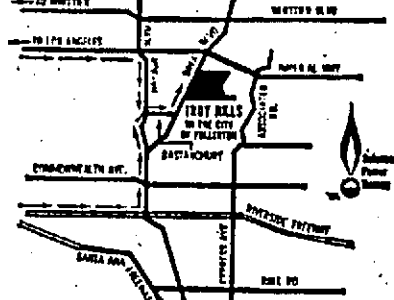

Is the house you own now too small? Outmoded? Why live in yesterday's house when this perfect family home offers you tomorrow's way of life in a prestige Fullerton location near excellent schools with cultural and recreational facilities? You'll be proud to own this home! As proud as we are to have built it! Come out today and see for yourself.

TROY HILLS

Fenced Rear Yards Provided Some Troy Hills Luxury Homes

PRIVACY FOR FAMILIES

Troy Hills in Fullerton provides redwood fences around the large rear yards of some models to assure privacy for the buyers of the large homes. The homes are set on up to one-third acre with some sites commanding a sweeping view of the mountains.

Because family living, and especially children's play activities, center so much in the rear yard of a home, Troy Hills, the prestige community in Fullerton, now includes handsome, durable redwood fences with "700 Plan" homes, announced Jim McCarthy, vice president of the McCarthy Co., co-builders with San Construction. "These attractive fences are a special feature of our popular '700 Plan,'" stated McCarthy, "and all the variety of a true custom community, the sizes of lots vary as do their placement among the hills. Some of the homesites command sweeping views of Mt. Baldy and surrounding mountains.

Homes are set on lots up to a full 1/2 acre in size. With the variety of a true custom community, the sizes of lots vary as do their placement among the hills. Some of the homesites command sweeping views of Mt. Baldy and surrounding mountains.

Troy Hills homes are offered in a wide variety of exterior stylings. Available are choices of seven floor plans, among which is the unique "700 Plan," with the largest master bedroom suite available in this price range, including private bath, and walk-in closet. The plan features double patio design with both front entrance patio and a secluded side patio. Provided also are four bedrooms and formal dining room. Other plans have three or four bedrooms.

Among features are oversized two-car garages with built-in "work-n-hobby" bench and cabinets, modern breakfast bars, ash kitchen cabinets, built-in dishwashers, full length master bedroom mirrors, and optional refrigerated air conditioning.

Troy Hills is reached via Santa Ana Freeway to Riverside Freeway; then left on Harbor Blvd. Fullerton turnoff. North on Harbor through Fullerton to Bastanchury Road, right on Bastanchury to Brea Blvd., and let to model homes.

Priced from $20,950 to $25,500, the homes are offered with VA financing with "no-down payment" terms, FHA terms with $1200 down, 65 percent in private ones.

New-Home 'Headaches' Relieved at Fountainhead

BEAUTY 'RIGHT AT HOME'

Charming Miss Fountainhead, hostess at the new 250-home development in Fountain Valley, relaxes in one of the beautiful living rooms at Fountainhead. The carpeting, drapes and wood-burning fireplace are features of all the homes at Fountainhead.

The fact that owners can move into their new home at Fountainhead and not have to worry about the work and expense usually involved in getting settled is credited with the rapid sales pace in the new Fountain Valley subdivision.

According to Mesa Realty Co., sales director for the 250-home Fountainhead development, the family-ready features of the 3- and 4-bedroom homes are the prime deciding factor in most sales.

"These homes at Fountainhead offer the buyer one thing in particular that he really appreciates," said Lowell Evans, president of Evans Building Co., builders.

"HE KNOWS exactly where he stands financially. There's not that worry and wondering about how much the fencing, the landscaping, carpeting and drapes are going to cost and when he can afford to do it."

Planned and designed specifically as a family community, Fountainhead homes have been built on extra large lots to allow for outdoor play areas as well as plenty of lawn and garden space.

Bolsa Park Decor Holds Big Appeal

"Both men and women are pleased with Bolsa Park's varied decor themes, built around a variety of impressive fireplace treatments," comments Ernie Merrill, sales manager of the Huntington Beach new home development.

"Men are impressed with the handsome appearance and evidence of rugged, lasting quality construction of fireplaces and dwellings, while the ladies are delighted with the beautiful living room focal points the fireplaces create," Merrill said.

THREE, FOUR and five-bedroom plans include family rooms, formal living rooms, dining areas or formal dining rooms, master bedroom suites with private bath and walk-in closets, and attached double garages.

Priced from $20,300 to $23,490, available are veterans no-down payment terms, FHA 30 and 35-year 5 1/4% interest terms with $1200 down, and Cal-Vet financing.

From Long Beach go east on Seventh Street to Golden West, right to Sugar, then right to the models.

Training Course Set for Welders

A free course in welding training will be held Tuesday through Friday at the Crucible Steel Co. of America plant, 6033 E. Bandidi Blvd., Los Angeles.

It is being sponsored by the Los Angeles Board of Education and Crucible Steel, which have invited all area plant maintenance supervisors and welding staff members to attend.

Hours will be from 1 to 4 and 1 to 10 p.m. Prior registration is required at Eutectic Welding Institute, 5348 Jilison St., Los Angeles, 22.

Leisure World Opens Two New Units Today

Sales for two of the final three sections of the giant complex are complete. ALSO INCLUDED in the sale of approximately $1,000,000 is $335 to $419 for a share of the stock in Seal Beach Mutual senior citizen's community in three clubhouses; medical center, amphitheater, transportation within the community, as well as a swimming pool, golf course and therapeutic pools now under construction.

This unique community, one of the nation's largest senior citizen's projects, includes in-home nurse calls, calls to the doctor's office, (whether at medical center on premises or to one's own doctor), drugs, medicines, diagnostic tests and physical therapy treatment in the monthly payment.

The response from buyers from 43 states and Americans living in 11 foreign countries has been amazing. Brangham said "but the apartments themselves represent only a portion of the tremendous appeal of Leisure World."

Carefree Type of Ownership in Continental Town Houses

Development and construction is progressing rapidly at Huntington Continental Town Houses, with an early completion date anticipated for the fabulously successful new community introducing "a new kind of carefree ownership" to Southern California. Located on Brookhurst and Adams in the heart of the Southland's famous beach and resort area, Huntington Continental is designed to offer the security of traditional home ownership, enhanced by the carefree aspects of both renting and vacation-type living.

INCLUDED in the selling prices of the homes are a number of outstanding luxury features such as underground utilities, built-in counter-top range with hood, oven, refrigerator, washer, dryer, disposal, private fenced-in patio, covered carport, forced air heating, "Wife-Saver" kitchen, copper plumbing, color-coordinated interiors and cultured marble tops on bathroom pullmans.

Exterior maintenance embraces full care and upkeep of building exteriors, as well as management and maintenance of landscaping, lawns, parking areas, walk areas and recreational facilities.

CONSTRUCTION VIEWED

Construction Superintendent Don Bixby (right) points out a construction detail on the new $5 1/2 million Huntington Continental Town Houses soon to be completed on Brookhurst Avenue near Pacific Coast Highway in Huntington Beach. Observers are Jack Palmer, vice president and general manager for the western division of Kaufman and Broad Homes, Inc., the builders, and Robert De Haven, regional sales and marketing manager.

Sun City Offering New Model Changes

SUN CITY—Response to recent model changes at Del Webb's Sun City retirement community has been unusually good, reports James J. Welch, project sales manager. Since the six new exterior elevations were unveiled early in May, Welch declared, sales have averaged seven per day at the retirement community where more than 2,000 retirees have become residents since October of last year.

In addition to the six models which are open daily for public inspection, Welch pointed out that two alternate elevations of each model are available for selection by the retired, semi-retired or folks over 50 who are planning retirement.

These facilities—in almost constant use—include a Town Hall capable of seating 70 people with a full size stage, dressing rooms, community kitchen and club rooms; a Greek amphitheater for outdoor programs; a River-bedroom "retirement" homes are still available at Huntington Continental. Their total price is $11,990, with $89 monthly payments that include principal, interest, taxes and insurance. The homes can be financed with a low down payment of $370 that covers all closing costs. Maintenance is an added $8 per month.

THERE ARE two recreation centers with swimming pools and a central recreation building for parties and community get-togethers. The entire development is planned with open park-like areas and will be fully walled to provide maximum protection to residents.

To visit the furnished two-bedroom model homes at Huntington Continental, Drive south on the Santa Ana Freeway to Brookhurst turn-off, south to Brookhurst and Adams.

Meredith Village Has 'Scene Set' for Buyers

Laguna Royale Residents Get Panoramic Sea View

Fashion Homes Near New Douglas Plant

OCEANFRONT LIVING

This aerial view shows how Laguna Royale apartments provide a panoramic view of the ocean with a wide sandy beach serving the residents. The luxury units are located in South Laguna.

Visitors to the ocean-front Laguna Royale, resident-owned apartment development at South Laguna, constantly express their enthusiasm over the panoramic views of ocean, shoreline and sky to be seen from every apartment, according to William E. Churchill, sales director. The $4 million project features 78 resident-owned luxury apartments, each with private balcony and terrace area directly overlooking Cove Royal Beach and the Pacific.

To the west every apartment overlooks a beautiful, gradual sandy beach as well as one of the finest fishing grounds on the coast. The rockbound shore line can be seen for many miles in both directions.

BUILT BY St. Pierre Investment, Inc., the sound-proof building is 11 stories high from the beach side with six deluxe penthouse apartments on the beach.

Two elevators take residents and their guests directly to and from the beach, to all floors and to the subterranean parking so that at no time is stair climbing necessary. At the beach level rock gardens provide a dramatic backdrop for a palm fringed, heated pool. Subterranean parking is unusually ample, with extra space available to residents and 24-hour attendant parking service.

Every apartment has Belgian hollyglass windows to limit glare, Medallion all-electric kitchens with refrigerator-freezer and dishwasher, enclosed laundry center with washer-dryer combination and dressing room lavishly mirrored with plate glass.

RESIDENTS will independently own their own title insured apartment homes entirely carefree of all building and grounds maintenance. Two-bedroom apartments at Laguna Royale are priced from $38,500 and three-bedroom from $58,000. There are just 6 penthouses priced from $62,900 to $74,500. Laguna Royale is at 31423 Pacific Coast Hwy., South Laguna.

Bellflower Women Realtors to Meet

BELLFLOWER — "Create Your Own Tomorrow" will be the topic of the address by Mary L. Vaughan, realtor, of the Burbank Board of Realtors, when she speaks before the Women's Council of the Bellflower District Board of Realtors at the regular monthly luncheon Wednesday, program chairman Frankie Harrell has announced.

The meeting will be held at the Board Auditorium, 9921 Flower St., at noon with President Lena Jenkins presiding.

Mrs. Vaughan was appointed director-at-large of the California Real Estate Association in 1962. She is a past president of the Burbank Board of Realtors.

Fashion Homes Near New Douglas Plant

Employees of major space technology firms, and especially employees of the Douglas Aircraft Co. who will work in the new $78 million plant in Huntington Beach, will find Fashion Homes in Westminster the ultimate in convenience to their work.

Situated just east of the junction of the Garden Grove and San Diego Freeways and within a maximum 10 minute drive from the Huntington Beach Douglas plant, Fashion Homes offer ease of transportation to the Long Beach-Torance manufacturing complex and the Orange County Industrial areas.

Low FHA terms, no down to veterans and full price from $21,950 have already helped to convince more than 100 families that a Fashion Home is the home to buy.

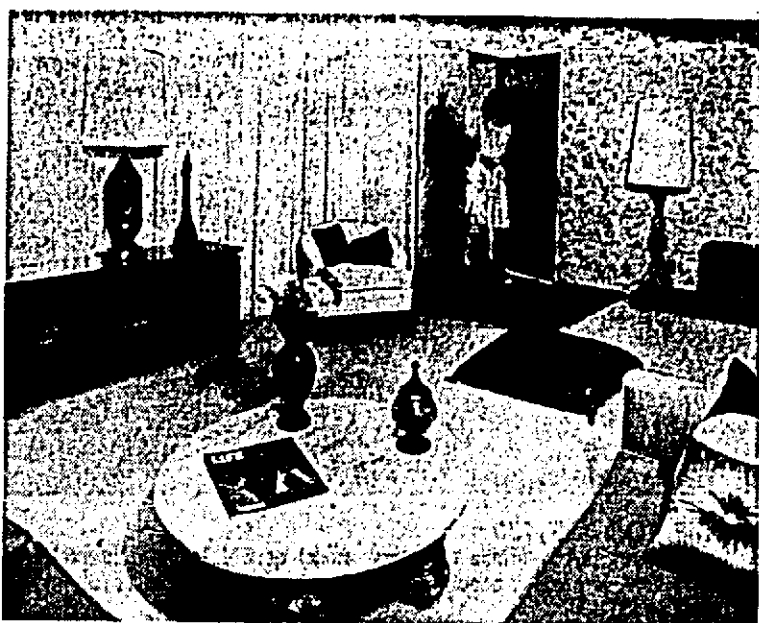

From the Long Beach area, drive east on Seventh St. to Fashion Homes' location. Shopping is "just up the street" and new schools are

Luxury Features at Low Cost Found in Huntington Village

ATTRACTIVE INTERIOR

Large living rooms are one of the many "plus" features of the 1,081-home Huntington Village community in Huntington Beach. The three and four-bedroom homes are priced from $17,925 with $495 down.

"Huntington Village homes offer the luxury features of a $30,000 home for less than $20,000," according to Dan Mytinger, sales manager for the builders of the 1,081-home community in Huntington Beach, the Doyle and Shields Development Co., Inc.

"Sunken indoor planters, an indoor barbeque grill, with electric outlet, the family room, slate entryways, and dishwashers are just a few of the 'extras' found in Huntington Village homes," he continued, "in addition to our standard luxury features including RCA Whirlpool built-in range and oven, fireplace with convenient log lighter, forced air heating, color-coordinated wall-to-wall carpeting in living room, halls and master bedroom."

HUNTINGTON Village's three and four-bedroom, two-bath family room homes are offered in six floor plans and 21 different exterior elevations.

Priced from $17,925 and from $495 down, homes have no balloon payments or due dates and buyers receive deeds to their home and lot. "And," Mytinger pointed out, "we can customize our down payments to fit anyone's pocketbook."

From Long Beach: Take Seventh St. east to Golden West St. Turn south to Edinger, then right to Springdale, and left a short distance to the model homes.

Big Two-Story Home Popular With Buyers

HOME FOR $27,450

The "Americas," luxurious two-story model at Sol Vista International Home Fair, is proving popular. It has 2,136 square feet of space and is priced at $27,450.

The "Americas," one of five luxurious models on display at the Sol Vista International Home Fair in Westminster, is proving popular with buyers since it features 2,136 square feet of living space for only $27,450.

This two-story residence contains an adaptable combination of four bedrooms and a den, or five bedrooms. There are three bathrooms and a 15'x23' family room.

There are 565 balanced power residences in this 160-acre master planned community being developed by the Alco-Pacific Construction Corp. The residents at this new project will have a school as well as park site and be adjacent to a complete shopping center, churches and industrial sites.

FEATURES that have contributed to brisk sales at the International Home Fair include classic lighting fixtures, and Robertshaw thermostat control, custom wallpaper, Hillite aluminum windows as well as doors, sliding door wardrobes, master bedroom-bath-dressing room suites, recessed floor-to-ceiling or raised hearth fireplaces and sunken living rooms.

Ornamental street lights, curbs, sewers and streets are in and paid for.

The five models and sales pavilion may be inspected daily until 8 p.m. at the corner of Westminster Boulevard and Bolsa Chica in Westminster.

Bank to Build at Anaheim

ANAHEIM — United California Bank has purchased the Marywood High School property at the corner of Harbor Boulevard and Broadway as site of a new building for its Anaheim main office. It has been announced by Frank L. King, board chairman.

Pending approval by the banking regulatory bodies, United plans to start construction this fall, with occupancy slated in the spring of '64.

The property comprises one city block of 110,000 square feet. Purchase prices were not disclosed. The bank facility would be on the northeast corner, across from the new public library.

Firm Named as RELCOA Member

Metric Realty of 3740 E. 7th St. has been named a Long Beach representative of the Real Estate Relocation Corporation of America, RELCOA announced last week.

The corporation is a nationwide home finding organization set up to facilitate transfer of personnel in industry.

Special service is provided for families moving into a new area to help them find a home; and also to assist families leaving a community in selling their home.

Murdock Names Leasing Manager

ORANGE—David H. Murdock Development Co., developer and owner of Union Bank Square, has named Robert F. George as leasing representative for the 10-acre financial center, located at Main Street and La Veta Avenue.

George succeeded Kenneth McHale, who has been named project manager and leasing representative for the Murdock company's Community Bank building in San Jose.

George, 30, comes to Orange from Kansas City, where he was assistant manager of the Armstrong Cork Co.'s office.

L.B. Man, Wife Visit Factories at Paris

Glenn Gilmore, of Gilmore Music, Long Beach, was a recent visitor to the factories of G. Leblanc Cie., Paris, "woodwind capital of the world," where he watched final testing of instruments, some of which are destined for shipment to Long Beach.

Gilmore, accompanied by Mrs. Gilmore, were guests of the G. Leblanc Corporation, Kenosha, Wis., widely known American instrument makers and closely affiliated with the Leblanc firm in France.

Student Commuters Flag A Cab

By CURTYNE DRISCOLL

Wayne Stith has been awarded an honorary life membership in the P.T.A.

Leo Rogin and his family never miss an open house at Tucker School, though he has no children who are students there.

William Thayer, a retired mechanical engineer, has had an exhibit of his wood carvings at Tucker.

These men are taxi drivers on the "school run," a remarkable daily operation involving hundreds of children, their parents, school officials and aids and the unsung heroes of the production, the drivers.

The cab drivers are not hand picked for the school run, but as any participating parent or child rider will tell you, they all seem particularly patient, warm-hearted and strong backed.

MANY CHILDREN use taxi service for school transportation privately. Taxi service in the Long Beach Unified School District is for children who qualify under state law for physically or mentally handicapped children. The district has found the use of taxis less expensive than buses, due to the wide area of pickup service.

Transporting handicapped children in the Long Beach Unified School District got its start around 1938, when the district took over the bus owned by Tichenor Clinic School. About 15 students were picked up and delivered on a route covering the entire Long Beach area. It took about an hour for the run.

In 1948 the taxi school run began with students attending classes for the deaf and blind at Franklin and Stevenson. In May of this year, 591 children attending over 25 schools rode taxis.

In the district, 175 school runs are made each way daily, with three or four children sharing a cab. The drivers have regular routes, with the same children as passengers and get very well acquainted with their little charges.

"They are wonderful," said June Dehls, the attractive principal of Tucker School for the Physically Handicapped, 2221 Argonne Ave., speaking of the drivers.

"They work with us and are very helpful. They treat the children like people, which everyone finds very satisfying."

For those unable to navigate it, the drivers, assisted by aids at school and parents at home, lift the children from their wheelchairs into the cab. Lunch boxes, coats, crutches and the art trophies of the day are checked in the trunk. And everybody is tucked away gently under the seat belt, ready to go.

TRANSPORTATION can be cancelled if the child is badly behaved. As anyone who has ever driven a car full of youngsters knows, this can happen occasionally. Very few complaints are received from these drivers.

There are many rumors of kindnesses that no one wants to talk very much about, because it sometimes means a rule has been broken. One of the most important rules for the children and their parents is to be ready when the taxi comes for them. The driver is not allowed to wait more than three minutes under any circumstances.

The drivers call it a "honeymoon express" when they have two children on their run that just HAVE to sit together.

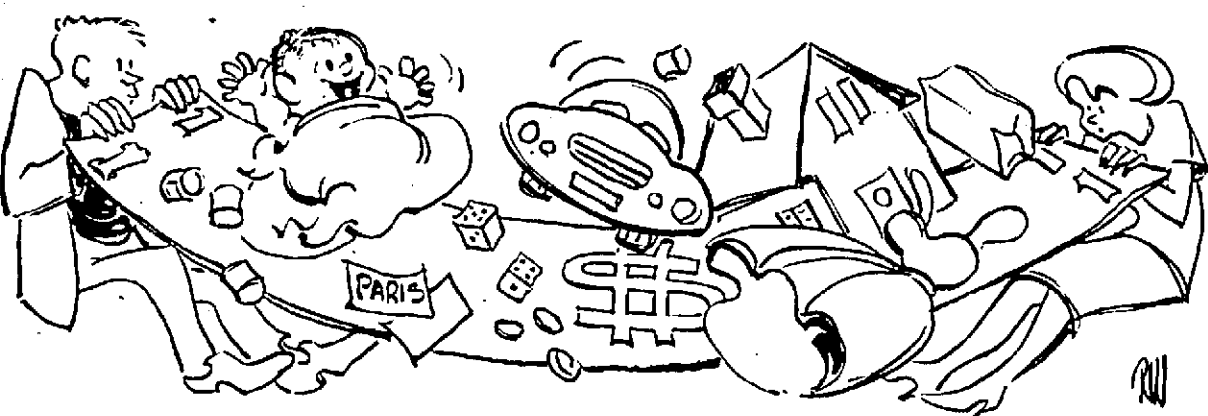

But it was a real honeymoon last year, when one of the drivers married the mother of one of his regulars in a romance which developed over his interest in the passenger!

THIS IS THE WAY we go to school, go to school, go to school. Upper left, "school run" taxis lined up to load at Tucker School.

After Wedding Bells—the Budget!

By ELISE ENERY

Early this spring, 11 Long Beach State College students were given this assignment by Dr. Zelpha Bates:

Find a couple "as newly married as possible."

The purpose: To do a research study of brides, bridegrooms and their budgets for a home economics course in Home Project Management.

"We thought it might be difficult to find young couples willing to have their financial plans analyzed, but it was no problem at all," said one of the students.

"THE WORD got around and each of us had a case study going in no time."

Annual net incomes of the newlyweds ranged from $3,240 to $17,000. Each couple kept a detailed record of all earnings and expenditures for one month.

Then, with the student-counselor, a proposed budget was worked out.

Before class members undertook this study, they had a thorough grounding in money management and learned this cardinal rule:

Just as there is no one foolproof formula for a successful marriage, there is no one perfect budget for families.

Each couple must begin by deciding what its goals and values are, then devise a spending plan.

"Be realistic," advised one counselor. "Realize that you can't have everything."

Sometimes newlyweds are unaware of each other's goals.

One bride and bridegroom discovered this for the first time in talking with their counselor.

Married in February, they have a monthly income of $470. His $320 is augmented by the $150 she earns working part time in a dress shop.

He is 20, and is an auto mechanic. She is 17 and is finishing her education at evening high school. They planned to start their family in five years.

Until they talked about budgeting for goals, she didn't know he wanted to start his own garage in three years, hoped within the next 10 years to save enough money to travel throughout the United States, then move to Northern California and buy an expensive home there.

HE DIDN'T KNOW that she planned to take a secretarial course, buy new furniture and maintain an excellent wardrobe.

At the end of the month of record keeping the bride said, "I had a hard time trying to remember to write down everything I bought this month. I don't think I like this part of budgeting."

"Things are a little confusing for me yet, since this is my first month of marriage. I really don't know what kind of meat to buy at the store or if it is a bargain or not. I guess this will come with practice."

THEY WORKED out a practical budget, but before the several months study was completed they found they would have to do some revising. They will become parents by the end of their first year of marriage.

Their current problem is to scale expenses down to his salary and also to provide for her medical expenses and the baby's needs.

For another couple, married six months, goals are specific. A college graduate, 25, he nets $501.54 a month as a mathematician for an electronics firm.

She is 22, will graduate from college next year and intends to find a job with a minimum yearly salary of $4,000.

About Parties, Reunions and Wanderlust

Patriotic, Fraternal Units Calendar Events

By Iola Masterson
I. P.T. Women's Editor

IT WAS a blazing good razing party when Arlie and Al Stevenson and daughter, Ethel Severson, had a farewell party for their about-to-be gutted home; titled it "Arrivederci Villa Nane L'Originale." The really sparkling affair took place last Saturday night. Pictured below prior to the cocktail buffet (about 218 attended) looking over plans for the restoration of their place on Santiago are Ethel, architect Kenny Wing, Al and Arlie.

Away with the old... here comes the new!

Assisting at the big merry affair were Helen and Jonah Jones, Clare and Lynn Hossom, John and "B" Hancock, Tess and Francis Heusel, Martha and Mickey Gould, Nada Richards, Helen and Frank Reagan, Doris and Jim Wood, Jan and Bill Dummitt, Dorothy and Dan Dunlap, Peg and Houston Fairley, Mildred and Kenny Wing and Arlie's sister, Ethel Daly. Whew! They certainly had well attended guests, didn't they? Among them were Egypt Princesses Fathia and husband, Riad Gali, and Fawzie.

The "new" house will be Grecian-Roman in style and they're adding about 2,300 square feet making it double story with big balcony. About the only thing that won't be torn away are the bearing walls of the old house, as I understand it.

Al, Arlie, Ethel and son, Corky, leave soon on a flight to Greece. There they'll board a big cruising yacht for sail along Greek Islands. They'll visit Turkey, Egypt plus Europe, again, returning to their re-done house late August. Actually house won't be ready so they'll have to rent awhile. Incidentally, this will be Al's FIFTH trip to Europe THIS year; the others all on business safaris to various places.

REACHING for the sky and literally up in the clouds in Bernice Stansbury's gorgeous ocean view penthouse apartment were Marilyn Kimble's Petroleum Club board wives at luncheon the other day. Sitting around in the beautiful spot and congratulating themselves on the $4,500 they'll turn over to Children's Memorial Hospital, proceeds from their recent club benefit ball, were Janie Custer, Kay Beach, May Sippelle, Marie Sechrest, Joan Harrison, Lenell Benoist, Helen Kellogg, Marilyn and, of course, the hostess.

MORE ON tonight's biggest high school reunion of Wilson High's classes of the '30s at Petroleum Club. Because they can't handle as many as wanted to attend, the party's main star, former Bruin teacher and the spirit leader of the school, Katie Harrison, is determined not to miss any of her old student chums.

Here from Bourbon, Mo., especially for the event, she is staying in the best suite at the Breakers' International. She'll hold kind of open house in the lobby of the hotel (foyer, if you prefer) Monday from 2 to 5 and again from 7 to 10. Tuesday from 9 to 11 a. m., 2 to 5, and from 7 to 10. Also on Wednesday from 9 to 11 and from 2 to 4. Leave it to Katie!

The trip out here, in addition to the party, are all "on the house," a gift from her adoring students throughout the '30s.

IT WAS dubbed "Send Off to Summer" party when Lakewood Aid Leaguers took time out for fun Saturday at Adele and Harry Cossarek's Lakewood Country Club Estates home. Among those throwing cares to the breezes during the swimming, dining and dancing night were Prexy Kay Anderson, and husband Joe, Verna and Ray Larsen, Patty and Ed Coyne, Mary Ann and Ney Abrahamson, to name a few of the 40 or so there. Only "business" of the evening was managing to sneak into the conversation, to impress husbands, no doubt, how the active members have spent 2,018 volunteer hours for the good of their causes.

IN HIGH good humor, past presidents of Ebell Club properly inducted Virginia (Mrs. Everett N.) Morningstar into their august group during a delightful luncheon and card party in Gertrude (Mrs. Will H.) Winston's perfectly lovely, very smart apartment at Villa de Napoli. The initiation was conducted by Lucille (Mrs. Harold O.) Gray, junior past president, assisted by Genevieve (Mrs. James) Bryan. There were 23 X-es present.

SUCH excitement for teen-agers! Nada Richards' daughter, Gale Young, 16, and "Chilli" and Mickey Jones' daughter, Robin, 15, will go July 14 all alone (together, but alone) on a flight to Japan. Robin (left, below) and Gale are studying up on things Oriental. Six years or so ago when Gale's grandparents, Helen and Jonah Jones, were in Japan they had a charming guide. They asked her if she could recommend a girl pen pal for Gale. She could—her sister, Mausami. So the two have pen-paled it ever since. Mausami's father is a professor of English literature at the University of Kyoto—so the family speaks English. Girls will travel with Mausami, now a college student, as their guide and chaperone throughout Japan.

Trip nears... excitement's building up.

In the meantime, back at the ranch known as Long Beach, mothers, Nada and Mickey, with Nada's son, Robin Young, have high plans to fly to Honolulu in August to rendezvous with daughters on their return; then all fly back here together.

Families here have met all of Mausami's family (except for her mother and one sister) because all have been in the U.S. one time or another in the interim. Mausami, an AFS student in this country two years ago, was Gale's houseguest briefly.

NOW HEAR THIS, all you sailors, be ye big boaters or small. Now that the boating season is really here it's time to heed the words of a very nice and helpful guy by name of Lt. (j.g.) Lloyd Ritchie, USN, officer in charge of the U.S. Navy Branch Hydrographic Office, 114 West "B" St., Wilmington. In April I wrote about people who cruised in the Gulf of California and were able only to get a chart published in 1870. Well, Lloyd (pictured below with one of his up-to-the-MINUTE charts) wrote me smartly back and said in no uncertain terms, "No, Ma'am!"

Happy sailing... If you follow right charts.

He says his office and their sales agents (locally that would be John Miller at his Long Beach Marine Hardware) have the latest charts, plus up-to-date descriptive texts (the sailing directions) for practically, if not all areas, any boater could desire. Go tell them exactly where you're going and they'll see that you have the right chart.

Lloyd also now has a new Trans-Pacific Race chart which he'd love to see every mariner have in his den. It's a special issue and he thinks real yachting enthusiasts would love one in order to follow their favorites in the big Trans-Pac race which begins from here to Honolulu July 4.

MUCH MERRIMENT as Downtown Optimist Club had its annual installation dinner Friday p.m. at the Edgewater. Glad-handing the jolly crowd on arrival were new officers and spouses President Norman White and wife, Helen, also Maryalyn and Wilbur Rivard, Ariene and Bill Lockyer and Suzanne and Bob Wenke. As Wilbur put it, it was a 2-D and 1-C night—dining, dancing and cocktails.

Corner Sheepskin Market

By CHARLES SUTTON
Somebody ought to look into the activities of the Sidney Guthman family of 2000 Park Ave., Long Beach. They're trying to corner the market in sheepskins.

As yet, the family's manipulations haven't come to the attention of the authorities; nevertheless, the facts add up to a clear case of cultural conspiracy.

Item—Mr. Guthman, a rabbi and teacher, has a Bachelor's Degree, a Master's Degree and is now working toward his doctorate in sociology at USC. (He wants three, no less.)

Item—Mrs. Guthman (first name, Eleanor) has a BA in Oriental languages. (University of Chicago, 1938.)

Item—Daughter Betty, 17, is studying at UCLA for a BA in liberal arts.

BUT THE final and conclusive link in this incriminating chain of circumstances was discovered Friday at Long Beach State College's commencement exercises.

At that time, the Guthman family added two more sheepskins to its collection: Mrs. Guthman, 46, received her MA in elementary education; her son, David, 20, got his BA in political science.

What accounts for the Guthmans' apparently insatiable appetite for diplomas and education?

It's hard to say, admits Mrs. Guthman, a slender, good-looking woman of seemingly inexhaustible vitality. "But I think the atmosphere in our home has had something to do with it," she adds. "It's been one of probing and seeking. We have lots of books and magazines around the house, and our visitors are invariably thought-provoking people. All these things have had a tendency to stimulate us."

MRS. GUTHMAN herself has never tired of learning, despite years of interruptions for earning a living and raising a family—which explain her 25-year delay in taking her master's.

"I guess I've been in and out of college all my adult life," she says. (The list of schools, by the way, reads like something out of an academic handbook: University of Chicago, Radcliff, San Antonio College, San Fernando State and Long Beach State.)

The fact that she's got her MA now doesn't mean to say, however, that she's calling it quits as a student. Heavens no, she so much as says.

Even if she doesn't matriculate at another school, her education will—nay, must—go on. For, as Mrs. Guthman explains, "a teacher can never stop."

"I plan to continue at State and go into the foreign language department," she says. Since a new state law requires modern foreign languages to be taught in elementary schools starting next year, she feels she can teach Spanish.

Meanwhile, she's already teaching first and second graders at Wilmington Park Elementary School. She also teaches Hebrew two nights a week at adult classes at State; and two nights a week she attends classes as a pupil.

The rest of the time? "Oh, I'm a housewife, of course," she says. Of course.

A 100-Year Span-- Pioneer Days to Space Age

By ELISE EMERY

Monday, as she has for the past years, Mrs. Mary L. Gunby arrived at Rafael's House of Beauty, 4719 E. Anaheim St., for her standing appointment.

She came alone by taxi. After her hair was shampooed and dressed, the shop's beauty operators sang "Happy Birthday" and presented her with remembrances. Rafael gave her a dozen fragrant, red roses and an orchid.

Blue eyes twinkling, Mrs. Gunby said to Rafael's assistant: "You'd better kiss me, Carlo. You'll never have another chance to kiss a girl 100 years old."

Mrs. Gunby was born in Naperville, Ill., June 4, 1863.

Her father was Swiss, her mother French. bought Pine Avenue and other property.

HER PARENTS, with other members of their family, had lived and worked in New Orleans, saving money for the move to Illinois.

Finally, with all their possessions packed in chests, the little group began the trip upriver. The riverboat snagged and all luggage was lost overboard, including the chest which held the family's gold.

They went on to work and save again in Illinois. They heard of fine farming land in Missouri and at last, when Mary was 4 years old, they bought land in what is now Chilli-cothe.

MARY'S MOTHER bore 12 children, 8 of whom survived to adulthood. Her mother died when Mary was still a very young girl, and she took on the home responsibilities for her brothers and sisters.

She later married, but her husband died within a short time.

The young widow apprenticed herself to a famous dress designer and later became head designer for the largest store in the Midwest outside of Chicago, then known as Boleen, More & Emery.

Many of her customers traveled to Paris for fabrics which they brought for Mary to design into elegant gowns. Her career spanned 20 years.

IN 1900, SHE married Edward S. Gunby. They came to Los Angeles, living first "out in the country" at Eighth and Hill.

Soon the Gunbys bought a ranch, land which now comprises parts of Compton and Watts.

Then, with their infant daughter, Susan, they moved to the little seaside village of Long Beach in 1903.

For many years Mr. Gunby was a partner in the Helps and Gunby real estate and insurance firm and was one of the founders of the First National Bank.

During the busy years that followed, Mary Gunby worked actively with her husband in the real estate business.

"MY HUSBAND often asked my advice and followed it. I'll take a woman's business judgment any time as quickly as I will a man's. In many ways women are smarter than men," said her mother.

It was implicit in her philosophy that "people should take care of their own." Long before the era of government social aid, she helped the needy, paying doctor bills, nursing the sick, buying groceries, lending money she knew never would be repaid.

Mr. Gunby died in 1947 and eventually Mrs. Gunby moved to the 10th floor apartment in the Willmore which she now shares with her daughter, Mrs. Susan Virgilis.

"IT HAS ALWAYS been difficult to get mother to talk about the past," said Mrs. Virgilis. "She has constantly believed in progress and looks always to the future. She traveled a great deal and particularly delighted in flying. A lifelong Republican, she never misses a chance to vote."

Monday evening Mrs. Gunby entertained three longtime Long Beach friends at dinner, Mrs. Anna Dutch, Mrs. Mary Brandenburg and Mrs. Vida Harrison.

On her birthday, Tuesday, some 100 guests called to offer congratulations at an open house reception. Gifts and cards poured in and dozens of bouquets transformed the apartment into a garden.

HER POSTURE beautifully erect, gowned in a smart blue silk sheath, Mrs. Gunby looked out of the window at the Long Beach shoreline.

"It has been a most wonderful 100 years to live through," she said. "I have seen the hardships of log cabin life as a settler in Missouri, watched Long Beach grow from a small resort to a metropolis, with all the changes that implies. There has been the development of the airplane from the first small planes to the great jets. And now—the space age, with its ever increasing wonders."

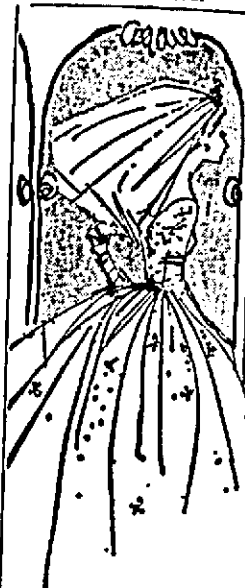

"ALWAYS LOOK TO THE FUTURE," is the creed Mrs. Mary L. Gunby has lived by. First of several celebrations marking her 100th birthday took place at Rafael's House of Beauty Monday when she arrived for regular appointment. Rafael (left) presented her with sheaf of roses.

Winter Nuptials Planned

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Upton Albright entertained recently in their Danville home to announce engagement of their daughter, Sue, to Stephen Calvert Strong, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Calvert Strong, 3940 California Ave.

The betrothal was revealed earlier to Delta Gamma Sorority sisters of the bride-elect with the traditional candle lighting ceremony.

MISS ALBRIGHT will be graduated in June from San Jose State College. Her fiancé, an alumnus of Long Beach Poly, attended San Jose State where he majored in business administration and affiliated with Delta Upsilon.

They plan a winter wedding in Danville and will reside in Northern California. The prospective bridegroom is employed in San Francisco.

DAR to Install

The spring party and installation of officers for Long Beach Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will take place Tuesday noon at Mr. C's Restaurant.

Installed will be Mrs. John S. Moffet as regent and her slate of officers, Mmes. Marvin T. Roberson, Theodore Heinrich, Glenn E. Taylor, Franklin Thee, James J. Radcliffe, William Sandison and the Misses Jennie Miller, Edith Holton and Laura Moore.

HURRAH FOR THE RED, WHITE AND BLUE!

Flag Day Tea Set by GOP

Invitations are out for a tea to be given at the home of Mrs. Frej E. Hagelberg, 4215 Pacific Ave. Friday from 2 to 5 p.m. by the 32nd Congressional District Republican Women, Federated.

Flag Day will be celebrated and the U.S. flag will be used in array throughout the house and garden. The hostess planned the garden for the party with growing flowers in red, white and blue. Mrs. James Morrison is in charge of decoration.

A birthday cake, honoring the 10th anniversary of the group will be cut by Mrs. George Taubman Jr., first president. Other guests will include members of the first board, all charter members and Mmes. Hannah Nixon, mother of Richard Nixon; Joanne Goldwater Ross, daughter of Senator Goldwater; Walter Brennan, wife of the actor, and Pat Hitt, Republican National Committeewoman.

GREETING members and guests will be the president, Mrs. Robert Albright, and her board, who will act as hostesses for the day.

Mrs. R. L. Schmidt is chairman of the event. Her committee includes Mmes. Raymond Grobaty, Jo T. Spivey, Gustaf Erickson and Hagelberg. Tee table hostesses will be Mmes. Lee Benno and Lloyd Shidler.

Reservations may be made now with Ann Cole or Mrs. Annette Brewer for the reception, luncheon and fashion show planned for Sept. 10 at the Lafayette Hotel to be sponsored by the 32nd Congressional District Republican Women.

Apartment Dwelling Has Its Drawbacks

DEAR MRS. MAYFIELD:

My complaint is a petty one but then it's always the little things that prove to be the most upsetting.

I am a widow and not long ago I sold our home and moved into an apartment. All my house-dwelling friends were the first to suggest it. Apartment living was just what I needed.

Well, here I am with noisy young people upstairs, party-giving young people next door and two bachelors across the hall who play music all hours of the night.

My "sound-proof" little piece of heaven sounds like Grand Central Station at commuter time.

I can't spend all my money moving from place to place looking for congenial neighbors and I can't stand the noise. Am I just too difficult in my old age?

—UNHAPPY.

DEAR UNHAPPY:

Like everything else, shopping for an apartment these days takes a lot of hard work. The apartments' appeal to various age groups can usually be determined by what kind of emphasis is put on the services.

Dear Molly Mayfield

If the swimming pool is the first item mentioned you can be sure that the young unmarrieds are being wowed. If the ads mention the quiet neighborhood, the proximity of restaurants and shopping, chances are they are set up for an older clientele.

You are going to find, however, that every apartment house is going to have various age groups. Noise is a relative thing. It can loom loud if you let it, or it can be largely ignored. Have parties of your own, play music if you like, or turn on the television. Before long you won't notice you even have neighbors unless they stop by to borrow.

Most of all don't look back on the years when you were a happy homemaker. Everything in the past takes on a rosy glow especially when wrapped with happy memories of departed loved ones.—M.M.

DEAR MRS. MAYFIELD:
Life is just a bore. Hobbies, reading, sermons, radio, boys and school all bore me. I think I look older than my years because I want to live ahead of God and life. I'm 14, a girl, and life is already over.—BORED TO DEATH.

DEAR BORED:

It would be laughable if I didn't believe you. The trouble is that there are so many of you, tired of it all at 14. Too many nights up and too many milk shakes down. Too much experience and too little to express.

But you state it best. The creature can't outrun the creator. Adam and Eve knew and so do you.

Sleep more, eat better, attend church, square up and one of these mornings you'll come alive again.—M.M.

There Are No Rainy Days Ahead for Child Model

...at eight, she has social security

Staff photos by Bob Shumway

By MARY ELLIS CARLTON
I, P-T Fashion Editor

Appealing Janise Borner doesn't have Marilyn Monroe dimensions and she can't figure her own income tax. . . . She couldn't tell you her Social Security number or who tabulated the most votes in last week's election. . . . She's probably never even heard of trig, algebra or calculus—and she couldn't care less. . . . She's too busy figuring in some pretty exciting events that make up her own many-sided world.

A PRETTY busy world it is, too.

Take her TV-ing. Pretty, brown-haired Janise has appeared in bit parts with Gene Kelly on his "Going My Way" series, with Bing Crosby on his video Christmas party and with Edie Adams on her show.

Also, she does fashion modeling on land (usually at the Elks Club or Welch's) and on the sea (regular shows aboard the Great White Steamer to Catalina).

She cuts quite a figure on the dance floor, too. Recently she and her partner out-stepped other contestants in the ballroom category (cha cha, fox trot, swing) to dance off with the "academy award" at Granger's Dance Academy.

And she's often called upon to belt out one of her racy song-and-dance numbers (like "Oh, Johnny" or "Peggy O'Neil") for local programs.

Fact is, most any young thing would give a king's ransom in bubble gum to follow in her footsteps.

BUT PINT-SIZED Janise Borner, just-turned-8, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Borner, 211 W. 48th St., takes her small-world claim to fame very calmly.

It's fun, yes.

But Janise admits sometimes she'd rather climb fences, play with her dolls or tend her pets—a gold fish named Pat ("because I don't know if it's a boy or a girl"), a pair of kittens dubbed Pete and Re-Pete and a Springer pooch that answers to Queenie ("she's named after Queen Elizabeth because mother's from Canada").

She works those in, too, though—in and around a well-disciplined schedule of second grade studies at John A. Sutter Elementary School, modeling and TV assignments . . . also voice, ballet, ballroom and tap dancing lessons.

JANISE has been doing fashion shows since she was four, after taking a modeling course at Elda Barry's Vogue Modeling Agency.

Local shows usually bring $5 an hour; shows in Los Angeles net $25.

She got her social security card last year; filed an income tax this year.

Among her other business credentials: a Screen Children's Guild card, a Long Beach modeling permit, also a work permit from the L. A. school system.

Her mother, Marjorie, explains: "When Janise works at a studio in Hollywood, she goes to school right on the set. During an eight-hour day, she's required to work in three hours of schooling."

TAKEN AT AGE 4, one of first modeling pictures prophesies few rainy days ahead for poised, talented Janise Borner.

CHIC MRS. BORNER fits, quite nicely, into the mother-of-a-child-model role.

Said one head of a model agency for children: "Modeling doesn't hurt the children—but it's tough on mothers. They have to be on the go from morning to night, taking their children from one place to another, supervising try-outs and try-ons, keeping the kids happy so they'll photograph well."

"When I consider booking a child, I always look at the mother first. If she's high-strung, nervous or too aggressive, I end the interview right there, no matter how attractive the child may be."

What should a mother do to train her child to be a model?

"Nothing," says the model agency head. "Just let the child be natural."

And that's exactly what Marjorie Borner does.

"I want Janise to be whatever she wants to be," says Mrs. Borner. "My philosophy is to give her everything I can in the way of lessons and training. Then it's up to her, when old enough, to make up her own mind."

And what does cute Janise Borner want to be when she grows up?

A teacher, says she.

"Well, at least, maybe she'll be a MODEL teacher," quips her mother.

Dancing Featured at Show

Susy's School of Dance will present a variety show in Exhibit Hall of Municipal Auditorium Monday at 8 p.m., sponsored by the Long Beach Recreation Department.

The show will feature a wide range of acts from jazz to the classics.

Key Seaton, owner and teacher-choreographer, will present both specialty acts and group numbers. Included will be "Ebb Tide," Sandy Klinger; "I Feel Pretty," Honey Kessler; "Ballin' the Jack," Steve and Renee Des Jardins; "Darktown Strutters Ball," Michelle Dunyan and Patty Gray.

GLADYS BARNETT, teacher-choreographer, has prepared her interpretation of the third act of "Swan Lake." Dancers include Lynn Tibbetts, Chris Salcido, Debbie Shinn, Gaylee Jackson, Cathy Barnett, Kim Niehouse and Jane James.

Carl H. Robertson will lead the community singing to open the program at 7:30 p.m. with Regenia Beam as accompanist.

The Tye Orchestra will play for the old time and square dancing which follows the stage show. Joe Marshall will be the caller.

The public is invited to this free program.

Brides, Bridegrooms--and Budgets!

They will save the money she earns for two-and-a-half years, living on his income. With the $10,000, they will spend at least a year traveling in Europe.

They have no intention of owning a home now, and possibly never. They don't want to be tied down by possessions. Meanwhile, they share interests in music, reading, drama and gourmet food.

Although they have no installment payments, they are repaying an $850 loan for his college education. Reported their counselor:

"IN DISCUSSIONS, I helped my young couple to weigh values in relation to goals. They realized that they couldn't eat steak every night, live in a lovely apartment, have the latest in stereo equipment, go dining and dancing several times a month, finance two college educations--yet still repay loans, begin a savings plan and provide for quarterly or annual expenses."

As a result, the pair has set up a regular savings plan and is investigating life and health insurance. They still are determined to have their year in Europe.

THE COUPLE with the lowest net monthly income, $270, is managing better than many with higher salaries.

Because he is in service, they can shop for most of their needs at the PX. They are expecting their first child later this year and hope to have another before he completes his service in two years to take advantage of low medical rates.

He is 20; she is 19. When he is discharged, he will be trained to take a good job in electronics. They will return to their former home in Northern California to raise their family. Their religion is an important part of their lives and they intend to increase church activities.

EACH OF THE 11 couples studied had individual problems and objectives. In the words of one student counselor, "This was a two-way project. The adviser and young couple both are learning."

"Money is not the secret of happiness in marriage or in life, and lack of money need not spell unhappiness if a person is well-integrated and well-adjusted. An objective attitude toward money and a sound plan for its use, however, is an important phase of mature living. Money management on a teamwork basis can lead the way to smooth economic adjustments, and rapport thus established can help to bring harmony to the many other elements that are a part of family living."

He remarked, "There are two ways to tell when Mr. X has a good hand. First his face lights up and then he misplays it."

Mrs. Pinsky to Assume Presidency

Florence Chapter, Jewish National Home for Asthmatic Children, Denver, Colo., will install Mrs. Sam Pinsky president for the coming year.

The luncheon ceremony will take place Thursday at 11:30 a.m. in Edgewater Inn, 6400 Pacific Coast Highway.

MRS. PINSKY, 4723 E. Broadway, a past president and charter member of the chapter, is in charge of reservations for the event which is open to the public. Others to take office will be Mmes. Herman Klein, Anna Coropoff, Irving Krimm, Sam Feldman and Harry Ziegler.

West opened the king of diamonds. South took dummy's ace and after mentioning the fact that he was glad he had not bid seven South played dummy's deuce of spades. East played low and South went up with his ace. West showed out and the Christmas tree lights were shortcircuited. The rosy glow turned to a deep purple as South studied the hand but there was nothing he could do to salvage anything from the wreck. He had to lose a club and a trump.

IF SOUTH had done his thinking before leading to the second trick he would have done all right. He would have seen that his only worry was a five-zero trump break and that he could handle it if East held the five trumps.

Then he would have played dummy's jack of spades. West would show out and South would lead a low spade. If East played low, South would finesse the eight. If East played the ten or nine, South would cover and go back to dummy for a further finesse.

Wedding Bells Ring Out This Weekend

Senske-Flynn

James Roger Senske, son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Senske, 2745 Baltic Ave., claimed as his bride, Judith Kathleen Flynn of Santa Barbara in a noon ceremony Saturday at San Roque Catholic Church, Santa Barbara.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George T. Flynn of that city. She wore for her vows a gown of tulle taffeta fashioned in a slim sheath with a bouffant overskirt forming a brush train. Her veil of French illusion fell from a coronet crown of lace and she carried a nosegay of white roses and stephanotis.

Included in the entourage were Rae Ruggiero, maid of honor; John R. Senske Jr., best man; Patty Lynch, Karen Jacobsen, Terry Renga and Cathy Simmons, bridesmaids; and Richard J. Senske, Robert W. Senske, John J. Flynn and George T. Flynn, ushers.

The newlyweds are on a honeymoon trip to Carmel and will be at home after April 15 in Inglewood. The bride is a student at Mount St. Mary's College in Los Angeles; her husband is a graduate of St. Anthony's High School and Loyola University. He is a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon and played varsity basketball for three years.

Wulfsberg-Smith

Carolyn Dee Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max F. Smith, Wilmington, became the bride of David Einar Wulfsberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Wulfsberg, 5461 La Pasada, in an evening service Saturday at California Heights Methodist Church.

The bride was attended by Sandra Borow, maid of honor; Sharon Balk, Gay McGee, Judy King and Elaine Wulfsberg, bridesmaids; and Carla Wulfsberg, junior bridesmaid. Cindy Wulfsberg was candle lighter.

Richard and James Wulfsberg, twin brothers of the bridegroom, served as best men and ushers were Paul Schroeder, Gary Damron, John Hutchison, Thomas Jones, Chris Smith, Mike Anderson and Martin Anderson.

The newlyweds will reside in Los Angeles while both take graduate studies at UCLA, he in law and she in English. The bride is a graduate of Cal Western University, San Diego, and her husband took his undergraduate study at Pasadena College.

Guest-Morton

United States Naval Academy Chapel, Annapolis, Md., was setting Friday afternoon for the marriage ceremony uniting Ens. George R. Guest and Virginia L. Morton.

Parents of the newlyweds are Mr. and Mrs. George A. Guest, 6340 Cerritos Ave., and Mr. and Mrs. C. Robert Morton, Dallas, Tex.

A sheath silhouette gown with overskirt of miramist taffeta and Alencon lace was worn by the bride. She also wore her mother's wedding veil of pearl-sprinkled English illusion and carried phalaenopsis orchids and roses.

Members of the wedding party were Mrs. L. P. Wood, matron of honor; Midshipman Fred Hufnagel, best man; Hope Baldwin, Betty Lou Barnes, Cynthia Freeman, Rebecca Quinn and Debora Morton, bridesmaids; and Ensigns John C. Wall, James A. Lanier III, Major K. Howe, Charles B. Robbins and 2nd Lt. James A. Branscome, ushers.

The newlyweds will be at home July 20 in Pensacola, Fla., following a honeymoon trip to New England, Mexico and California.

The bride is a graduate of Mary Baldwin College and her husband was graduated from Jordan High School and the Naval Academy.

Terry-Johnson

A reception for 200 guests at Long Beach First Ward of the Latter Day Saints Church Saturday evening followed the morning marriage ceremony in the LDS Temple, Los Angeles, of David Lee Terry and Linda Lee Johnson.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer J. Johnson, 2385 Golden Ave., the bride wore a gown fashioned by her mother with lace bodice and skirt of tulle over satin. She wore an orange blossom crown to hold her bouffant veil and carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis and carnations surrounding an orchid.

Attendants for the couple were Karen L. Page, Catherine M. Robins, bridesmaids; David H. Johnson, best man; and Joe Price and Robert L. Ward, ushers.

Both young persons were graduated from Polytechnic

High School and continued studies at Brigham Young University, Provo, Utah. The bride also attended Long Beach City College. Her husband, son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Terry, Long Beach, served a 2½-year mission in Mexico for his church and currently is a student at Long Beach State College.

They will reside in Long Beach on return from a coastline honeymoon.

Cavanagh-Demers

Currently on a honeymoon trip to Carmel following their Saturday wedding at St. Athanasius Catholic Church are Mr. and Mrs. Maurice F. Cavanagh.

The former Dolores Demers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Demers, 4410 Long Beach Blvd., wore a floor length gown of taffeta and Chantilly lace, and carried white orchids for her marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Butts were honor attendants. Completing the wedding party were Marilyn Cavanagh, bridesmaid, and Tom Reggin, Kelly Cavanagh and Barry Erben, ushers.

The new Mrs. Cavanagh is a graduate of Jordan High School and attended Long Beach City College. Her husband, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley P. Cavanagh, Downey, is a student at LBCC where he is affiliated with Order of Kisab.

Hazelton-Blosser

A floor length gown of Chantilly lace was selected by Ruth Ellen Blosser for her marriage Saturday evening to Richard Franklin Hazelton at First Methodist Church.

She completed her costume with a fingertip length veil caught to a tiara of pearls and crystals, and carried a cascade bouquet of roses and stephanotis with an orchid. She is the daughter of Mrs. Margaret L. Blosser, Long Beach.

Mrs. Frederick Kergan was matron of honor for the bride, and Janet Warren and Mrs. Kenneth Gilson were bridesmaids.

The bridegroom, son of Mrs. James L. Hazelton, Los Alamitos, and the late Mr. Hazelton, was attended by James Hazelton as best man, and Kenneth Hazelton and Loren L. Baumgardner, ushers.

A reception followed the vow exchange and the newlyweds now are on a honeymoon trip to Phoenix and the Grand Canyon. They will be at home at Los Alamitos after June 16.

The new Mrs. Hazelton received early schooling in Saginaw, Mich., attended Cerritos College and was graduated from Air Lines School of the Pacific. Her husband is a graduate of Ohio State University where he affiliated with Alpha Sigma Phi. Among his affiliations are Masons, Toastmasters, Young Republicans and Ohio State University Association.

BYU Seniors Marry in Los Angeles Temple Rite

Los Angeles Temple, Latter Day Saints, was the setting for the recent marriage of Diane Denos and Dennis E. Elwell.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Denos, Rolling Hills, former residents of Long Beach, was graduated from Poly High.

She and the bridegroom are seniors at Brigham Young University.

For the ceremony, the new Mrs. Elwell wore a gown of white silk organza with Chantilly lace bodice. She carried a bouquet of lily of the valley set with a white orchid.

ATTENDANTS were Pamela Denos, the bride's sister, maid of honor, and Jean Trounce, Cindee Hughes, Nancy Forbis and Myrna Bell, bridesmaids. Terry Seamon served the bridegroom as best man. Don Barnes, Larry Christofferson, Charles Ellis, Clark Jolley and James Bell were ushers.

Following a honeymoon in Las Vegas, the bride and bridegroom (he is the son of the Deo Elwells of La Crescenta) will make their home in Provo, Utah.

Museum Exhibit Shows Work of Area Artists

By VIRGINIA LADDEY

"Arts of Southern California—XIII: Painting" which continues at Long Beach Museum of Art, 2300 East Ocean Blvd., through June 30, raises some rather pertinent questions concerning the functions of a municipal art museum.

A work from each of 27 artists, nominated by museums from San Diego to Santa Barbara, is shown. This is one of two annual shows assembled here and then circulated to other museums for 18 to 24 months, and for which Los Angeles County pays. Accompanying this show, as usual, is a catalogue handsomely laid out and illustrated.

ABSENT BOTH in the display and in the catalogue are reasons for this particular grouping, for its selection, or evaluation of the trends of these artists and their relationships. From the museum is merely the statement that these are the artists recommended by various museum directors, including our own.

The introduction to the catalogue, written by authoritative Helen Wurdemann, lightly traces the origins of contemporary art and observes that as the art of the 30s chronicled the Depression, this art reflects an obsession with space and is an art of "force" and "virility" rather than "beauty" and "nature."

FOR PERSONS familiar with contemporary arts and artists, the show needs no explanation. While this is not a definitive survey of all that is going on in the area, it is a brilliant array of fully-committed talents.

MIGHT NOT a commentary from the museum have been in order? Even such superficialities as a statement that while the symbolism of Ikegawa and Woelffer seem similar, for example, the first expresses fertility while the second relates to space flight, perhaps? These works might even have been hung together. Kuntz and Ellis both reflect the massive simplification of visual communication with which we are assaulted on all sides. Perhaps Hesthal's "Painting No. 8" is based on life study?

Feitelson to Judge LBAA Show

By ELISE EMERY
Art News Editor

Lorser Feitelson, artist, teacher, art critic and television personality, will judge the July Juried exhibit of Long Beach Art Association. The show will hang in the association's gallery, 800 E. Ocean Blvd., through July. A reception is scheduled July 7 from 2 to 5 p.m. Entries will be received Monday, June 24, from 1 to 7 p.m. Cash awards of $100 for best of show and $50 for second best will be given. There also will be parchment awards of merit in each category.

Oils, water colors, mixed media, lithographs and sculpture will be accepted. Further information may be obtained by calling the gallery.

SEAL BEACH Artists League will open its Membership Show today at the Art Center, Ocean Boulevard and Main Street, Seal Beach.

The exhibit, which will be on view all summer, will be concurrent with the annual Clothesline Sale starting Saturday. Hours are 1 to 5 and 7 to 10 p.m. daily.

The league will elect a new board of directors June 14 at 6:45 p.m. after a pot-luck dinner. Richard Johnson will give a painting demonstration. The picture he paints will be given away at the conclusion of the meeting.

TWELVE STUDENTS at Otis Art Institute of Los Angeles County will receive master of fine arts degrees at graduation exercises Wednesday at 8 p.m. Mrs. George Johnson and Mrs. James Kresl of Long Beach, members of the board of directors, will be among those attending.

An exhibition of the students' thesis work will be shown in the gallery from Thursday to July 14. A six-week summer session will begin at the institute July 1, offering classes in drawing, design, painting, sculpture and ceramics.

SEAL BEACH Artists Co-Op will sponsor its eighth annual charter bus trip to Laguna Beach Festival of Art Saturday, July 6; Friday, July 19; and Saturday, Aug. 10.

A bus will leave Main Street and Electric Avenue, Seal Beach, at 4 p.m. on each of these dates and will return at midnight. The $4.50 donation includes transportation, admission to the grounds and a reserved seat to the Pageant of the Masters.

Tickets are on sale at the Co-Op Gallery, 132 Main St. Mrs. Viola Mendoza is trip chairman.

FIRST PLACE winners in the first Wilmington Art Association festival last Sunday in Banning Park were:

NEW SUMMER classes slated to open June 11 at

Fran Soldini's Houseboat Atelier Studio, 39 - 56th Place, have been postponed to June 17. Mrs. Soldini has had minor surgery at St. Mary's Hospital.

WAYNE LONG will judge sculpture and crafts in Downey Museum of Art's Art Unlimited festival today. Long is director of exhibits and instructor of design at Otis Art Institute. The gallery is located at 10419 S. Rives Ave., Downey.

THE LARGEST exhibit of Japanese prints ever shown in the Los Angeles area will be viewed by 500 members of the film colony, consular corps, civic leaders and society figures today at the Gallery Artes, 635½ N. La Cienega Blvd.

A champagne reception will honor Consul-General and Mrs. Matao Uriu of Japan. Folk dancing, demonstrations of the tea ceremony and flower arranging are on the program. Proceeds will benefit the Los Angeles-Nagoya Sister City Committee's student exchange fund. Tickets may be obtained by calling the gallery.

Driskill Elected by AGO

Gene Driskill of Long Beach was elected a national councillor of the American Guild of Organists in the guild's 67th annual national election May 27. With members voting in over 300 chapters throughout the United States, he is the first councillor who resides outside the metropolitan New York area.

In this post, he will commute to New York four times annually for the next three years to attend meetings of the council, which is composed of 14 other councillors and national officers.

Chartered by the board of regents of the University of State of New York since 1896, the guild, guided by the council, presents a vast music educational program.

IN ADDITION, the council directs and coordinates all activities of chapters whose purpose is to advance the cause of worthy religious music through concerts, workshops, festivals, and discussion programs.

The Long Beach Chapter has contributed to the cultural success of Long Beach since 1947. Driskill is a past president of this group, was convention chairman of the 1955 regional convention in Long Beach, was general chairman of the 1962 national convention in Long Beach, is a member of First Baptist Church, Chamber of Commerce and is active as a professional organist.

This Is a Fish Story

By MILDRED K. FLANARY
L. P. Food Editor

He could expound for hours on "the life of the salmon and its turbulent career." He knows a bit about bears, also, having had to outfumble a few. For they, as he follows salmon, too.

As area director of the U. S. Bureau of Commercial Fisheries, U. S. Dept. of Interior, today's Chef of the Week, Don R. Johnson, is an authority on all that's aquatic. His work ranges from research on animal life in the sea to development of new recipes of fishery products.

While Johnson's principal office is on Terminal Island, he presently is overseeing the new 2½ million dollar laboratory now under construction in La Jolla. Other laboratories and offices are located in San Diego, San Pedro, Palo Alto and Tiburon.

OF SWEDISH parentage, Johnson is the product of rugged camp life in the far north. Born in Portland, he was graduated from Oregon State College in 1939. The following year he entered the University of Washington where he continued his studies in fishery biology for three years.

Even World War II conspired to enhance his future. The Army was sending promising young men back to college. Johnson was selected, and by coincidence, found himself once again at Oregon State College. But this time he was wearing a uniform and studying engineering instead of biology; maneuvering a slide rule instead of a microscope.

He later served with the Signal Corps unit in the South Pacific, first in New Guinea and later in the Philippines.

His return to Oregon State also brought an unexpected dividend, his wife, Kathleen. They have three sons, Rod, 16, Stephen, 13, and Brian, 8. Since Wilson High, Rogers Junior and Lowell Elementary Schools represent their houses of learning, Mom and Pop find themselves attending three different sets of P-T.A. meetings.

THE JOHNSONS moved to Long Beach in 1958, and immediately entered into community life. All are active in Belmont Heights Methodist Church; and this year are again organizing the annual church "family camp," a week-end family trip to the mountains.

While Don's work often takes him to foreign countries (he made trips to Ecuador, Costa Rica and Japan—five all told, last year) he still finds time to serve as cub master of Cub Pack 145. He's "doing" his second year.

All 6-foot 4-inches of him have tramped the streams counting fish, way up in the headwaters of British Columbia. He packs in when necessary. Each year, as a family, the Johnsons go on annual pilgrimages to fishing waters in the great northwest.

Naturally he tends to think of fish when he goes out to dine. And, for him, they must be fresh.

HIS RECIPE today is for Oriental Swordfish Steaks.

Chef of the Week

DONALD R. JOHNSON

And, since the recipe calls for "2 pounds swordfish steaks, or other steaks, fresh or frozen," we'll lay-you-two-to-one, that it was whipped-up by the bureau's top flight home economist, Elaine McAlley.

ORIENTAL SWORDFISH STEAKS

2 pounds swordfish steaks or other fish steaks, fresh or frozen
¼ cup soy sauce
¼ cup orange juice
2 tsp. salad oil
2 tbsp. catsup
2 tbsp. chopped parsley
1 tbsp. lemon juice
½ tsp. oregano
½ tsp. pepper
1 clove garlic, finely chopped

Thaw frozen steaks. Cut into serving-size portions. Place fish in a single layer in a shallow baking pan. Combine remaining ingredients. Pour sauce over fish and let stand for 30 minutes, turning once. Remove fish, reserving sauce for basting. Place fish in well-greased hinged wire grill. Cook on a barbecue grill about 4 inches from moderately hot coals for 8 minutes. Baste with remaining sauce. Turn and cook for 7 to 10 minutes longer or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Serves 6.

100 From 10

Bakers report there are 10 pieces to the typical pound of wedding cake. A 10-pound cake, for example, will serve 100.

What's on the Menu?

The following menus will be served in Long Beach elementary schools in the week of June 10-14:

MONDAY: Toasted cheese sandwich, pineapple coleslaw, applesauce, cookie and milk.

TUESDAY: Italian spaghetti, buttered green beans, sliced peaches, peanut butter sandwich and milk.

WEDNESDAY: Chopped steak on mashed potatoes, buttered garden peas, chocolate pudding, raisin bread square and milk.

THURSDAY: Cheese beanburger, potato salad, fruit cup supreme, carrot sticks and milk.

FRIDAY — HOLIDAY FOR STUDENTS.

The above items make up the elementary children's lunch 30c. Soup and salad from the junior-senior high school, a la carte menu are sold in the elementary schools, but they may be purchased by the children only after they have purchased the tray lunch.

JUNIOR-SENIOR HIGH MONDAY: Spaghetti, southern style or fried chicken with mashed potatoes and gravy, green beans, applesauce, cinnamon biscuit and milk.

TUESDAY: Barbecued beef on bun, whole kernel corn, Spanish coleslaw, cheese slices and milk.

WEDNESDAY: Meat loaf sandwich with gravy, mashed potatoes, garden salad, cookie and milk.

THURSDAY: Neapolitan macaroni, buttered peas, sliced peaches, peanut butter sandwich and milk.

FRIDAY: HOLIDAY FOR STUDENTS.

CLUBS Variety in Events Planned

TUESDAY "Summer Gardening" will be the topic when Frank Cameron is guest speaker at the Lakewood Area Fuchsia Society, 8 p.m., at Lakewood YMCA. Door awards will be followed by a plant sale and refreshments will be served by Peggy Robinson. Guests are welcome.

WEDNESDAY Janice Dahlheimer will take office as president of Court Marian 1669, Catholic Daughters of America, in an 8 p.m. ceremony conducted by Mrs. Ramona Long, district deputy, at Woodman of the World Hall, 11 W. Plymouth St. Mrs. Esther Gow will be hostess.

Ladies of Elks will follow noon luncheon at the Elks Club, 4101 E. Willow St., with a brief business session led by Mrs. Thomas J. Davis. Bridge and canasta also are planned.

THURSDAY Ladies Auxiliary to the Long Beach Fire Department will meet at 10 a.m. in Clubhouse Two, 6216 Emerald Cove Way. A sale of dolls, clothing and jewelry from Guatemala is planned. Members and friends are welcome.

Worth Weight

The association of silver with marriage was a natural outgrowth of the change in the manner of acquiring a bride. When men began to buy wives rather than capture them, the price of the wife was often measured in silver coin.

Lakewood, Long Beach Women Reduce to Wear Swimsuits and Shorts on New Attractive Figures

as told by Frances Robertson, Long Beach

I'm 53 years old and proud of it! I have the greatest husband who is in the Merchant Marine. I love life, parties, often go to the races. I have three children, ages 20, 22, and 24. I also have five wonderful grandchildren—and another on the way. My name is Frances Robertson. I live in Long Beach at 3027 East Ocean. I used to be in Real Estate but have not worked for quite a while.

The day I went to the Pat Walker's Stauffer System Salon in Long Beach I went with a good friend who also was my neighbor. I was feeling miserable because I had a 40-inch hip, my thighs were over 25½ inches each. I had "over-the-bra" bulges, not to mention other figure faults.

Miss Walker, the National Figure Authority, for the Stauffer System, talked to both of us and told me what my problems were and what they could do about them. You see me in a picture with Miss Walker. I have on a slim sheath that I am proud to say had to be taken in. I don't have any bulges now; I lost 4 inches off my waist, 5 inches off my hips, 3½ inches off each thigh and the "over-the-bra" bulges. My family and friends hardly believe I am the same person. The best part of it all is that it hasn't made me haggard and drawn looking.

I have an 89-year-old father who thinks that I look so wonderful that I should consider going back to my former profession which was Real Estate. I have to admit that I am proud of myself and grateful to Pat Walker and the Stauffer System. I've loved every minute I've spent in the Salon with Miss Walker's staff. They were thoughtful and helpful and made reducing a joy, not a chore.—Frances Robertson.

Mrs. Frances Robertson, pictured with Pat Walker, was miserable because she was overweight in the wrong places, had "over-the-bra" bulges and other figure faults.

as told by Jackie Stevens, Seal Beach

I am smiling in this picture and really feel like smiling for a change. About 3 months ago I saw an ad with Pat Walker's picture telling about Miss Walker and the Stauffer System. It was a full page ad and it really impressed me. I went to work the next morning and took the ad with me.

My name is Jackie Stevens. I live in Seal Beach. I am married and have 2 boys, ages 12 and 8. I am 34 years old. I have a good job with Dean Van Lines in Long Beach. For many years, it seems like I was hiding my figure. I lost 7 inches in my hips and 5 inches on each thigh and my hands and full skirts. My problems were all from the waist down. I had given up a slacks and told everyone I didn't like the beach when the real truth was I was ashamed to wear a bathing suit.

I'm proud to say I'm finished with my treatments. I had fun while getting my figure back. They are awfully nice people and I live in the salon and I enjoyed every moment of it. Now I wear a size 10 dress. Before I wrote a 16. I had to because my hips and thighs were so bulky. I lost 7 inches in my hips and 5 inches on each thigh and my legs look decent again.

—Jackie Stevens

Mrs. Stevens, pictured with Pat Walker, is now a size 10. She was a size 16 and had to wear boxy jacket and full skirts and was ashamed to be seen in a swim suit.

as told by Mrs. Blanche Manakas, Lakewood

"I'LL HAVE MY NEW FIGURE BEFORE VACATION TIME."

My name is Blanche Manakas and I'm a real happy patron of Pat Walker's Stauffer System Salon.

I didn't realize when I went into the Lakewood Salon just a few short weeks ago with one of my office employees, who wanted to reduce, that we would have the chance to talk with Pat Walker personally.

My employee had made an appointment to find out what they could do for her. Miss Walker measured her and explained how the program worked. It made a lot of sense to me and even though I am a very busy woman because of all my responsibilities with the company I work for (I am the office manager for a Ford Agency) in Paramount.

Knowing I had some bad figure problems of my own that I've been unhappy with since my five-year-old child was born, I became very interested in Pat Walker's Stauffer Program for myself.

I asked Miss Walker how long she would be visiting in the salon. She was there in person for the opening. She told me only for a limited time, so I asked for an appointment to see her. Even though her schedule was very tight she had the manager work me in for an appointment.

I told Miss Walker at that time that I didn't see how I could possibly squeeze the time into my schedule to come in. Miss Walker looked me straight in the eye and said, "If you could see yourself as you will be after you have completed your figure correction program, you would beg, borrow or steal the time away from something else."

I hope that I'm not boring you with the details but Miss Walker told me to just tell how it all happened, so that's just what I'm doing.

When I went in for my appointment, she measured me and told me where I would lose and what it would cost me and how long it would take. My husband and two children are real proud of what I am doing. It is sure nice to think about this summer and all the play clothes I intend to buy and best of all I'll be on the beach this summer wearing a size 12 swimsuit.

You have to have had some bad figure faults to really know how I felt. No matter what I bought nor how I camouflaged my figure, the problems still showed. It's nice to find your waistline again and have the happy worry of taking clothes in the abdomen, 4 inches from in instead of letting them out, my hips and 3½ inches on each thigh. I have lost 12½ pounds in just five weeks and I've lost the pounds where I needed to lose. I'm now well on my way to a size 12. I credit Miss Walker for all the wonderful things that are happening to me.

Mrs. Manakas is photographed with Miss Pat Walker, the nationally-known figure authority, she's lost 12½ pounds in only 5 weeks, 6½ inches from the abdomen, 3½ inches from the waist, 3½ inches from each thigh, 4 inches from the hips, and reduced to 135 pounds and still going down.

ACCIDENT INSURANCE

Only 50¢ A MONTH

Independent Press-Telegram

It costs a whole lot to be laid up by an accident—any kind of accident. When the family bread-winner is hurt and can't work, his income is usually reduced or stopped entirely. Result? The family savings are drained so much that it may take years to recover from the high accident costs.

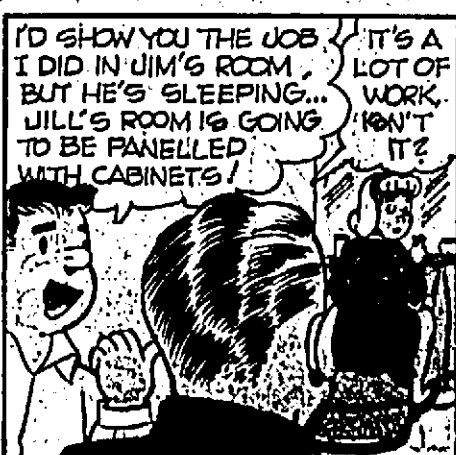

Bills for medical treatments, X-rays, hospital rooms, wheel chairs and a dozen other unexpected expenses, take a big chunk out of anyone's hard-earned savings.

This insurance is designed to help you solve the Accident Expense Problem.

this policy—at a cost of little more than a penny a day, does pay the benefits shown below, for accidents at work, at home, in your automobile, on the street, and even at play.

Hundreds of claims are paid every week to men and women, like yourself, who never expected to be hurt. But they realized that, since one American in every 12 gets hurt each year, they just couldn't afford to be without this low-cost protection.

Take advantage of this great Reader Service—the personal accident insurance that brings you cash when you need it most! Send in your application today!

BERT'S EYE VIEW

'Virginian' Teen Star Hopes Real Age Doesn't Show

By BERT RESNIK
TV and Radio Editor

Although she's 20 years old, Roberta Shore would like to go on playing the "perpetual teenager."

It is as a teenager, Betsy, that she currently stars in NBC-TV's "The Virginian," a Wednesday night series.

"I would like to go on playing a teenager until somebody says my age is showing," said Roberta.

When Roberta's age does start showing and she graduates to older roles, she still plans to abide by her personal standards.

★ ★ ★
"I WON'T TAKE A PART where I'm required to smoke or drink," she said. "I'll never, never play a prostitute."

Roberta's "personal standards" are derived from her Mormon faith.

She frequently is called upon to address Mormon Youth Conferences.

Many other religious actors do not feel that taking a "camera" drink in the line of performance duty is a violation of their faith, although their particular religion may ban alcohol.

In the first place, the "camera" drink really isn't alcohol, but generally iced tea.

In the second place, it is a character in a TV drama that is doing the drinking, not a real-life individual.

★ ★ ★
IT IS WITH the second point that Roberta takes issue.

To her way of thinking, the real-life individual is identified with the drinking performance.

And it is this identification which, to Roberta, is taboo.

"When I speak to youth conferences," she said, "I preach that you can get somewhere in show business without lowering your standards."

"All these young people know I'm a Mormon and they know it even when they see me on the screen in a Western."

★ ★ ★
ONE OF ROBERTA'S childhood disillusioning memories is that of seeing a Mormon actress puffing a cigarette during a movie.

"I felt let-down," she said.

One thing Roberta doesn't feel let-down about is "The Virginian."

"Oh I admit we did have some crummy shows," she said. "But we're much better now."

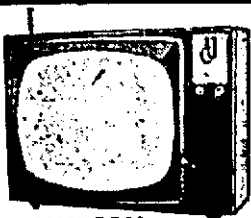

"Do you realize that next season there will be only five Westerns on television? Ten years ago there were 35."

"And next season we'll be the only new Western to have survived."

It is a survival that keeps intact Roberta's reign as a perpetual teenager.

WEEK'S TOP SHOWS

Sunday—Art Carney stars in "The Triumph of Gerald Q. Wurt" on the "Show of the Week" at 10 p.m. on channel 4 in COLOR. It's about the last comedian left in a totalitarian society that has decreed making people laugh is a crime punishable by death.

Monday—Sid Caesar, in his last first-run "As Caesar Sees It" special of the season, presents a skit about a couple at ringside during a violent hockey game. It's on channel 7 at 8:30 p.m.

Tuesday—"Decision" at 8 p.m. on channel 13 has Bill Johns probing the problems facing the Negro in Los Angeles.

Wednesday—The Emmy-winning "Julie and Carol at Carnegie Hall" is repeated at 9 p.m. on channel 2. Julie Andrews and Carol Burnett are the featured attractions.

Thursday—"McHale's Navy" at 8:30 p.m. on channel 7 has Teddy Rooney, son of Mickey Rooney, guesting as an admiral's son. He keeps a black book on irregularities and reports them to his video father.

Friday—"The Jack Paar Program" at 10 p.m. on channel 4 repeats the hour starring singer Robert Goulet.

Saturday—"The Lawrence Welk Show" at 6 p.m. on channel 7 is a salute to Father's Day. The Lennon Sisters and Long Beach's Barbara Boylan dance with their fathers. Accordionist Myron Floren dances with his five daughters.

CBS REPORTS—Sec. of Labor Willard Wirtz, his predecessor James P. Mitchell, federal judges, railroad management representatives and leaders of five railroad unions probe the issues in the dispute between railroad management and labor. Eric Sevareid moderates, ch. 2 at 7:30 p.m., less than 24 hours before legal deadline to prevent a nationwide strike.

JULIE & CAROL at Carnegie Hall—Emmy winner as outstanding program in the field of music, plus first prize winner at the Montreux, Switzerland, International Film Festival, gets a repeat showing just a year and a day after its initial broadcast, at 9 p.m., ch. 2. Julie Andrews and Carol Burnett solo, duet, and team in spoofs of Swiss family folk singers, visiting Russian singing-dancing groups and "western" songs.

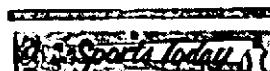

PERRY COMO—Como, in the last show of his weekly series, looks back on his eight years on TV, turning the spotlight on his troupe and behind-the-scenes aides, at 9 p.m., ch. 4, in color. First-run suspense pilots will fill the summer slot.

U. S. STEEL HOUR—Alfred Lunt recalls highlights of a decade of "Steel Hour" dramas as the distinguished series rings down its final curtain at 10 p.m., ch. 2. In addition Lunt narrates his wife Lynn Fontanne's portrayal of the title role in James M. Barrie's "The Old Lady Shows Her Medals," story of a lonely London charwoman who fabricates a pseudo "son" in the front-line trenches to gain status with her cronies.

American law, its aims and how it works, at 6:30 a.m.
each weekday, ch. 2. Opener sets straight general misconceptions about judges.

McHALE'S NAVY — Young
from his famed father's book
as he plays the 10-year-old lattle-taleing son of an admiral who becomes an unwelcome visitor to McHale's
crew, at 9:30 p.m., ch. 7. Both McHale and Binghamton figure prominently in notes the boy is keeping for his father.

TONIGHT — Highlights of
Wednesday's N.Y. premiere of
"Cleopatra" ("Tonight," as always, is by a day delay here)
are inserted into the regular program as Bert Parks interviews celebrities at the Rivoli
Theatre in a split-screen arrangement with Johnny Carson, back at RCA Studios
with guest Roddy McDowall.
(L.A.'s 2-night benefit premieres for the film will be

WALTER SCOTT'S

PERSONALITY PARADE

Want the facts? Want to spike rumors? Want to learn the truth about prominent personalities? Write Walter Scott, PARADE, 733 Third Ave., New York 17, N.Y. Your full name will be used unless otherwise requested. Sorry, the volume of mail received makes personal replies impossible.

Q. What's happened to June Allyson since the death of Dick Powell?—B. Higgins, Boston, Mass.
A. She's preparing to star in a romantic comedy TV series, has been dining of late with Marshall Shellhardt.

Q. I understand that politicians employ speech experts to help them in oration. Who taught Eisenhower, Tom Dewey and Nelson Rockefeller how to speak?—L. Reed, Brooklyn, N.Y.

A. Eisenhower was coached by actor Robert Montgomery. Thomas Dewey was helped by commentator Lowell Thomas. To date, Nelson Rockefeller's oratory shows no sign of professional coaching.

Q. Carol Burnett recently married a TV producer, Joe Hamilton. Can you tell me how many children Hamilton fathered in his first marriage?—Victor Danforth, Richmond, Va.
A. Eight.

Q. What is the true personal relationship between Speaker of the House John McCormack and President Kennedy?—Harold Hiestad, Elkton, Md.
A. Not exactly warm.

Q. I would like to know if the Judy Garland TV show next season will originate as planned in New York?—Bill Taub, Short Hills, N.J.
A. No, it will originate in Hollywood.

Q. If you were asked to describe Princess Margaret as "bright," "very bright" or "not so bright," which would you choose?—T. P., Washington, D.C.
A. "Not so bright."

Q. Was Jack Paar ever in films with Marilyn Monroe?—Louis Oliver, Columbia, S.C.
A. They made one film together in 1951 called Love Nest.

Q. Is it true about Aca Gardner and Juan Perón (1.) occupying the same apartment in Madrid?—Frank G., Smithfield, N.C.

A. They live in the same apartment house, occupy different apartments, reportedly don't think too much of each other.

Q. The first man who lands on the moon—will he claim it for his country, and will the claim be valid?—Pete Orsatti, Oakland, Calif.
A. In December 1961, the UN General Assembly unanimously passed a resolution that outer space and celestial bodies belong to no state and that no state can claim ownership.

Q. Is it true that Jayne Mansfield is converting to Catholicism? What was her original religion?—Roberta Haynes, Dallas, Texas.
A. Jayne has been taking instruction in the Catholic faith. At one time she was a Methodist.

Q. Does Drew Pearson's brother Leon work for his famous brother?—B. L., Bryn Mawr, Pa.
A. No. Leon Pearson, a journalist and correspondent for NBC, died recently of a coronary attack at age 63. Two years younger than his brother Drew, he became an outstanding journalist on his own.

Q. Is it true that Postmaster General J. Edward Day can be jailed if the Post Office Department spends more money than the amount appropriated by Congress?—T. Rogers, Miami Beach, Fla.

A. Yes. The Anti-Deficiency Act provides that he may be fined $5,000 or imprisoned for two years or both if he spends more than appropriated.

Q. Are all of Bob Hope's four children adopted?—H. Bullock, Urbana, Ill.
A. Yes.

Q. Who said that the real danger to the U.S. today is not communism but internal crime?—Ralph Werthum, Louisville, Ky.
A. Sen. John McClellan, who said recently: "American civilization is heading for the scrap heap unless we can reduce the lawlessness and violence that is the curse of our country."

Q. Juan Bosch—president of the Dominican Republic—I am told his wife is a Cuban with pro-Castro, Communist leanings. Is this true?—E. Ortega, New York, N.Y.
A. It is not. Bosch's wife, the former Carmen Quidiello, has had all her family property in Cuba confiscated by the Castro regime, which has denounced Bosch as a "Yankee puppet."

Q. How much more will Newton Minow get from the Encyclopaedia Britannica than he gets from the government as Chairman of the Federal Communications Commission?—Leon Frenke, Jackson, Miss.

A. Minow gets $20,500 from the government, will probably get three times that amount when he goes to work for the Britannica people.

270 LUCKY GALS WILL WIN

Enter now! It can be as easy as writing your name. Enter as many times as you want. See easy rules below.

GET LUCKY TODAY

Save time and treat your family to a more beautiful laundry with all three Staley products. STA-PUF® RINSE restores original fluffy softness to fabrics; smooths hard wrinkles to cut ironing time. ■ Use STA-FLO® LIQUID STARCH for super-smoothness and economy. ■ Get STA-FLO® SPRAY STARCH for light, touch-up or in-between starching. Sprays smoothly, evenly. Your iron can't stick.

WIN A NEW 1963 NORGE® 2-Door Refrigerator-Freezer

Imagine having freezer space for 122 pounds of frozen foods right in your kitchen. That's what this Norge Refrigerator-Freezer gives you. And the separate freezer door tilts down to support the glide-out freezer basket. That makes it easy to reach every one of those 122 pounds. The spacious refrigerator section has automatic defrosting, handy glide-out shelves and finger-tip convenience in the deep Handidor—perfect storage place for things you need most often. It's the most convenient refrigerator-freezer you could own. When you win, take your choice of white or coppertone color (Model No. 733-580).

LIZ TAYLOR AND

What will happen to them?

by LLOYD SHEARER

LONDON.

THE TROUBLE WITH MOTION-PICTURE STARS is that many people take them seriously.

Unfortunately this is particularly true of the easily impressed younger generation, which has a high hero-worship quotient.

Let any person, however ignorant and unlearned, become a movie star, and immediately he or she takes on the authoritative mantle of an oracle.

In the words of one honest performer, Marlon Brando: "As soon as you become an actor, people start asking questions about politics, astrology, archaeology—the lot. And what's even funnier, you start giving opinions."

Worse yet, let an actor and actress become involved in any titillative scandal, and overnight they burgeon into celebrated, valuable attractions doted upon by a gossip-hungry public, curious for every crumb and detail of their sordid private lives and willing to pay for a peek.

The public and the press reward scandal by lionizing its practitioner so that youngsters grow up frequently believing that one of the wages of sin for motion-picture players is increased income, or that the best way to achieve prominence in show business is to get involved in a headline-producing love triangle.

Happy marriages don't count

I've had theatrical agents say to me time and time again: "If a dame like Joanne Woodward who can really act—if she would only get mixed up in some divorce mess, her price per picture would double." Or in the matter of Lee Remick: "She's a good little actress, but she's got no color. Another thing—she's happily married. Who's interested in a broad who's happily married?"

Female beauty writes its own ticket in our culture. We place a premium upon discord, divorce and marital disruption under the guise: the whole world loves a beautiful lover. Where motion-picture stars are concerned we pervert our standards, our ethics, our sense of values. Take the case of Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton. We have turned them into international celebrities, household words, paragons of style, fodder for comedians and columnists so that they stay constantly in the public eye and ear.

For example, the following jokes have now become standards in routines used by comics working both sides of the Atlantic: "Look at what happened to poor Eddie Fisher married to Elizabeth Taylor. This was like trying to slag down the Super Chief [or Flying Scotsman] with a Zippo lighter . . . I understand the doctor who examined her is not expected to recover . . . Speaking of doctors, they really love Richard Burton. After the news came out that Burton's face is peck-marked, doctors were swamped by male patients. They all wanted Richard Burton acne scars . . . They say it cost $40 million to make Cleopatra. I don't think Caesar spent half that much."

This sort of omnipresent notoriety has paid off geometrically for Taylor and Burton. Three years ago, when her MGM contract ran out, Elizabeth was getting $4,000 a week with a guarantee of 40 weeks work. Her present asking price per film ranges from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000 plus a percentage of the profits. She has a corporation set up in Switzerland to take full advantage of the relatively low Swiss tax payments. Her agent, Kurt Frings, makes the most fantastic demands ever conjured up in the history of motion pictures. These include special expense accounts for Liz, an entourage of hairdressing, wardrobe and make-up specialists, cars, household personnel, and on and on ad nauseum.

In addition to astronomical film salaries, Miss Taylor has just set a new record in another medium. TV has agreed to pay her $280,000, the highest fee ever paid for a single video appearance, to conduct a guided TV tour of London à la Jackie Kennedy's video tour of the White House.

The public wants to see

The truth is that Elizabeth Taylor is as qualified to conduct a video tour of London as Tommy Manville is to lecture on the secret of long and happy marriage. But as one TV producer explains: "We're aware that what Liz knows about London can fill a thimble. But let's face it. This dame has become the femme fatale of the twentieth century. She's already gotten two guys to leave their wives for her and maybe more to come. The public is curious to see how she looks, especially to see what her affair with Burton has done to her."

"The tour of London—that's just a sugar-coated gimmick, a sop to public opinion. Besides, the program was sold to Chemstrand even before it was shot, and CBS has agreed to telecast it in October."

Richard Burton, notoriously frugal, has also profited handsomely via his liaison with Taylor. A few years ago it was common knowledge in Hollywood that while he was a fine stage actor, "Dickie-boy" lacked "star-magic" and was worth about 35 cents at the box office.

Today, Burton is getting $350,000 and a percentage of the profits for co-starring with Peter O'Toole in Becket. Moreover, he has upped his asking price to $500,000 a film, with many takers.

Prior to Cleopatra Burton never received more than $125,000 per film, and on the basis of his then box-office draw, he was outrageously overpaid.

An official of the Hal Wallis company, which is producing Becket for Paramount release, told me: "Everything Burton has today in the way of film appeal, he owes to Liz Taylor. True, he's rugged and speaks beautifully. True, he's a masterful actor, but his appeal has always been limited to the stage. His magnetism comes across footlights, but the camera has never been able to capture it. Now, thanks to Liz, the women in the audience are going to want to study this guy more carefully, to see if he's got bedroom eyes, to examine the sex appeal a little more closely. That's what we're counting on. It's sad but true. This guy owes his new-found financial eminence to Liz."

Elizabeth Taylor got in hot water starring in Cleopatra.

The reason I point out the considerable financial advantages which have accrued to the lovers is that apparently so many people are willing to overlook immorality providing it is profitable.

In the course of researching this article I asked 100 members of the general public, none of whom were connected with show business, this question: "What do you think will happen to Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton?"

I then asked the same question of show people who know the two personalities intimately, who have worked, eaten, talked and dated with them.

The difference in response by the two groups was amazing.

RICHARD BURTON

The general public with few exceptions seemed indifferent and permissive, tolerant and liberal, ready to accept the Taylor-Burton entente as "a lark" . . . "a bit-of-a-do" . . . "two hams in search of an audience" . . . "par for the course" . . . "one of those things."

Here are some typical, random replies taken down at London Airport from arriving and departing passengers:

A 19-year-old Belgian working as an au pair girl, or mother's helper, in Middlesex: "It hasn't done them much harm, has it? After all, they're both bigger than ever."

A furniture assembler from Copenhagen, age 22: "All I can say is I wish I was Richard Burton."

An American girl from Shaker Heights in Cleveland, age 22, touring Europe: "In this atomic age, what counts is now. They're obviously having a ball."

A Canadian woman of 45, traveling with her husband: "I think that whatever happens they will both remember this for the rest of their lives. Surely it is their grand romance."

A Scottish woman, 38, from the Isle of Skye: "It is absolutely disgusting—not their living in sin but their callous disregard for their children and the mates they've discarded without benefit of divorce. These two are brutally and unspeakably selfish. What sort of example are they setting?"

A French dancer, 22: "What will happen to them? First, they will enjoy the physical allure which they have in common. But they will not enjoy their mentalities, because these they do not have in common. Then they will separate. It is that way with most experimental couples."

An English bookkeeper, 26: "Good show."

An American hotel executive from Los Angeles: "They're entitled to their indiscretions but they shouldn't flaunt them. I'm sorry they're living in the Dorchester Hotel instead of mine."

An American exchange student, 21, from Oak Park, Ill.: "If they weren't movie stars, nobody would care. It's no sweat off my back."

Among these people there was surprisingly little censure or adverse criticism. Many of the youngsters said frankly they wouldn't mind "exchanging positions" with Burton and Taylor. Declined one airline hostess: "If you're beautiful and a movie star both, then you get away with somebody's husband. Society has two sets of rules, one for movie stars and one for the rest of us. I just wish I was a movie star. It's a license to misbehave with forgiveness assured."

Among show business personalities conversant with Taylor and Burton, there was a much different attitude as to their eventual fate. It was more realistic, penetrating and knowledgeable, born undoubtedly of more insight and background into the situation.

Here is a sampling of show business replies to the question: "What do you think will happen to Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton?"

A director: "No good will come of it even if they get married, which I doubt. Richard is a compulsive lover. No man has ever had more off-stage success with actresses. Marriage will not change him. Elizabeth is not a stupid girl. As a mistress she might hold him with her lust. As a wife she will never hold him with her love."

An actor: "It is a sad, sad thing, because this man Richard Burton is a great, great actor, potentially one of the greatest of our time. But he is selling his greatness down the river. For what? A pretty face, a figure already tending to fatness, a mind uneducated and immature, but most of all he is doing it for greater financial success. He has made many trashy films in his career, and he has deprecated them all. Now he will make more at a higher and higher stipend."

A writer: "Regardless of what these two do to each other, Burton will be the loser. He was and is one of the foremost Shakespearean actors of this century. He has overwhelmed Elizabeth with his Shakespearean lore. He has made her feel like some inferior Hollywood confection so that she holds him in awe and is desperately afraid of losing him. When he leaves her side or departs the Dorchester without her, she is like some lost, lonely little puppy."

act, and he does, but she's determined to show Burton that she, too, is a pro. What will happen to them?

"If Burton marries her, he becomes number five in her husband collection. If he doesn't, all hallelujah will break loose."

An actress: "Time magazine says Richard in the last 20 years has given 75,000 women a lasting memory. I confess I am one of those 75,000. Richard is fascinating. He knows how to communicate his enthusiasm for life. He has a deep, booming voice and blue-green eyes and a rough, pocked skin, and in a gloomy, melancholy, Welsh way he's terribly attractive to women. He makes a woman feel that she's lighting up his life, delivering him from darkness, showing him the way to glory. I admit it: I found him irresistible."

"But Richard is not a strong man. Over and over again he succumbs to women and money. Each time he's put to the test, he fails. Ask his wife Sybil. She knows the long, sad history of his personal failures."

"As for Elizabeth, I wish her only the best. She's a dear. But Richard is not for her. In the end he will hate her for having turned him into Mr. Elizabeth

Richard Burton's tempestuous romance with tub-mate Taylor has boomed him into a new highly paid box-office attraction.

"She needs a strong man around her, a father-substitute, a promoter like the late Mike Todd. Richard is a strong, bright, wild, perceptive and vital man. Elizabeth is a sweet, kind, gentle, spoiled child—but they no longer need each other. They should go their separate ways. Richard, from what I know of the situation, would like to return to his wife, but Elizabeth won't let go—not until she has another man waiting in the wings. She has now reached that point in life where she needs the companionship of men."

A cameraman: "I like them both. They're fine people. Burton is a pro, a professional actor and professional Welshman, learned and disciplined. And discipline is what he's taught Liz. On V.I.P.s, the picture they made together after Cleopatra, she was generally on time and worked hard. Basically she doesn't like to Taylor, for having exposed to himself his endless infatuation with beauty and money. If she goes on like this I fear very much she will end up as did poor Marilyn. I think the only thing which might save her is the fact that she has children. An actor and an actress rarely mate well. Look at Larry Olivier and Vivien Leigh."

What does it all add up to? Merely this: Cast no stones upon them, for which of us is without sin? But no one should envy Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton or fashion their lives after these two. For despite their love, their wealth, their notoriety and the flag of brave happiness they unfurl in public—they are at heart unhappy, fearful, wracked by the awful truth that they have prostituted their good names for the fleshly pleasures, transient and quickly forgotten.

Cool clothes for teenagers

by VIRGINIA POPE Parade fashion editor

IT'S A WONDERFUL WORLD in the summertime, especially for the carefree teenage set. To complement the fun and the gaiety, we present a summer wardrobe also suitable for early fall.

Since teenagers would rather be called juniors than anything else, you'll find these fashions in the junior department of your store. The dresses illustrated here come in sizes 5 to 15.

Fabrics make a dress almost as much as the styling, and the materials used in these dresses are, to borrow a teenage word, just "boss." There are lots of cottons and cotton blends masquerading under covert, denim and twill labels.

Slim shifts will be popular but won't crowd out the romantic full skirt done up in a host of sheer materials.

For further information, write to Virginia Pope, Fashion Editor, PARADE, 733 Third Ave., New York 17, N.Y. Please enclose self-addressed envelope.

Nautical shift. This snappy dress, slim as a pair of pants, is of navy Fortrel and rayon broadcloth. The same fabric makes the sailor collar and edging on pockets. Striped cotton dickie adds dash of "salt." Gay Gibson. $18.

my favorite jokes

by BERNIE BERNIS

EDITOR'S NOTE: There's a fairly common genetic pattern in vogue these days. The sons of cantors frequently become show business stars. Al Jolson's father, Allan Gale's, Steve Lawrence's, Jackie Mason's—all of these were or are cantors. Now comes a further addition to the roster in Bernie Bernis. Bernie was born in Brooklyn, son of a cantor, and entered show business at age 5. He played Jewish theaters in Philadelphia and New York, then graduated to the Borscht Circuit in the Catskills. Recently Bernie wrote, produced and starred in his first comedy album, Bernie Goes to Washington, which features routines dealing with the experiences of a Jewish President of the U.S. The album has caught on, and Bernie has been booked into several night spots where he tells such jokes as these:

I read that the average waiter walks 12 miles a day. No wonder my soup is always cold by the time I get it!

The hardest part of battling temptation is putting your heart into it.

Three Hollywood youngsters decided to play house. The first said: "I'll be the father." The second said: "I'll be the mother." The third said: "And I'll be the divorce attorney."

A panhandler stopped a man on the street and asked, "Will you please give me $4,000 to buy a cup of coffee?" "What?" said the man. "Isn't that a lot of money for a cup of coffee?"

"Yes," replied the bum, "but I like to eat at drive-in restaurants, and I don't own a car."

I asked a child psychologist if he believed in spanking. "It's permissible," said the psychologist, "if you have a definite end in view."

I was touring Italy and stopped in a small Italian town and had two eggs. When the waiter brought the bill, I was amazed at the amount he charged me. "Are eggs so scarce?" I asked.

"No," replied the waiter, "eggs aren't scarce, but American tourists are."

A cannibal chief told a prisoner: "You must stick around for the festivities at tonight's banquet. You'll be profoundly stirred."

A 7-year-old boy was being taught the proper way to ask a girl for a dance by the teacher in the dance instruction class. A half-hour later the kid asked the teacher, "Now, how do I get rid of her?"

A friend of mine was expecting an important business call when he noticed that his teenage daughter was preparing to call someone. Seeing her father's obvious anguish, the girl smiled and said, "Don't worry, Dad. I won't be a minute. I just want to hang up on him."

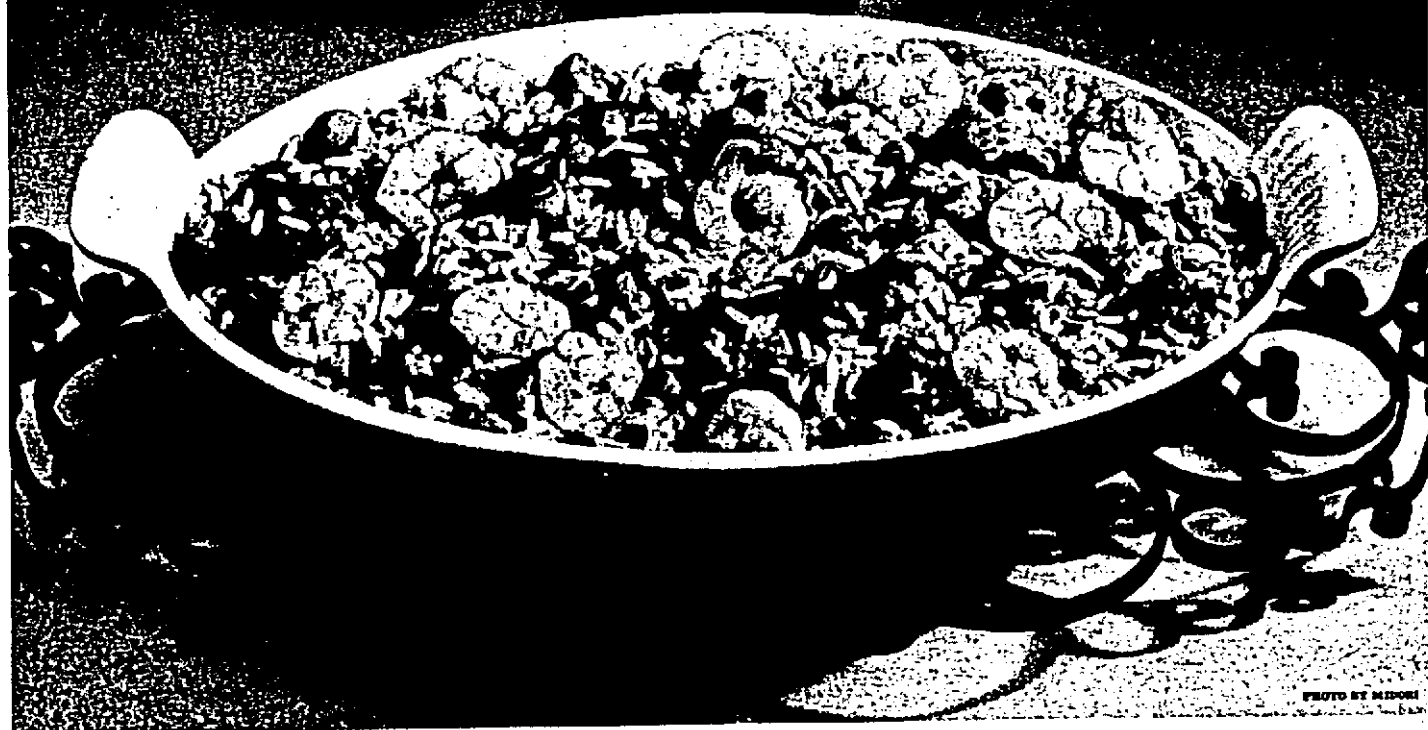

I have a very petty neighbor. He keeps borrowing back everything I borrowed from him.

Sign on a finance company: FAILURE IS OUR MOST IMPORTANT PRODUCT!

My buddy took his girl to a restaurant the other night and asked if she knew the difference between filet mignon and hamburger. She said she didn't. Then he called the waiter and said, "Bring us two hamburgers."

LOUISIANA SHRIMP DISH

—a snap to prepare

by BETH MERRIMAN Parade food editor

Down yonder in Louisiana, Jambalaya is a favorite dish in the Creole tradition, which blends the best of French, Spanish and Colonial cooking. Ordinarily, Jambalaya takes hours of careful preparation, but our recipe cuts cooking time to a minimum. It's made mainly with canned foods from your pantry shelf, plus the seasonings you have on hand. What's more, it's every bit as delicious as the dish that requires hours of cooking. Serve with a salad of greens.

- | | |
|-------------------------------|--|
| 1/4 cup butter or margarine | 1 can (10 1/2 oz.) condensed bouillon |
| 1/4 cup chopped onion | 1/2 teaspoon each sugar and chili powder |
| 1/2 cup diced green pepper | 1/2 teaspoon bottled hot pepper sauce |
| 1/2 cup chopped celery | 1 cup uncooked rice |
| 1 can (4 1/2 oz.) deviled ham | 1 can (8 oz.) peas, drained |
| 2 cans (5 oz. each) shrimp | |
| 1 can (3 or 4 oz.) mushrooms | |
| 1 can (1 lb.) tomatoes | |

Melt butter in skillet; add onion, green pepper and celery; cook until onion is tender, but not brown. Add deviled ham and drained shrimp. Drain mushrooms and tomatoes. Measure liquids and bouillon; add enough water to measure 2 cups. Add to skillet with seasonings. Add rice; cover. Simmer 15 minutes. Uncover; top with drained tomatoes, mushrooms and peas. Cover; simmer 15 minutes, until rice is tender. Toss lightly before serving. Makes 6 servings.

PARADE OF PROGRESS

New ideas for home, family, car and boat by PETER DRYDEN

Pool and deck chaise: Here's a 2-way chaise (above) you can relax in on land and float in on water. Made of aluminum tubing and plastic webbing, it has enough foam flotation to support even a heavyweight waist-high in water while legs are partially submerged. $29.95. Details: Aqua-Sun, Dept. PP, Box R, S. Andrews Sta., Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.

Easy pouring: With a new kitchen gadget, you can open any beverage, syrup or other can—and turn it into a drip-less pitcher. It has a knife point you push into the can and a lever you squeeze to form a smooth-edged pouring spout. $1. Value Village, Dept. PP, Box 501, Buffalo 5, N.Y.

Clean diapers: Now comes a plastic holder that takes most of the unpleasantness out of cleaning baby's diapers. It grips a diaper so it's easy to flush and rinse clean. After, you pull diaper through holder to eliminate excess water. $2.29. F & H Baby Products, Dept. PP, Box 363, Oakdale, L.I., N.Y.

Parade of Progress items are NOT advertising. Write manufacturer if not available at stores. Allow reasonable time for delivery or reply. Manufacturers & Distributors: PARADE will be happy to consider your new ideas but will not correspond.

Once-a-month watering: No, worry about leaving plants when you're off on vacations, trips. A new 7" x 4" x 3" plastic pot has hollow walls and base that hold up to 30 days' water supply, depending upon type of plant. Water flow is controlled so plant draws only what it needs. Green, yellow, blue, white, pink, dark marble. $1.30. Frank R. Parsons, Dept. PP, Sutton, Mass.

For car and boat: To eliminate leaks and drafts around windows, windshields, vents and portholes, there's a high-strength sealer you can use right from the tube. It adheres to rubber, metal, glass—forms a permanent, transparent seal. 75¢. Dercon Corp., Dept. PP, Danvers, Mass.

Worm lure: Newest boon for fishermen is a powder that eliminates digging for worms. Mixed with water and spread on a 3-ft.-sq. area of ground, it's said to bring live worms, if there are any, to the surface in 30 seconds. Safe for garden, lawn use. $1. Everwear Seal Co., Dept. PP, Lake Geneva, Wis.

Three leading Harvard seniors tell

What today's

by ROBERT CAMPBELL

IN THE COMING DAYS, colleges across the nation will graduate the class of '63—some 400,000 young men and women on whom, in the years ahead, will fall the leadership of our country.

What will they be like? What are their beliefs, their values? How are they different from classes of other years?

At Harvard University, the oldest U.S. campus and one which has produced more than its share of prominent Americans, PARADE sought answers to these questions. Students, administrators, professors were interviewed. From their different views, a coherent image began to form.

For David Riesman, Harvard's famed sociologist and writer on American culture, the class of '63 is one that has begun to turn away from the complacency of students of the 1950s, whose chief goal was "the good life"—a well-paying job and a home in the suburbs. Today's collegians, claims Riesman, more often seek "interesting work, meaningful tasks that are relevant not only to their personal qualities but to social needs and hopes." He finds a renewed interest in politics. Students are "in search of challenge."

John Monro, dean of the college, sees the class of '63 as far more intellectually able than his own of 1935, and also more confident. "We were in college during the Depression and we were concerned about our own misery," Monro says. "These students are interested in helping others. They're social-service-minded."

What do the students themselves think? Below, three Harvard seniors give their answers. Each is a top member of the class of '63, a potential leader of the future. Each has occupied a good vantage point from which to observe his classmates. What they have to say, about themselves and their contemporaries, is important to all of us.

Fred Gardner, 21, comes from New York and majored in English at Harvard (he switched from biochemistry). He's worked as a construction welder, teacher (in Mexico City), writer (in Hollywood) and warehouse hand. Last fall he served as speech-writer for a candidate for senator from Massachusetts. Next year he hopes to be in Ecuador, studying labor unions on a Fulbright scholarship.

Mainly, though, Fred wants to be a writer. At Harvard he directed productions of two of his own plays—The Rain Never Falls, about construction workers, and Hemlock, about Socrates—was reporter and book editor for the Crimson, Harvard's daily paper, and finished a novel.

"I just want to be a good writer," Gardner says. "If I can make a living at it I'd like to write for the theater—if not, some other kind of writing."

At the same time he isn't ready to starve

for his ideals, nor does he know anyone who is. "This is not to say I don't have the guts to fail—it's just that I do recognize other responsibilities. I'll be getting married next year and I know I'll want certain standards of comfort. Harvard students are interested in a stable life, and their attitude rubs off on you. It's not a congenial atmosphere for an artist. Perhaps America isn't either."

His classmates, Gardner thinks, are far more concerned with problems that affect them directly than with vaguer threats like war. "The whole possibility of nuclear war is unreal to people, and they put it aside—except when there's a crisis." He recalls Harvard's reaction to the Cuba blockade:

"It was the first time our generation had lived through a day of war hysteria. People looked at each other as if to say good-bye. I have to admit, though, the only reaction in my room was that we decided to stop washing dishes for the duration of the crisis."

In Ecuador next year, Gardner plans to "study the conditions that make for a democratic as opposed to a Communist-dominated trade union movement." Before deciding on this project, he thought of entering the Peace Corps (there are some 40 Harvard graduates currently overseas in the Corps). He views the Corps as a symbol of his generation's patriotism and interest in other peoples.

"All over America," Gardner says, "people are getting the idea that you can serve your country by your education, by your talents, by your trade—by what you can teach, and not just who you can shoot."

Boone Turchi, 21, is president of the vestry of the Episcopal Church in Harvard and Radcliffe—a student-run organization that does everything from coach basketball for slum kids to sponsor seminars by distinguished professors and church leaders.

The church, however, is far from being the whole of Turchi's interest. Immediately after graduation, he plans to begin a long walking tour of Turkey, Syria, Jordan and North Africa in preparation for a career as a developer of underdeveloped nations. His senior thesis—his major is economics—is on regional development in Mexico.

Turchi reconciles his interest in religion with his interest in underdeveloped nations by means of an idea often heard at Harvard. "I need a base of power from which to do good," he states. "If I were in Afghanistan, for instance, overseeing a development program, I would be helping others—building dams, feeding and clothing people."

Turchi believes he is in a minority at Harvard as an active, committed Christian. "Skepticism is the virtue most admired here," he says. "At Harvard, you sometimes hear President Pusey attacked for being 'soft on Christianity.'"

"Our big job is to move the church from the periphery into the center of life. Today it's too often a place where one goes to get away from the world."

Author Fred Gardner wants to write plays, isn't sure U.S. is congenial to artists.

Campus church-leader Boone Turchi thinks religion plays too small a part in colleges.

Turchi admits his religious beliefs were given a rough going-over by professors and courses when he first came to Harvard, and he thinks his experience may provide a lesson for others. "The average student comes to college with faith—but it's a faith without any foundation," he says. "What happens then is that he loses this faith without getting anything worthwhile to replace it. So he's left with nothing. In my case, I was lucky enough to find teachers who made religion intellectually respectable."

Turchi's interest in religion may reflect a growing trend. Both Catholic and Jewish groups at Harvard are in a state of intellectual ferment—each publishes an outstanding magazine—and, according to Dean Monro, "there's a lot more interest in religious matters than there was a few years ago."

After his Near East trip, Turchi plans to get married—to a girl from his home, near Portland, Ore.—then enter the army (he is in ROTC). After that, it's back to school to study business or public administration.

"Just about every underdeveloped country has a plan for economic development," Turchi says of his future career. "The only problem is, they're not developing. Somewhere there's a place for a person with the tools and the skills. Being that person will give me power to do good."

Michael Rice, 22, from Sioux Falls, S.D., is a Rhodes Scholar and government major who will spend the next two years in England, at Queens College, Oxford. He expects to work eventually in business management or government, perhaps even go into politics. While still a Harvard senior, Rice wrote, for the newsweekly Time, a year-end current-affairs quiz that went to schools all over the country and was news director and president of WHRB, the university radio station.

Agreeing with Dean Monro that today's collegians are "social-service-minded," Rice observes that 1,000 Harvard volunteers each year devote time to teaching in prisons and mental hospitals, tutoring backward kids, trying to register nonvoters, even spending summers working in Tanganyika. "You look at all these activities and you've got to conclude students are getting more serious," he says. "They feel they're an active part of adult society. They feel they can be heard, they can have some effect."

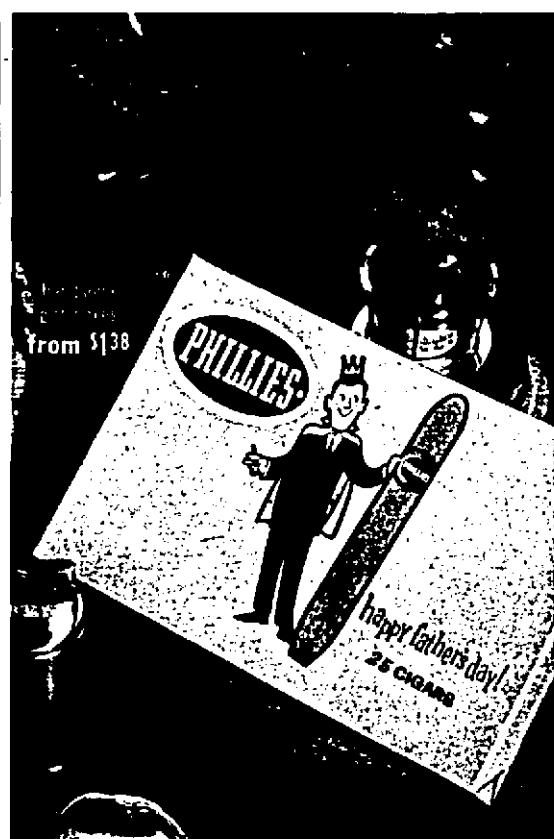

Unafraid of a nuclear war, Rice dismisses the Cuba-blockade crisis: "Everybody had a wonderful time feeling frightened." His thoughts on the Cold War summed up much of what his classmates said. Like them, he assumes the world of the future will reflect, pretty much, the postwar world of tension he grew up in.

"There is a minority of students," he says, "who profess to be genuinely in terror of the world blowing up. I don't feel that way."

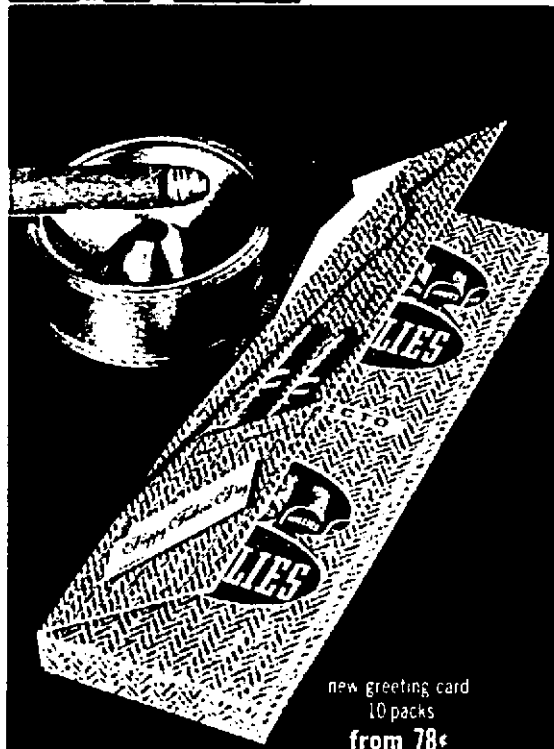

"I think if you look at the big crises of the past several years—Laos, Berlin, Vietnam, Cuba—you see that the more inflamed the crisis gets, the greater is the realization by the governments involved that it must not run out of control. And this is a pretty strong check against rash action."

"What we'll have, I believe, is just a continuation of the Cold War indefinitely. There will be different trouble spots jumping from one place in the world to another all the time. Maybe we'll have a little progress here and there, but we won't see a real breakthrough on either side."

"We're bound to go on as we are. I don't ever see a peaceful world."

the golden gifts of babyhood

Sometimes new mothers concentrate so hard on the technicalities of baby care they forget to enjoy their babies. Your delight in your baby is one of the great golden gifts you can give. The baby who is talked to (and laughed with) lovingly, develops security and sociability. The baby who is played with happily gains confidence early and learns invaluable lessons in co-operation.

The golden gifts of babies. The nicest thing about babies is that they give us love, joy and hope without exacting any fee whatever.

Vitamin C availability. I know you mothers usually think in terms of orange juice for baby's vitamin C. But it should be reassuring to know that Gerber Strained Apple Juice and juice combinations will give your baby just as much of this important vitamin as Gerber Orange Juice. One can of any of the other eight Gerber Juices supplies over 100% of the recommended daily dietary allowance for vitamin C.

P.S. Gerber Apple Juice is a particularly good starting juice because it's especially mild and well-tolerated by babies.

Golden rules for baby care. By-the-book rules are fine as guides but all rules do not fit all babies and any rule is only as good as its flexibility. Guides to good mothering: heed your doctor and your common-sense head and lead with your heart. Happy is the baby whose mother makes adjustments for his (or her) individuality.

Growth patterns. Your baby grows much faster the first year than the next few put together. That's why he needs protein a-plenty to give that growth a boost. Gerber Strained Meats are high in protein, low in fat and ever so easy to digest. Points to remember:

- Gerber Meats are cooked by an exclusive process which preserves the utmost in nutritive values; insures a smooth moist texture.

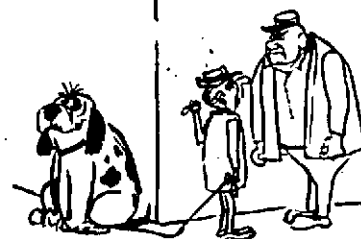

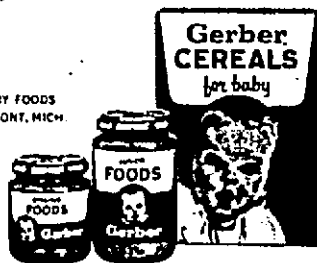

- They're the products of two great specialists—Gerber, famous for fine baby foods and Armour, famous for fine meats.

ARMOUR

For your baby's well-being: Gerber prepares over 100 baby foods—infant formulas, cereals, strained and junior foods—to meet your baby's nutritional needs. We're proud to say:

"Babies are our business... our only business!"

Anecdote of the week

SENATOR STUART SYMINGTON (D, Mo.) received a touching letter the other day from a widow who complained that she had been unable to collect her widow's pension. The sympathetic Symington investigated, found she had lost her pension rights because of a technicality: she had become a widow, it seems, by murdering her husband.

WIDOWS UP. There are now 8,250,000 widows in the U.S. -- 4 for each widower.

FREE TRAVEL. Ten years from now Europeans will have one passport and one currency; travel without restrictions from one European country to another. So says Robert Marjolin, an executive of the six Common Market countries.

LAST STRONGHOLD. Governor Nelson Rockefeller recently signed a bill extending rent controls in some 240,000 apartments in his state, making New York the last stronghold of rent ceilings in the nation.

ENGINEER DROPOUT. In the next decade the Soviet Union will graduate 1,350,000 engineers as opposed to our 435,000. The attrition rate of engineering students in American colleges is approximately 54%. In some state universities only 20 out of 100 engineering students get their degree. One reason: poor, purposeless, uninspired instruction. Another reason: unqualified students.

DIAL POISON. The British are setting up a National Poisons Information Center at Guy's Hospital, London, so that people can phone a special number and be given immediate information on how to identify a poison taken accidentally or deliberately and what measures to take to counteract its effects. There is now one such Poisons Information Center in Leeds, which in 16 months handled 740 inquiries, 489 involving children who had swallowed a number of poisons by accident.

POCKET MONEY. How much pocket money does the average teenager, 15-18, spend each week? According to the Census Bureau, around $10. Almost half the teenagers earn their pocket money via part-time jobs.

CIGAR RELIEF. Cubans escaping from Castro-land have smuggled tobacco seed out of their homeland -- 15,000 tobacco seeds weigh one ounce, which makes smuggling relatively easy -- and have set up tobacco plantations in Honduras. Cigar leaf from these new plantations is now being sold to the factories in Ybor City in Tampa, Fla., thereby helping to save the traditional industry there.

THE FRENCH WAY. In France, where the government owns the mines, the railroads, the public utilities and several major factories, all government employees get four weeks vacation. Most of them take their vacations in the summer, when Paris is emptied of Frenchmen and filled with Americans.

VANITY. Norman Rockwell, the American artist, recently sketched President Tito of Yugoslavia, 71, in a 30-minute sitting in Belgrade. Two days later a Yugoslavian official asked to look at the sketch. "You've made the President look rather old," he said. "He'll have to see that portrait before you leave." A few hours later, with the sketch rolled up in brown parcel paper, Rockwell fled the country.

CUBAN REFUGEES. The problem of what to do with Cuban refugees in Florida grows stronger. In Miami, many residents feel that the more than 100,000 exiles there are disrupting the local economy. About 20,000 have found some sort of employment in Miami. Another 28,000 are receiving checks from the U.S. government averaging $73 per month. The U.S. is spending more than $60,000,000 per year on Cuban refugee relief, much of it in free food and medical care. Biggest need is for a relocation program to get the Cuban refugees out of Miami and settled in other parts of the country. Less than 2,000 are leaving Florida each month, many preferring to remain in Miami with at least one employed relative.

Harry's Girls will appear on NBC-TV next season.

RUNAWAY GIRLS. From now on it's going to get tougher and tougher for American TV series to be produced abroad. Overseas unions are demanding American pay scales for their members. MGM recently tried to produce in London a show called Harry's Girls. It's a half-hour program slated for airing on NBC-TV next season with Colgate sponsoring. The British unions insisted upon Hollywood salary and residual scales thereby wiping out the comparative labor differential. Union officials in Hollywood threaten that if TV films are produced abroad, and then shown in this country, they will call upon their members to boycott the sponsor's products.

Because of the volume of mail received, it is impossible for PARADE to answer queries in connection with this column.

LA REINA RULE

WHAT YOUR NAME MEANS

DEAR MISS RULE: Would like genealogy on CAVALEER or CAVALIER—P. C., Long Beach.

P. C.: CAVALEER originated as the Old French and English titles "Cavalier" and "Chevalier," both describing

"knight-at-arms and horse-man." English forefathers include Thomas Le Chevalier of Kent in 1272. The family shield granted to Anthony Cavalier of London in 1554, has a gold-winged, gold-maned silver Pegasus (a winged horse) with a red rose on his chest, centered on a red background with a border of silver and blue squares.

DEAR MISS RULE: What is the background of COLAHAN—R. S., Lakewood.

R. S.: COLAHAN was initiated as the Irish clan name Mac-Uallachain, denoting "sons of the little, proud one." The Colahans were natives of Offaly in the Emerald Isle. Their coat-of-arms, awarded to the closely allied Holohan clan, has a gold castle tower supported by two silver-rampant lions, placed above two silver crescents and below three red rings on a silver stripe across a blue shield.

DEAR MISS RULE: What have you on ARREGHENI.—A. C., Long Beach.

A. C.: ARREGHENI has an Italian background and is found to be from the baptismal name Arrigo, coupled with the nickname ending "eni." Arrigo (Harry or Henry in English), means "Ruler of an estate." No coat-of-arms is available for Arrigheni.

DEAR MISS RULE: Kindly give the source of ASHBY and the shield.—H. S., M.A., Long Beach.

H. S., M.A.: ASHBY was taken by the family founder from his native town of Ashby, Places by this name are in the English counties of Lincoln, Norfolk and Northampton. Ashby had the root words "Aesc-byr" alluding to "settlement by the ash-tree." Lincolnshire ancestors include Roger and Henry de Ascheby, recorded in the late 1200's. The Ashby shield is blue, emblazoned with an ermine coated chevron placed between three gold leopard faces. The Ashby motto is "Be just and fear not."

DEAR MISS RULE: Please identify KAVANAUGH.—T. M., La Mirada.

T. M.: KAVANAUGH or Cavanaugh was originally the Irish name O'Caomanac, descendants of Caoman, meaning "gentle one," a neighborly characterization of this family's proud progenitor. Caoman was a direct descendant of an 11th century king of Leinster. The Kavanaughs were created barons in 1554. Their shield has a red, rampant lion placed above two red crescents on a silver background.

DEAR MISS RULE: Could you analyze BLEWETT.—M. B., Long Beach.

M. B.: BLEWETT is English, but originated from the old French word "Bluet" deciphered as "little one of pale complexion." The family shield, held by the original Bluet branch, has a green chevron between three green eagles with outspread wings, on a gold background.

DEAR MISS RULE: What have you on BETTES and BETTIS.—O. B., Orange; J. B., Long Beach.

O. B., J. B.: BETTES and BETTIS represent descendants of an English progenitor called Betto, meaning "brilliant one." These names can also be translated as "sons of the blessed one," from the old French-English "beat-sone." Frances Bettis was a Huntington land owner in 1581. The Bettis shield is black, emblazoned with three red 5-leaved clovers on a diagonal silver stripe.

DEAR MISS RULE: Kindly analyze BINNALL.—A. P., L. B., Long Beach.

A. P., L. B.: BINNALL is English, reflecting the Anglo-Saxon phrase "Binna's-Hall." Binna, a primitive baptismal name, was derived from "Win-e" meaning "friend and protector." "Hall," which originally formed the last half of Binnall, designated a "manor house." No other data is available on this name.

Send your name to La Reina Rule in care of the Southland Magazine, Independent, Press-Telegram, 604 Pine Ave., Long Beach 12, Calif. for origin, meaning and brief genealogy for reply only in this column.

All campuses are different and yet alike. This is a campus scene at USC which is ending its biggest year.

USC's Biggest Year

By Jerome Hall

A CATHOLIC, a Protestant and a Jew donated three parcels of land way out on Figueroa Street in 1880 so there could be a University of Southern California. When it opened, the tuition was $12.

In the ensuing 83 years it has seen many advances—not the least of them a hundredfold increase in tuition—and this week USC closes perhaps its most important year.

The face of the university is changing, both literally and figuratively.

It is, it boasts, a "University in Transition," trying to overcome an athletic-factory image with new-found academic excellence while at the same time spawning a national championship football team. Very difficult.

THE SCHOOL that produced so many of our civic leaders is gaining academic stature so lofty that one of its deans said recently, "I don't believe I could even get into school now." Entrance requirements now are more stringent than those at the University of California and UCLA.

While grades go up, so do new buildings. Half-million-dollar and multimillion-dollar grants are being gathered in by the handful.

The university scored a major breakthrough the past year. It obtained a grant of $6.5 million from the Ford Foundation, one of the largest appropriations ever made by the famed philanthropic unit. USC convinced the meticulous Ford Foundation investigators that it is a university in transition.

USC LONG has had easily the largest impact on the Southern California community. There are those who claim this region is controlled by USC men. There's some truth to that. If all the USC alumni—all 80,000 of them in the Southern California area—were to attend this week's graduation exercises it would mean:

- Two-thirds of the Los Angeles County courtrooms would be closed, for two out of three judges are USC men.

- It probably would be a school holiday, too, because two-thirds of the school administrators wouldn't be at their desks.

- It would be difficult to get a prescription filled. Half the pharmacists would be gone.

- It would be impossible to get a dental appointment. Two-thirds of the region's dentists are USC-trained.

You Ask, We Answer

By Hasler

Q. What is the difference between a decision and an opinion of the Supreme Court?
D. S.

A. A decision is reached by secret vote of the Justices, and the Chief Justice then assigns a Justice the task of writing the opinion in the case. An opinion is the statement of the reasoning by which the Court fortifies its decision in a particular case.

Q. Where did the Punch and Judy Show originate? W. P.

A. The Punch and Judy Show began in Italy, but the exact origin is obscure. The word "Punch" is from the Italian "Pulcinella" or "Punchinello." Punch and Judy Shows became popular in England during the late 1600s. Punch was often cast in allegorical plots designed to teach a moral.

Q. How far apart should trees be planted for shelter belts? R.N.

A. Typical shelter belts in mid-western states have 10 rows of trees, the rows planted about 10 feet apart and usually placed at right angles to the prevailing winds. Low shrubs are planted in the first row on the windward side, then higher ones in succeeding rows. The 9th row contains the tallest and fastest growing trees.

Q. What is the largest fresh-water lake in Europe? A. T.

A. Lake Ladoga in Soviet Russia, which has an area of 7,000 square miles. Part of the lake belonged to Finland before 1940, but it has since been ceded to the U.S.S.R. It forms part of a canal system connecting the Baltic and White Seas.

Meet Flip—America's Craziest Boat!

White water bubbles around hull as Flip, strange vessel used in oceanographic research, starts a submergence test off San Clemente Island.

AMERICA'S craziest boat, a 355-foot, sausage-shaped ship designed and built to be sunk, is ready to roll back some scientific frontiers off the Southern California coast.

The weird-looking research vessel was constructed and outfitted in a San Diego shipyard at a cost of $800,000 for the world-famous Scripps Institution of Oceanography at La Jolla.

Called the Flip, short for floating instrument package, she—or, as more irreverent sailors prefer to say, IT—is the brain child of a 36-year-old physicist, Dr. Fred Fisher.

NEITHER a surface ship or a submersible, Flip has neither propulsion power or a control system of its own. Flip's biggest claim to fame is that she can flip from the floating horizontal position to a vertical stance with more than 300 feet of her hull under water.

Staggering as this might be to com-

By Lou Jobst

prehend it is a relatively simple operation, thanks to Flip's revolutionary design.

Flip is built in two sections: a 300-foot salami or sausage-shaped after-section 20 feet in diameter and a four-story bow (or periscope-like top in the vertical position) which is 55 feet in length.

The hull is lined with 11 ballast tanks, eight of which are flooded in sequence to flip the Flip from a horizontal floating position to a vertical position, a maneuver that takes about 10 minutes.

AS THE TANKS are flooded with approximately 1,500 tons of sea water the after end slips beneath the waves and the bow rises above the surface.

All equipment aboard the ship, ranging from a kitchen stove to twin 1½-ton air compressors, are on trunnions and swivels so they can change position with the craft.

Flip, already given a full sea test in May about 200 miles offshore, in the vertical position looks something like a giant parking meter pecking above the waves.

Flip can carry a crew of six plus a four-man scientific team. These men live in the bow which also houses an electronics lab on the third deck, a wet lab containing mechanical equipment and winches on the top floor and two diesel generators on the fourth.

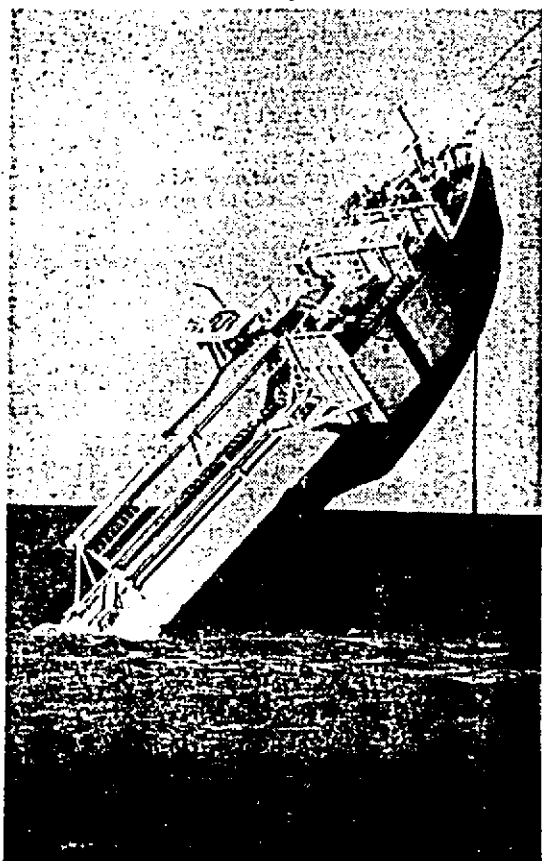

LADDERS ALLOW the scientists to scramble up and down the hull when in the vertical position.

Flip is a unique oceanographic research tool because it provides the scientist with a steady platform, anchored deeply in the sea, despite conditions of the ocean.

Its steadiness and silence will allow heretofore impossible studies of underwater acoustics. Its builders believe it is the ultimate craft for underwater acoustical research. It can also be used for a wide range of other oceanographic studies such as ocean movement, wave action and light diffusion.

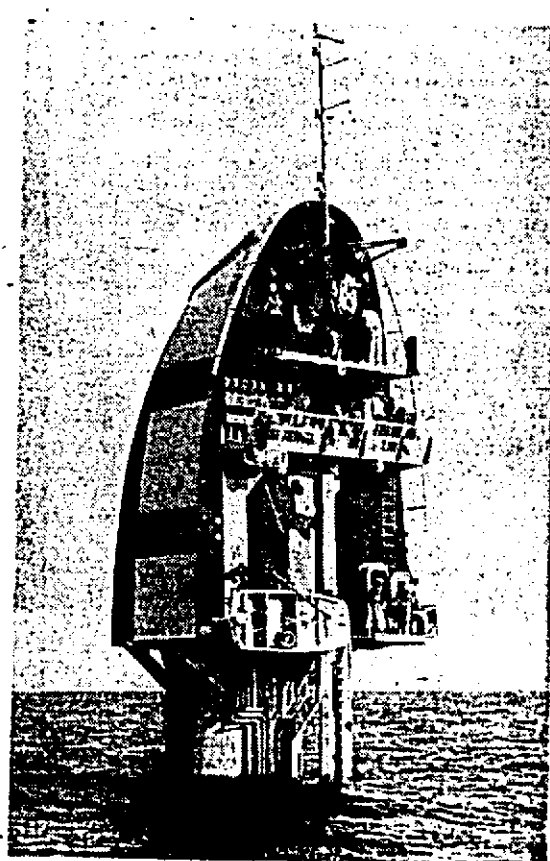

Some far-thinking planners envision Flip as the forerunner of permanently drifting sea platforms which could be used for a wide variety of purposes such as missile platforms, weather stations, communication centers and lighthouses.

Flip will get its first big job this summer when she is towed midway between Hawaii and the Aleutians for a series of mid-ocean experiments.

Crew clings to bow, at left, as rails are about to become decks. Shift from a floating horizontal position to a submerged vertical condition takes approximately 10 minutes. vessel has 11 ballast tanks and eight are flooded to bring the craft to erect state for sea studies.

When brought to vertical (right), the craft is in working position, providing a steady platform for its crew and team of scientists. As man turns more and more to the sea for food and other resources, such research tools as Flip gain new emphasis in underwater study.

Perry Como, in his days as soloist with Ted Weems band . . . a shy crooner and nervous before the microphone.

The Days of DIF and N'LL

By Ted Krec

Rudy Vallee, the original crooner with the megaphone. He began an era and the "mike" carried on the tradition.

I CAN'T SAY for sure how or when it all started. No one can. But possibly it was back in pre-historic times.

Maybe a group of cavemen was seated on the strand near what we know today as the Nu-Pike. And maybe one of the company, moved to exhibitionism by the marimba-like music pounded out by his cohorts on the ribs of a mastodon, picked up a conch shell and brayed through it. Maybe that's how it all began.

All I know is that orchestra vocalizing has been around for a long, long time.

And even though I wasn't there when it started, they don't call me Ol' Ted for nothing! I remember when it hit its peak.

It started to gain momentum in the late 1920s, just when radio was coming into its finest hour.

A YOUNG, curly-haired bon vivant named Rudy Vallee began to set the girls ga-ga by picking up a megaphone (theretofore an instrument used exclusively by cheer leaders) and "crooning" through it.

It's a good thing he had that megaphone, or no one could have heard him over the din of the band. But they did hear him—and they liked him. So, when the microphone came into popular usage, Rudy was all set.

Don't forget, up until this time most vocalizing had been done by, leather-lunged, barrel-chested chaps of the stage, men who had the capacity to shout down the orchestra, and frequently did!

But with Rudy, it was something new—the start of an era. With the megaphone, and later the microphone, it didn't matter how feeble the performer's voice was—he could "croon" and be heard.

It was too much for Rudy to ask that he have the field all to himself for all time. Right on his heels were a couple of youngsters named Russ Colombo and Bing Crosby.

WHILE RUDY remained a bit nasal, Russ and Bing began a new twist—the "boo-boo-boo" type of rendition. Was it popular? You bet your isinglass side curtains it was! Why, I even remember hearing a song written about the three of them, aptly titled: "Crosby, Colombo and Vallee." This was rather a parody of the three boys, and it was the last gasp of the leather-lungers—because it wasn't long before the crooners took over.

As the world spun into the early '30s, crooning was here to stay, and in the late '30s and early '40s, it hit its peak.

Who (in my age bracket) ever can forget Glen Gray's Casa Loma Orchestra, with vocals by Kenny Sargant? Or Jimmy Dorsey and his band, with vocals by Bob Eberly? And do you remember band-leader Sammy Kaye breathing into the microphone: "These lovely words—by Tommy Ryan!"

There were plenty of others. Tommy Dorsey with vocals by Jack Leonard and, later, Frank Sinatra. The great Glenn Miller with his prolific vocalist, Ray Eberle. Even the smaller organizations had top crooners. I remember one of my favorites—Ted Weems and his orchestra, with vocals by Perry Como!

You should have seen Como in those days. I interviewed him back in the early '40s for a magazine and you wouldn't have known him. He was just a kid, and a mighty nervous one. He was so timorous, in fact, that he shook perceptibly whenever he stood before the microphone. A real nice, nervous kid with a great mop of curly, black hair—and a mighty hard guy to interview because he was so shy. True, he has acquired a lot more polish and smoothness, and he's not nervous anymore. But one thing hasn't changed—then, as now, when he stepped up and started to sing, you forgot everything else!

OH, THOSE WERE the halcyon days! I can see it—and hear it—now! The band would break into a sentimentally sweet refrain and play it through once. Then the musicians would go into an improvisation as a good-looking young chap would approach the mike. By prearranged signal, the lighting man would flood the stage with a blue spotlight—and then the youngster would start his plaintive wail.

The vocalist's pronunciation usually was guided by the beat of the music, and as a result, it always came out something like this:

"And—DIF you leave me,

"Then—N'LL not be the same!"

See what I mean? That's why I call this era "The Days of Dif and N'LL."

But they were good days, with great tunes and a rather frantic way of life which was interrupted by World War II.

THEN THE ERA of the big bands shuffled along, leaving in its wake such soul-stirring numbers as "Don't Forget Your Pal on Guadalcanal," "Goodbye, Mama, I'm Off to Yokohama" and "There'll Be a Hot Time in the Town of Berlin."

Patently I waited for hostilities to cease and the big bands with the crooners to return. The war ended, but the big bands never came back to any degree.

What did we get? Well, for one thing, we got Elvis. And if I thought "DIF" and "N'LL" were funny before, I was in for an awakening! Try this one:

"Forma dollin olive yoo; anna allus weel!"

Just in case you're not with me, the young man was saying:

"For, my darling, I love you; and I always will!"

I STILL LISTEN to contemporary music while I'm riding in the car—but I don't pretend to understand it. I'm afraid music has passed me by—I can't even beat out a bassanova rhythm with my fingers on the top of my desk!

But at night, when I get home, know what I do? I sneak into the house, draw the shades, load up the record player and turn out the lights. I listen to vocals by Ray Eberle, Kenny Sargent, Bob Eberly and Frank Sinatra. I just listen, all by myself. And I must say, I feel positively subverted!

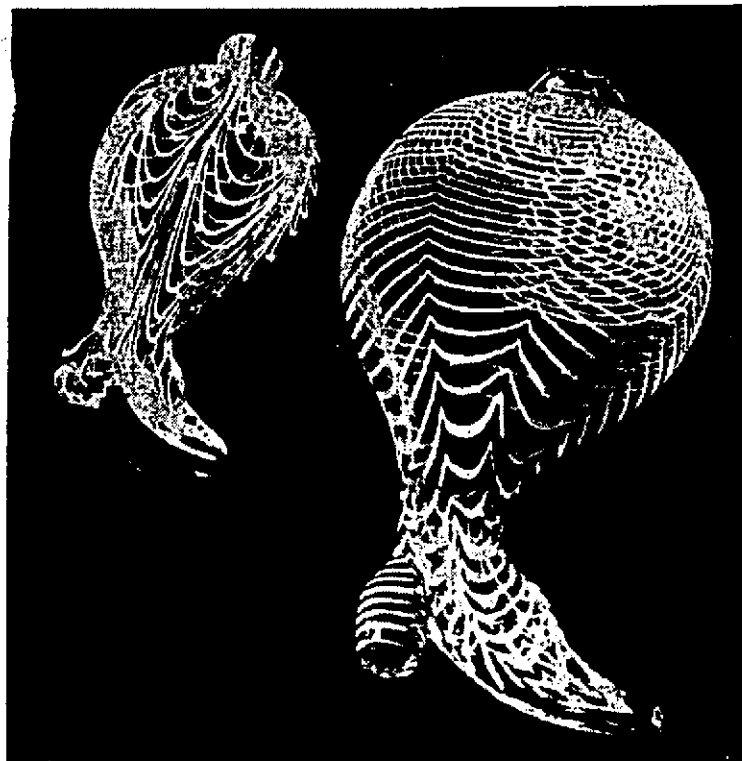

Bottles shaped like fish once contained bitters; now collector's items.

Why Do People Collect Bottles?

By Clarence T. Hubbard

Striped, shoe-shaped bottles show the results of careful workmanship for which today's production lines have no time. These originated in 1870's.

WHEN I PIONEERED the collecting of "character bottles" several years ago, I never realized that California, especially Southern California, would run away with the show.

Character bottles, or figural bottles, are glass containers shaped as humans and things. They were originally mostly bottles used to dispense various liquids and powders and often the shape tied in with the product.

For instance, cucumber oil was sold in a pale green bottle moulded to represent a cucumber. Meat sauce came in an amber bottle contoured to resemble a hambone. There was a unique bottle shaped like a bunch of asparagus tied with a wire or string just as asparagus is marketed today.

Southern California got into the act so strongly through collector enthusiasm. California brings an enthusiasm into its activities that other states lack. Persons moving west from the east, and many native Californians, just got started collecting these bottles. In fact, Southern California is the only area I know of that has bottle clubs. The members gather regularly not only to exhibit and discuss their finds but they also go out on expeditions of digging and come up with old bottles of many kinds from pioneer days.

BITTERS BOTTLES presently capture the favor of these searchers—old tonic bottles that contained tonic bitters claiming healings for almost everything. The Pure Food Act did not come into being as law until 1905, so these bitters made back in the 1800's contained spirits and sometimes opium. But it is the empty bottle the collectors want. Not all of these bitters bottles were in special shapes but many were, such as the Pineapple Bitters shaped as a pineapple in amber. Or the National Bitters in honey amber as an ear of corn, the corn symbolizing the agricultural growth of America. Brown's Celebrated Herb Bitters came in a beautiful bottle resembling an Indian Princess. There were many log cabin shaped bottles containing bitters, some also molded in elephant reproductions. Then there were hundreds in odd-shaped bottles not resembling any figure; some are found with their original labels.

Only a few whisky bottles were "shaped"; one, Hart's whisky, came in an amber bottle shaped as a heart. Gin appeared in a bottle of humorous appeal; on one side was a man's head, his hair drawn up, a frown on his face. The word "BEFORE" was lettered thereon. The obverse side showed him all smiles, with "AFTER" blown into the bottle rim. Schnapps came in a flat bottle resembling a coachman.

Possibly the first figural bottles in America arrived in California first—kummel bottles from Russia shaped as bears! Sailors brought them over empty and sold them for a dollar apiece. Saloon keepers bought them as an oddity for bars. They came in a dark green glass, also in a milk glass. I even have one from Germany, marked non-alcoholic, to get around tax laws. Today kummel is manufactured and bottled in the United States in similar bear-shaped bottles that are now paint sprayed.

A CHRISTMAS TREE bottle, a modern character bottle, which attracts more attention than any of my older creations, was obtained in San Diego in a department store. Later attempts to duplicate this attractive bottle have been unsuccessful but there are many to be searched out in Southern California.

These amusing bottles are packed with human interest and are so fascinating that now interior decorators are hunting them out. Some people use them for book ends, for bar decorations, others on shelves especially where the sun can shine through them. Not too many were made in color although there are some cobalt blue bottles—one a rolling pin, another a small bust of George Washington, a third a French poodle dog.

However color is introduced into all bottles by filling them with water tinted with vegetable dyes. I have a lobster-shaped bottle filled with red colored water. A nationally known perfumer in Los Angeles is buying up French and English wine bottles "in shapes" and refilling them with toilet water for resale at a good profit. These imported character bottles, used for table wines in days of old abroad, have about 800 different shapes, are usually a foot high, and appear as butterflies, peacocks, a hand holding a pistol, as musical instruments, famous people, some as fishermen, even one as a Ballerina.

MANY OF these found their way to Southern California through seaports. Early settlers also brought them along. And saloons and restaurants used them.

Mrs. Paul Godfrey of Grass Valley is outstanding as a collector of these bottles and has a fabulous display in her home, even one bottle as a lamp-post. She has all the "classics" as well as many also acquired on digging excursions. One of her bottles is a railroad engine, a foot long.

Bottles from the author's collection include (l. to r.) Grover Cleveland, woman's leg wine bottle, John Bull caricature, "Feed the Baby" (tiny bottle), woman acrobat, coachman, ear of corn, Booz, and Victor Hugo.

Boy Grads CAN Get Better Jobs!

By Dick Westermann

IT'S GRADUATION eve and, at last, your moment of glory has come. Your name is called, you walk forward, knees a little wobbly, and take that hard-to-come-by sheepskin. A wave of pride sweeps over you and for seconds you are master of all. The world is your oyster.

Then, if you are normal, a wave of humility sweeps over you.

Looking back you can see those people who helped make this evening possible. There are Mother and Dad, a score of teachers, a Scoutmaster, a Sunday School teacher and high school athletic coach. Each one of these individuals helped bring about this occasion. The transition from boy to man occurs just about at this point in your life.

By next Monday you're ready to look for a job and you wonder just where to start. Here's a secret. You are starting a week too late as hundreds of other grads do every year. The ripest time to land a summer job is during the first two weeks in June. Employers have a pretty good idea of what they want for summer (extra) help and applications that hit June 1 to 14 get preference.

IN PICKING a vocation you are making the second most important decision in your life. The other is when you choose a wife. After 20 years as the manager of an industrial employment agency I have taken the questions asked by young men at this stage of the game and come up with a few concrete answers.

First, you must remember that if an employer is going to invest in you it is going to be for a profit. He is going to want eight hard hours of work a day delivered ungrudgingly and with a smile. The clock-watchers die on a job within a matter of weeks.

Appearance counts. I like to see a young man walk in wearing a pair of clean slacks, a shirt and tie and with his shoes shined. Watch the fingernails and, above all things, that old job loser B.O.

HERE ARE SOME of the "don'ts" I get from personnel managers:

1—No shrinking violets, or pansies. I told one boy yesterday, "This job is hard work, blood, guts, grease and sweat. It's hard back-breaking labor." The kid passed out on me and didn't revive for three minutes. When he got up he made a dash for a car and was gone in a flash.

2—We don't run a nudist camp, boys coming in with exposed navels, swimming suits, Bermudas, or shirts that flop outside trousers.

3—No nonconventional hairdos—Surfer hairdo fans and beatnik beard club members are invited to waste their time at some other less sensitive employer's office.

Thousands of June graduates are starting the hunt for jobs. The author here assists one young man in quest.

4—We know you're masculine and you don't have to prove it by an overpowering scent of B.O.

5—This is California and not a "wild west show." No cowboy boots, Stetson hats or cowboy belt buckles, please.

AIDS IN SECURING a job:

First, see your job counselor or at school. If the counselor does not have a position in mind for you, try the local employment and State employment agencies; the two offer separate and different advantages. The state has more jobs—also many more people by ratio. The private employment agency, once visited, will be more interested in you because, in putting you to work, a fee is charged. There's nothing like the lure of the long green at an agency office to get things "going your way." You are a high school graduate and in the top 30 percent of the labor market available.

Your next best avenue of approach is the help wanted columns of The Long Beach Independent, Press-Telegram or some newspaper where employers state what they want and the necessary qualifications.

THE MOST HORRIBLE

thing in the world is to phone a company and ask a lot of silly questions. In my employment agency, I never take a phone call seriously. If the young man is really interested he will be at my door. So, go down to the employer's building. Secretary asks you to fill out an application. Do this as neatly as possible but remember to leave out any small blaze of glory that you might have enjoyed a summer ago that might read, "Worked at Mars Construction Co., summer 1962, $2.78-hour." This big money kills you dead than a mackerel.

Then comes the big moment. "Will you please come in, young man? Mr. Jones will interview you now." You walk into the manager's office, shake hands with a tight grip. This sometimes makes or breaks an interview. I have never hired any young man who gave me the too often used "Jellyfish" handshake. Grab one sometime and you'll know what I mean. You smile and sit down being very careful not to smoke unless your host does.

The first question, "what type of position are you looking for?" can always be countered, if you don't know by answering or asking, "just exactly what is open?"

The manager names two positions. Select the one you like best and sell yourself.

THE NEXT-TO-LAST question in any interview with a young man is almost always, "Why do you want this job, young man?" I like to see this answered with a good concrete reason such as, "In a year or so I intend to get married and when that time comes it will be handy to have a little money around!"

THE LAST QUESTION in many interviews kill off 30 percent of the applicants that have just graduated: "When can you come to work?" the dumbos will give a long story about how they want at least a week to rest after graduation. The next fellow gives the right answer: "Right now!"

Then again, Mr. Jones might use the old-fashioned but still-much-used 24-hour waiting period test and say, "We will let you know in a day or two about this. How's that?" The smart applicant turns smiles and says, "I will appreciate any consideration that you give my application. I realize that I don't have a world of experience but there is no place I would rather start up the ladder than right here. Good day, sir." The manager will smile. The secretary will turn as you go out the door, grin at him and say, "He's certainly a fine young man."

Service after Sale...

New ANTHONY plan helps you keep your new pool in top shape AT NO EXTRA COST!

A 1963 Anthony Pool is the finest home pool ever built. It has the latest style, most dependable equipment and construction. When we finish a pool we carefully check all parts; adjust and regulate motors, pumps, heaters and filters. Likely they will require no care for a long time. But if you should need further service, Anthony has the far-reaching organization to come to your aid quickly at no extra cost!

"IF THE OWNER OF A 1963 ANTHONY POOL DOES NOT GET SERVICE, HE HASN'T ASKED FOR IT" says Phil Anthony, president of Anthony Pools.

Often he doesn't even have to ask. We have a great new policy of routine check-back on our completed pools—just to see that everything is still operating in top shape.

If an owner calls for service our pool crews can make quick repairs. We have skilled men, parts and equipment in every area every day. Warranties are fulfilled cheerfully and promptly. This is one of the extra assurances you have when you let Anthony build your pool.

WORLD'S LARGEST POOL BUILDER—Over 20,000 careful pool buyers have picked Anthony to build their pools. That is twice as many as have picked any other builder. Why was Anthony preferred two-to-one? Was it quality, or price, or dependability? Was it the assurance of "Service after Sale"? We believe that it was all of these.

PROVE IT TO YOURSELF—If you are planning a pool, certainly it is just good business to get a quotation from Anthony, the world's largest pool builder. Chances are that Anthony can save you a lot of money. Phone or drop in to any of our twelve neighborhood offices. There's no obligation.

When the Dean Claars decided it was time for better things in their home, they decided upon redoing their kitchen and refitting their other rooms rather than make a move to a new location. Above view of their refurbished living room, looking into the former dining room, now music room, is a key to the new look of their quarters. Below right is a glimpse into a former small bedroom that is now an attractive den.

SOUTHLAND HOMES

With a New Look for Better Living

By Stella George

LOCATION prevailed as the deciding factor when Mr. and Mrs. Dean Claar, 1106 Ridgewood Ave., weighed their small home against other possibilities in a desire for improvement. They decided to stay put and customize their home for a new look in keeping with better living.

Services of two expert designers, Kay Langen, kitchens, and Edith Armor, interiors, were engaged, with delightful results.

A wide archway at the far end of the living room leads to what was formerly the dining room but is now a music room, with the arch forming a frame for the fine furnishings within. A mural is the background for a grand piano. An unusual white lamp hangs above the piano. An occasional chair near the buffet is Chinese Chippendale. (Note: this is not, as some readers might suspect, a misprint.)

UNUSUAL accessories were injected into the decorating theme. The decor is contemporary with Far East accents. The Abundant storage features the "new" kitchen which has added spaciousness without major structural alteration.

Oriental touch is most evident in small pieces and the mural. The fascinating object on the buffet, for example, is an ancient Chinese dressing table with a brass mirror.

The living room has a white fireplace and a white end table near a long antique white sofa. A gold and shrimp occasional chair with open arms is across the way. A stereo unit is near the front door. An interesting decoration is used here: a brass lectern which holds an open art book.

The kitchen is outstanding. It must be remembered that this is not a large house, but no walls were pushed out when the kitchen was remodeled. Features include the spaciousness of the room; an abundance of cupboards (there are 15), and drawers (which number 15); and an uncluttered work area. The cupboards and drawers are covered with walnut formica. A built-in stove is centered between two long work areas which extend to a steel sink.

The den is particularly worthy of mention. Actually, it is one of three bedrooms which is used as a study. The room is small, and located in the rear of the home. So expertly is it furnished, however, that it seems half again as large as it really is. One wall is glass which overlooks the rear garden.

Customized interior is a feature of this modest home.

Sketchbook

Here's a plan for summer fun, a man-sized outdoor barbecue with ample working counter and a handy wood bin.

By Bill Meyerriecks

YOU'VE often heard it said that food tastes better when it's cooked outdoors.

Anyone who's enjoyed a steak broiled over hot hardwood coals knows that's true. And there's something even more special when the chef not only made the fire with his own hands, but also the fireplace!

A brick barbecue is one of the most rewarding projects a home-owner can undertake.

THE ESSENTIAL ingredient for success is a good plan. If you start laying bricks without knowing exactly what your creation will look like, it's easy to get into trouble. An ugly duckling made of brick and mortar is not easy to discard.

This week's Sketchbook plan tells you precisely how many bricks you need and where to place each one to get the result shown in the illustration. With the plan, a carpenter's square and a level, it's next to impossible to go wrong.

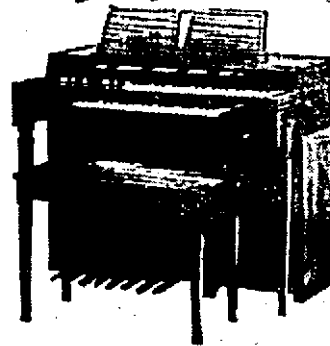

Dimensions of the barbecue are 67½ inches wide, 42 inches deep, 33 inches high at the cooking level and just 5 feet high at the top of the chimney. The brickwork is scaled to accept a Majestic Model OF-38 outdoor grill, which is slipped into place upon completion.

TO ORDER, specify Barbecue Plan S-111 and send name and address and 50 cents to Building Editor, Southland Magazine, 604 Pine Ave., Long Beach 12, Calif.

Bottles

Mrs. Millicent Holmberg of Lomita, who operates The Glass Bottle, has a private collection of figural bottles, including every colored one available. William Schoenberg of Los Angeles is another avid fan who collects his bottles from all over the world.

THE ENTIRE country is now figural bottle-minded whereas once I was the sole assembler of these quaint bottles. Obviously Southern California has taken over.

Subjects of this hobby may be found at auctions, in old stores, at antique shops, by mail, even joining the bottle clubs in their diggings, and especially by letting others know of your interests—this gets you farther than any other effort.

Pursuing the hobby in either a large or a small way, offers two attractive phases. First, small cost: true, some bottles have gone up to $50 to $75 each in price, but the average is around $5 to $10. Secondly, no two collectors can have the same exact bottles. They are not catalogued as stamps, any collector will soon find some bottle no one else can ever duplicate. Everyone likes them—children and adults, women and men.

Have Fun With an Indoor Luau!

By Mildred K. Flanary
Southland Magazine Home Economics Editor

IF YOU like to give gay and memorable parties, you'll find you can't miss with a Hawaiian luau, for a luau is synonymous with good times.

Although traditionally held-out-of-doors, you can create the Islands right in your own home. Set the mood with whatever props you have available; green plants, flowers, straw hats, shells and fish netting to provide the necessary tropical background, then let guests' costumes do the rest.

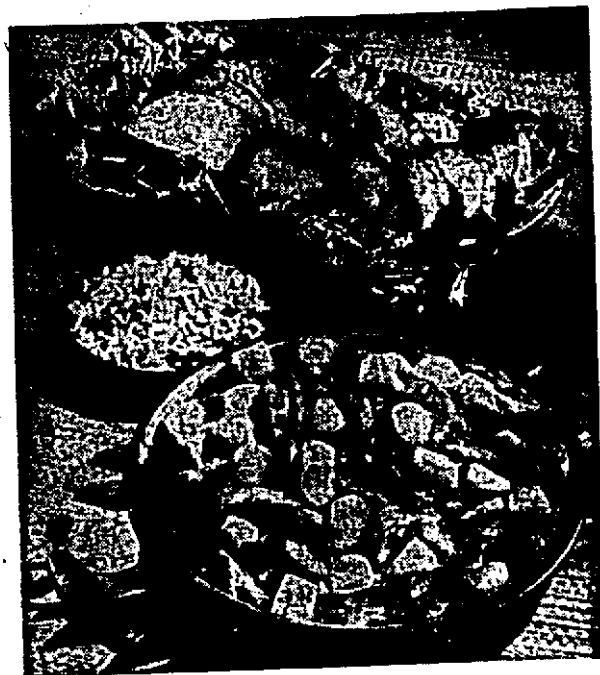

Your "at home" luau menu will probably have to be an adaptation of true Hawaiian dishes, but remember that this is a feast and abundance and variety are prime requisites. Often two or three main dishes are served, each featuring a different kind of meat and seasoning.

One island inspired main dish that always makes a second helping a must, is Mandarin chicken. Tender pieces of chicken are simmered in a zesty prepared barbecue sauce, orange juice and brown sugar, making a rich, spicy-sweet combination folks are certain to like. Pineapple

Mandarin Chicken

- 1/2 cup barbecue sauce
- 1/2 cup orange juice
- 1/4 cup brown sugar, packed
- 2 tblsp. all purpose oil
- 2 tblsp. flour
- 1/4 tsp. salt
- 4 cups cut-up cooked chicken
- 1 can (13 1/2-oz.) can pineapple chunks, drained
- 1/2 cup sliced water chestnuts
- 1 teasp. candied ginger, chopped
- Cooked rice
- Macadamia nuts or almonds.

Combine barbecue sauce, orange juice, brown sugar, oil, flour and salt; mix well. Cook, stirring until mixture comes to a boil and thickens slightly. Add chicken, pineapple, water chestnuts and ginger; cover and simmer 10 minutes. Serve over rice and sprinkle with nuts.

Hawaiian luaus usually are outdoor events, but one can be fun indoors, too. Mandarin chicken is a luau treat.

Recipe of the Week

IT'S CAKE that again "takes the cake," in this case the $5 prize for the week's best recipe, for Mrs. Sam Clodfelter, 1356 St. Louis Ave., Long Beach 4. The recipe:

Moonlight Cake

- 10 eggs, whites only
- 7 egg yolks
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 1/2 cup sugar (sift 5 times)
- 1 cup cake flour (sift 5 times, including salt)
- 1 teaspoon cream tartar
- 2 teaspoons flavoring

Beat egg whites until frothy and then add cream of tartar. Continue beating until egg whites are stiff but not dry. In another bowl beat the 7 egg yolks until creamy and add 2 tablespoons of beaten whites and beat again. Add gradually the sifted sugar to the whites. Now combine the yellow and white mixture and fold in the flour and flavoring. Bake in Angelfood Cake pan, rinsing the pan with cold water before putting in the batter. Bake in slow oven (175°) about 1 hour. Turn pan upside down until cake cools.

What's your favorite recipe? For each recipe published in this space, Southland will pay $5. Men are urged to submit their recipes along with the ladies. Send yours, with name and address to: Recipe Contest Editor, Southland Magazine, 604 Pine Ave., Long Beach 12, Calif.

HERE'S THE latest research round-up on the suicide problem:

Body weight: Grossly underweight persons and obese persons commit suicide more frequently than do persons of normal or near normal weight.

Season: A person is more apt to attempt suicide in the most delightful of all seasons—spring.

Race: Suicide is more common in the white than in the colored population.

Sex: Suicide occurs with greater frequency in males. In the United States, white males account for three-fourths of all suicides.

Age: Suicide is rare under age of 15, but increases rapidly with age.

Marital status: Single men, in this country, commit suicide more than twice as often as do married men.

Geography: Highest suicide rates are in West Germany (particularly Berlin), Hungary, Japan, Austria. Lowest: Ireland, Spain, Italy, The Netherlands. Intermediate: United States. In the U. S. the highest rate is in the West, lowest in the South.

BY ITSELF, emotional stress cannot produce permanent diabetes in a totally nondiabetic person, says an editorial in the journal Diabetes.

On the other hand, there is considerable evidence to support the view that stress may convert a prediabetic condition to actual diabetes.

The report is by Dr. T. S. Danowski of the University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine.

APPLE JUICE is more readily acceptable to babies than is orange juice, and the apple juice is less likely to cause adverse side effects, a new study discloses.

Two Winchester, Va., pediatricians say those babies fed apple juice exhibited less rash and colic than those who were given citrus juice.

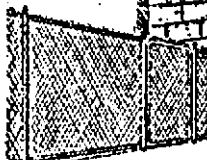

The doctors, reporting in Virginia Medical Monthly, say citrus juice is no longer necessary as a source of vitamin C. The vitamin, they explain, usually has been added to canned fruit juices, and use of supplementary vitamins in infants and young children is "nearly universal."

Skill of decorators used today by makers of mobile homes is seen in bedroom above. Done in subtle green and beige tones, room has an air of spaciousness and relaxation by use of mirrored sliding closet doors. Left of room, permitted by expanding unit, is full-sized lounge or sewing room. Built-in dresser drawers allow freedom of movement. Hanging lamp adds touch of refinement. Mobile homes have one, two or three bedrooms and one may easily be converted to a den. Homes have a growing market.

Living the Trailer Way

Ten million citizens living in mobile homes by 1970? That's the prediction of economists and housing experts, says the Mobile Home Manufacturers Association. Present rate of growth of "the trailer way" is about 250,000 newcomers annually. Retired citizens are discovering the economical advantages of park living. Fine de luxe and modern parks are being developed at the rate of about 1,000 a year. Rents average from $40 to $65. Available are central recreation clubhouses, swimming pools, shuffleboard courts, pitch and putt golf courses.

Although mobility is a factor in the psychology of trailer ownership, persons only move once in every three years. Nine out of ten who make the choice never go back to climbing stairs or cutting grass in conventional dwellings.

Include chapels, libraries, underground television wiring, and the appeal of individual or group activities like bridge and bicycle and hobby clubs and you have the attractions which are putting people on wheels.

Modern mobile home parks are designed by top architects and cost between $250,000 and a million dollars to construct. They are not even distant relatives of the old park which sprung up out of necessity in the early days of trailering.

Military and personnel and professional workers also form big segments of this expanding market, according to the Trailer Coach Association.

Mobile homes, by definition, are the larger trailers used more or less for permanent or semi-permanent dwellings. Travel trailers are the smaller units used for weekend and annual vacations. Both are financed like automobiles, both come as completely furnished packages.

New USC building rises behind Sandra Jane Philippi of Downey, at left, and Connie Teitel of San Bernardino.

WITH THIS sort of influence, USC has forged a position as "the big school" hereabouts, though not the largest (full-time day enrollment about 7,000, total about 18,000 compared with UCLA's 19,000). Now "the big school" wants to be the best.

The gyration involved in trying to change its long-held image of athletic factory while at the same time adding faster and faster to its sports championships, is difficult. But USC is doing it—with money.

There is under way a $106 million expansion program. "USC is entering a new era," says university president Dr. Norman Topping. It would be disrespectful to say that Jascha Heifetz was hired to teach the fiddle, but that, in effect, is what's been done.

"The money is not all going for bricks and mortar," says Dr. Topping, though new buildings are going up faster than tuition fees. Four million dollars worth of dormitory construction is under way. Main-campus area is being increased from 101 acres to 165. Even one new building would be an important event for a college that is still using classrooms that were opened its first year (1880), but eight buildings currently are going up.

FIRST PHASE of the modernizing program is half-way (Continued on Page 21)

BOOK REVIEWS

Life in a Police State

By VERA WILLIAMS
Southland Magazine Book Editor

"SPECULATIONS About Jakob" by Uwe Johnson (Grove, $4.50) is a kaleidoscope as much as it is a novel.

Unlike the kaleidoscopes of our childhood, this one falls into place to present reality, not only the life of an East German railwayman but a crazy quilt picture of Germany—for life today in divided Germany is a crazy quilt.

Uwe Johnson is the best of the German writers of the post-Nazi literary resurgence. His novel gives a better idea of what Germans in the East go through day by day than even the best of trained reporters can present. As the story begins, the Jakob of the book is dead; he has been run over by a railway engine. Uwe Johnson then proceeds, with great imaginative power, to fit pieces of Jakob's life together by way of conversation between the men who worked with Jakob; interspersed are comments by a secret policeman who has tailed Jakob. A girl who has fled to West Berlin, but who lived with Jakob's family in the East recalls incidents of Jakob's life to mind.

All are mere fragments of a man's life, but they add up to the life of every man under the police state. Jakob hates the Communist regime, yet he refuses to block a Russian troop train bound for Hungary to crush the revolt. As a switchman he could have delayed the train; as a practical German he tells himself it would have been but a futile gesture. Thus, Jakob is shown to be the personification of so much that is equivocal in the German of today.

DR. CHARLES MALIK, former president of the U. N. General Assembly, is an Arab (a Lebanese), but an Arab with a difference. His heart and mind understand and stand with Western civilization. Because this is so his book "MAN IN THE STRUGGLE FOR PEACE" (Harper and Row, $5) has words for the West that would better be heeded.

The West is losing the Cold War, he says; "the Communists are unbeatable in war, due to the continued existence of the nuclear stalemate." What is to be done? "The only way out is to change the rules of peace in order to beat the Communists at their own game, to out-revolutionize their revolution and to out-subvert their subversion under conditions of peace." It sounds like good advice.

SO OBVIOUSLY does Edward Hodnett, author of "THE CULTIVATED MIND" (Harper, $4.95) love and enjoy such things of the mind and spirit as literature, the arts and science that the reader is moved to obey the Biblical injunction: "Go thou and do likewise."

Through Plutarch and Lytton Strachey he clears a path for appreciation of biography. With Newton, Pasteur and Darwin he emblazons the way to scientific vision. He enlists Faulkner, Cervantes and Dostoevsky to point out the human predicament. A book with which to lean back in the rocker for, let's say, half hours at a time.

"STARS AND OUTER SPACE MADE EASY" by Carlos S. Mundt (Naturegraph $1.95) blasts away at old horizons of the mind. It prepares the reader for, and inspires him to explore, a subject soon to be as fundamental to the way of life on this planet as—well, as dining on processed plankton. For three decades, the author taught astronomy to "beginners" at San Francisco State College and on educational television.

DIGGING DEEPER than the what-to-see travel guide, the character and physical appearance of Oregon, Wash.

Baja's Gold Rush Days By Betty Hardesty

A GOLD RUSH started in Mexico's Baja California in 1870, when thousands of gold-seekers tramped the quiet streets of Ensenada en route to the gold discovery site. Gold had been found glittering in the dry stream beds of the Sierra Juarez Mountains east of the small fishing harbor and town called Ensenada de Todos Santos. Miners returning with gold dust to spend for food, fun and drink, brought a boom to Ensenada, but when no more gold could be found, the town returned to sleepy ways in the mild sunshine. Surviving is a hotel that was built to accommodate the social and commercial activities of those mad days. This first hotel, triangular in shape and three stories high, was owned by the American International Land Company, holders of the first land concessions.

First hotel in Ensenada stands today as a reminder of gold rush days in the back lands of Todos Santos Bay.

navigator, Juan Rodriguez Cabrillo, serving the Viceroy of Mexico in 1542, sailed into Todos Santos Bay, he saw only one small Indian rancheria. Father Junipero Serra paused at the same shore in 1773 during his land march to Alta California. He must have regretted the lack of running water needed for a mission site. The Dominicans left no buildings to mark their passage.

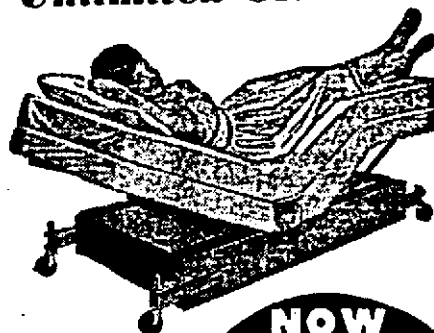

Founder of Ensenada, pioneer cattleman Don Pedro Gastelum, however, built such a sturdy adobe ranch home that it is in use today. This oldest building of the town, has three front doors opening on the street that is Gastel-um's name and is picturesque with quaint establishments.

NEAR THE BAY is a frame house, now used as a customs office, constructed in 1884 by an English syndicate that received a huge land grant and permission to settle and farm. Agriculture land a few miles south of Ensenada yields the world's largest late summer harvest of chili peppers.

About 480,000 bales of cotton yearly are shipped from Ensenada, primarily a fishing port and U.S. sportsmen have long known of its plentiful supply of game fish. By 1950 the tourist business had brought back prosperity far surpassing the gold rush days.

Honor to Old Glory

Ceremony in May 1961 in New Bedford School yard notes 100th anniversary of first raising flag over a school.

By Maymie R. Krythe

OLD GLORY will be honored Tuesday upon the occasion of its 186th anniversary, but its components of 50 stars and 13 stripes will be far different from those of its original form and widely divergent from the several banners used by the Colonies.

To standardize the American Flag, Congress set up a committee in 1775, with Benjamin Franklin as a member, and assigned the group the task of choosing a model ensign.

On June 14, 1777, Congress resolved:

"That the flag of the 13 United States be 13 stripes, alternate red and white; that the union be 13 stars, white in a blue field, representing a new constellation."

AT FIRST, both a star and a stripe were added for each new entrance to the Union. But later it was decided that this would result in narrow, indistinguishable stripes. Therefore in 1818, Congress decreed that there should be only the 13 stripes, to honor the original Colonies; and that for each new state a star should be added to the flag's blue union.

Soon the Stars and Stripes became known around the globe as—the symbol of the rising young republic in the New World. But, strange to say, 100 years passed by before the idea of having our banner flown over public buildings was acted upon by Congress. Twelve years later, 1889—a high school principal,

George Balch, of New York City, is said to have started the custom of having a patriotic program on the date when our flag was adopted June 14 and other schools all over the country soon began to observe this holiday.

President Woodrow Wilson in 1916 proclaimed the observance of Flag Day on June 14; and now it is celebrated in all the 50 states.

RECENTLY, Mrs. Virginia A. Hughes, of New Bedford, Mass., brought to my attention an interesting story in connection with our flag. Today in this New England city formerly noted for the whaling industry, there's an old structure, the Allen F. Wood School, once the 5th Street Grammar School. Over this building, according to local historians, the Stars and Stripes was flown for the first time over an American school house, on May 11, 1861.

The principal, Sylvander Hutchinson, conceived the idea of flying the national banner each day at his school. He suggested that a collection be taken, with both pupils and teachers contributing, to purchase a flag and pole. Thus began a custom that spread rapidly, and as Mrs. Hughes has stated:

"Many do not know that from this effort it became the law of the Commonwealth that every school fly the American Flag and this has spread to almost every school."

through, a phase that will see $30 million spent. About half that amount, says Dr. Topping, will go toward raising the academic standing.

"USC's entire approach is unusual," says Dr. Topping, "in that funds for educational enrichment will almost equal amounts . . . for new buildings."

The university also is making widening sociological contributions to the Southern California community of cities. A new field of research at USC is the Youth Studies Center to combat juvenile delinquency. Since 1948, the university has conducted a Delinquency Control Institute for law enforcement agencies.

• Research in air pollution and lung cancer are important projects at USC.

• A separate USC campus is rising on a 14-acre plot, the USC medical school, near L. A. County Hospital. It will have seven large buildings. Four are completed. A third campus is in a downtown Los Angeles office building, training businessmen and governmental employees.

• USC established the first ballistic missile safety training program in 1960 and has instructed more than 2,000 military and civilian fliers in aviation safety in the past decade. Astronaut Walter Shirra was one of them.

• Substantial research in aerospace is conducted on the USC campus. It has the nation's only human centrifuge on a university campus, used in aero-medical research to simulate three-stage rocket takeoff and problems of re-entry.

Last year chimpanzees from Project Mercury rode the centrifuge to test a device invented by a USC pro-

Tricky Display Unit

Base of this display unit is a round of plywood. Added are wooden bead legs and an egg-crate background.

By Lorena Fleissig

EFFECTIVE use of round scraps of plywood makes stands to display art objects. A six inch round of plywood (see photo) is elevated here by means of four large wooden beads. Small nails with flat heads were used but thin screws just long enough to go halfway into the wood could be used.

The textured backing of the stand is simply a divider from a commercial egg crate. The pressed paper square is fitted corner-wise halfway around the stand and carefully nailed. The excess paper is trimmed away.

A covering spray of gold paint will give it a finish that looks professional. The unit is attractive and useful as a window display.

Setting for 'Spencer's Mountain'

By Fred Taylor Kraft
Travel Editor

AFTER carefully considering the problem of selecting an appropriate setting for "Spencer's Mountain," his fine new motion picture for Warner Bros., writer-producer-director Delmar Daves chose Jackson's Hole in the Grand Teton Mountains of Wyoming.

Daves had shot other screen successes in the area for Warners, and grew to know and love the people there. But the deciding factor was the scenery, which he calls "breath-taking—the most spectacularly beautiful that I have seen anywhere."

Warner Bros. invited me along with about 75 other newsmen from throughout the United States to go to Jackson's Hole to see for myself—and while there attend the world press premiere of "Spencer's Mountain."

DAVES WAS, as usual, so right. I can think of no superlatives which might adequately describe this extravagantly gorgeous spot.

From the forested Jackson's Hole, dotted with lakes and streams, rise the Grand Teton on the west—right now white with snow to their very base. The Shoshone Indians called these mountains "the hoary headed fathers." Later, in 1819, French-Canadian trappers passed this way looking for beaver and called the peaks "Les Trois Tetons" (The Three Breasts) because that is how they appeared to them. Today these peaks are called the Grand (13,766 feet), Middle, and South Teton.

DIANA RUPP, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rupp Jr., 5477 Dairy Ave., Long Beach, has completed her flight training at Pan Am's San Francisco school and won her gold wings as a stewardess. She has been assigned to the company's Seattle base, to fly aboard Jet Clippers on Hawaii and Alaska routes. She attended Long Beach City College.

In their vast shadows, in the forests of cedar and lodgepole pine, and along the rambling Snake River which cuts a crooked swath through the Hole, the willows and aspens are budding. Wary elk, moose and mule deer pause from their grazing in the lush grass to watch intruders from a respectable distance. Black bears are beginning to visit the camps and dude ranches, but the grizzlies are less friendly. Coyotes yelp in the frigid night. Cougars and mountain lions leave only their tracks to betray their presence.

CHIPMUNKS and golden gophers extend a merry greeting in the green-carpeted forests, but beavers are less frivolous as they concentrate on their dam building.

All this will go on and on throughout the summer, but in the immediate weeks ahead the visitor also may gaze in wonderment at the miracle of the wildflowers.

For, beginning late in June, the flora that transforms the Hole into a riot of color includes Queen Ann's lace (white), Indian paintbrush—

Wyoming's State flower—(red), fringed gentian (yellow), fireweed (scarlet), lupine and larkspur (blue), dogwood (white), fleabanes (lavender), balsamroot (yellow), shooting stars (light violet), wild crab (pink to deepest red), and wild plum (white).

OVERHEAD flies the bald eagle and in the streams—if their eyes are sharp—visitors may see those behemoths of the winged fraternity—the trumpeter swans—swimming with their broods.

In early September the willows and aspens and sumac turn into glorious yellows and golds and reds, and elk venture warily from their lofty retreats to bugle their challenge and engage in mortal combat for their harems.

Is it any wonder that Delmar Daves chose Jackson's Hole as the setting for his Technicolor "Spencer Mountain?"

GRAND TETON National Park is reached from the west on Wyoming Rte. 22 or Idaho Rte. 33 from U. S. 191 near Sugar City, Idaho, a highway that brings visitors in over Teton Pass, a historic and beautiful route. However, it is steep and not recommended for trailer travel.

Visitors also may come into the Park from the southeast over U. S. 26 and 89 by way of the Snake River Canyon.

Once in the park, it is only a few miles to Yellowstone by way of U. S. 89 and 287, a route not open between Nov. 1 and May 1.

TRAVEL—RESORTS

AROUND THE WORLD WITH

DELAPLANE

"We change planes and go to Europe from New York. I understand we can buy cigarettes cheaper on the plane and we want as many as we can when we land."

CHEAPER on the plane but not all brands available. And not always in quantity. American lines usually carry just enough for package sale at the seat. BOAC usually carries only British. Swissair seems to favor Kents and carries them by the carton to sell in quantities.

Safer bet is to buy at the tax and duty-free store at the Idlewild Airport departure building. (Both liquor stores and cigarette shops on the second deck.) These cost about $1.50 a carton. Liquor is about $2.50 a fifth.

There is one problem with this. You order and pay and the delivery is made ON the plane. You are only allowed two cartons of cigarettes in most countries. Foreign customs are pretty lenient IF you don't push them right in their face. If they see you have more, they HAVE to charge you.

So... carry a couple of flight bags if you can. Distribute anything over two cartons in bags, coat pockets, anywhere. The usual question by customs is: "How many cigarettes?" Your answer is: "Just enough for my personal use." Or: "Have you anything to declare?" Answer: "No, just articles for personal use." That usually does it.

Cigarettes (American), by the way, will cost you 70 cents in England; 60 cents in France; $1 in Greece; 35 cents in Spain; or 25 cents in Mallorca where they are smuggled. Load up in Spain or on airplanes between countries.

"Do you think it advisable for a young woman to go to Mexico City alone on a vacation?"

SAFE ENOUGH. There's a little gigolo work and some shakedown in some of the tourist centers. I'd try to meet some tourist men rather than locals. Mexico City is not the best place for this. It's more relaxed around Cuernavaca or at the nearby Lake Tequisquintengo resorts.

"Our 19-year-old daughter wants to go to Europe and bicycle around alone. We don't think this is at all safe."

POLICE CONTROLS make Europe a lot safer than America for travelers. But I don't think she'll have much fun alone. Write American Youth Hostels, New York City, and get their list of summer bicycle or scooter trips.

They've got some where a supervisor goes with the group for a month. Then they turn the group loose—but as a group or in pairs. By that time, they know how to get along. Then they go alone and practice what they learned. Inexpensive, too.

Two for One

Memberships are now being offered in International Holidays Inc., which the organization explains will entitle holders to goods and services valued up to $2,500 on a "two for the price of one" basis. A membership costs $25, and is good for one year.

Members may stay at any one of more than 150 hotels and motels in the West by paying the regular rates for the first night and getting the second night free; or pay the single rate for double occupancy. More than 100 restaurants offer members two meals for the price of one. In addition, there are benefits at theaters, and for bowling, dancing, ocean fishing, golf, horse racing, dog racing and football. Some lines of merchandise, such as cameras, are included.

International Holidays, Inc. also offers members internationally advertised tours at reduced prices. Long Beach offices of International Holidays Inc. are at 956 Locust Ave.

Gold Country

Southern California vacationists who wish to explore their state's Mother Lode country should be informed of the most interesting spots before they go. There's no better way to do this than reading a newly revised Sunset book, "Gold Rush Country" (Lane Book Co., Menlo Park, Calif., $1.95).

This revised guide covers the area from Sierra City south to Mariposa, section by section, with new information, including road data, updated maps, and scores of photos. In addition to the well-known towns, brought to life are such almost-forgotten places as Rawhide, Mormon Bar, Jenny Lind, Yankee Jim's and Timbuctoo.

African Visas

With travel from the United States to South Africa climbing steadily (totals for the first two months of this year rose 72 per cent over comparable figures for 1962), South African consulates have been recovering many last-minute visa applications. This has slowed down processing in some cases.

In order to avoid unnecessary delays, visitors to South Africa are therefore urged by the South African Corp. to submit their applications for visas to the nearest consular office at least 30 days prior to the date of their departure. Tourist visas for travel to the Republic are available without charge from the Consulates General of South Africa at 360 Pine St., San Francisco 4, Calif.

Theater City

Five new legitimate theatres have opened in Berlin—all of the off-Broadway type, according to the Berlin Tourist Office. The five theatres give performances ranging from avant garde plays to forgotten classics. Berlin also has some 16 major theatres.

Alps To Baltic

Motorists will soon be able to explore the byways of Germany on a special itinerary labeled the "Holiday Route." Signs will direct drivers to scenic roads and interesting towns off the beaten path. The new route stretches 750 miles from the Alps to the Baltic Sea, and links Berchtesgaden, Wasserburg, Dinkelsbuehl, Goslar, Celle, Lueneburg, Luebeck and other towns often bypassed by the hurried traveler.

Scout Jamboree

Of the several important international conferences scheduled in Greece this summer, the largest will be the 11th Boy Scout Jamboree which takes place from Aug. 1-11 on the historic plains of Marathon.

OUTSIDE HOUSE PAINTING NOW ELIMINATED

BEST IN NATION Homeowners are requested not to spend a single penny on painting their residence until they hear the FLEXON STORY. This remarkable material insulates, waterproofs and beautifies, and every Fibreglas FLEXON job is factory guaranteed for 10 full years against chipping, flaking or peeling.

Another boon of the space age has been accomplished for the homeowner... an exterior wall coating so tough and durable that it is guaranteed to totally eliminate house painting for over 10 years. This remarkable textured coating is Fibreglas FLEXON.

This outstanding product when applied is approximately 20 times the thickness of ordinary paint and makes a wall surface that resists all climatic extremes.

Fibreglas, a product of Owens-Corning, brings to FLEXON its great strength, its wonderful insulating properties, its resistance to time, weather, and chemical attack.

PROVEN OVER MANY YEARS

FLEXON is one of the oldest, tried and true coatings and has been applied on thousands of homes and commercial buildings. These buildings have remained in perfect condition after more than 10 years' exposure in all types of weather.

The United States Government and many large corporations such as U.S. Steel Corporation, Aluminum Corporation of America, Pacific Telephone, and Shell Oil Company, are included on the honor roll of FLEXON users.

SHOT FROM A GUN

FLEXON is applied with special heavy duty spray equipment and is actually "shot from a gun" without muss, fuss or odor. FLEXON fuses itself to the wall surface and fills holes, cracks and covers building defects.

FREE INFORMATION

Cal-Tex Improvements, Inc., has been selected as the exclusive franchised contractor of FLEXON in Southern California. Home owners can obtain free information without any obligation. The low cost will surprise you and terms can be arranged to suit your pocketbook.

Book Reviews

ington and British Columbia are unfolded in "The Pacific Northwest" (Doubleday, $5.95).

Because each state or province is different in political behavior, economic problems, and opportunities, and cultural development, each of three authors deals with his home area: Stewart Holbrook, Oregon; Nard Jones, Washington; and Roderick Haig-Brown, British Columbia.

The reader discovers that while each area is a separate entity, they are well unified with similar historical development, scenic endowments and recreational opportunities. It's a book the people of the Pacific Northwest will appreciate, and one from which nonresidents will harvest much rich lore of a "last frontier." The book is beautifully illustrated with photographs.

THE STORY of sportscaster Russ Hodges' life with the unpredictable baseball Giants of San Francisco and formerly of New York is told with no punches pulled in "MY GIANTS" by Russ Hodges with Al Hirschberg (Doubleday, $4.50). This will be his 15th season with the team, and he has traveled from coast to coast with them through years that sometimes have been triumphant, sometimes disappointing — but never dull.

LARGEST show ever—Harbor Cities Kennel Club's "Colonel Ernest E. Ferguson Memorial Dog Show and Obedience Trial" is set for June 22-23 at Long Beach Sports Arena, 270 E. Seaside Blvd. Entries must be submitted to Jack Bradshaw, 727 Venice Blvd., Los Angeles 15, by noon Monday.

Ole! And now also make plans to attend Club Canofilo de Baja California's first two dog shows and obedience trials June 29 and 30 at Villa Marina Motel, Ensenada, Baja California. Chartered by Mexico Kennel Club, this new organization has members on both sides of the border, who own the fine Shetland sheepdog, pictured on this page with attractive Miss Colton, Caroline Lujan. The dog's name is American and Mexican Champion Merrywood Candy of Pintura American U.D. and Mexican P.U. Other Southern California members are Edith Izant, president; Maggia Sturgeon, recording secretary; Bill Sturgeon, working group director, and Eleanor Gisler, terrier director. Edith Izant, 8311 S. La Sierra St., Whittier, has entry blanks.

JUDGES for the events will be Manuel Ibarra, president of the Mexican Kennel Club; Senora Thelma Von Thaden, past president, and several American judges.

According to the club filer, these rules apply south of the border: Two legs only are needed for a Mexican obedience degree. All dogs other than those with Mexican degrees must start in novice obedience. Breed championships are awarded by the Mexican Kennel Club to dogs having earned three certificates. The judge may or may not award certificates. American champions enter open classes. Only Mexican champion dogs compete in specials.

Pinks Pay Off in Floral Beauty

By Joe Littlefield

PINKS, sweet williams and carnations all belong to the same family and some pinks, like Lady Hamilton, barely missed becoming carnations in their development. Pinks are well worth the cultural trouble to grow them, rewarding with a lengthy display of floral beauty.

My favorite pink, till a more satisfactory one comes along, is Dianthus Rose Marie, a bloomer just about all year long! The single rose-colored flowers have a faint, spicily fragrant carnation scent. But try to find this one at nurseries! Very few wholesalers grow them. Perhaps this is due to lack of enough sources where many cuttings may be had or because the big growers don't know about them and think there's not much of a market for them. I've even had to buy some for a member of the Santa Barbara Business Men's Garden Club, having recommended them in a lecture to this group, the plants not being available locally there.

Pinks enjoy wide popularity for color and fragrance of blooms; may be grown single, double or fringed form.

Fortunately, there are several new introductions of pinks, small double flowers, lovely colors, foliage more the size of carnations, that blossom for a number of months. Check with your local nurseryman or garden center dealer about them if you would like to buy and plant them.

Be sure to plant them where they'll get at least half day of sun. Full sun would be ideal, excepting in desert areas.

Many gardeners lose carnations, pinks, or sweet williams because they plant them a little too deeply, water stands around them, rot sets in and plants die. They won't tolerate continual moisture around the trunks. That's why you should plant the top of the root ball an eighth to a quarter-inch above level of surrounding garden soil level. Slope the soil downward away from top edge of the root ball and make a furrow to catch the water. Then water cannot possibly stand around plant trunk.

PLANT SOME carnations for large, showy flowers. The secret of keeping them from growing tall, leggy, and vine-like, is to snap off the tops, twice, before you let them grow to maturity.

When the plants are about six to eight inches tall, snap off the top. When two or three new shoots have grown out five inches or so, snap off the tops again. Plants then grow bushy, produce shorter flower stems, but provide many more branches with flowers.

To Tell Aims

"What Is a Fuchsia Society?" will be discussed by S. G. Copeland at a meeting of the Fuchsia Society in Machinists Hall, 728 Elm Ave., Thursday evening. A potluck supper at 6:30 p.m. will precede the meeting. Members will supply a plant table.

The Newest Sensation In Plant Nutrition and Deep Soil Penetration.

TERR-O-VITE

The All-Purpose Fertilizer that Makes Water Wetter

"Doc" Cha-Kem-Co says:

Why is

TERR-O-VITE

It's the answer to modern gardening the complete fertilizer PLUS

TERR-O-VITE supplies the important nutrients all plants must have to thrive.

TERR-O-VITE contains elements that enter into the manufacture of vital root-forming enzymes and also reduces transplanting shock.

TERR-O-VITE's heavy concentration of Chelating Agents plus Chelated Iron, Zinc and Manganese help to prevent and cure Chlorosis (yellow foliage) induced by high concentrations of alkali in soil or water.

TERR-O-VITE's chemical reactions in the soil break down Adobe, Caliche, Hardpan and Alkali soils so they can be broken with a trowel instead of a tractor.

TERR-O-VITE's Water-Water principle saves water and fertilizer by reducing runoff.

You don't need to

Just Spray on TERR-O-VITE

the key that unlocks the secrets of full plant nutrition

WARNING!

There are imitation products on the market that are supposed to be "as good as TERR-O-VITE but cheaper." Beware of such imitations. They may be fertilizers made with inferior grades of urea, high in bluest content. This chemical is known to be toxic to many plants when used consistently. Protect your plants by refusing such imitations. Insist on TERR-O-VITE.

Tips on Gardening

Garden tips for the week . . . Aerate compacted lawn areas with the tines of a spading fork, or preferably with a coring tool which you can find in any nursery.

Plant dwarf cushion chrysanthemums for summer-long color displays.

Set dahlia tubers out for late summer color. Drive stakes in beside each bulb to support top growth when it comes.

Spray, feed and water roses regularly. A manure peat moss or bark mulch around each bush will help conserve moisture and keep the weeds down.

Many culinary herbs are available in pots for setting out in the garden. Several potsful of herbs near the barbecue area can be useful and aromatic companions.

Pinch back new chrysanthemum plants when you set them out and continue pinching the new growth until July. This makes bushy, sturdy plants. Fertilize regularly.

Garden Talk

Long Beach Garden Club members will hear a talk by Mrs. Ralph Boggs at a meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at Linden Hall, 218 Linden Ave. Mrs. Florence Sunn, newly elected club president, will conduct the meeting. A question and answer period is planned. The public is invited.

DOROTHY DIGS in the garden

By Dorothy Jonson

Have you noticed that bugs and pests never take vacations in the summer? They arrange for their holidays in the winter and we, therefore, have to spend much of our time during the summer months protecting our plants from their attacks.

Spraying plants is always somewhat of a shock to them, so when it is necessary to bring out the artillery, choose a material that will destroy as many insects as possible in one operation.

For ornamentals there is a product combining Malathion and Dieldrin that will eliminate both sucking insects (aphids, thrips, etc.) and chewing insects (worms, caterpillars, etc.). The Malathion kills on contact and the Dieldrin remains on the plants for a couple of weeks or more, continuing to destroy.

For vegetables and other food crops, a spray or dust containing pyrethrins is safe to use. Start using it early in the season as a preventive and continue its use right up until the time of harvest.

ERASE SLUGS & SNAILS

TERNSTROEMIAS

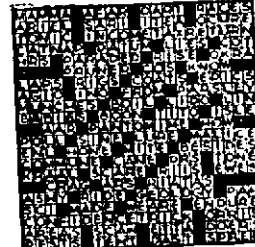

A shrub that is little known but will be long remembered once it is seen is the ternstroemia. Its foliage is dark green to bronze, and becomes more beautiful in the full sun. Its popularity is due to the glossy foliage and its ability to adapt itself to almost any climate. It does as well in the desert areas as along the coast.

Ternstroemias require acid soil, so we recommend the use of Gro-Mulch when planting these shrubs.

These slow growers will attain a height and width of 5-6 ft. This makes them popular in oriental plantings. This easy to care for shrub requires very little pruning and is almost entirely pest free.

Their distinctly different foliage makes them beautiful shrubs for accent to plant with camellias and azaleas. To make your landscaping outstanding, plant ternstroemias. These eye-catching shrubs may be purchased at the GARDEN SHOP NURSERY at 5431 E. Spring St. (at Bellflower Blvd.), Long Beach, phone HA 5-1362.

THE ORANGE groves are still disappearing. No longer do fields of fruits and vegetables stretch out in geometric patterns as far as the eye can scan. Orange County has gone metropolitan, with houses, freeways and shopping centers replacing the groves and vegetable fields. But not all the farm houses have vanished. And perhaps the most interesting one of all is a great farm house which symbolizes all the rural splendor of Orange County's former years.

Located at 6601 Manchester Blvd., Buena Park, is Arnold's Farm House, one of Orange County's most interesting and popular restaurants. From its great neon windmill, several stories tall, to its stained glass windows and modern farm interiors, the Farm House reflects the skilled, thoughtful planning of its creator, Miles Arnold, who also owns Arnold's Town House restaurant in Long Beach.

The Farm House, which often accommodates 2,400 guests on Sunday, is the largest such serve-yourself buffet-style operation in Orange County. Open daily, except Monday, from 11:30 a.m. to 8:30 p.m., it features four marvelous entrees each day—round of roast beef and baked ham with pineapple sauce (both $1.95 on the dinner); filet of northern halibut ($1.85) and farm-style fried chicken ($3.10). Featured Sundays are such delectables as the super-popular baked breast of chicken Hawaiian-style, with pineapple sauce, shaved almonds and toasted coconut; roast turkey and dressing (both $2.10) and prime rib au jus ($2.60). All are accompanied by three salads, chosen from a variety of 20; potato, vegetable, roll and butter and beverage.

MILES ARNOLD
Farm House Decor

THE ORANGE groves are still disappearing. No longer do fields of fruits and vegetables stretch out in geometric patterns as far as the eye can scan. Orange County has gone metropolitan, with houses, freeways and shopping centers replacing the groves and vegetable fields. But not all the farm houses have vanished. And perhaps the most interesting one of all is a great farm house which symbolizes all the rural splendor of Orange County's former years.

Located at 6601 Manchester Blvd., Buena Park, is Arnold's Farm House, one of Orange County's most interesting and popular restaurants. From its great neon windmill, several stories tall, to its stained glass windows and modern farm interiors, the Farm House reflects the skilled, thoughtful planning of its creator, Miles Arnold, who also owns Arnold's Town House restaurant in Long Beach.

The Farm House, which often accommodates 2,400 guests on Sunday, is the largest serve-yourself buffet-style operation in Orange County. Open daily, except Monday, from 11:30 a.m. to 8:30 p.m., it features four marvelous entrees each day—round of roast beef and baked ham with pineapple sauce (both $1.95 on the dinner); filet of northern halibut ($1.85) and farm-style fried chicken ($3.10). Featured Sundays are such delectables as the super-popular baked breast of chicken Hawaiian-style, with pineapple sauce, shaved almonds and toasted coconut; roast turkey and dressing (both $2.10) and prime rib au jus ($2.60). All are accompanied by three salads, chosen from a variety of 20; potato, vegetable, roll and butter and beverage.

Father's Day Edition

MEET THE FATHER OF YEAR

A devoted worker in juvenile recreation programs, William J. Brockmann of 17123 S. Ardmore Ave., Bellflower is Father of the Year in the Long Beach area. With him are members of his family, Dan, 15, Sandy, 13, Heidi, 8, and Mrs. Brockmann.

(See Story on Page 2)

Father of Year Title Won by Bill Brockmann

By GEORGE ERES

William J. Brockmann, 37, of 17123 S. Ardmore Ave., Bellflower, has been selected winner of the "Father of the Year Contest" conducted by the Independent, Press-Telegram.

Mrs. Barbara Brockmann, who signed herself "his loving wife" in nominating her husband wrote:

"Bill is a wonderful, loving father to his three children, Dan, 15, Sandy, 13 and Heidi, 8. But he loves all children as his own and works constantly for their welfare."

Dan, Sandy and Heidi, polled independently, unanimously agreed with the selection of judges.

But hundreds of youngsters in the Bellflower area are a silent testimony to their approval of the choice.

Bill organized the Little League in Bellflower.

"We didn't have a recreation program here," said Mrs. Brockmann, who along with her husband has been active in P.T.A. work. They both have been voted lifetime memberships in the Lincoln Elementary school P.T.A.

AN EX-SEMI-PRO football player with the Compton Athletics and the L. A. Steelers, Bill was one of those who inspired the youngsters. "He also coached, umpired and watered down the field," said Mrs. Brockmann. "The boys would be over helping to mow the lawn so Bill could get out to the field faster," she said.

"Some of the criticism of Little League ball was right," Bill said. "There was too much of the parent in the game, but we've tried to see that the kids keep the game. We try to see that everybody gets to play; not just the stars." Nevertheless stars have developed from the league. "Some of our boys have become all conference players," he said.

"And good in their studies, too," added Mrs. Brockmann.

In addition to Little League ball, Brockmann also helped start the "Pop Warner Kids Football" program for 10-to-12-year-olds and coached the first team in the city.

INVOLVED AS HE is in organized play activity, Brockmann is aware of the dangers. "Organization is a good thing, but you can get overorganized," he says. "There should be just enough organization to guide the activity."

"The most important thing I think he's done is to start a Youth Employment Agency in the city," said Mrs. Brockmann.

"It came about through the Bellflower Coordinating Council," said Brockmann who is a past president of the group set up to work with youth and community problems.

"We had some surveys made of drop-outs in the schools and found it was a pressing problem." With the help of the State Employment Service, the schools and private individuals, the program now operates the year-around. Started about a year ago, some 700 youngsters have been placed in part-time and summer jobs. "It's too early to tell how effective we've been in stopping drop-outs, but we seem to be getting some good results."

HE IS A past Cub Master in the Boy Scout movement, is on the stewardship committee of the Community Presbyterian Church and on the city's Park and Recreation Committee. He was chairman of the city P&R committee last year and during his term in office the city started and carried out plans for development of the second park in the community. The one park that exists is simply a park area. The Flora Vista Park will be a fully developed recreational facility on a 15-acre site. It will be finished by October.

Despite his many outside activities, the Brockmann family is close-knit and enjoys family life. "We like to

Bill Brockmann, winner of the annual Father of the Year award for this area, is a great sports enthusiast. He helped start Little League play in Bellflower and is a close observer of the program. Here he is shown with his son Dan, 15, who has hopes of a baseball career.

HE'S 'UMP' FOR ALL

Although he participates in many games with the family, Bill Brockmann, the "Father of the Year," at times is called upon to serve as an impartial official. Here he watches daughter Heidi, 8, make a table tennis play.

SCHOOL COMES FIRST

Champion dad, Bill Brockmann, is a great believer in outdoor exercise for all of his family. However, school work comes first. Here he helps Sandy, their 13-year-old daughter, with some of her home work.

do the same things—we go to the beach, to the mountains and on picnics," said Brockmann. "Dan's interested in surfing and I got interested in it too. Surfing's like most other things—a few fellows in the sport can give it a bad name. For the most part surfers are fine fellows."

The youngsters all have their chores around the house.

"WE DON'T believe in 'handing' things to the children. We like them to work for what they get. Dan wanted a surfboard, so we let him earn the money for it," said Mrs. Brockmann.

Brockman, a Navy veteran and salesman for the George Oliva food brokerage firm of Los Angeles, and his wife have a strong sense of civic, church and social responsibility. Their world of activity is in Bellflower where they live and where they have set down roots. But Bellflower is not the entire world the Brockmanns know. They have strong feelings about human dignity and are opposed to discrimination of any kind.

"Being named Father of the Year is a wonderful tribute," said Brockmann. "I enjoyed doing all the things I suppose they chose me for. I didn't do them for an award. Actually, every father is a Father of the Year whether they are interested in outside activity or just concentrate on their own families."

Many Prizes Await Outstanding Father

There are many great prizes awaiting William J. Brockmann and his family as a reward for being chosen "Father of the Year."

A large engraved trophy will be presented the winner by the Independent, Press-Telegram and from various firms in the area will come prizes that include:

STARS FOR A STAR

Here's a galaxy of stars any man will appreciate. Genuine black star sapphires are mounted on yellow gold stars for this cuff link and tie set shown by C. C. Lewis Jewelers, 333 Pine Ave. The set also is available in sterling silver.

Men Like Jewelry If You Will Buy It

Few fathers will consider buying themselves anything in the line of jewelry but if you should provide them with such a gift for Father's Day it will make their eyes sparkle with pleasure.

The Jewelry Industry Council reports there is a wider variety than ever of handsome masculine jewelry gifts to choose from to suit every taste and pocketbook. And, best of all, a gift of jewelry is "something special" that every Dad is bound to remember with pride for years to come.

Isn't it about time to replace that old-fashioned worn watch of his with a sleek modern one he will be proud to wear? Today's new watches for men, developed with one eye on style and one on science, are slimmer, more streamlined and practical delights. They wind themselves, resist wind, dust, water, shock and magnetic fields—and some are even electronically powered without any winding mechanisms at all.

AVAILABLE in all price

ranges, an attractive new watch is certain to bring Dad a proud glow and be useful as well.

Personal jewelry, such as cuff links, tie bars or tie racks, is welcome in every man's wardrobe. Whether in karat gold, sterling silver or gold filled, it combines good taste with lasting sentiment.

Pen and pencil sets, lighters, belt buckles, wallets, key chains and money clips are other enduring Father's Day gifts.

Book Makes Ideal Gift

If your Dad likes to read, one of the current top-sellers in books always makes a good Father's Day present.

Here is the best-seller list compiled this week by the Publishers' Weekly:

Fiction

Raise High the Roof Beam, Carpenters, and Seymour—J. D. Salinger.

The Glass-Blowers—Daphne du Maurier.

The Sand Pebbles—Richard McKenna.

Seven Days in May—Fletcher Knebel and Charles W. Bailey II.

CARDIGAN SWEATER
He'd Look Neat in This

The woman who says she doesn't know what to get a man for a gift hasn't had a good look around.

He's a do-it-yourself man? Give him a package of sandpaper. He likes clothes? Give him a drip-dry shirt and let him wash it out himself. The possibilities are endless once you get started. And they can mean less work for you if you play it right.

Take, for instance, shoes. He probably needs a new pair and you don't know what size he takes after being married to him for 15 or 20 years. The solution? It's simple. Stores now carry gift certificates for men's shoes. Hand him one and let him pick out same and trot home.

YOU CAN always get him solid gold cuff links and articles like that, but it's unimaginative.

Seriously, the man on your gift list should present nary a problem this year. Every hobby under the sun is catered to; gifts of fashion are no longer monotonous and toiletries are really handsome.

He might like a gold-filled pocket knife that's both slim and elegant. There's one on the market that has a stainless steel cutting blade and a flexible manicure file.

The pure wool cardigan is done up in an Ivy stripe and a design that's actually somewhere between cardigan and vest and could serve as either. Perfect for country living, this is the kind of sweater that's handy for the city, too.

Serve Chicken for His Treat

Many fathers might choose broiled steak with French fried onion rings. But the National Father's Day Committee (we are a little vague as to just what that committee is) asks us to report that they have declared chicken the official main course for Father's Day.

HERE'S HIS THRONE

George Dahm relaxes in a Rest-O-Crat reclining chair that's fit for a king like Dad on his day. Noted for their comfort, the chairs come in fabric or naugahyde with solid eastern birch trim. Here's real comfort for Dad after a hard day's work. These chairs are being featured at the Berkshire House, 4310 Atlantic Ave.

Shirt-Buying Tips Provided by Expert

NEW YORK (NEA)—The good, old days for Leonard Lee means Diamond Jim Brady standing around with his shirttail hanging out.

Lee, one of a handful of custom shirt-makers still operating in New York, presides over a venerable firm which has made shirts for, not only the legendary Diamond Jim, but Jimmy Walker, Enrico Caruso and hundreds of the world's great.

The 71-year-old head of Budd, Ltd., advises anyone buying a shirt to:

Have at least 12 shirts in the wardrobe. If you wear a fresh one each day, the flow from laundry to drawer will be uninterrupted.

Select a good laundry (or a good wife). Good laundering is vital to the long life and appearance of a shirt.

Choose shirts for color and style. Do not be afraid to wear shirts of different hues—just match them to the suit being worn.

Pay attention to the collar shape. Remember? Long face, spread- or rounded collar; round face, pointed collar.

SOME MEN have found a compromise between standard shirts and custom-made garments in reasonably priced made-to-measure shirts.

However, Lee observed, such shirts are not custom-tailored in the full sense. The price of such shirts is about half Lee's beginning price of $15. And when you really fall into it, you can spend as much as $40 for a single shirt—depending upon fabric choice.

To Lee's customers it is the little things which count. One advertising executive insists on a monogrammed Greek letter "A" politely placed below the left breast pocket—always blue.

One New York theatrical agent prefers unusual fabrics like Japanese habatahi silk. Industrialist Arthur Vining Davis required a special collar; one collar point was cut away more than the other to permit his tie to be centered just right.

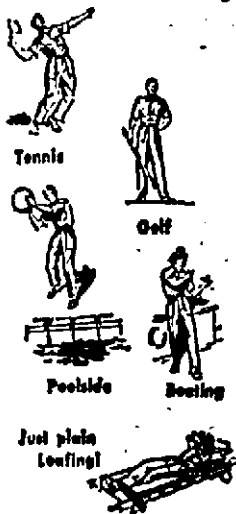

FOR MEN OF ALL AGES

Here is a suit for the man who likes the straight hanging sack coat with soft shoulders, flap pockets and center vent. Pleatless trousers are in traditional colors. These are from Buffums' Men's Shop, Pine at Broadway.

Let's Show Dad We Are Really Devoted to Him

By KAY SEE

Father's Day gives us a chance to express, openly, the sentiment we all secretly hold the rest of the year!

While Mother's Day is sentimental, so are most other days for there is a different heartfelt devotion we may show her daily. But for Dad, well, things seem a little different in most homes and for that reason we all can really make him king for a day, June 16.

Father's Day, 1963, will be more widely observed than ever all across the United States this year. For that reason this supplement of the Independent, Press-Telegram is offering many suggestions for gifts he will enjoy.

THE CONTINUING theme, "Juvenile Integrity Starts in the Home," will once again keynote the observance that during the past 53 years has become one of our biggest national celebrations.

As all good leaders should,

Dad directs by example. Ever on call to meet the minor as well as the major emergencies that arise in family life, Father is the household trouble shooter, a sturdy anchor in the squalls that beset the lives of his youngsters and a rock in the tempests of their adult years.

Certainly, Father is no longer the dignified patriarch of former years. He has willingly relinquished his stuffy 19th Century attitudes which envisaged him as the "word of the law" with "judgment undisputed" and a "don't ruffle my dignity" attitude.

MODERN DADS get closer to their kids by doing such undignified things as teaching them how to slide bases, cast a fly or cook over an open fire. Dads with faces as grimy and hands as greasy as their sons' and daughters' can be found repairing doll carriages, building scooters or crawling about an H-O train layout.

Dad spends more time with his children, and not only shares their interests, but also channels their enthusiasms through wholesome activities to worthwhile goals.

How can we express our appreciation to these Dads? Of course, it should be shown 365 days a year, but human nature being what it is we frequently tend to forget. As a result when Father's Day rolls around on the 16th of June it offers us an opportunity to focus our attention and affection on Dad.

IT ALSO gives us a chance to express our sentiments in a more tangible fashion. Nothing will make your Dad more proud than to have some evidence that you are proud of him.

According to the Father's Day Council, it has become traditional to honor Dad with "a dinner of chicken, cranberry sauce, ice cream and cake and the trimmin's." When he sits down to this dinner make sure that he has a good array of appropriately wrapped gifts at his place of honor at the table.

Gifts of business wearables, sportswear, sporting goods, smokers' articles, hobbies, luggage, tools, jewelry, cameras and photographic accessories, or any of the myriad other presents that may warm his heart should mark "His Day."

Slacks Are Good Gifts

Buying a pair of men's slacks is as easy as buying him a pair of socks. All you have to do to find the proper size—is put a tape measure to the inside waist-band of a pair of his trousers (be sure the waistband is stretched to its fullest when you measure it).

Then, measure the inside leg seam from the crotch to the bottom of the cuff. With these two measurements, the store has all it needs to give you a perfect fit for him.

Barbecue Duck

Ever barbecue duckling? Cut the bird into quarters and roast in a fairly slow oven until tender. Remove the fat from the pan, brush the duck with a barbecue sauce and return to a hot oven to glaze.

Plans Set for Big Two Days in Lompoc

LOMPOC — Sky diving — fast-draw gun contest—Navy underwater demolition team exhibition—missiles —sportsmen's show—flower show — flower field excursions—all-day entertainment — street dance—parade—industrial exhibits.

Where will all this variety be?

It is only the preliminary programming for the 11th annual Lompoc Flower Festival to be held June 22 and 23 in Lompoc in the Valley of Flowers. This year's festival is teamed with the celebration of the city's 75th birthday.

MORE THAN 50,000 persons are expected for the two-day event which will get underway Saturday, June 22, with a huge parade featuring more than 20 floral bedecked floats, bands, military marching units, missiles and countless numbers of other entries.

Focal point of the festival will be Ryon Park where gaily colored tents will house a variety of concessions manned by local service clubs and organizations. An all-day entertainment program is planned for Saturday and Sunday on the open stage in the park. In addition, industrial exhibits will be housed in the area including those from leading aero-space firms and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

SATURDAY NIGHT will be highlighted with a huge street dance in the center of the city sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Sunday, the fun continues with the concessions still operating in the park along with entertainment. Also, during the two-day event, a sportsmen's show will take place on County Airport property featuring displays and a fast-gun draw demonstration.

Mainstay of the festival for the past 41 years has always been the Alpha Club's annual Flower Show featuring hundreds of floral exhibits.

GIFT HE WILL WEAR

Matching slacks and shirt will be a gift that Dad will enjoy for they look sporty and are real comfortable. Offered by Mullen & Bluett in Lakewood Center, these "Slak-Mates" are of fast color, completely washable and you may select from eight popular colors.

Good Old Days Are Recalled

CARROLLTON, Ill. (AP)—There were times when school expenses were the little things in life.

Charles K. Barnett, new Greene County superintendent of schools, delved into a large leather-backed book he found in the superintendent's court house office dating back to the 1860s.

He found that S. F. Corrington, county school superintendent 100 years ago, went to Bloomington, Ill., and his expenses were $23. He squandered 75 cents on an office spittoon and spent two bits for a flue cover.

Too Many Pitchers

LOS ANGELES (AP)—When Maury Wills first reported to Dodgers he was a pitcher. But when he saw so many pitchers on the premises, he asked if he could try out for second base.

Authority Is Shown by Rings

Because rings have always signified authority, they are high-ranking with fathers of all ages as gifts. There are rings marking schools, colleges and fraternal groups, as well as signet rings. A handsome ring containing a masculine stone such as a glowing star sapphire or an onyx is a gift of lasting beauty which Dad will wear with pride and pleasure.

AND FATHER can even wear a sparkling diamond in a ring as an extra special reminder of his family's love and appreciation.

If Dad likes to be a happy host during his leisure hours, the jeweler has a broad collection of gifts to make his relaxing time more enjoyable. Gleaming silver bar tools, ice buckets, tongs, pitchers and dishes will all go far to make his entertaining more delightful to him as well as his guests. And for his office, the smoker will cherish a silver cigarette box, an elegant ash tray, or a table lighter.

For his personal use, desk clocks, picture frames, military brushes or silver-handled clothes brushes are always welcome as lasting tokens of regard.

IT'S FUN to check Classified for things you want to buy.

Minister Now Real Sky Pilot

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—Because he travels extensively to give mission talks, and with an eye to possible missionary assignments in Africa or South America, the Rev. Marion Anthony Serraglio has become a licensed single-engine aircraft pilot.

"It's not a direct attempt to get to Heaven," Father Serraglio says, "but it might be a quicker way."

Leather Hats and Ties Shown

Sport and casual dress hats and caps in sueded and brushed leathers are top news. They are water repellant, light in weight and come in various colors.

Leather ties are a brand new development and come in a variety of solid deep colors in smooth and suede leather.

Dana to Risk Much in Coming TV Show

Dana As Jose: The road to independence.

NEW YORK (NEA)—Bill Dana's series for next season represents a financial flyer.

Dana, alias Jose Jimenez, says he'll be losing money for '63-'64 by doing his new Bill Dana Show over NBC-TV. But there's method behind his monetary madness.

"What I earn now in personal appearances and guest shots," he says, "is much more than I'll make from the series next year. But this is a gamble. If the series is a hit, I could easily be a millionaire. And I admit I like money; I'd like to be financially independent."

"IF I WAS, I could do things I never thought possible. I could take time to write a Broadway musical comedy. I could sponsor young performers—I get a big kick out of doing that. The fact that I was partially responsible for the success of Don Knotts is very gratifying to me." (Dana, when he was a Steve Allen writer, gave Knotts his first big break.)

The Dana show will, of course, have Dana as Jimenez, a hotel bellboy. While Jose is a complete Dana creation, there is no Dana in Jimenez.

IN FACT, the actor talks about the character in the third person—as though he is somebody he knows. Dana is proudest of the fact that fine actors, like Sidney Poitier and Lee J. Cobb, have told him that he is a real actor, not merely a comedian.

He's also proud that Latin Americans enjoy Jose and realize that Dana isn't ridiculing anybody in his characterization.

"Jose," says Dana, "is very popular in Mexico."

He seems not to realize that they really love Bill Dana.

You Can Select Neat Fashions in Hose for Good Gift for Dad

There are some neat fashion ideas afoot for Father's Day, with the big news in men's socks.

New "pin-ribs" with fine gauges, not much bigger than chalk stripes found on flannel suits are a note in men's hose. Beautiful new heather treatments in spun nylon yarns — cable striped crew socks — white with classic argyle patterns and bantam-weights in a blend of Dacron Polyester and cotton — all fit fine with new suits and slacks.

LOOK FOR brushed Orions that combine durability with a cashmere-like texture; Ty-cora sports socks colored to blend with or match the sports shirts of the same yarns; tweedy cottons—side patterns; clock-like designs; blends of Acrilan-nylon, and Acrilan-viscose-rayon as well as raised rib and lises.

Classic rib-knits, meshes with self-cooling effect and patterned stretch nylons as well as all-over basketweave effects are complemented by neat checks in Ban-Lon weaves. Dad will also like the combinations of silk and nylon in fine socks.

Unless they are "stretch" hose it's important to know styles, proper fit and fashion trends in socks before buying.

FIND DAD'S correct socks size by checking his shoe size, then follow this simple guide:

Shoe Size Socks Size

7-7½	10½
8-8½	11
9-9½	11½
10-10½	12
11-11½	13

Most brands stop at size 13, but some manufacturers go up to size 15 in a solid color, mercerized cotton sock. Your favorite men's shop or department will help you find them.

The three most popular lengths in men's socks are elastic-topped short, mercerized cotton anklets; half hose which should be worn with garters, and hi-rise socks which were originally worn with walking shorts and now find favor for conventional wear.

IT'S A GOOD IDEA to select several pair in each length so that Dad can enjoy a real sock wardrobe.

It's wise to look for mercerized cotton yarns when selecting socks for active dads. It is particularly absorbent, evaporative and resilient; best of all they don't shrink in washing.

Guest of Honor Is Forgotten

SCOTTSVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The Scottsville Police Department held a banquet to honor Chief Louis Borders. Someone forgot to tell the chief, though. Instead of being the honor guest, he was on an out-of-town business trip.

Allison Shines in Tight Spots

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Bob Allison of the Minnesota Twins has turned out to be a player who comes through in the pinch.

In 1962 the big outfielder drove in the deciding run in 15 games as the Twins finished second in the American League race.

One of his defensive gems of the season was a leaping catch that saved a no-hit game for Jack Kralick.

Display Dad's Fishing Trophies

Dad's fishing trophies may be mounted on an oval or rectangular piece of decorative paneling to create an unusual display for the recreation room. Available in handsome wood-grains, plastic-surfaced hardboard can be cut with a fine-tooth saw.

Son Joins Dad as Writing Team

NEW YORK (AP)—Julie Styne, veteran Broadway composer, has a new partner—his son, Stanley—in writing the score for the musical version of "The Ghost Goes West."

Styne, who is 56, said he will concentrate on the music, and his 30-year-old son will do the lyrics. He noted the collaboration as a family first.

"Henry is so practical he'd want a gift the whole family can use so I'm refurbishing one room as his den."

Cigars, New Pipes Make Good Present

If the man of your home is a smoker, then you have it easy when it comes to a Father's Day gift.

Perhaps you feel that a carton of cigarettes would hardly seem a gift to him and rightly so. But, cigars or pipe might provide the answer.

Most men who smoke do care for the aroma of a good cigar but seldom treat themselves to the added cost. He'll be pleased that someone remembered to gift him with the smoke he enjoys most.

A box of cigars is among the easiest of presents to pick up these days as they are available everywhere. The gift-buyer is only minutes away from a gaily-wrapped remembrance, if he takes a quick look at Dad's favorite cigar label or box name.

IF THERE is uncertainty about Dad or Grandpop's preference, the gift-buyer can successfully "guess-timate" Dad's pleasure, from among a choice of these popular types: Perfecto — medium in length, shaped at both ends—suitable for the regular all-day smoker, Panetela — straight and slim for the younger man. Corona — large, long cigar — for relaxing after dinner and TV-watching. Cigarillo-type—pencil-thin, short cigar—for young smokers, or for quick enjoyment by all smokers between larger cigars.

A gift of cigars is good too, for the business man who does not smoke them, but likes to keep a supply on hand for his business associates who do.

Pipes are now slimmer in order to be carried easily in "narrowed-down" clothing. They still conform to 13 basic shapes — with certain styles more popular in various regions.

IN CHOOSING a pipe for dad, granddad, son or husband this Father's Day, the Pipe and Tobacco Council suggests that you choose a style carefully.

Eastern pipe smokers' preference is for large bowls: "apple," "pot," or "oom-paul" shapes. New Englanders prefer smaller shapes with short bits. The "poker" or "woodstock" pipes are suitable gifts in this area.

In the south and southwest, pipe smokers like small bowls, especially the style known as the "full bent," while in the resort sections of Florida, all styles sell equally well.

In the Midwest, top choice is the "bulldog" shape. This shape is number one seller of all pipe styles.

On the Pacific Coast, all fancy shape pipes seem to be most popular. Pipe smokers in the eastern half of the nation are more conservative, while pipe smokers out west tend to choose flashier shapes and styles.

ACCORDING to the Pipe and Tobacco Council, the basic shapes are: Billiard, Dublin, Bulldog, Poker, Apple, Pear, Churchwarden, Oom-Paul, Woodstock or Semi-bent, Prince, Bent Billiard, Pot and Canadian.

All of these basic shapes are new and slimmer, except the pot and churchwarden. The "pot" is very round and big bowled, while the "churchwarden" has an extremely long stem.

Many styles of stems and bits to choose from for your Father's Day gift include half-bits and short stems.

Pipes come in varying shades of brown, natural wood.

Accessories, Seat Belts Good Gifts

Auto accessories, anything from a cigarette lighter that works to a set of safety belts, will be appreciated by Dad as a Father's Day gift. And, shopping for them is easy—either in the various stores or in a service station.

With the nation's safety leaders urging installation of safety belts in all cars, most any service station can provide them at moderate costs and such a gift would not only protect Dad but other members of the family who ride with him.

PERJAPS the radio in the car Dad drives to work isn't functioning because of a worn out tube. Repair work on them is nominally priced and it would be a gift he will appreciate.

New seat covers would be appreciated. Even a new floor mat might make a big improvement in Dad's car.

Look over the car Dad drives and see what you might do to make his daily trips to work a little easier. It's a chance to give him something he will appreciate and the cost will be nominal in most instances.

Make Room for Men in Beauty Salons

By RUTH MILLETT

Newspaper Enterprise Association

Memo to Women: You may not know this, but our beauty salons—long strictly feminine establishments so far as customers are concerned—are being invaded by men.

Some cities such as New York and Hollywood, have strictly male beauty salons where a man can go for a permanent wave, a hair-dye job, a manicure and a pedicure, or a facial.

But in cities where there are as yet no temples of beauty devoted exclusively to the male sex, the men are sneaking into the women's shops early in the morning and late at night, to make use of many of the aids to youth and good looks that women have learned to depend upon.

In Memphis, for instance, beauty shop owners estimate that male customers now make up anywhere from 20 to 30 per cent of their business. And most of these men have started patronizing beauty salons within the last five years.

What's behind this sudden desire of men to look their best that is overcoming their timidity about entering beauty salons as customers?

My guess is, with women spending as much as they do on beauty aids and openly changing their hair color to match their moods and fascinate their husbands with a completely new look, the men are beginning to feel drab and old in comparison.

No woman today has gray hair, except by choice. And when a husband sees how much younger his wife looks without any silver threads among the gold or if he may start wondering if he wouldn't look 10 years younger himself if he went in for a dye job.

Besides, we live in an age when looking as young as possible is all-important. Men feel this almost as much as women do.

So if men are sneaking into our beauty salons in ever-increasing numbers, perhaps we women ought to let them know that they don't have to sneak.

Leather Looms Big in Fall Men's Wear

By WALTER LOGAN

NEW YORK (UPI)—One of the features of the recently completed showings of men's wear for fall has been the resurgence of leather, especially suede, in products ranging from ski wear to neckties.

Leather has been revitalized through use of color. It has been reduced in weight and newly styled. Many of the suede products are machine washable.

One of its most popular uses for fall is in combination with woolknit sweaters where it often forms the front and back of a sweater or is used as trim on pockets, collars, cuffs and as buttons.

HERE IS A rundown by the Leather Industries of America on some of the biggest uses of leather:

LEATHER GARMENTS — Casual jackets in suede or smooth leather, sometimes in combination with knit. There is a well-tailored deep brown suede jacket with natural shoulders and a slight suggestion of body tracing. A pale tan jacket is as machine washable as a shirt.

For more casual wear there is a five-button smooth leather jacket with rib knit collar, cuffs and back waist. One variation is a pullover with suede front and back with knit side panels and sleeves in a diamond pattern—olive suede or varying shades of green.

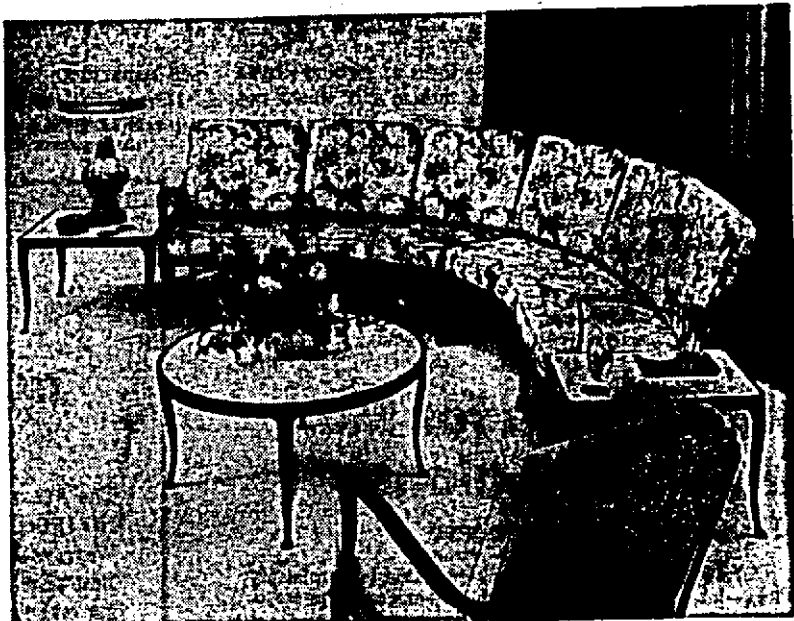

OUTDOOR COATS range from a 39-inch long cabretta leather topcoat with flapped hacking pockets to a midway length (32-inch) suede alpaca-lined parka with a hood that unbuttons. A suburban suede coat has button down flap pockets, a zipout pile lining and a button-off pile collar.

Leather also turns up in ski and after-ski wear. One ski parka is 34-inch length, lined in alpaca and with removable hood. One is a suede waist length Bavarian-style cardigan with knit jacquard trim in snowflake design on edges and crew collar.

SHOES — The rugged "beefy" look of the heavy brogue is back but the leathers are much lighter and some of the appearance is achieved through new methods of port hole perforations and larger wingtips. Many high gloss smooth leather dress shoes feature a sweeping line from tip to the high-riding trousers now being worn. Popular too are brushed leather boots, slippers with elastic gores, waxy leather hand-sewn moccasins and lightly grained leather oxfords with raised topline.

Wins Again

JACKSONVILLE (AP)—Ray Terry, son of Hall of Famer Bill Terry, made it four in a row when he won the Timuquana's annual golf club title.

ALUMINUM COMES INDOORS

Long favored by many for outdoor furniture, aluminum comes to the living room now with this offering manufactured by the Brown-Jordan Co. of El Monte. Comfortable polyfoam cushions with zipper covers are attractively styled. Note the graceful scale followed in the mouldings and leg castings. Various baked enamel finishes are offered.

Boone Set for TV Experiment

By DICK KLEINER

NEW YORK (NEA)—Here, right from the Boone's mouth, are the facts about next season's most intriguing television experiment, The Richard Boone Show.

In case you missed the announcements, this hour-long NBC show will be an anthology series with a difference.

The difference is that it will be acted by a repertory company—the same actors and actresses each week, in different roles.

"There are two advantages to a repertory company," Boone says. "The first is that we will have continuity of actors. I think the reason why television anthologies have so far not been as successful as ordinary series is that the public does not get to know and like the actors. On our series, they will, because they will see them every week."

"SECONDLY, we'll have more rehearsal time through this device. One week I may have a small part—I'll only be on camera for one scene that takes one day to shoot. The rest of that week I can be rehearsing for a bigger part the next week.

"On most shows, the actors get one day of rehearsal. This way, we'll get four or five."

Boone says he's been "fiddling" with this idea for four years, and "trying to sell it" for three. CBS turned it down, but NBC said yes quickly.

He has already assembled 11 of the 14 performers he wants for his company. He used two criteria for picking them—the range of parts they could play and "their emotional capability." He auditioned 2,800, found 300 who were qualified, settled on 11, with three to go.

MEN, BE ON YOUR GUARD!

Women Are Urged to Revolt and Make Pop Do More Work

EDITOR'S NOTE—You men may be treated like kings on Father's Day but perhaps you had better be on the alert. Vivian Brown, well-known Associated Press writer, declares in the following story how women should quit doing a lot of jobs around the home.

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

It's time to put the men back at the plow, and turn in your work permits, ladies.

A frustrating aspect of a home is that there are chores. But fewer and fewer men are doing them, as more and more women take on man-sized jobs—painting, plastering, building, plowing.

Modern machinery that makes these tasks easier has put women in overalls and on tractors as they thrived on compliments.

But flattery has gotten her no place as she labors in the sun or damp cellar, while the man of the house is fishing, golfing or lounging in the hammock.

How to get the man back to the work bench?

You can take either a positive or negative approach. Confront him with situations that can be solved only by his manly skill or affront his intelligence so that it hurts.

WASH THOSE logarithms right out of your head, and forget you ever knew how to compute the lumber needed for that screened-in porch. Take your bows on the strawberry mousse.

Try to maintain his growing suspicions that you are not as bright as he thought you were. Dangerous, maybe. Could be the house will blow up, if he allows you to continue to repair the water pump.

When the time comes to remove the wallpaper at the stairwell, balance the ladder precariously, and leave it there teetering, until he returns from work. Look hurt when he asks if you've lost your mind.

And when you're out on the mower-tractor-plow that he generously bought you for your birthday, mow down a patch of the asparagus bed or the bee balm he's saving for his favorite birds. It should make a quick incision, worth the pocketbook loss.

WHEN HE'S invited the boss for dinner, neglect the front lawn. He may mow it in self-defense, especially when you tell him that it's the lawn or the dinner as far as you are concerned.

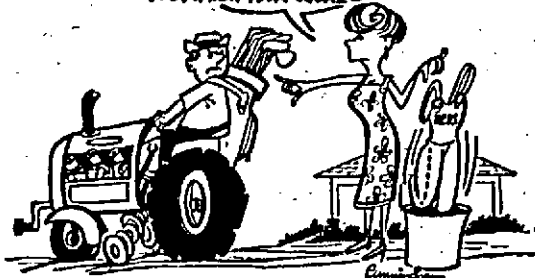

A pile of leaves left in the yard can cut him to the quick, but he'll move them before his guest arrives.

You can win a lot of points by becoming a sloppy painter, splashing it on fishing rods, golf clubs, tennis rackets, until he finally says, "look, I'll do all the painting around here."

Wait until he's rented the floor scraper for the weekend to tell him that your buritis is kicking up. He'll either take over or see the money go down the drain.

Dizzy spells come in handy.

NO MORE GOLF UNTIL YOU FINISH YOUR CHORES!

when it's time to wash the windows.

WHEN THE faucet leaks, take it apart then, tell him you don't know how to put it back.

Give him the king-size superlatives when he does a job, and reward him with an unforgettable meal, adding "that it's so nice to have time to whip up something good."

Any subterfuge you may use in accomplishing Project: Man-at-work is permitted. Doctors advise that men need more exercise, and it should be the duty of every good housewife to provide it. Even if she must create the situations that will encourage him to leave his favorite chair.

Fashionable Wear Good Surprise Gift

Most Dads buy clothes for comfort and long wear. Too often they stay away from high fashion.

Science and modern design have now made it possible for Dad to look right and feel right during the warm weather months ahead in well cut smartly colored suits, shirts, ties, and furnishings.

Here are some tips that will help in the selection of gifts of wearables that will delight Dads on their day in June:

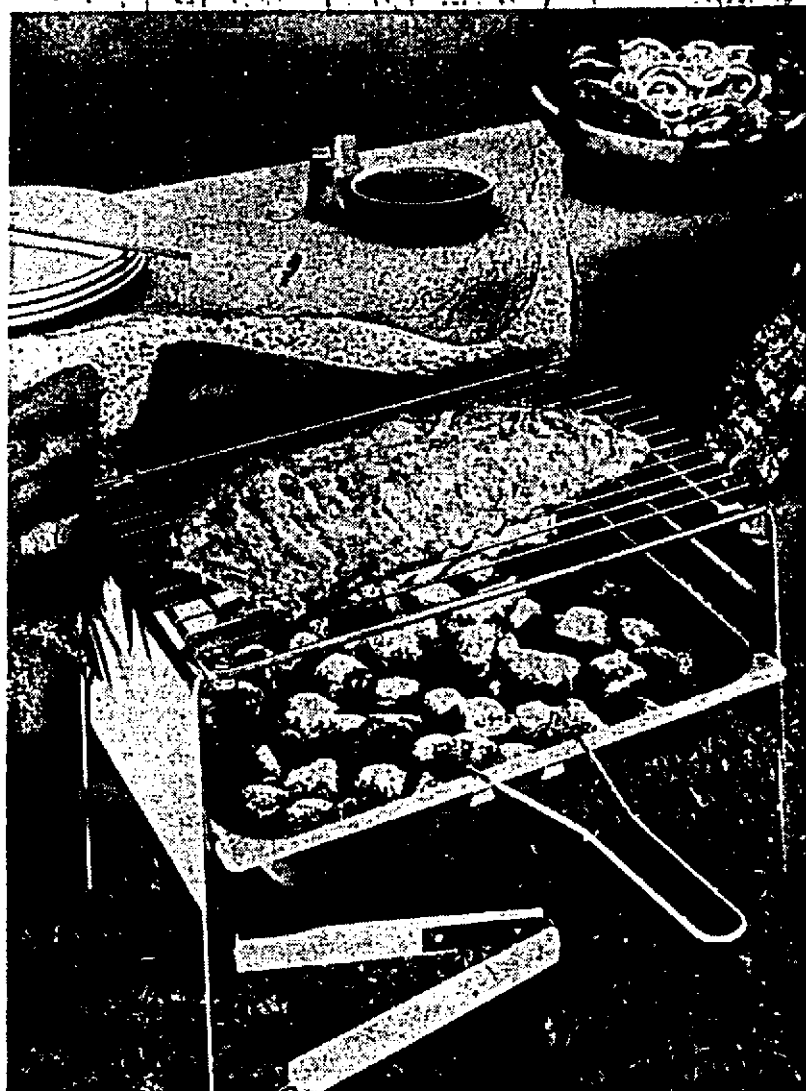

The "tall look" is the theme in suits. Slim, trim, uncluttered masculine lines enhanced by stripes and other vertical effects set the trend in the new summer suits.

THE COLORS range from medium to dark and one of the leading shades is navy blue—flattering to men of all complexions. Also very smart are the olive blends—some mixed with blues, others with soft tans or grays.

As far as fabrics are concerned, the choice ranges from luxurious blends of mohair or silk with worsteds, through blends of worsted with man-made fibers, to some rather miraculous constructions of man-made fibers that permit the suits to be put through the entire cycle of a washer-dryer and emerge pressed and ready to wear.

All of the same characteristics are available in sport jackets, too. Ranging from pure Tussah silks through the entire cycle of a washer-dryer and emerge ready to wear.

SIZZLING GOOD

An important family activity has officially achieved national recognition. June has been declared National Barbecue Month. And what could be more taste tempting than Sizzling Spareribs. French bread, sliced tomatoes with onion rings, the vegetable of your choice and coffee will round out your menu.—(National Barbecue Month Council photo.)

Personality Shows in Way Man Cooks

By MILDRED K. FLANARY
L.P.T. Food Editor

A man's personality strongly influences his cooking style.

According to a nationwide survey conducted by the National Barbecue Month Council, there are four main categories of outdoor chefs.

Some men are completely in one group while others, more complex, have cooking styles that fall in or out of several categories. See if you can recognize the man of your choice in any of these four categories:

THE PRIMITIVE—he will have none of your modern, chromim-plated, automatic outdoor grills. A simple fire within a pile of rocks is good enough for him.

ANOTHER type is the OLD PRO—a peerless performer at the pit. His steaks, done to a turn, bear little flags reading "rare," "medium," and "well-done," according to his guests' order.

The GOURMET CHEF—is the proud possessor of an outdoor grill that is roughly the size of the Chavez Ravine. It consists of two Dutch ovens (one just for warming), a special broiler, an automatic rotisserie, as well as a deep pit where he can bake clams or lobster wrapped in seaweed, when the occasion demands. The GOURMET never gives a simple Cook-Out.

BUT BARBECUING would be a lost art if it weren't for the final type—THE GOOD JOE—who puts in a hard Saturday mowing the lawn, or putting new bottom paint on the boat—then takes over at the grill in the early evening. This is the man who knows outdoor cookery is a family affair, who really enjoys a cookout—with whatever equipment might be handy, and whatever meat, be it ground meat, frankfurters, steaks or spareribs in the refrigerator.

Today, the "chef" has chosen to sizzle some spareribs.

Grooming Aids Good for Gifts

There are all manner of things which a man enjoys receiving but which he never thinks to buy for himself. Most of the time he says, "I don't really need it."

But every man appreciates good grooming aids... even when he won't admit it. Today, there is such a wide selection on the market that it is easy to find the exactly right one.

There are all manner of items to help a man become more handsome. Besides aftershave lotion, cologne and shaving creams, there are sticks, special men's deodorants, hair dressings (not sticky like the old fashioned ones), special talcums and all types of colognes—to be purchased individually or in specially selected gift kits.

quet, combine all ingredients; blend well. Store in covered jar in refrigerator. Shake before using. Makes from ¾ to 1 cup sauce. Don't hurry the ribs—they'll require 45 minutes to an hour to get cooked through.

'SNO SECRET

Despite finger to lips, it's no secret that Mitzi Gaynor, a current cutie, is a shot in the arm for the lagging night club business. The leggy lass is packing 'em into clubs right across the country—and no wonder.

Maybe Dad Would Like to Pick Gift

While it may seem to lack the personal touch, a gift certificate might be the best answer for a Father's Day gift.

Most men have certain ideas on tools, clothing and even auto accessories they would like, yet they never reveal such things to the family. And, while they may seem to appreciate deeply such gifts as home furnishings, neckties and socks, the real spark of pleasure might come if they could select their own gift.

A gift certificate gives just such pleasure. Family members might give him a certificate from a major department store. And they might be surprised at which department he visits when he uses the certificate.

So unless you are certain what the man of your home would desire, give a big thought to a gift certificate.

Costs 65 Pounds

HANOVER, N. H. (AP)—Jeff Galper, Dartmouth swimming star, has lost 65 pounds during his college career. The senior from Manchester, N. H., began school at 255 pounds and now weighs 190.

Give Dad Some New Tools and He'll Get Those Repairs Made

Say, Mom, do you complain about Dad not doing minor bits of repairing around the home? If you do, maybe now is the time to do something about it.

Most men are do-it-yourself at heart. They are confident they can put up the garage shelf you want, fix the hinges on the gate, build a flower box or put in some concrete to extend the patio.

But, maybe Pop doesn't have the tools.

So a set of tools would make an ideal gift for Father's Day and maybe you can get those home repair jobs completed.

Dad's workshop may be an elaborate set-up geared to meet the needs of a country home, or it may be merely a tinker's kit keyed to the occasional needs of an apartment dweller. In either case, there are new tools and replacements for old tools that are sure to please him.

Check on his "basics." Does he have a good set of screw drivers, a well sharpened saw, a jack plane, a butt plane, an axe, a good level, a sturdy one-pound hammer?

HOW ABOUT a good miter box and hack saw, a good variety of pliers, chisels, wrenches and mallets?

Now that you have taken an inventory of his hand tools, what can he use to good advantage in power equipment?

Beginning with the basic quarter-inch power drill, there are a host of attachments for that tool that can saw, sand, polish, mix paint and drive screws. Power saws speed up carpentry jobs in addition to making clean and accurate cuts. Routers perform any number of tasks including decorative work and grooving.

There apparently is no end to the jobs that can be done by radial saws. They crosscut, rip, miter, bevel, plane, sand, sharpen, groove, cut special moulding shapes and can be made to joint, mortise and shape.

TABLE SAWS perform many of those tasks and some can also be converted into drill presses as well.

Several types of tin snips, ballpeen hammers, a good vise, an assortment of files and some good soldering tools will be of great help in working tin and other metals, while electric sanders take a lot of the enervating arm work out of woodworking projects.

Completely built, ready to install work benches for the home handyman are available in suburban lumber and hardware stores. These are equipped with vises and power outlets.

BOOKS ON woodworking, carpentry, metalworking and other homecrafts also make fine gifts.

Drawing equipment, oil paints, water colors, brushes, easels, palets, palette-knives, canvas and canvas boards—all make fine gifts for the part-time artists.

Model builders go for the kits that produce ships, motor cars, airplanes and any number of things not the least of which are miniature railroads.

The many, many other hobbies include hi-fi, "ham" radios and, of course, outdoor cookery.

"I think President Kennedy is right about his physical fitness program, so every morning I do a push-up!"

TROPICAL SLACKS

These Haggard wash-and-wear tropical slacks will keep Dad cool and comfortable. They are all pre-cuffed in a size that will fit him. See them at Levins, 316 Pine Ave.

Good Samaritan Spoils His Fun

SAUSALITO, Calif. (AP)—Air Force T. Sgt. Oliver B. Cleavenger, 35, found an isolated beach fishing spot off Ft. Baker, reached by a 100-foot rope tied to a tree. Someone saw him dangling and called rescuers. Spoiled his day's fishing.

Dinner, Dodger Game Tickets Will Be Presented 50 Fathers

SHE'LL SELECT LUCKY DADS

A "Mystery Shopper," shown here with her back to the camera, will circulate through stores in Lakewood Center to select 50 fathers who will be guests of the Lakewood Center Businessmen's Association for dinner and then a trip to a Dodgers baseball game. Shown with the mystery woman are Vic Manzo, chairman of the promotion, and Mary Beth Chace.

There is a big night ahead for some 50 fathers in this area.

They will be guests of the Lakewood Center Businessmen's Association July 2 at the Dodgers-St. Louis Cardinals baseball game in Dodger Stadium.

They also will be provided with a free dinner and free bus transportation to the game.

INCLUDED in the group will be William J. Brockmann, 17123 S. Ardmore Ave., Bellflower, the winner of the annual Father of the Year Contest sponsored by the Independent, Press-Telegram.

The other guests will be selected by a mystery shopper who will circulate in the stores in Lakewood Center Thursday and Friday evenings, June 13 and 14 and during the day Saturday, June 15.

Vic Manzo, manager of C. H. Baker Shoes in Lakewood Center, is chairman of the promotion.

Most Men Like to Fish

Young or old, most men are fishing enthusiasts.

So sporting goods or department stores will provide an ideal place to shop for a Father's Day gift.

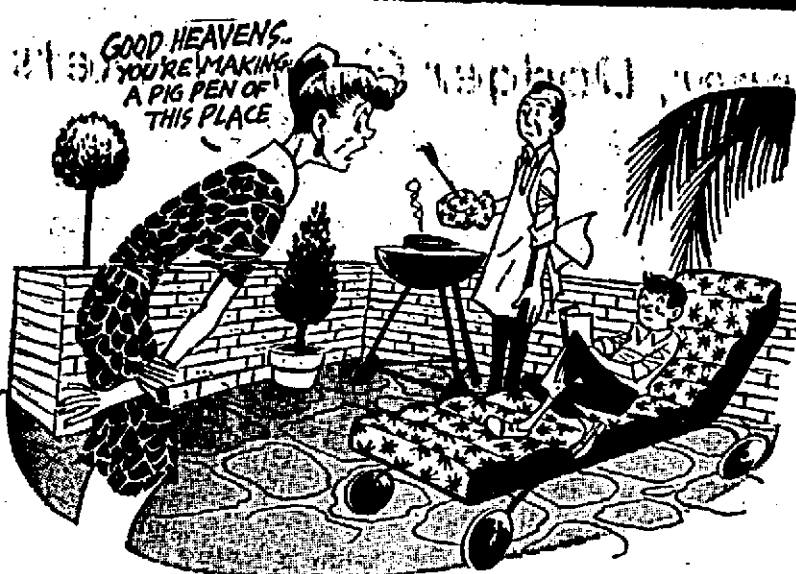

The finest of rods, reels and other tackle are being shown now at moderately low prices compared to past years. Perhaps a new tackle box would be appreciated. Or, boots, hat and other wearing apparel are needed.

Long Beach sportfishing landings also provide tickets for future trips which would make a great gift for any Dad who goes deepsea fishing.

CLASSIC COOLNESS

Luxurious Oxford cloth is now offered in a light batiste weave that will go through the hottest day in airy comfort. This new Arrow Gordon Dover Club shirt has authentic Ivy styling with a softly rolled button-down collar. It will be found in Phil Hahn Men's Wear, 5211 E. Second St.

FATHER'S DAY —

Mom, Let Dad Enjoy Patio

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Time was when we were all happy to get outdoors in summer. But now that we LIVE out there, we have our doubts, what with fence-to-fence lawn, fancy furniture, exotic plants, artistic lighting, barbecue equipment that is an engineering production. Some homes have art on the terrace walls.

Everything is getting too precious.

A wonderful stage has been set. But the family wants to know: when does the play begin.

Nobody enjoys the rules and regulations.

DAD IS ACCUSED of running the lawn mower into the new patio furniture, and nicking it. The kids are told to take off their shoes when they walk on the grass. There is barbecue grease on the patio walk, charcoal ashes on the deck, and shame on the thoughtless person who put his feet on the new chaise lounge cushions.

C'mon now, let's enjoy the summer.

Trees are for little boys to climb. And if you can't play baseball in your own backyard, well, now! But Mom worries about those glass hurricane lamps, clay strawberry barrels and her prized dahlias.

The Junior set has been fast losing ground anyway to parents' projects. How can we have slides and swings when we need a pretty lawn for croquet, asks Mom, who has just become an expert on crab grass removal.

IF THE MAN of the house says he'll be "dandelioned" before he'll lie in the broiling sun and clip the grass around the trees with manicure scissors, he's got a point. Visitors will never notice the difference, unless they're midgets.

The trouble with the new fancy outdoor diggin's is not so much that there is no diggin' allowed, but rather that the family just doesn't dig the rules.

Everybody must be prepared to take his post when a dark cloud appears.

Perish the thought, but happens—everything must be moved into the garage until the shower is over. How many times can one do this with vigor during a rainy spell?

Let's get a new perspective on our outdoor living, and live it up. If the cushions aren't waterproof, and dirt-proofed, we're sorry, Mom. And if your outdoor furniture can't take it, for shame, you're not a good shopper. Breakable gear doesn't belong outdoors with the elements. And if you insist on taking a facsimile of the kitchen stove into the yard, you had better make a slip-cover for it, or suffer the consequences.

We don't mind tiptoeing through the tulips that you've placed in the entrance path, and putting raincoats over the boxwood when it storms, but couldn't we please use the swimming pool if we promise not to get the water too dirty?

Sport Wear Appreciated by Fathers

Just because he is the working head of the household, don't think that your Dad is no longer young at heart.

Maybe he seems to you to be wearing drab clothing all of the time and seems content with his lot. But inwardly, he is just about as "sporty" at heart as today's teen-ager.

Give him the chance and he will prove it to you!

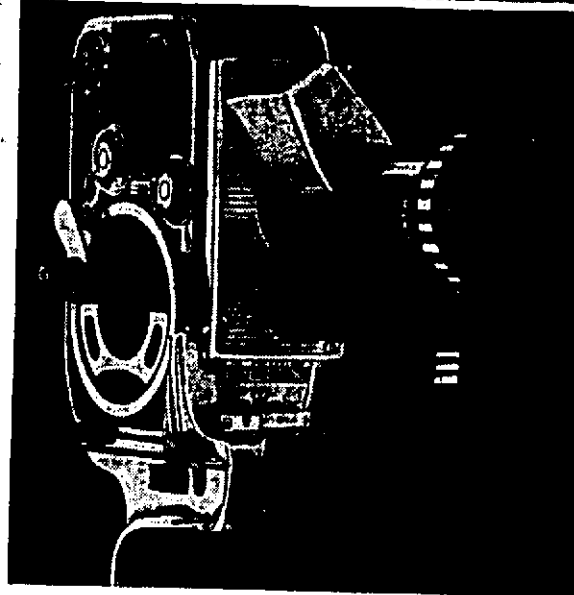

If you plan to give him a shirt for Father's Day don't make it an ordinary white or pale color. Try him with a sporty check of gay colors. Or, the newest in knit wear.

The same goes for neckties and hose. These are gifts you can supply without pondering over the size.

Sportswear is one way you can show Dad that you still feel he is young at heart.

Fish Tip

Always wipe fish dry before broiling it; this method helps the fish to brown.

Dad or any other member of your family can be a great cameraman with this Bolex Zoom Reflex 8. It is easy to control the zoom for closeups to telephoto distance. You won't miss a shot for exposure is measured under all light conditions. This Father's Day gift suggestion will be found at Winsteads Los Altos or their downtown store.
